FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payment must not exceed 6 per cent.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

OLD AUTO SPRINGS SOLD.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Commissioner of Public Works:

BOSTON, April 17, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The Public Works Department has approximately 4,100 pounds of obsolete automobile springs that are of no further use to the department.

I have received an offer of three cents per pound and, if no better offer is forthcoming, I feel that it is to the best interests of the city to sell them at that price.

As required by City Ordinance, I respectfully request your approval to this proposed sale.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

MAYOR VETOES PROPOSAL TO ABOLISH VENDING MACHINES.

CITY OF BOSTON,
MAYOR'S OFFICE, April 26, 1939.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, the ordinance passed by your Honorable Body prohibiting the sale of cigarettes or tobacco by vending machines.

In my opinion, no compelling facts have been set forth and no arguments presented sufficient to indicate beyond question that these machines are either a nuisance or a menace to the general public. Consequently, an absolute prohibition of the use of these machines, at this time, might well be considered an unwarranted exercise of the power and authority of the municipality. For these reasons, I feel obliged to veto the proposed ordinance.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The Cambridge Machine and Valve Company has been granted a further extension of the contract time of completion of contract for furnishing labor to assemble about 200 6-inch and 200 8-inch valves, 50 12-inch valves and 100 B & F. post hydrants, from March 1, 1939, to May 1, 1939.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

Approval has been given for an extension on contract No. 1076 with the Otis Elevator Company for furnishing and installing escalator at the Park Street Under Station, from 50 to 102 calendar days. The escalator was installed and placed in use within the original time but some additional work necessary in connection with the tiling delayed the contractor.

MANY TYPES OF W. P. A. PROJECTS.

The Works Progress Administration has placed in operation a total of more than 300,000 projects. Except for the more pretentious types of construction, these projects have covered almost the whole field of American endeavor in meeting the primary objective of relieving unemployment. The American City.

The American City.

PROFITABLE MUNICIPAL MARKETS.

Municipal markets, "white elephants" in many cities, can be made self-supporting and even profitable, according to recent reports on two of them. The Department of Public Markets of New York City reports that within the administration of its present Mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, the city's markets have changed from inefficient and expensive undertakings into profitable investments. The Benton Harbor, Mich., municipal fruit and vegetable market is described as doing a three-million-dollar annual business by its City Manager in the February issue of "Public Management."

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT CONSTRUCTION ON THE INCREASE.

Owing to the economic conditions prevailing during the past year, there was but a relatively small volume of sewage treatment plant construction. Within recent months, however, there has been a decided impetus to new construction of this type growing out of the Public Works Administration allotments. Nearly 700 cities have received allotments of funds from the P. W. A. for sewerage or sewage treatment, involving an aggregate expenditure of well over $200,000,000.

BOSTON'S LIABILITY FOR METROPOLITAN DEBT, 1937.

Boston's liability for this contingent debt of the State (i. e., in the form of annual assessments for sinking funds and interest) incurred for Metropolitan parks, sewers, water, etc., was $28,559,995 (net) on July 1, 1937, or $1,283,454 more than in 1936 and $6,473,404 more than in 1927. It is divided thus: Water debt, $25,314,274; Park debt, $904,738; Sewer debt, $1,639,878; Charles River Basin debt, $701,105. The percentages paid by Boston in 1937 were 63.4515 on Water Debt; 48.6623 on most of the Park Debt; 36.25 on most of the Sewer debt, and on Charles River Basin debt the same as on Park debt.

Metropolitan assessments paid by Boston in 1937 amounted to $4,752,277.22, of which 64.23 per cent was for debt requirements and 35.77 for maintenance. Water assessment, $3,282,201 (usually paid from water revenue); park, $786,974; sewer, $470,545; Charles River Basin, etc., $212,557.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

36,400 MOTOR DEATHS IN 1935.

According to the findings of the National Safety Council motor traffic deaths in 1935 totaled 36,400, compared with 1934's record of 36,000.

The only decrease was among school children up to fifteen years of age. Motor vehicle accidents to children have increased much less than those of adults since 1922, when safety education began on a national scale. October, November and December were the reddest months. Two-thirds of the accidents were in places under 10,000 population; more than 40 per cent of the victims pedestrians.

Thirteen states decreased traffic deaths 7 per cent or more: Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and Washington.

The Committee proceeded to the election of an Assistant Superintendent of Schools for the term of six years, beginning Sept. 1, 1939.

The members as their names were called respectively voted as follows:

For FREDERICK J. GILLIS—Messrs. Foley, Lee, Smith, and White—4.

Absent—Mr. Sullivan—1.

The Chair declared Frederick J. Gillis re-elected Assistant Superintendent for the term specified.

PROSPECT OF FURTHER APPOINTMENTS

Chairman: Mr. Superintendent, in the near future are you contemplating making any appointments from the elementary list?

Superintendent: Yes. I expect right after the vacation to clear up that block and several others. We have made a study of the situation city-wide, and we think that there may be several marriages of permanent teachers.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATIONS

Mr. Lee: I would like to bring up a matter which I hesitate to let slide until later in the year. This is the matter of our Home and School Associations. I would like to make a suggestion for accelerating the rate at which they are being formed. The Superintendent and Mrs. Woodbury have given the matter a considerable push during the year, but it is something that we ought to be more definite about.

Of 108 schools which Mrs. Woodbury approached on the matter of Home and School Associations, 46 either have a Home and School Association or are planning to have one. Approximately 30 already have them and 16 have indicated they are setting about to form a Home and School Association. There are 46 which did not plan to have them. In fact, in 38 cases there was no reply to the suggestion from the director that there might be a Home and School Association.

The remaining 19 were not classifiable. Either they were special schools where they could not have an association or they were not quite certain whether they might proceed that way or not.

It would seem to me that we ought to have a definite School Committee order forming Home and School Associations not only in all the districts, not only one for each district, but one for every school building.

I regard it as tremendously important, for the reason that in many parts of the town—I know in my particular section—there is overcrowding in 45 per cent of the homes, with more than one person to a room.

What that means is that the children, as soon as they are old enough to walk, are out on the street, and out on the street they stay, and when they go to school they are again away from home, and on hot nights particularly they are out till twelve o'clock at night, as it is too hot to sleep indoors. So we find that the parents do not know their own children when they are out on the streets as much as those children are.

Really, the only place left where the parents can extend their influence over the child is by very close co-operation between the parents and the school. So the parents should work with the school in meeting the problems of the children.

It seems to me if we do not have much more active Home and School Associations we are allowing education to encroach on the home too much. The child gets the schooling, but there is so little connection between the home and the school that the rest of the child's influences are found in the neighborhood or on the street, and there is not the tie that there should be.

It seems to me that this is not a controversial matter. It is not like courses of study. The forming of Home and School Associations has been a regular matter for years.

Chairman: As I understand, you are asking that the School Committee order that those districts that have not a Home and School Association at the present time, establish one immediately?

Mr. Lee: Yes. To make it concrete, I would say that at the end of the school year each school should have a Home and School Association.

Chairman: I would like to get the thought of the Superintendent on that suggestion.

Superintendent: I have presented this matter to the principals on at least two occasions and I find that many of the schools that are not members of the Home and School Association have what they consider a more effective organization within the school; that is, the parents visit the schools regularly during the year and visit the classes. They have one or two entertainments during the year to which the parents are invited. Although they have not joined the Home and School Association, they claim that they do effective work without membership in that larger body.

The Home and School Associations have several large meetings during the year, but the organization that these principals have in their districts they believe are much more effective than membership in the larger organization.

With reference to the establishment of a Home and School Association in each school building, it would seem to me that would spread the organization altogether too thinly in the schools. Most of our primary school buildings have a kindergarten, and for years the kindergartners have had regular monthly meetings with the parents.

Usually those branch schools contain the kindergarten, and Grades I, II and III. I do not believe you would want more Home and School Associations than that now represented by the schools.

Mr. Lee speaks of certain districts where the principals do not think Home and School Associations should be formed. In some instances there are definite reasons for not attempting to form a Home and School Association. I have in mind, for instance, one of our central schools, the English High School. That is a boys' school. They have a very effective alumni association and I need not call the attention of this body to the splendid co-operation that that alumni association has given the school.

The pupils in English High School come from all over the City and I think it would be very difficult to establish an effective Home and School Association in that school.

I am not opposed to the extension of Home and School Associations. In fact, I have encouraged these Associations, but I do like the establishment of the kind of relationship between the school and the home that to the principal seems the most effective way of meeting the problems in his district. I like the voluntary nature of this relationship, and if you take the voluntary nature away from it, it seems to me that it would upset the spontaneity, and I think it ought to be a means of the principal and teachers meeting in co-operation with the parents. I think Mrs. Woodbury has emphasized the voluntary nature of the Association from time to time.

Since the last meeting of the principals I have had a good many reports. While many of those who did not originally reply have since told me of the organizations they have effected within their schools, there are a few at present who have not made response to the communication which I suggested that Mrs. Woodbury send.

Summing it up briefly: I think on the whole the voluntary nature of the Association is desirable and that is perhaps the best one to follow. If we have the wholehearted co-operation of the principal and the parents in an organization that is satisfactory to them, I think you get the best results.

We have a Home and School Association formed of all the districts in Charlestown. They formed one big body and they had their first meeting last week. I think that is much more effective than one organization for each of the numerous buildings in the Charlestown District.

Chairman: Do you agree with the Superintendent's suggestion, Mr. Lee, that it ought to be voluntary?

Mr. Lee: I agree it would be better to have it voluntary, but when a headmaster takes the attitude that he doesn't want a Home and School Association and he is not going to have one, and when it is not a special case like the English High School—and there are quite a few cases where they have an equivalent organization like an alumni association, of which I have not any criticism at all—when a headmaster refuses to allow the parents of those children to have an organization, and discourages forming an association to consider school problems, the School Committee ought to lay it down as a policy.

Dr. Foley: Mr. Chairman, may I ask the Superintendent a question? Have we head masters in our system who forbid the forming of a Home and School association, or who do not allow groups to form for the discussion of school problems?

Superintendent: I have not the name of any such principal. I have had one or two principals write in letters stating why they think a Home and School Association is not the most effective means of handling the problems between the school and the parents in their districts.

Dr. Foley: Is there anybody on record as being opposed to these organizations?

Superintendent: I think some of them would much prefer to have informal meetings with the parents, to have the parents come to the school following the receipt of the report cards, and have them come on special occasions such as holidays or special days when a special program is prepared for the assembly. I think many of them feel that the informal meetings of the parents is much more effective than organized meetings.

Dr. Foley: I agree with the Superintendent.

Superintendent: However, I shall continue to encourage the idea of a closer co-operation between the school and the home. I shouldn't think that it must follow one definite plan all the time.

Chairman: Why not let this go over for three or four months and see how this voluntary arrangement works out, and what progress is made?

Mr. Lee: It has been five months since the Superintendent, through the director, tried to stimulate the formation of this organization.

I wouldn't want to mention names in this case, but I should say in half a dozen cases there was a definite refusal, where the principal would not even have an interview on the subject with the director of the Home and School Association. There is an attitude that the head masters own the children. It seems to me the parents are a part of our schools. Theirs is the home port of the community, and the teachers and the whole school system, including ourselves, are supported and conducted by the parents.

Chairman: In these half-dozen cases do you know exactly why the principal refused to form a Home and School Association? There may be very definite reasons in those particular cases.

Mr. Lee: Mrs. Woodbury could not find out the reason, in the cases that she spoke to me about.

It is a question of emphasis. Here we have parents and here we have the children in school, and it is sensible for those parents to meet at least once a month and go over the problems of that school.

For instance, the kind of action the Home and School Association might well take is to protest against taverns in the neighborhood. It is indispensable to have an organization of parents that will center around the school.

Then the question of the moving picture problem is another, and the problem you had last year of magazines. The only instrumentality that you have is the local citizens' groups.

Take the playground situation, or the play yard situation, or children on the streets too late at night. If the parents meet and know each other, when they see boys abusing a playground, they say, "That is so-and-so's son, whom I met last week. Cut this out, or I'll tell your father about it." It will let us have more orderly arrangements. The Home and School Association can establish committees to make better use of the recreational facilities.

Furthermore the parents get the habit of meeting in a body, rather than just coming to school at certain times. They learn to discuss these questions which are so vital.

I think we ought to say definitely that we are going to have a Home and School Association around every school building, to meet once a month and get right down to the problems of the neighborhood, to get to a consideration of the things we do not want in neighborhoods, and act as a group.

In modern American life you have to act through committees and through groups, and if we do not have centered around our schools groups of parents who will learn how to meet and acknowledge their leaders, how to elect their officers and how to take care of the immediate domestic problems of that neighborhood—if we do not have that we are not doing anything about looking towards the future in a constructive way. I think it is very stimulating both for the parents to meet the teachers, and for the teachers to meet the parents.

Most parents do not know what the school system offers for the child in the intermediate school and in the high school. If they met in a regular organization they would find just what every school offers. The publicity from the School Department about our courses would be much more valuable if talked over in these meetings.

I think we ought to make it a definite ruling. I am sorry Mr.

Sullivan is not here. His idea was that we left it too much to the teaching staff and too little to the parents. Where there is an effective Home and School Association the headmaster is apt to take the position of secretary and allow the parents to conduct affairs. It seems to me a Home and School Association would be indispensable for neighborhood problems.

Chairman: I agree with you in the things you are trying to attain. Where I differ with you is in the means to achieve that end.

Would it be agreeable to you to have the Superintendent, at the next meeting of principals, urge again the desire of the School Committee for these Home and School Associations, and ask those of the principals who are opposed to the formation of these associations to state in a confidential report to him and to the School Committee their reasons why they believe this thing would not work out to the complete satisfaction of all concerned?

Mr. Lee: That would be a good step. I think we ought to get a clear idea here as to whether we ought to ask for the formation of groups around each school building.

Mr. White: It seems to me that the initiating activity for the organization of Parent-Teacher and Home and School Associations naturally comes from the parents. If we can influence masters to co-operate with the Home and School Association, it would be a good idea, but there may be, as Mr. Smith says, reasons in the particular district where from the master's point of view, it would not be as successful as we might anticipate. There may not be any great amount of interest in that particular area on the part of the parents. We could not very well force them by edict of ours.

Superintendent: I would like to get a report for this Board—and I will ask for it at the next meeting of principals—from each school district in the city, as to just what the official relation is, if any, between the school and the parents of that district.

I hope, Mr. Lee, you will not ask for an organization around each school building. I think if arrangements are made for frequent visitations by the parents in the separate buildings, you will be more likely to get the results you are after, than if you try to make that an organization. It is quite a problem in some districts to get many of the parents to come to the school. They have a great many duties in the home, and those parents whom the teachers would like to see are the ones who are most likely to remain away. The ones whose children need the advice of the teachers and who should come, do not appear at the parents' meetings.

I will get that report for you, and I do not think you can act intelligently until you have it.

Dr. Foley: In many instances, while the principals do not favor the organization, they have activities within their schools that take up the gap between the home and the school and do the work of the Parent-Teacher Organization. They know what their schools need and they are in touch with the parents and the problems of the children of that particular school. Although they do not have the time to attend meetings of the Parent-Teachers Organization, they are familiar with the operation of their schools and they follow out what the Superintendent has outlined here, which I believe is all right.

I think we should question some of our principals as to whether they are discouraging the formation of groups or the formation of Parent-Teachers Organizations.

I am not wholly convinced that the teachers and parents organization should act as a unit of the entire system. I feel that all organizations that have the good of the children at heart are what we want, whether that organization is named Parent-Teachers Association, Child Welfare Organization, Boys' Club, or whatever the caption may be. I feel that the objective is the ultimate good of all, regardless of what may be the name of the organization.

Mr. Lee: Mr. White spoke of cases where there might be good reasons against the formation of the organization. There is more than one case where there has been an active organization under one headmaster, and a new headmaster has come in and the thing has been absolutely killed.

When our masters use their position to discourage the initiative of citizens in a community and in a crowded city, where initiative by the citizen is all too difficult to express anyway, I think it is time for the Committee to see that the citizens and this Committee are running the school system.

There is not a single organization in the North End or in the West End, and the question arises why aren't there such associations?

Mr. White: I think Mr. Smith's suggestion, that we find out, is the best solution.

Superintendent: They have a very effective organization in the North End, and have had for some years. I do not think that has been discontinued. Mr. Winston had a fine organization, and Miss Curran had a splendid organization. While it may not have been connected with the Home and School Association, it was a very effective organization.

Chairman: Will you withdraw your request, Mr. Lee?

Mr. Lee: Pending this report.

I would ask the Superintendent to consider the advisability of letting some of the teachers who would like to have this association, meet with those who have formed associations and have had them in operation, as it takes skill, patience, knowledge, and a certain technique to run these things.

Chairman: Will you await the report?

Mr. Lee: Surely, I will await the report. Will the matter come up in a month or so?

Superintendent: Yes.

Chairman: We are adjourning upstairs to our conference, and the press is invited to attend.

The Committee adjourned.

APPROPRIATION OF HIGHWAY FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1939.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Chapter 2 of the Acts of the current year authorizes cities and towns to expend for local highway purposes the funds received by them under the provisions of chapter 500 of the Acts of 1938. The City of Boston, under the provisions of said chapter 500 of the Acts of 1938, received the sum of $1,194,300. None of this sum has been expended and if appropriated as authorized by the provisions of said chapter 2 of the Acts of the current year will be available for expenditure for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways and the other purposes set forth in said chapter 2.

I respectfully recommend that this sum be appropriated as authorized by and for the purposes set forth in said chapter 2. I submit herewith a form of order appropriating said sum for said use. This order provides for the expenditure of said sum under the direction of the Department of Public Works as follows:

Paving Service, Personal Service.....	$800,000
Snow Removal.....	369,300
Reconstruction of Streets.....	25,000

In view of the foregoing, budget requirements for these respective items during the current year will be reduced by amounts equal to the sums set forth and, therefore, I further recommend that these items as appearing in my budget recommendations now under consideration by the Committee on Appropriations be reduced by the respective amounts previously indicated.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That, as authorized by the provisions of chapter two of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, the sum of one million, one hundred ninety-four thousand three hundred ($1,194,300) dollars, being the unexpended balance of funds distributed to the City of Boston under the provisions of chapter five hundred of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, be, and the same hereby is, appropriated for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways other than state highways, surface drainage, sidewalks, curbing and bridges, whether such work be ordinary or otherwise, said sum to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works as follows:

Paving Service:
A. Personal Service.....	$800,000
Snow Removal.....	369,300
Reconstruction of Streets.....	25,000

SALE OF PROPERTY ON BROOKS STREET, BRIGHTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I inclose herewith an order for the sale of the land and building on Brooks street, Brighton, formerly occupied by the Faneuil Branch of the Boston Public Library.

I am informed by the Library Department that this property is no longer necessary for library purposes in the Brighton district and for that reason I am of the opinion that this property should be sold so that it may ultimately reach the hands of some individual interested in placing it in the class of taxable valuations.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order for the sale of this property at an upset price of $2,500 by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Whereas, By a resolve and order of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, approved by the Mayor of Boston April 28, 1915, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 3877, page 71, the premises situated at 100 Brooks street in that part of Boston called Brighton, consisting of a building, together with about 5,818 square feet of land, were taken in fee for library purposes; and

Whereas, The said premises are no longer needed for public purposes; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston be, and hereby is, authorized to sell all the right, title and interest of the City of Boston in and to the said premises at public auction, at an upset price of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500), and the said Board of Street Commissioners is hereby authorized to transfer all the city's right, title and interest in and to said premises to the purchaser of said premises at said public auction by a written instrument, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, upon the payment to the City of Boston by said purchaser of the amount bid for said premises at said auction.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

DISPOSITION OF HIGHWAY FUNDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith a report prepared by the City Auditor in response to an order adopted by your Honorable Body at the first regular meeting of the current month, requesting information concerning the disposition of highway funds received in 1938 from the Commonwealth. I feel it desirable to supplement the report of the auditor with the following statement.

For several years prior to 1938 the state tax was maintained in the vicinity of $10,000,000 by the transfer of varying amounts from the Highway Fund. According to Federal authorities this constituted an improper diversion of gasoline tax receipts, and the state was advised that continuance of the practice would result in a material reduction in Massachusetts' share of Federal aid distributed to the states for highway purposes. In recognition of this advice, the transfer procedure was terminated in 1938 and under the provisions of chapter 500 a direct distribution of $5,000,000 was made from the Highway Fund to cities and towns. As might be expected, this distribution resulted in a corresponding increase in the state tax, provision for which must be made by cities and towns in their 1939 tax levies. The effect of this increase on municipal tax rates for the current year could be offset, of course, if the amounts distributed to the cities and towns could be used to meet ordinary highway expenditures and thus remove from 1939 municipal budgets appropriations for highway maintenance. It was discovered, however, that the language used in chapter 500 would not permit such an application of the funds distributed. When this became evident, I decided that Boston's share of the distribution should be held in reserve until legislation could be secured authorizing its use in such a manner as to afford genuine tax-rate relief.

Early this year, in conjunction with other municipal officials, I introduced a petition in the Legislature requesting that legislation be enacted authorizing cities and towns to use any unexpended balance remaining in the fund for ordinary highway expenditures. As a result of this petition, chapter 2 of the Acts of 1939 was enacted, authorizing the use of any unexpended balance for the construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways.

As pointed out in the report of the City Auditor, Boston's share of the distribution, namely, $1,194,300, has been preserved intact, and in a separate communication I am recommending that it be appropriated in accordance with the provisions of chapter 2 of this year's acts. Adoption of this recommendation will afford genuine tax relief to the extent of 75 cents in the tax rate. I feel that this disposition of Boston's share is proper and appropriate.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, April 13, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Under an order adopted by the City Council at a regular meeting on the third day of the current month, information is requested as to the disposition of a check received from the Commonwealth in 1938 as a result of a distribution of receipts from the gasoline tax. The exact amount received by the city in this respect was $1,194,300, and since its receipt it has been held in reserve pending the enactment of legislation authorizing its use for ordinary highway construction and maintenance. This authority is now available under the provisions of chapter 2 of the Acts of 1939.

Respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX, City Auditor.

APPROPRIATION OF CEMETERY FUND INCOME.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the preparation of the 1939 budget provision was made, as in 1938, that $60,000 of the maintenance expenses of the Cemetery Division of the Park Department should be charged against income of the Cemetery Fund.

Before this income can be utilized it is necessary that an appropriation be made.

I accordingly submit herewith, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 117 of the Acts of 1913, an order providing for the appropriation from the income of the Cemetery Fund in the sum of $60,000; the same to be utilized in meeting maintenance expenses of the Cemetery Division and respectfully recommend adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 117, Acts of 1913, the sum of $60,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the Cemetery Fund, to be expended, under the direction of the Park Commissioner, for Cemetery Division, Maintenance and Improvement, $60,000.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I have copy of the following order that was passed in the City Council on March 27, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a sidewalk on McBride street, Ward 11, from Washington street to South street as a W. P. A. project."

A lien order passed in the City Council on January 30, 1939, for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks with granite edgestones, on this street, was disapproved by me, as the result of a survey conducted among the property owners showed that a majority of them were not agreeable to paying the assessments as required under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Acts of 1917. I shall submit to the W. P. A. authorities a project for the installation of tar sidewalks on this street, without edgestones, which I feel will be satisfactory and can be installed with small expense to the city. There will be no assessments levied against the property owners for the installation of these tar sidewalks.

I recommend that this order be approved.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REPAIR OF ARBORWAY BENCHES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Park Commission Chairman relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the arranging for the immediate repair of the park benches on the Arborway at Forest Hills, Ward 19.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, April 5, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 31, with inclosure order from the City Council, concerning the arranging for the immediate repair of the park benches on the Arborway at Forest Hills.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that the Park Department has no money to immediately repair these benches. They will have to be repaired by our own men as soon as we can procure material by removing benches in other vicinities to repair the ones in the Arboretum.

The benches are sadly in need of repair all over the city, but the Government will not allow of a project for any repairs, which they claim is maintenance.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

LEGISLATIVE BILLS RE COUNTY EMPLOYEE SALARIES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Council relative to your order of March 27, 1939, concerning the opposing of all bills before the Legislature pertaining to increases in salary for any county employees unless same have referendums to the Mayor and City Council.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 4, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have transmitted to me City Council order of March 27, 1939, as follows: "Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to oppose all bills before the Legislature pertaining to increases in salary for any county employees unless same have referendums to the Mayor and City Council."

With the policy as thus outlined by the City Council I am in entire accord, as it seems to me that, as the City of Boston pays all expenses for Suffolk County and the Mayor and City Council must accept public responsibility for expenditures, it is only right and proper that legislation increasing salaries of county employees should be subject to acceptance by the Mayor and City Council. I will be guided accordingly and the Legislative Agent of the city will be similarly instructed.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

COST OF COUNTY MAINTENANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the preparing, introducing and seeking the approval of legislation which will cause each town and city in Suffolk County to contribute its proportionate share to the cost of county maintenance.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 4, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have transmitted to me order of the City Council dated March 20, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prepare, introduce and seek the approval of legislation which will cause each town and city in Suffolk County to contribute its proportionate share to the cost of county maintenance."

Bills of so similar a character have already been given leave to withdraw by the Legislature, that I am of the opinion that a point of order would lie against any bill of the character proposed in the Council order and, consequently, no useful purpose would be served by attempting to introduce it at this time.

Very sincerely yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

ESTABLISHMENT OF BOSTON AS COUNTY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the preparing, introducing and seeking the approval of legislation to set up and establish Boston as a county.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 4, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have transmitted to me for consideration Council order passed by the City Council March 20, 1939, as follows:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prepare, introduce and seek the approval of legislation to set up and establish Boston as a county."

As you are well aware, legislation of a type similar to that suggested by the City Council has been urged by the City of Boston before the Legislature for many years, up to date without success. The Legislature has been utterly unwilling to acknowledge the inequity of the present situation, running back one hundred years or more, as a result of which the City of Boston pays all the expenses for Suffolk County without contribution from Chelsea, Revere or Winthrop for county expenses properly chargeable to them. Last year several such bills were introduced and all were given leave to withdraw on next annual session reports. This year again several bills having the same general purpose have already been given leave to withdraw and the reports have been accepted by the General Court.

While the method of the legislation suggested in the Council order is slightly different from the petitions that have been before the Legislature, the essential purpose of them is the same and as they have already been acted on unfavorably, it would, in my opinion, be futile to attempt to introduce such legislation at this time. It is already late in the session and the legislative committee on rules is loath to admit any legislation except of an emergency character, and it would take a four-fifths vote of the Legislature to overrule the decision of the rules committee. Legislation of the character suggested would require attention to the status of Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop and provision would have to be made for the performance of county functions in those communities. In this connection I would point out that by chapter 31 of the Acts of this year the existing jurisdiction of the County Commissioners of Middlesex County in Revere and Winthrop has been terminated and the voters of those communities will no longer participate in the election of the County Commissioners.

Under all these circumstances, I respectfully suggest that no useful purpose would be served at the present time in urging the legislation contemplated in the order of the City Council under consideration.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

COOPERATION WITH SOMERVILLE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Fire Commissioner relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the arranging with the Somerville Fire Department for a cooperative plan to answer alarms in the Sullivan square district of Boston.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, April 10, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—On April 1 the order of the City Council, dated March 20, concerning the arranging with the Somerville Fire Department for a cooperative plan to answer alarms in the Sullivan square district of Boston was forwarded to me for consideration.

I wish to report that at the present time the Somerville Fire Department responds to the following boxes in the Sullivan square section of Charlestown: Box 4159, 4176, 4177, 12-4177, 4178, 4181, 4183, 12-4183. The Somerville Department responds to all first alarms from these boxes.

We, in turn, respond to first alarms from certain borderline boxes in Somerville. We have always believed that this mutual aid system worked out satisfactorily and we have not had many experiences which would indicate otherwise.

In spite of traffic conditions at any hour of the day, it is the opinion of the officers of this department that the Sullivan square section is adequately covered by the present system of response to alarm.

Respectfully yours,
WM. ARTHUR REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

ASSIGNMENTS ON SNOW REMOVAL WORK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the giving of preference to recipients of welfare when assigning men to snow removal work, provided they are physically able to do the work required, and are citizens.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, April 10, 1939.
William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Mr. Doyle,—I have received a copy of the following order that was passed in the City Council on March 20, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to give preference to recipients of welfare when assigning men to snow removal work, provided they are physically able to do the work required, and are citizens."

After the experience of the past winter in the hiring of emergency workers for snow removal work, I find that there are many improvements that can be made, both in the method of assigning workers and the class of workers who should be given preference in employment. I have a plan in mind that I intend to effect next fall, whereby a list of names will be submitted by the Welfare Department of all physically fit welfare recipients who are citizens and who desire to work on snow removal work during the winter. If this plan does not seriously conflict with the problem of garbage and refuse collections in districts where we have to depend to a large extent on welfare workers for assistance, I feel that it should show a saving to the city and insure the employing of those persons who obviously are in need of work.

I recommend that this order be approved.
Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

POLICE PATROL OF RIVERS.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Police Commissioner relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the advisability of assigning police to cover during the summer season those parts of rivers which flow through residential areas of the city.

Dear Sir,—With reference to your memorandum dated March 31, 1939, with which you sent to this office City Council order concerning the advisability of assigning police officers during the summer season to patrol rivers flowing through the residential sections of the city, the commanding officers concerned have been notified to take every possible precautionary measure for the protection of the children who may be playing near these waterways.

Arrangements have been made to detail additional officers along these rivers during the busy part of the summer season, and I feel that under this plan we will be able to meet all emergencies which may arise from time to time.

ASSIGNMENT OF TRAFFIC OFFICERS TO BENNINGTON STREET.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Police Commissioner relative to your order of March 20, 1939, relative to assigning five traffic officers to Bennington street, East Boston, from Neptune road to Orient Heights, until such time as traffic signal lights are installed.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—With reference to your memorandum of March 31, 1939, with which you sent to this office order of the City Council requesting that five traffic officers be assigned to Bennington street, East Boston, from Neptune road to Orient Heights, I am submitting the following information:

Most of the crossings on Bennington street between the points mentioned are covered by the regular route officers during the times that children are going to and from school. Two motorcycle officers patrol this street several hours each week day, as a result of which numerous persons have been prosecuted for violation of the automobile laws.

During the period of racing at the Suffolk Downs track, every one of the intersections along Bennington street, from Neptune road to Orient Heights, is covered by a traffic officer from 11.30 a. m. to 6.30 p. m.

It is my opinion that normal conditions do not warrant the assignment of five traffic officers between these two points on Bennington street.

Dear Sir,—I have a memorandum from your office, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Department complete the sidewalk project on Blue Hill avenue.

This was a W. P. A. project and the money allocated for same has been exhausted. A supplementary project was subsequently submitted and approved and the money allocated for Blue Hill avenue, in order to keep the men at work during the winter, has been expended.

At the present time there is approximately 150 linear feet of walk to be completed. The foundation is in and the department attempted to make arrangements with the W. P. A. to complete this walk which can be completed in less than a week. We expect the W. P. A. will honor our request.

REPORT ON HOSPITAL BY FINANCE COMMISSION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, April 6, 1939.
To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council.

Gentlemen,—In recent weeks the City Council has been greatly agitated over the question as to whether or not the nursing strength of the Boston City Hospital is adequate.

A member of the Council provoked a spirited discussion which may result in public good when he made charges that there are not enough nurses and that the present staff of nurses is overworked. He further charged that as a result of this inadequacy in nursing strength individual nurses have collapsed from overwork and patient care has suffered.

Other members of the Council made counter-argument that there are plenty of nurses at the institution to supply the patient care that is justifiable. As proof of this claim little was offered in Council except that it was pointed out that the Boston City Hospital still ranks among the best hospitals in the country. Charges made at the same time in respect to the cleanliness of the hospital and inelegance of some nurses' rooms have already been substantially refuted.

While it cannot be said that the participants on either side of this dispute in the City Council have expert knowledge of conditions at this hospital or of required administration at any hospital, their freely offered opinions have been given wide circulation. It is well known that hospital executives have inspired both the offensive and the defensive sides of the argument.

The very prominence and standing of the Boston City Hospital which, the Finance Commission agrees, ranks among the best in the country has served to focus the attention not only of the medical and surgical fraternity on the dispute, but of hospital administrators everywhere. It has greater than ordinary significance, because other hospitals are suffering to some extent from similar agitations, and the hospital world is fearful of results if present efforts to organize workers into one big organization extend so far as to include hospital workers. Strikes have already occurred in some hospitals.

It happens that there is in existence even now an organization drive at the Boston City Hospital. This drive is in a way related to the present agitation among the nurses. It has given the hospital authorities grave concern as to the eventual outcome. The hospital employees have become organized as a Boston City Hospital Employees Association. The association originally became incorporated as a social organization, but its present trend is toward a much more serious objective. It embraces a large percentage of the employee staff.

The organization has become a political power; it has an official publication which frequently expresses resentment at administration measures adopted by the trustees and superintendent, and threatens investigators of all kinds and has picked out for special mention Finance Commission investigators.

One of the leading spirits, a subordinate in minor capacity, defied the superintendent for a year and refused to obey orders given to him by the superintendent on the authority of the trustees.

The hospital executives are in fear that the employees may, as they grow stronger in organization, with outside political help, assume the right to dictate to the trustees in matters of administration.

Until recently the nurses remained aloof from this organization, but as a result of the constant agitation of the officers and, to some extent, of dissatisfaction among nurses with present conditions, 90 per cent of the nurses have joined. The executives in charge of the hospital had no previous warning that the nurses intended to cast their lot with the porters, ward maids, kitchen employees, ambulance drivers, laundry help, etc.

On the determination of the primary question as to whether or not more nurses are necessary depends the future policy at the City Hospital in respect to hours of service, division of time of service between classroom work and ward work, extent of classroom work, whether or not the City Hospital is to continue to be used by hospitals of other communities of less medical reputation as a modified medical school for the education of their nurses, and whether or not the graduates of this City Hospital School for Nursing are to be certified by the state authorities to practice as registered nurses.

In the welter of opinion offered in the dispute over the merits of the nursing situation, the chief administrators of the City Hospital have not been of any great help. They are not in agreement themselves on the facts in the situation.

Meanwhile many, including your Honor and the members of the Council, must be in a quandary as to the proper allotments of funds for the City Hospital.

The trustees, who are the responsible authority under the statute, have said that more nurses are needed. On the other hand, their executive officer,—the superintendent,—upon whom they have placed the burden of actual administration, has stood firm in his contention that there are nurses enough there now. Another authority, the Superintendent of Nurses, to whom has been delegated the task of organizing and training the nursing strength, left no doubt in the minds of those who heard her at a City Council hearing that she believes many more nurses are necessary.

In this situation, with the executive authority at the hospital divided on the question, the Finance Commission has sought advice from executives in other hospitals, of high repute, from leading organizations within the nursing profession, and from state authorities in Massachusetts and in New York having jurisdiction over the medical and nursing practice.

Limitations of Boston City Hospital.

At the outset it should be recognized that unlike the situation in many private and semi-public hospitals, receipts for treatment or private contributions to the Boston City Hospital are not substantial in comparison with the cost of operation. Actually in 1938 the revenue of the hospital amounted to $272,537. In the same year there was spent for operation, exclusive of the Sanatorium, $3,322,798, which was more than ten times the amount of its revenue. Some conditions at the City Hospital with respect to service and hours and wages must, therefore, be different from those in hospitals which are nearer self-supporting.

The Boston City Hospital is a public hospital. It has been the unchanged authorization of the Legislature since the original creation of the hospital by Act of 1858 "to erect, establish and maintain a hospital for the reception of persons who, by misfortune or poverty, may require relief during temporary sickness."

The Finance Commission has previously argued that treatment at the Boston City Hospital was intended by the Legislature to be gratis, but for a limited class—the poor and persons, not poor, but suddenly stricken by accident or collapse and unable otherwise to obtain emergency treatment.

Expansions of Hospital Service Beyond Legal Limitation.

It is needless now for the Commission to dwell at great length on the many ways in which the administrators have expanded the hospital service beyond the scope of the statutory authorization. When previously the commission has done so neither the hospital authorities nor the public apparently were shocked into action intended to bring the hospital activities within the law.

The Finance Commission recognizes that the expansions beyond the authorized scope were attributable partly to public demand and partly to private interest of the medical world. It just did not happen that legislative authority was sought as the hospital enlarged to make provision for paying patients, chronic cases, patients from outside Boston and even outside Massachusetts.

The commission believes, however, that it is important to emphasize that the continued rising cost of maintenance is due as much to the expansion of the hospital facilities beyond the legal authorization as to any other cause. The present mix-up in the nursing situation is due to one of these periodical expansions.

The City Hospital, like most large hospitals, depends for a substantial part of its nursing service on work performed by student nurses during their period of training. The courses of study and practice provided for such students must, however, have matched certain standard requirements to make it possible for the students on graduation to obtain certificates from the established certification boards in the various states entitling them to practice as registered nurses.

Complaint of Poor Education of Nurses.

Persistent and long-continued political interference with appointments to the hospital force (see Finance Commission report of June 28, 1935) eventually brought about a serious situation in the nursing school in 1936-37. The Board of Registration of Nurses in Massachusetts and the State Board of Nurse Examiners in New York—the respective certification boards for the two states—gave final warning to the City Hospital authorities that the product of the hospital nursing school was not sufficiently trained and educated to warrant certification as graduate or registered nurse, and unless the training was improved both boards would decline to certify the City Hospital Training School nurses on graduation.

The specific complaints of both certification boards were substantially identical. Stated briefly, the principal points made in written report by the New York Board were:

1. The teachers in the school were not well enough educated themselves to teach students.
2. The students were not given enough classroom instruction.
3. There was not enough supervision of students.
4. The ratio of nurses to patients was less than the required minimum.
5. Night duty assignments were too long.
6. Suitable records were lacking.

Steps Taken by Trustees to Improve Nursing.

With the threat of refusal to certify hanging over the hospital school which, if carried out, would seriously cripple the hospital's nursing service, the trustees and superintendent set about immediately to improve the situation. They decided to obtain, first of all, for the position of Superintendent of Nurses, a person capable of putting the school on the level required by the States' Boards. They canvassed the field very thoroughly, interviewed the deans of the nursing schools at Yale and Columbia, officers of state nursing boards and nurses' organizations.

The supervisor of approved schools of nursing of the Massachusetts Board was among the first to be offered the place, but she declined the appointment. This fact definitely sets at rest the point made by some that the criticism of the nursing school by the State Board executives was due to the failure of its supervisor to obtain the position of Superintendent of Nurses. Many others were also offered the position, but declined the appointment.

In almost every case the refusals were due to the belief among interested groups that the hospital was too political, that the successful operation of the school was hamstrung by politicians who forced appointment of girls to the training school lacking important requirements, and that there was no security in the position for continued tenure by an executive who insisted on acceptance only of the right kind of students.

Eventually, after many others had declined the appointment the hospital authorities brought the present incumbent from Canada to take the position on the recommendation of the executives of the National League of Nursing Education in New York. The technical ability of the present incumbent to perform the task assigned to her is unquestioned. The superintendent is a graduate nurse who has been identified with the nursing profession in various hospitals and capacities for approximately forty years. She has been president of the National League of Nursing Education in New York and was for several years a director of the organization.

The hospital authorities placed this new incumbent on a higher plane in executive direction of hospital service than had been the lot of her predecessors. Given the title of Director of the Nursing School, she was told she could have assurance of support in whatever she determined to be necessary to raise the standards of the school. The trustees built up the importance of her position by raising the salary from $2,900 to $4,000, and gave her, in addition, a comfortable modern apartment in which to live. They provided her with executive assistants and teachers of her own choosing and set them up in salary and living quarters on a higher plane than had been the custom previously.

The new superintendent or director first presented the trustees with her idea of what was necessary to raise the standard of the nursing school when she submitted estimates of financial needs for the year 1938. Her program envisioned improvement in living conditions, more nurses, and more executive assistants, and a greatly improved and enriched curriculum for the students. It was estimated that the additional cost would be $600,000. Part of this was due to additional service on account of the newly opened surgical unit, the Dowling Building.

The Volume of Work Performed by the Hospital.

In order to appreciate the task facing the new superintendent in September, 1937, when she took over direction of the nursing force and nursing school, the amount of the service at the time and the cost is important. It is here-with given, first, as the trustees have reported it on an annual basis. Comparison is offered with earlier and later years so that the relation of the 1937 condition to other years may be understood.

These figures indicate a large hospital, normally treating over 40,000 bed-patients and over 100,000 out-patients annually. The striking feature of the comparison lies in the figures for 1933. That was the year when the hardships of the depression period were at about the crest. In that year the daily average number of ward patients was the highest for the ten-year period compared. The total number of persons treated in the hospital, including the Out-Patient Department, was the largest number of any year in the ten. In only one other year of the ten was the cost of operation as low or lower than in 1933. The 1933 cost was $210,000 more than the 1929, but $500,000 less than the 1938 cost. The average number of patients treated did not match these variations. The daily average number of patients was only 1,147.3 in 1929, rose to 1,635.4 in 1933, but fell back to 1,430 in 1938. The death rate, on the other hand, in 1933 was at the lowest level of the whole period. If per patient cost and death rate are a measure of a hospital's efficiency and of the efficacy of treatment provided, it would seem that the nursing service in 1933 was adequate.

When this record was accomplished in 1933 the number of nurses, according to the best figures obtainable, was approximately 508. The ratio of nurses to patients at that time was approximately 1 nurse to 3.2 patients.

Increase in Provisions for Nurses Under New Superintendent.

In 1937, previous to the advent of the new Superintendent of Nurses, the number of nurses was approximately 525. The ratio of nurses to patients was approximately 1 to 2.6. In February, 1938, the number of nurses had risen to 655. The ratio of nurses to patients was 1 to 2.2. On February 11, 1939, the number of nurses had become 689. The ratio of nurses to patients on that day was 1 nurse to 2.1 patients.

The death rate was lowest when the ratio of nurses to patients indicated the least generous supply of nurses. It was 3.8 in 1933 when there was a nurse for 3.2 patients and it was 4.4 in 1938 when there was a nurse for 2.2 patients.

The ratio of student nurses to graduate nurses in the hospital on February 19, 1938, was 365 student nurses—approximately one half of whom were affiliated nurses, so called, i. e., nurses in training in other hospitals temporarily assigned for education in special subjects to the Boston Hospital—to 284 graduate nurses. On February 18, 1939, the ratio was 401 student nurses to 279 graduate nurses.

The number of members in the nursing school assigned to executive direction or supervision has likewise increased. When the present Superintendent of Nurses took office in 1937 there were ten known as executive nurses and twenty known as supervisors. In 1938 the number of executives increased to fourteen, and the number of supervisors to twenty-six. In 1939 the number of executives is fourteen, and the number of supervisors twenty-seven. In other words, the staff directing the student and graduate nurses increased from thirty to forty-one.

Technicians in hospital surveys do not accept the ratio of nurses to patients as the conclusive measure of required nursing service. Nor do they admit death rate figures alone rate the efficiency of the hospital. They point out that some cases require more care than others, and that fact upsets the calculations.

Nevertheless, it is worth something in the present dispute that the net result of the treatment at the hospital was better in 1933, when the hospital population was larger and the number of nurses was smaller than it was in 1938. Obviously, it cannot be accepted that it is a matter of the number of nurses at the hospital at present that is responsible if patient care has suffered.

It has been suggested that the impression that there are too few nurses is more due to the assignment of the number on the staff, than to the actual number. In order to determine this, the Finance Commission has obtained the standard requirements of the State Board.

This Board has ruled that to be eligible for certification the student must have had a minimum of thirty months of practical nursing in every nurse-training period of thirty-six months. This left a maximum of six months for classroom work.

During the major part of 1938 the first year student nurses at the Boston City Hospital were assigned to classroom work for approximately nine months. Previously, the classroom work lasted only five months. Since the above comparison of nursing strength over a period of years reveals that extra nursing time was provided for in the 1938 allotment for nurses, therefore, it is obvious that the extra time was taken up in extra classroom work for the new students, not in providing more care of patients.

Because of specific complaint by the State Board the nine-month period of classroom work has recently been shortened to six months. There is objection by technical advisers of the Finance Commission that it is not customary in other hospitals to spend the whole of the first six-month period in classroom work. Assignment of the student nurses to ward work at an earlier date would add much to the present patient care.

school are not in accordance with national standards and other hospital practices; and, come what may in the matter of the need for more service in the wards, the nursing school executives will let nothing interfere with the prescribed number of hours in the classroom. For instance when the hospital load increased beyond all previous experience in February and March of this year, due to the great number of persons suffering from respiratory sickness, the school executives refused to suspend classes for a minute to permit the students to help in meeting the extra need for nursing service. As an illustration of the excessive amount of time spent by City Hospital students in classroom work, there is offered a comparison of the number of hours required on specific subjects.

Technical advisers of the commission point to the variations in the City Hospital school from practices elsewhere as evidence that the City Hospital school is giving more higher education on medical subjects but less education in practical nursing than is the custom in comparable institutions.

Extra Cost of Present Policies.

Providing for this higher education is not done without extra expense. The teacher nurse brought into the organization by the present superintendent were additions to the pay roll. Though they supplanted others in authority and were given higher pay and more expensive living, the others are still on the pay roll at the rate they received when they exercised the authority and performed the duties of teachers. Also, it has required a larger number of graduate nurses who are paid $1,200 per year to give the service necessary.

In further addition to the pay roll cost, the present superintendent has supplemented the new teaching force she added to the pay roll by making contract with Boston University Medical School to give courses to the hospital students in the classrooms and laboratories of the medical school. The cost of this extra instruction is a growing one, having started in 1938 at $4,649 and now, in 1939, going to $5,506. An important consideration is that this outside instruction keeps the students off the wards by the amount of time spent in taking these courses outside the hospital.

In the eight leading hospitals compared in the foregoing table only the Boston City Hospital pays a salary to students while training. The salary is not large, being $90 the first year, $150 the second year and $200 the third year; but it makes striking contrast with the fact that in seven others no salary is paid, and in four of the seven tuition is charged each student.

Hours of Duty of Nurses.

The length of time that nurses are required to be on duty has entered the present discussion. The Superintendent of the City Hospital Nurses claims that it is inhuman and not conducive to good service to require the nurses, particularly the student nurses, to work the long hours required by present hospital financial limitations.

Elsewhere, generally, the eight-hour day for all nurses (student and graduate) is not yet in operation. This is particularly true of public hospitals. In the City Hospital all employees, except some executives and the nurses, are on an eight-hour, or shorter, day basis. It would seem that the relative importance in a hospital of the work of the nurses would dictate the best conditions of employment for them rather than the poorest.

Graduate Nurses Duty Hours.

It is not easy to state flatly the number of hours per day required of nurses at the Boston hospital. For instance, the time of the graduate nurses on day duty is divided into segments of fourteen days. The length of the working day is nine hours. The nurse has one day of nine hours off in the fourteen-day period, on each of two other days receives four hours off, and on Sunday one hour off. This means that the graduate nurse on day duty works approximately a fifty-four-hour week. It is called in the hospital a fifty-four-hour week. The head nurse on the day shift is on an eight-hour basis.

The time of the graduate nurse on night duty is divided into periods of seven days' service. The length of the night shift is eleven hours. One night off in seven is allowed. The net time on duty, therefore, is approximately sixty-six hours. It is called a sixty-six-hour per week shift in the hospital.

In New York City hospitals all nurses are on an eight-hour basis. In most local hospitals student nurses are on an eight hour per day basis, but the best information obtainable by the Finance Commission is that in most local hospitals graduate nurses average fifty-four hours per week, day or night duty.

In other words, therefore, the graduate nurses on the day shift in the Boston Hospital are working about the same length of time as are the graduate nurses in most local hospitals,—fifty-four hours per week—but the graduate nurses on the night shift in the Boston Hospital are working twelve hours per week longer—sixty-six hours against fifty-four in most local hospitals.

Student Nurses Duty Hours.

To state here the hours of duty of student nurses, it is necessary to have it understood what is meant by duty. It seems fair for the purposes of this report to assume that the number of hours of the students' time required to be given to their training is their hours of duty.

Student nurses give their whole duty time to classroom work and study for the first six weeks. After that six weeks, and until the end of the probationary period of six months, they give eleven hours per week to ward work of a non-technical nature. During the period when they are giving eleven hours to ward work, they attend daily classes, but the number of hours spent in class and in preparation for class varies from day to day. The number of the hours of duty in the first six months is therefore indefinite.

After having served this probationary period of six months, a student nurse is assigned either to day duty or night duty. If the assignment is to day duty, the amount of time required in the wards is fifty-nine hours per week. To this is added four to six hours in classroom, and it is estimated that approximately twelve more hours of study time is required. Summed up, this means that when the student is assigned to day duty a total of seventy-five to seventy-seven hours per week of the student's time is required by the hospital to be devoted to the work of training.

If the student happens to be assigned to night duty the hours required are as follows: For ward work, seventy-seven hours; for classes, four to six hours; for study, twelve hours. Summed up, this makes ninety-five hours per week.

There are few if any other hospitals which require for student nurses so many hours of ward duty plus class and study duty. Generally, in other hospitals, the hours for ward and classroom work for students are limited to forty-eight hours per week. Representatives of the national nursing organizations and the state boards agree that it is too much to expect more than that from the young girls who are usually the student nurses.

Objection of Superintendent in respect to Hours of Nurses Duty.

The present Superintendent of Nurses desires to reduce the number of working hours of the graduate nurses from the present fifty-four-hour week for day nurses and the sixty-six-hour week for night nurses to forty-eight hours for each; and the superintendent desires to reduce the hours of the student nurses in ward work from the fifty-nine hours now required of those on day assignment and the seventy-seven hours of those on night assignment to a flat forty-four hours per week.

How this innovation will affect the Boston hospital costs should be understood.

Cost of Giving Shorter Hours.

The latest estimate available of the Superintendent of Nurses is that to give the forty-four-hour week to student nurses day and night will require the employment of 106.8 additional graduate nurses at $1,200 per year, or a yearly cost in salary of $128,160. To give the graduate nurses the forty-eight-hour week will require the employment of twenty-one additional graduate nurses at $1,200 per year, or a yearly cost of $25,200 in salary. The total additional salary cost for both groups, therefore, will be $153,360.

In other words, the plan of the superintendent is to make up the deficiency in nursing service that will result from shortening the hours of the nurses, both student and graduate, by the employment of more graduate nurses.

Affiliated Nurses.

The City Hospital accepts nurses in the training school from other hospitals and gives them instruction in courses not available to them in their own hospitals. These nurses are designated as affiliated nurses.

Among the affiliated hospitals are many state institutions, like Medfield, Danvers, and Westboro, which are principally mental disease hospitals; some county institutions, like Franklin County Public Hospital; and many public or semi-public municipal or sectional hospitals which offer general treatment, but in some branches have not the facilities or the number of cases to provide study and experience for their nurses sufficient to enable them to meet the registration or certification requirements of state boards. Among the affiliated hospitals from which the Boston City Hospital now takes nurses for training in special subjects are one from Rhode Island and one from Vermont.

The City Hospital authorities claim that the acceptable among the applicants for the Boston Hospital School are fewer than are necessary to operate the school. Therefore, they must augment the service their own pupils give by the service obtainable from these affiliated nurses.

The admission requirements of applicants at the affiliated hospitals in many instances, particularly the public institutions, are not so rigid as are the requirements at the Boston City Hospital. Therefore, it is very possible that under present rigid standards the City Hospital school will admit a pupil from an affiliated school whose application would have been rejected if made originally to the Boston school.

These affiliated nurses train at the Boston school for sometimes three months, six months, nine months, one year, or fifteen months, according to the courses taken and sometimes for particular reasons.

At the present time the Boston Hospital nurses obtain all their training in the Boston Hospital. Arrangements are being made, however, to send some for special training to a Rhode Island school in 1940.

While these affiliated nurses are attached to the Boston school, they give the hours of service required of the class to which they are assigned. It is usually either fifty-nine hours on the wards in day service, or seventy-seven hours on the wards in night service.

The high standards which a prospective student in the Boston school now must meet of necessity cause many potential candidates either to be turned away or to decide to seek training elsewhere. The loftiness of the courses given is beyond their ability. This automatically reduces the supply of acceptable applicants, and makes it necessary to receive students from affiliated hospitals.

Conclusions.

The Finance Commission has attempted to keep personalities out of the foregoing discussion. Yet it is necessary to state at the outset that the present situation is due entirely to the unwillingness of the Superintendent of Nurses to be satisfied with a school that would meet the exact requirements and nothing more. The commission is of opinion that the superintendent could claim, with a measure of justification, that what has been done in the nursing school has been within the broad license given by the trustees when they commissioned her, without specific limitation, to raise the standards of the school for nursing. Although it is undoubtedly true that the trustees never defined the limitations for the school, having in mind the financial ability of the city to pay as well as the exact need to produce good nursing, yet, obviously, the trustees had no intention to permit creation of more than a school that would meet the state requirements and eliminate the criticisms made by the States' Boards.

The obvious result of the enriched curriculum at the hospital is that the product of the nursing school will come out better educated in respect to sickness and disease. It is a matter of opinion on which experts are not agreed as to whether the product will be as good as the art of nursing.

This raises the question as to whether graduates of the City Hospital Nursing School are to come out as assistant doctors or as assistants to doctors in nursing patients. With the present emphasis on the higher education of the students and the lessening that naturally follows of practice in actual nursing, it is not illogical to expect that a new type of hospital employee must be developed. That new type will be an assistant nurse, an employee who will perform the service that the higher-educated student will not have time, inclination or experience to perform. This will add heavily to present hospital costs.

Then comes the question as to whether the purpose of the nursing school is to provide nursing service for the hospital or to become primarily and wholly a university school for the training and education of nurses, simply using the City Hospital as the workshop, with the taxpayers paying for the education of the students and even paying them for the time spent in learning a profession. To carry out this plan will require the hire of other employees to give adequate nursing.

To give the student nurses at the City Hospital the best training possible and under the best conditions possible is a laudable ambition. There is no doubt that this is the motive which has actuated the present Director of the Nursing School in everything she has done since she took over control in 1937. However, it must not be forgotten that it is difficult at the present time to give sufficient funds for that purpose. As has been stated, under present authorization, the primary purpose of the institution is to provide treatment for the sick poor of Boston. Adequate training of the nurses is, of course, an important consideration, and necessary to good nursing; but the primary purpose of the hospital—providing treatment for the sick—must come first.

There is no doubt that a good training school helps the hospital, and is even necessary; but it would appear that a good training school can be conducted, and adequate nursing can be provided, without going to the extreme of establishing a university school for nursing.

If times were better, tax rates lower and taxpayers were not so pressed in other directions, the city undoubtedly would be satisfied with nothing short of the best in this respect. Unfortunately, however, the cost of government has reached such a height that curtailment is a necessity in many branches of service. It is, therefore, not a time for the City Hospital to give more than needed good service.

Student nurses can be trained and directed while in school to give good nursing service. It is not necessary to rely mainly on graduate nurses. Plenty of recruits for the school can be obtained if, in setting standards for acceptance of recruits, the objective is to obtain students who will make good nurses, not particularly students who can absorb a university training. As stated, many prospective students now are rejected because, in the opinion of the school executives, they are not of the university type, and many others are dropped from the school after once being admitted because they cannot absorb the university training given them.

It would seem, therefore, that the requirements of the school should be lightened to permit more students to enter; that the course of instruction should be changed so as to remove a little of the present emphasis on medical instruction, and to give more practice and instruction in the nursing arts; and that the curriculum be made sufficiently flexible to permit the assignment of more students to ward work at the period in the year when the hospital is carrying its peak load of patients.

The comment has been made to the Finance Commission by competent authority that the courses now given to nursing students in the Boston University Medical School are more for prospective physicians than for prospective nurses.

Student nurses, even though paid a small stipend and given free education and training, are much less expensive than graduate nurses.

The present financial difficulty of the city would seem to dictate greater reliance in actual nursing on the student force, having in mind, of course, enough graduate nurses to supervise the students and to supplement the service of the students to the degree necessary.

On the matter of the hours of service, it does not seem reasonable to expect to obtain good service from students who are required to give the number of hours required of them at present. The nurses perform the principal task for which the hospital was established—providing patient care. No one can defend a seventy-seven or ninety-five hour week for student nurses in an institution which exacts only forty-eight hours' labor from porters, ward maids, laundry employees, etc.

As regards the hours of employment of the graduate nurses, it does not appear that those on day duty are overburdened by the requirement of fifty-four hours per week service. With some exceptions, it is the prevailing custom in comparable hospitals. On the other hand, a sixty-six hour week for graduate nurses on night duty is considered an imposition by most hospital and nurse executives.

To give the graduate nurses on night duty the same length of duty hours as is given those on day duty can be accomplished without necessarily adding to their number. One means suggested to the Finance Commission is to reduce the number of graduate nurses on day duty and assign more to night duty, and to make up the deficiency in the day force by the use of student nurses more in practical nursing on the wards and less in classroom activities. More Boston City Hospital students and fewer from affiliated hospitals will give an extra lift, inasmuch as there is more freedom in the assignment of City Hospital students. This will also tend to correct what many now consider the inadequacy of experienced nurse service at night.

Number of student nurses now in particular wards varies as other hospitals want particular courses for their students. The result is that at times some wards are over-supplied. Competent authority has informed the Finance Commission that the contagious wards are more often than not too heavily nurse-manned, while the maternity wards are too thinly nurse-manned.

As previously stated, Finance Commission representatives have consulted many having expert knowledge of hospital management concerning the nursing situation at the City Hospital. It seems to be the general opinion among them that the present assignment of nurses, which is based more on a desire to educate nurses than a desire to provide nursing service, gives the appearance of too few nurses, when—as a matter of fact—there is a plenty of nurses provided for in the funds appropriated for the hospital.

The commission is of opinion, therefore, that readjustment of the present policies of the school so as to bring student training into line with needed service and present financial limitations is the present task of the trustees and superintendent. The institution should continue to give service as simply a hospital.

The Finance Commission believes it is timely in this report to go a little beyond the immediate issue of the adequacy of the nursing force at the City Hospital, and to make some observations in regard to the accomplishments of the hospital under trying circumstances.

Among all who have had occasion to become acquainted with the work of the Boston City Hospital, and particularly among those who by professional training might be considered expert in knowledge of hospital care of the sick, the Boston City Hospital is regarded as second to none anywhere. It is the consensus of informed opinion that the City Hospital performs a public service that is nowhere matched by that of any other hospital.

Public hospitals operated by a municipality are a rarity. A very few, like New York City, have them; but for the most part general hospital care of the sick, where it exists, is left to private or semi-private auspices. The Boston City Hospital gives service even beyond so-called hospital care.

With the assistance, financial and otherwise, of leading medical schools, it has earned high reputation internationally for its accomplishments in medical research. The volume and importance of its contributions to medical science are without parallel in a single hospital. It is prepared for and regularly treats all types of human physical ailments. It is a common occurrence for the Boston City Hospital to take in cases of human suffering which other hospitals have given up trying to ameliorate and to restore the sufferers to physically comfortable living.

In this period of the last two years when the number of its nursing strength has been questioned, it has made records in successful treatment of sickness never equalled anywhere else. In a period of twenty-two months it has not lost a diphtheria case by death.

Within its walls the best medical and nursing care known to science is given to women in childbirth. This service includes pre-natal as well as post-natal care and supervision. Unable to find room in hospital beds for all the prospective mothers who come to its doors to be delivered, the City Hospital, with the cooperation and assistance of the Community Nursing Association and the Boston Lying-In Hospital, one of the best of its kind in the world, now regularly gives a service in childbirth to mothers in their homes that in so far as pertains to medical and nursing service is the equal of any that money can buy or science suggest.

During 1938 the total admissions to the maternity division were 3,580 and the total deliveries were 3,320. The infant mortality rate was 6.1. When the still births and premature infant deaths are deducted, the net mortality rate is 3.3. This unquestionably places this service of the Boston City Hospital at the top among the ranking services of this nature in the world.

Out of this 3,580 admissions, the maternal deaths totaled only ten,—a ratio of less than three tenths of one per cent,—a record which is better than any clinic of its kind in the country.

The Out-Patient Department has in continuous operation thirty-nine separate clinics to which 405,721 visits by patients were made in 1938. The nose and throat clinic, the largest of the thirty-nine, alone treated 5,710 persons. This gives indication of the great number of persons with serious ailments treated without becoming bed-patients of the hospital.

So successful has been the research work in treatment of pneumonia that from July 1, 1938, through March 15, 1939, of 342 cases treated, only fifty-six died, or 16 per cent. Of these 342, approximately 30 per cent, or 101, were affected by a poisoned blood stream in addition to their pneumonia. The City Hospital pneumonia patients are in a much more weakened and diseased condition when first brought to the hospital than is the situation with cases in private hospitals.

The Research Center, known as the Thorndike Laboratory, is well known to the medical world at large. Its facilities are ever at the disposal of Boston's sick. Some of the world's greatest medical discoveries are due to the research work of this laboratory.

The Mallory Institute of Pathology, a division of the hospital, and named after one of the foremost pathologists of all time, who has served at the hospital for a lifetime, has trained many of the country's leading pathologists and medical examiners.

Doctors trained in the Boston City Hospital are the envy of the medical world and their services eagerly sought by institutions everywhere.

Proper appreciation of the precious value of this Boston institution, therefore, would seem to dictate that the operation and management of the hospital should be left to those in whom the law has vested the authority, and that suggestions for changes in its operative efforts and criticism be confined to those who have some expertness in hospital work.

The hospital employs more than 2,000 people. There are upwards of a quarter of a million passing through its doors every year either for treatment or in regard to treatment of themselves or others. All, even the employees, are not capable of realizing the aims or of appreciating the practices of the hospital; and yet it is not surprising that there are some among this vast number who are ready and willing to find fault publicly, or to whom it does not occur that the hospital administrators are more anxious than any others to remove cause of justifiable criticism.

It has become the habit for many to complain from time to time to City Councilors of claimed irregularities, poor conditions, of food, of pay, of hours of labor, etc. Unfortunately at times these complaints have been publicly aired in Council meetings before investigation.

Fortunately, the medical reputation of the hospital has been unharmed by these periodical outbursts. Every one of them, however, makes it harder for the appointed executives to carry on the work of the hospital in orderly comfort. Many employees, unable to understand and appreciate the motives of the administrators, or unwilling to submerge their own interests in the general good of all, have found a haven in the City Council from which they could inspire attacks on their hospital superiors. As a result much time and thought of hospital administrators that might have been given more profitably to worthwhile hospital service is taken up in petty controversies.

By act of the Legislature of 1885, the hands of the City Councilors were taken off the management of the City Hospital. By the charter amendments of 1909, the City Councilors were prohibited from interference with the executive or administrative business of the City Hospital. On several occasions, over a long period of years, the Corporation Council has interpreted the statutes in this way to the City Council.

It would seem, therefore, that the part of wisdom, decency and good conscience would dictate that the City Councilors leave management of the hospital to the legal officers of the hospital, beyond the unquestioned right of the Council to make suitable inquiry as a guide in determination of whether or not the appropriation recommended by the Mayor for hospital maintenance can be reduced.

It is to the credit of Mayor Tobin that he has given every encouragement to continuance of the work of the hospital on the highest medical plane.

BUS LINE, SAVIN HILL STATION-CITY HOSPITAL.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the vice president and treasurer of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the establishing of a bus line from Savin Hill Station to the City Hospital on Sundays during the regular visiting hours.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
April 10, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir.—The trustees considered at their meeting today the request contained in order of the City Council, received with your letter of March 31, for the establishment of a bus line from Savin Hill Station to the City Hospital on Sundays during the regular visiting hours at the hospital.

A bus line is now operated on weekdays between Savin Hill Station and the hospital via Dorchester avenue, Massachusetts avenue and Southampton street, but it would not be sufficiently well patronized on Sundays and holidays to meet operating expenses. In 1936 we experimented with bus service on Sundays between Edward Everett square and the hospital during visiting hours, but were obliged to discontinue it due to lack of patronage.

Residents in the Savin Hill section now have service to the City Hospital on Sundays and holidays via bus line to Andrew square and car line from Andrew square. The running time via this route, without allowance for transfer at Andrew square, is only twelve and one half minutes compared with thirteen minutes on the weekday bus line.

As previous experience has indicated that the requested Sunday bus service would not be self-supporting, and would increase the deficit, the trustees do not feel that its operation can be justified.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Vice President and Treasurer.

Ordered, That the sum of $3,700 be, and hereby is, appropriated for the City Record, Publication of, Item A, Personal Service, said appropriation to be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I want to have my mind very clear on just what we are doing at the present time. As I understand it, after a rather questionable success in trying to hear across the hall just what was said, if we pass this particular section of the budget, the committee and the Council will not yet be informed on the question of whether step rate increases to an amount in excess of $2,100 will go through this year; it will not affect possible deductions for pleasure vehicles now being used by the various departments; it will not affect a possible reduction in W. P. A. materials this year in view of the fact that some 2,200 men have been laid off and therefore we should not require the same amount this year as was required last; and it will not affect a possible deduction in the budget for street construction work, bearing in mind the message from the Mayor today that the entire $1,194,300 under the Acts of 1939, chapter 2, is available and held intact for street work. Do I understand correctly that none of those items are affected?

President MURRAY—The Chair will state that the councilor is correct, that none of those items are included.

Coun. WILSON—I have attended the numerous hearings of the Committee on Appropriations and will frankly admit that I certainly for one very much regret seeing the Council again placed in the position that we are always put in of having a budget sent to us and then gradually, through no fault of the present Mayor, being told that there is a terrific rush and that the members of the committee are expected to go over and digest and criticize a bill on which the Budget Commissioner presumably has been working since last autumn to less than three weeks ago. I bear in mind, of course, that in a year such as 1936 the budget was not passed by the Council until as late as the twenty-fifth of May. I also bear in mind the fact that under the charter all city departments can spend at least one third of their last year's expenditures, which would seem to make it clear that unless the various departments are spending much more this year than they did last year we should be reasonably safe until the first of May, and it is very disillusioning, to say the least, to feel that the various departments are apparently running ahead of last year, although I gather that the City Record item and some other items are partly due to the fact of the rush in last year's tax sale which put a burden of over $8,000 on the City Record.

The question came on the passage of the order. The order was passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for month of April.

Report accepted; said order passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Otis A. B. Skinner, Prince Hall Grand Lodge (referred February 27), for permit for driveway opening at 1105-1109 Tremont street and Weston street—that permit be granted.

Report on petition of Jennie Gavegnano (referred March 27) for driveway opening at 327-331 Bennington street—that permit be granted.

Reports accepted; permits granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on ordinance (referred December 29, 1938) prohibiting sale of cigarettes or tobacco by vending machines—that same ought to pass.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I might state for the record that I verified as recently as the twenty-ninth of November, 1938, that a similar ordinance in the City of Chicago is still in effect. Of course this ordinance, which I am glad to see brought in now from the Committee on Ordinances, is almost in accord with the original ordinance which was introduced by me some months ago. Due to the fact that I attended the hearings of the Committee on Appropriations until a rather late hour I was not at the meeting of the Committee on Ordinances. But do I understand that the Law Department has now complied with our request and that we have been furnished an opinion by the Law Department as to the validity of such an ordinance in Boston, similar to the one in Chicago?

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, we had our meeting last Monday, at which time we expected the protestants to be before the Committee on Ordinances but they were not present. We later had a meeting on Friday. It was called to the committee's attention that Corporation Counsel Parkman said—and he spoke to me about it—that the ordinance as put through the committee with reference to the $25 license fee would probably be held invalid in the courts as a decision had recently come down in Detroit where a $5 license fee was held valid but it was intimated by the Court that anything more than $5 would probably be held invalid. The Corporation Counsel also called to my attention that an ordinance similar to the original ordinance as introduced by Councilor Wilson with reference to the prohibition of the machines was held by the Supreme Court of Illinois to be within the police powers of the City of Chicago, and would probably be so held valid here. I have before me, in answer to Councilor Wilson's question, a letter from the Law Department of the City of Boston which says:

"City of Boston,
Law Department, April 14, 1939.

Hon. Charles I. Taylor,
Chairman, Committee on Ordinances.

Dear Councilor Taylor,—Answering your inquiry of April 13 as to whether or not it is legally possible to prohibit the use of all cigarette and cigar vending machines in the City of Boston, I am of the opinion that the City Council may, in the exercise of the police power and in the interest of the regulation of public health, enact an ordinance prohibiting the use of vending machines for the sale of cigarettes and cigars. I would call to your attention the form of prohibitory ordinance submitted by Councilor Wilson on December 29, 1938, and printed on page 430 of the Council Minutes of that year. This form of ordinance was prepared by the Law Department and in my opinion would be upheld as a valid police regulation.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel."

Does that answer your question, councilor? I offer that letter as a part of the record.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President and members of the Council, I thought that this year we were working on a program of economy. I also thought that this year the members of the Council, as in other years, were attempting to do everything possible for the purpose of increasing the revenue of the city and increasing it in such manner that it would not work a hardship on any one concerned. An ordinance was presented to the Council some weeks ago with reference to putting a license fee upon cigarette vending machines, and the purpose of putting a license fee on cigarette vending machines was for the purpose of bringing in revenue to the city. The thought in mind was to perhaps put a license fee of $50 on, somewhat similar to what was enacted in Chicago, and I believe that at that time I stated to the members of the Council that in Chicago when the license fee there was put into effect the $50—it was not a license fee, but practically a tax put upon the sale of cigarettes in the vending machines, and as a result of that tax the machines that were being operated were reduced in number and placed in the hands of a so-called racketeer group in Chicago, and as a result thereof they finally were abolished. I have not heard anything said about the operations of the cigarette machines in Boston, that they are being operated by a group of racketeers. I have not heard any complaints coming into the Boston City Council of any illegal traffic in connection with the operation of those vending machines, and I feel that the committee at the same time felt that perhaps if a license fee of $25 was enacted it would bring in revenue to the city, and I believe that that was the primary purpose of enacting the bill—the bringing of revenue to the City of Boston. I stated at the last meeting of the Council that, in my opinion, a license fee of $25 would be a prohibitive sum, and instead of being a license fee would actually be a tax, and would be declared illegal by the courts of this Commonwealth. I suggested that a license fee of $5 be levied on the various machines throughout the City of Boston. If there are 1,500 of them and we can get a license of $5 per machine, we will bring revenue into the city, and there is going to be no additional cost for the inspection of those machines, police regulations, or the matter of health. After all, these cigarettes are being sold in sealed compacts. There have been no reports of violations and no complaints, except there were brought in here by a group during the various committee hearings, I believe, some men representing some association of retail tobacco dealers, and they, when they came in before the committee, stated that they did not particularly want to drive these other operators out of business but felt that there ought to be some fair tax or some license fee assessed upon them. The very proponents who are interested in this license fee stated that they did not want, as I said before, to drive these men out of business, but merely to put a license fee on which would in some way be commensurate with the competition that they are giving. Relative to regulating the fair trade practices, that is a matter that is being regulated by the Legislature. It is also a matter that is being regulated by Congress in Washington. When we find people talking about public health, about the police regulations, and about the sale of cigarettes to minors, as I said before, it sounds well on paper but appears to be nothing but bunk. I feel that this license which is attempted to be put into effect will not bring about the results and remedy that have been asked for, because I believe that those places which are now selling cigarettes and cigars in these vending machines will continue to sell tobacco over their counters. These things are now sold in restaurants, in night clubs, perhaps in barrooms and taverns. They are sold in other establishments, and instead of securing the commodities from the machines they will but them over the counter, and they will undoubtedly be sold at the same cut rate that they are being sold at the retail tobacco stores, and instead of remedying the situation these small tobacco dealers will be creating competition which they did not originally expect. And I feel that the members of the Council, if they are really interested in the taxpayers of Boston, irrespective of the small sum that may be derived from the revenue—and as I say, if there are 1,500 of them in Boston, at $5 per head tax for each machine, it would not involve any additional employees in any of the departments and would bring in additional revenue—will want to give the matter careful consideration. We can use that money coming in. We know that there has been some talk about children of minor years purchasing cigarettes from these tobacco machines. Well, most of them are being kept in places where only grown folks come, and I feel that the same regulation that is now applicable to the sale of cigars and cigarettes in the retail stores could apply to them. I think we have got laws and we have got ordinances now to affect the violation of any rule or regulation within our confines. There is some question about some machines where they sell cigarettes for one cent, and it has been suggested that certain regulations might be put into effect to prohibit certain types of machines. But on the general form, I feel that, within the wisdom of this City Council, we should refuse to enact this proposed ordinance, and instead of that we should ratify the original ordinance that was brought in here in the sum of $25 but to reduce it down to a $5 license fee, so that we will be getting some revenue for the city.

On motion of Coun. CAREY the matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

PAYMENT TO FATHER OF ROBERT STAPLETON.

Coun. HARRIS offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the payment of a sum of money to the father of Robert Stapleton who was permanently injured in a school building; provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENT.

Chairman KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1, on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 3, 1939, of Oscar T. Kazanjian, to be a Weigher of Goods, and Walter Gillis, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Langan and Irwin. Whole number of ballots 14, yeas 14, and the appointments were confirmed.

BOSTON ELEVATED SITUATION.

Coun. WILSON, KELLY, FISH, HUTCHINSON and ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be urgently requested to interest the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston to promptly test the legality of continued payments of money of the taxpayers:

(1) directly or indirectly to pay dividends on the 238,794 shares of common stock of the Boston Elevated Railway Company; (2) to pay any part of the annual operating deficit of the Boston Elevated Railway Company; (3) to pay any part of the deficit of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, a private corporation; (4) to meet the alleged annual operating deficit of the Boston Elevated Railway Company,—a private corporation,—especially in view of the fact that—

(a) In 1938 there was a deduction of over $2,000,000 for depreciation, although during the ten years previous to public control a total of only $1,295,000 was deducted for depreciation.

(b) In a period of twenty years the trustees have expended some $56,000,000 for replacements and new construction on a plant alleged, even by the Boston Elevated Railway Company, to have a book value now in excess of $110,000,000, and the actual value of which is probably not in excess of $66,000,000.

Further ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to provide for an adequate appropriation to be expended, under the direction of the Corporation Counsel, for the purpose of meeting expenses for expert services and any other necessary and proper expenditures which may be incurred in the preparation for and in the conduct of legal proceedings to test the validity and legality of payment of public money collected from the taxpayers of Boston for any of the purposes above set forth.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, mounting taxes, losses of homes, and especially the agitation for possible purchase of the common stock of the Boston Elevated Railway Company for $60 a share or for any amount, have aroused the people of the Dorchester district of Boston; and, I assume, of all other sections of the city. The part played by the annual expenses of the Boston Elevated by the taxpayers, even with a ten-cent fare, and even after total abandonment of all services on the Atlantic avenue route, has aroused the membership of that group of public spirited citizens and civic leaders known in five wards of the city as the "Dorchester All-Together Movement." Some weeks ago I urged the passage of an order in this Council for immediate condemnation and demolition of the Atlantic avenue elevated structure, abandoned since last October and yet carried on the books of the Elevated as an asset to the tune of $3,120,000 as recently as March of 1937. Why should we fail to take the requested action immediately? What is this strange power of the Elevated? On March 6, 1939, the City Council unanimously passed a resolution requesting the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston to oppose House Bill 154 of 1939, which would authorize the retirement of the Elevated common stock by purchase. I now urge—I demand—that the legality of the annual assessment on the taxpayers of the City of Boston incident to the Elevated deficit be definitely and aggressively attacked. On February 7, 1938, the Mayor successfully requested an appropriation of $20,000, to be used in preparation and presentation of our case before the Department of Public Utilities incident to the proposed gas rates. That was no more vital or important than this dragging cancer, whereby every property owner in Boston and in thirteen other cities and towns actually is assessed to make up the alleged operating deficit of an insolvent private corporation which under a lease arrangement is being operated for a limited time by public officers. H. I. Harriman, trustee of the Elevated, in a letter to the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs at the State House, under date of March 26, 1937, with reference to a suggested sale of the Atlantic avenue junk pile to the Boston Metropolitan District for two and a half million dollars, did point out that "The Elevated Trustees as trustees are not responsible for the improvement of traffic facilities in the city." Neither have the trustees been legally authorized to rehabilitate the Elevated system with public money raised by taxation. Recently, Judge Sweeney of the United States District Court, in a proceeding involving the Social Security Act, clearly pointed out that the Elevated as a private corporation still exists as such and has all the powers that were originally accorded it. During the ten and a half years prior to public control the road deducted only $1,295,000 for depreciation. In a period of twenty years public control has spent some $56,000,000 for replacements and new construction on a plant which even the Elevated books make no claim exceeds $110,000,000. Recently, over $2,000,000 was charged to depreciation in a single year. Approximately $1,500,000 went for the Revere Beach line. Although the Rapid Transit is obviously of primary advantage to localities outside metropolitan Boston, yet only thirteen other cities and towns share the expense load, and Boston alone pays approximately 65 per cent. I understand that a city as near to us as Quincy bears no part of the burden. Lucky Quincy! Dumb Boston! Am I correct in my understanding that in 1938 over $2,000,000 was paid off the mortgage or bonded debt and, in effect, deducted as a service charge? The Boston Elevated property has been leased to the Commonwealth and no lessee is permitted to strip or waste. But there was no provision in the Acts of 1918, chapter 159, whereby public funds should be used to rehabilitate the road, re-equip the system, or pay off any part of a bonded debt. As I remember it, section 13 merely provides that upon the expiration of the period of public management and operation the property shall be in good operating condition,—in other words, as lessees we will not let the property go to rack and ruin. But on what theory of law is public money being used to rehabilitate the leased property? Why should we treat the property and rolling stock better than the owners did themselves? The comparative charges for depreciation tell the story. It is well enough to say that Boston needs a better transportation. We must have food and shelter and fuel, also. But neither the state nor any sub-division of the Commonwealth attempts to underwrite the operating costs or deficits of any private corporations dealing in those necessities. I believe the time has come when the taxpayers of Boston are entitled to have their lawyer—the Corporation Counsel,—with an appropriation of their money, protect them against the continued illegal use of their money. The people of Dorchester demand that the legality of the continued payment of Elevated deficits and other items be at once tested in their behalf; and, while we are about it, they want a direct, aggressive, frontal attack made to fix and determine their legal rights. Even half a million dollars annual charge back against the city toward the Elevated deficit is an automatic assessment of over thirty cents per thousand on every piece of taxable property in the City of Boston, and the Dorchester councilors, some of whom may care to supplement what I say, have been instructed by the civic leaders of Dorchester and by the taxpayers of Dorchester to urge upon the Mayor that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, as the lawyer for the taxpayers, be instructed to proceed with such legal measures as will determine the legality of these continued assessments on the property owners of Boston to help rehabilitate a private corporation. They not only urge that, they demand it. And they also urge, in the second part of the order, that the Corporation Counsel not only be instructed to take these steps but that a sufficient amount of money be appropriated to give him the munitions of warfare to carry on the fight, just as he received $20,000 in the far less important item of the proposed increase in the Consolidated Gas rates.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, may I ask Councilor Wilson a question? When this bill was passed by the Legislature, can you tell me whether or not anybody asked for an advisory opinion by the Supreme Court—if you know?

Coun. WILSON—Well, I assume the question is, if I know. I would state, in answer to the question, that I am unaware whether the Supreme Court passed on the specific question, but if they did pass on the specific question whether or not the Act of 1918 was legal, I still say that they did not contemplate the fact that, although the Boston Elevated in a period of ten years had charged off practically nothing to depreciation, that in twenty years the trustees of the Elevated road, using the money of the taxpayers, would spend millions of dollars to rehabilitate the road. My answer would be, whether the Act of 1918 was or was not legal, the deficits which have been charged back against the taxpayers of Boston and the thirteen other cities and towns have been partly to rehabilitate the road, and that we insist is illegal whether or not the original act was legal.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, as I listened to the order as it was read, although it was a lengthy order, and I am heartily in favor of it, I do not think that it goes far enough, because the most that I think can be done in this case, as far as the Corporation Counsel is concerned, is to render to us an opinion as to whether or not it is valid, and that opinion, of course, is of no consequence until it has been determined to its finality by the Supreme Court. So that I will offer an amendment, Mr. President, to that order, that his Honor the Mayor refuse to pay the City of Boston's share of the deficit until the Supreme Court determines that the law requiring the City of Boston to pay the deficit is valid. I would add that to the order for this reason: Until this question comes properly before the courts it cannot be decided, and the only way that it can come properly before the courts is to refuse to pay, so that a bill in equity or a lawsuit may be started against the City of Boston to compel it to pay. Then, only, will we know whether or not this law is valid. I offer that amendment.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the point taken by the gentleman from Ward 12 is an excellent one and was in the minds of the Dorchester councilors. We did, however, feel that the method of approach by the Corporation Counsel should be somewhat left to his discretion. Obviously, the most direct and perhaps most effective manner of raising the question before the Supreme Court would be to refuse to pay this year's deficit assessed back against the City of Boston. I would have no objection, and I do not assume that the other councilors would have any objection, to that amendment being added. We have not asked for a legal opinion of the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, relying on his ability, backed by the money power of the city to pay the bills—after all, the taxpayers' money will be used to pay the bills. Our primary purpose is to bring this matter before the Supreme Judicial Court of this Commonwealth, and the best way to do it may well be to refuse to pay this year's deficit.

The question came on the adoption of the amendment. The amendment was adopted and the question came on the passage of the order as amended. The order was passed.

Later in the session Coun. SHATTUCK said: Mr. President, I move reconsideration of the order which has just passed with reference to the Elevated.

President MURRAY—The question is on reconsideration.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I make that motion for this reason—and I am speaking from memory, because I have not read the Elevated Act for some little time. But, according to my memory, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is the party to the lease. There is a lease between the Commonwealth and the Boston Elevated Railway Company. The Commonwealth, as I recall, pays the deficit and then apportions the deficit among the cities and towns. So that if you decide you won't pay, you will have to fight with the Commonwealth, the Commonwealth having already paid the Elevated. I doubt if that would be effective. Therefore, if reconsideration prevails, I shall move that the amendment offered by Councilor Taylor be stricken out of the order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I might say, in answer to Councilor Shattuck, that if the Commonwealth took upon itself to pay out money and they paid it out illegally, it is of no concern to the City of Boston, and if the Commonwealth taxes the people of the City of Boston it is of no concern to the people of the City of Boston whether they have paid out money illegally or not. I think it would make no difference as far as the taxpayers or the people of the City of Boston are concerned.

The question came on reconsideration. Reconsideration was refused.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF LIBRARY FOR MONSIGNOR ARTHUR T. CONNOLLY.

Coun. CAREY and LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, in view of his many years of unselfish sacrifice and devotion to the community and in recognition of his many years of distinguished service as a member of the Board of Trustees of said Library, to name the Jamaica Plain branch library on Centre street the Monsignor Arthur T. Connolly Branch, and that a suitable commemorative plaque bearing his name be installed in the lobby of said building.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, the name of the late revered and lovable gentleman, Monsignor Arthur T. Connolly, is synonymous with Jamaica Plain. Monsignor Connolly, as Pastor of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, was the shepherd of a flock, who labored in his priestly duties in Jamaica Plain for fifty years that man might be instructed in and informed of his duties to his God and his country. To honor him in the manner requested is but humble recognition of his intellect, his high motives, his excellent service on the Board of Trustees, and his deep interest in the community. For sixteen long years Monsignor Connolly served with distinction on the Board of Trustees of the Boston Public Library, and no more fitting tribute, one that will justly identify him with one of his major life works, can be accorded him than to honor him, in a manner that will serve as a well-deserved tribute for the years to come in the district he loved so well, by designating what is now known as the Jamaica Plain Branch Library as the Monsignor Arthur T. Connolly Branch, and to install a suitably inscribed plaque in the lobby of the building.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, I wish to concur with the councilor from Ward 10 in his order that the trustees of the Public Library name the branch library which is located in that section of Jamaica Plain after the late Monsignor Connolly. He was a man whose learning was well recognized by the Mayors of this city, and year after year he served faithfully as one of the trustees of the Boston Public Library. His charity was well known throughout the entire district to the poor, and his learning was a byword for those who had occasion to seek improvements in the Public Library of the City of Boston. I think it is only fitting that his memory should be put in permanent form by having this library in this section of Jamaica Plain named after him.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HOSPITAL REGULATIONS RE CHILDREN UNDER TWELVE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to amend any existing regulations which prohibit the keeping for observation at the hospital of any child twelve years of age or under whose condition is such as to require hospital treatment.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, for the purpose of the record, I wish to say that to err is human, and in introducing that order today I want it to be accepted in a spirit of fairness and not one of criticism. However, there occurred at the Boston City Hospital last Monday night an incident that, while it was a mistake, I think something should be done to prevent similar occurrences. A little girl, ten years of age, having been seen by her doctor earlier in the evening, was sent in an ambulance of the Boston City Hospital to the hospital, and upon arriving there was without a dress, and the child's mother, who accompanied her in the ambulance, was told that she would have to take the child home. Whether there is a definite rule in the hospital that prohibits keeping a child of ten years of age there or not I have not been able to definitely determine, but for some reason the house doctor on duty last Monday night felt that he could not keep the child there. The child's mother was instructed to return home and get the child's clothing, which she did. Later in the evening she came back to the hospital and took the child back to her home on Alleghany street in Roxbury. The child's condition remained so serious the following day that the doctor was again called in and she was taken to the Boston City Hospital, where, upon examination, it was decided that the child was suffering from a very serious condition of pleurisy and threatened with pneumonia. As I said in the beginning, I do not introduce this matter as one of severe criticism, but I feel that some change should be made in the regulations of the hospital in order to, in the future, avoid embarrassment on the part of the house doctor on duty in the evening, so that in a case of this kind he may hold the child there for diagnosis.

Referred to the Committee on Hospitals.

IMPROVEMENTS, BROOK AVENUE, ROXBURY.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Brook avenue, Roxbury, and to relay the brick sidewalks thereon, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUDGET INFORMATION RE SALARIES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to supply the City Council Committee on Appropriations with a detailed schedule which shall clearly show by departments, in all cases, proposed raises in salary for the year 1939:

1. The amount of the 1938 salary.
2. The amount of the proposed increase.
3. The amount of the proposed total salary for 1939.

4. Whether the raise represents a so-called "step-rate" increase.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FILING OF ABATEMENT PETITIONS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Collector be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, on all tax bills sent out for the year 1939 and thereafter, to state plainly and conspicuously on each bill that the time for filing abatement petitions with the Board of Assessors expires by law on October 1; and, also, that the time for appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals expires sixty days after notice of decision by the Board of Assessors, or, in any event, ninety days after four months from filing of any petition for abatement.

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, in all cases where property owners file abatement petitions on or before October first in any year, to send timely notice to each petitioner as to the finding by the Board of Assessors; and, also, to advise that any appeal by the taxpayer, from such finding by the Board, must be taken within sixty days thereafter.

Coun. WILSON—With reference to the two latter orders, they cover, in a way, a matter which came up before the Committee on Appropriations last week. I am sure there is not a councilor now in the Council who has not, again and again, had the experience of constituents coming to him who felt that their properties have been overassessed, and who came to a member of the Council to get the assessment reduced. Many of them come in after the first day of October, and they are told that the technicality of the law blocks their even filing, or they come in early enough to get their petition for abatement filed on or about the first of October, and then, even with the increased personnel of the Board of Assessors,—which now has five instead of three,—these small taxpayers wait month after month, and perhaps sometimes late the next summer they come in to see some City Councilor, and the City Councilor and the taxpayer learn to their dismay that another technical requirement has not been complied with, that the ninety-day period following the four months period has also expired, that there is now no appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals on Somerset street, and as a result the Board of Assessors, not actually but figuratively, laughs at the taxpayer and the City Councilor and it goes into another year. I personally feel that the Board of Assessors, despite some feeling on the Board to the contrary, is not dealing with any individual property owner of Boston at arm's length. Any member of the Board of Assessors of the City of Boston is a servant of the people of the City of Boston. Any man who has an assessment put on his home in Boston expects to get a fair break from the Board of Assessors, and no more. He doesn't expect to have the Assessing Department handle him and deal with him at arm's length, because, in my opinion, the Board of Assessors is in a fiduciary capacity to every individual taxpayer in Boston. I think the action is a little fast baseball. It is not, as the English say, just cricket for the Board of Assessors to stand behind the legal technicality that you have got to file the petition for abatement on or before the first of October, or to stand behind another legal technicality, that if it has not been acted upon within four months you have got to make your appeal within ninety days or go by the board. An insistence upon those technical rules, in my opinion, as I have said, is fast baseball, especially since the average man or woman in Boston, especially the elderly couple living in their little home in a residential community, is not up on the technicalities of the law, and he does not wake up to the fact until it is too late. I say that it is only ordinary decency that the little home owner in Dorchester or Roxbury or Roslindale should have clearly brought home to him on his tax bill, conspicuously stated, that if he does not like the assessment on the tax bill he has only got until October 1, when the bell rings. I think that when the tax bill goes out—and this is also something which the City Collector is interested in—it should be made plain that if the appeal is not taken within ninety days of the four months the bell has rung. The fellow who has really had a break in these past years of depression is the taxpayer in Boston with the big piece of property and the high-priced lawyer who knows the different angles, and if you don't believe what I say I will give you some figures. I happened to look up the figures for another matter, and I am going to take what is supposed to be probably the most exclusive, delightful, best street in the City of Boston. To be sure, there are no houses in Dorchester or Roslindale, on the average street, that are brick houses, and to be sure the streets in my ward are not, under the law, parts of the Park Department system. But take this particular street, not because I wish the people on the street any hard luck, because it is to their credit that they protected their rights and had their assessments reduced to a figure which they thought was fair. The only reason I am making a comparison is that the fellow with a lot of money at stake, and with a lawyer who knows his business, protects his business, whereas the small fellow in the residential ward has no high-priced lawyer and, therefore, does not get his assessment reduced. This is just showing, however, what can be done. Let us take some of the properties on Commonwealth avenue, between Arlington street and Massachusetts avenue, Boston. I am going to take them pretty much at random, and I will give the number of the property, the assessed value in 1928, and the assessed value ten years later, in 1938—last year:

* Less than half.

The publication of those figures points out this, also, Mr. President: Take a man on that street, who knows the law, and who has been legally protected, as was his right,—and I again repeat, good luck to him,—a man who had a piece of property there which was assessed in 1938 for $41,000. In 1928 the tax rate was $28.80 a thousand. That man, on the valuation of $41,000, paid the City of Boston $1,180. Ten years later, in 1938, the tax rate was $41.30, but his property had its valuation reduced in the meanwhile from $41,000 to $20,000. He paid in 1938 $826, or $354 less than he paid ten years before, before the fall in real estate. He paid $354 less than he paid in 1928. In other words, boiled down to figures, Mr. President, although the tax rate in ten years went up by 43 per cent, from $28.80 a thousand in 1928 to $41.30 a thousand in 1938—although the tax rate went up 43 per cent and the world cried loudly, a man with his property reduced from a valuation of $41,000 to $20,000 on that street actually paid 30 per cent less in taxes in 1938 than he paid in 1928. And so, in closing, Mr. President, in urging the passage of these orders, the point I wish to make is this: Properties have, of course, dropped almost to nothing in value throughout the city. Any property owner whose property is over-valued in Boston has a right to take advantage of the provisions of law to protect himself. The people in the district which I have cited took advantage, to their credit, of the right which they had to reduce their valuations, as they should have been reduced. But the average little one-horse property owner out in Dorchester or any of the other residential districts, with only a tax bill, perhaps, of two or three hundred dollars, not knowing the ropes, let October 1 go by and did not file a petition for abatement. Or he filed it and then he prayed and he waited, and six months went by, and a year went by, and perhaps two years went by, and he woke up one day to find out that he had not filed a petition with the Board of Tax Appeals. That is the little fellow that should be protected, because the other fellow will protect himself, and in fairness to that little fellow, and with the feeling that the Board of Assessors, as I have said, is in a fiduciary relation to that little fellow, it should be plainly and conspicuously stated on the tax bill that the bell rings on the first of October and that he has to file a petition in abatement by the first of October or he is out the window. Also, conspicuously stated on the bill, should be a warning to him that time also runs on the right of appeal. And I say further, that, especially with the Board of Assessors that has now been increased to five, bearing in mind the information from the Board of Assessors who told us the other day that only about 10 per cent of the property owners in Boston file petitions for abatement, there is also a moral duty on the part of the assessors not to take the petitions for abatement of the widows and the little fellows and then send them to the bindery or into the waste basket, and I think that they ought to be informed at once, instead of three or four months later—which will not help them—that they should be warned that they have got ninety days to appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals, and I say to you, Mr. President, that with the tax rate today—which, instead of being $41.30 is really over $80 a thousand—that the City of Boston, first of all, owes it to the taxpayers to warn them as to their rights, and in the second place, when the average taxpayer is warned of his rights you will see the average little property owner doing as the big property owner does, filing a claim in the Board of Appeals, and because his tax is less than $1,000 he will not have to pay half the tax when he does it, and you will see such an army going up to Somerset street to protect their rights when they get this year's tax bill that they will have to call out the Police Department to keep them in line.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I agree with the councilor that every owner should have full knowledge of his rights, and I think it would be a good thing to print the notice that he suggests. So far as Commonwealth avenue or Dorchester are concerned, however, I think that Dorchester has been in a fortunate condition as compared with Commonwealth avenue. I do not suppose that there is a single street in the entire City of Boston that has taken such a licking in value as has Commonwealth avenue. The gentleman can go there any day and buy all the houses he wants at $10,000 or less—any number of them. I did not hear him give a single figure of an assessment of less than $20,000, and I think most of them were $25,000, yet, as I say, you can buy any number of them for $10,000 or less. They have become almost worthless.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I agree with what the gentlemen says, and my criticism is not that the owners of those properties have protected themselves, but my remarks were directed to the fact that the average small fellow does not realize what his rights are and has not, perhaps, a lawyer on the job to protect his rights. I would point out that one of the things that brought this to a head was a property owner on Codman Hill avenue in Dorchester—believe it or not—who, within the last three years, in reading his tax bill, found that the assessment, not on his house but on the land on which the house was built, had been actually raised $300. I thought, at first, perhaps he had planted a couple of these California redwoods on his property, but there had been no change unless it was the cutting of the lawn. But he had an increased valuation on his property inside of the last three years,—on the lot itself, not on the house, and without any changes in the property,—of $300. That seems a small amount. But I say that in these outlying sections of the city the properties certainly have not increased in value in the last ten years, and, just as the councilor has said in reference to Commonwealth avenue, there is not a piece of property in the ward which I represent that is worth today on the open market anywhere near its 1928 value, although 98 per cent of it, I will venture to say, is still being taxed at close to that figure.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, during this present administration, I believe, every widow filing an application for abatement has been notified that her abatement has either been acted upon favorably or rejected, and I believe that a similar procedure should be followed with the small home owner who files an application for abatement rather than letting the four months period go by, and perhaps the ninety-day period go by, whereby they are left without any right of appeal. I feel that not only should the tax bills contain the statement that an application must be filed on or before the first of October and that the person seeking relief has ninety days from the end of the four months period, or from the time the application for abatement has been rejected, but they should also receive a notice in the mail stating that their application is either being acted upon or rejected, and with a further notification of the time limit for filing appeal before the Board of Tax Appeals.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I want to add a very few remarks to what Councilor Wilson has said. I think it was two weeks ago that I put in an order with reference to widows receiving their abatements without filing their applications. Up to this year this was always been the system in the Assessing Department, but for some reason the system has changed this year. Widows were not notified to file their abatements in the ordinary manner prior to October 1. I went before Mr. Dowling, one of the assessors, in the case of a crippled woman who was unable to come to the Assessing Department and make out her appeal, and he refused to give her a $2,000 abatement to which she was entitled, although every other widow who did file her application received it, and it was only through some mechanics of the Assessment Department, after talking with another assessor, that I was able to secure that abatement, not under the widow's abatement clause, under which she was entitled to the abatement, Clause 17, but under Clause 18, under which she had to say that she was unable to pay any taxes on the property. In the case of widows I do not think there ought to be an abatement filed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS ON HAWTHORNE STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for the installation of sidewalks on Hawthorne street, between Florence and Sycamore streets, Ward 19, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BREWER AND OTHER STREETS.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 19, under the W. P. A. plan of construction: Brewer street, Chestnut avenue, from Paul Gore street to Green street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ARC LIGHT, ROSLINDALE SQUARE.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an electric arc light on Washington street, opposite Cummins Highway, directly in front of the park at Roslindale square.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AUTOMATIC TRAFFIC SIGNALS, JAMAICA PLAIN.

Coun. LANGAN and CAREY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic signals at the junction of South Huntington avenue and Perkins street, Jamaica Plain.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISTRIBUTION OF BUTTER.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the W. P. A. authorities the matter of providing for the immediate distribution of butter, through the Surplus Commodities Division, to persons receiving welfare aid and also those who are working on the W. P. A., so that they may receive the same benefits as those persons in similar circumstances who reside outside of the City of Boston.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, at the present time, as I understand, not only the people who are on the W. P. A., but those on the welfare rolls of towns and cities outside of Boston, are receiving, through the benefits of the Federal Government, a supply of butter each week. The City of Boston, up until the present time, has felt itself financially unable to contribute the money necessary to have the welfare recipients and those on the W. P. A. receive these benefits. I feel sure that his Honor the Mayor, when he considers the circumstances, will see that this is not a proper move toward economy, that for the small sum that is necessary to be given the Federal Government for the processing tax it would be a good move to have those people who are on the welfare rolls and on the W. P. A. rolls receive this necessary commodity which will add to their health.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENTS, WILLIAM EUSTIS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take immediate steps to resurface the William Eustis Playground and to make the necessary repairs to the locker house and showers.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT OF SULLIVAN PLAYGROUND.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the J. M. and J. J. Sullivan Playground and to install swings and other equipment for the enjoyment of the children.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STADIUM, FRANKLIN FIELD.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the erection of a municipal stadium on Franklin Field, the expense of same to be met from the income of the George Robert White Fund.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, perhaps the greatest recreation field in Greater Boston is Franklin Field. Thousands of children and adults from all over the Dorchester section and from all parts of Boston use the facilities of Franklin Field, which is a splendid field for the purpose of athletic development, and I believe that no finer location in the City of Boston could be found for the use of a part of the income of the George Robert White Fund than in the erection of a municipal stadium which would be used for the development of the health of the youths of the community, and by so securing a municipal stadium from the George White Fund we will not have to draw on funds from the city treasury.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

By direction of the Chair, the Council at 3.45 p. m. took a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by the Chair at 4.15 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusements, viz:

J. C. Williams, Jacob P. Bates Hall, April 14; Gertrude Dolan, Jordan Hall, June 12; Gertrude Dolan, Jordan Hall, June 21; Lulu Philbrook, Lee Auditorium, May 17; Lucille Perry Hall, Jordan Hall, May 22—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. IRWIN, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for sale of land and building on Brooks street, Brighton, formerly occupied by Faneuil Branch of Public Library—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order. The order was passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

ROOM FOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS, DILLAWAY HOUSE.

Coun. LYONS and HARRIS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for a meeting room for the Gold Star Mothers of Boston in the Dillaway House, Roxbury.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, the reason why I introduce the order now is that from fifty to seventy-five Gold Star Mothers in the City of Boston at the present time have not a place to meet. They are hiring a few rooms in a hotel in Boston. This Dillaway House, I understand, is more or less of a relic in Boston, but recently it was renovated, and I think that it would be a very appropriate thing if the Commissioner of Public Buildings could arrange for ample space where these mothers may meet once a month. They have monthly meetings.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STAIRS, SUNSET HILL PARK, CENTRE STREET.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a flight of stairs between Sunset Hill park and Centre street, West Roxbury.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

"STOP" SIGNS, CENTRE AND SOUTH STREETS, WEST ROXBURY.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install "Stop" signs at the junction of Centre and South streets, West Roxbury.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT OF WREN STREET, WEST ROXBURY.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Wren street, West Roxbury, and install sidewalks on both sides of the street, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF STREETS.

Coun. LANGAN, ENGLERT, LYONS and CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be, and he hereby is, authorized to rope off streets, in accordance with the annual custom, for the Annual Ten-Mile Road Race of the William F. Reddish Athletic Association, Jamaica Plain.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAINING IN AVIATION MECHANICS.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to forthwith make arrangements to collaborate with the Federal Government for the establishment of a training course in Aviation Mechanics in the high schools of Boston, in conjunction with the present curriculum of the high schools.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 4.20 p. m., on motion of Coun. SHATTUCK, to meet on Monday, April 24, 1939, at 2 p. m.

FELLOWSHIP STUDIES IN TRAFFIC CONTROL.

Fifteen graduate fellowships, each with a stipend of $1,200-plus up to $200 for travel and field investigation have been announced by the Bureau for Street Traffic Research of Harvard University. The regular annual tuition fee of $400 will be deducted from the fellowships, which have been made available through a gift to the University by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association. The officers of instruction are Miller McClintock, Director of the Bureau, and Maxwell Halsey, Assistant Director. Each of two full courses in street and highway traffic control consists of three one-hour periods a week, and additional problems, assignments and field work.

UNITED STATES GROSS DEBT.

November 30, 1932, total gross debt of the United States was $20,806,013,836, of which $20,476,034,190 was interest-bearing. This is a reduction of $6,120,667,458 from the peak of $26,596,701,648 on August 31, 1919. The gross debt on June 30, 1931, was $16,801,281,492.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christiansen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

The following retirement, which will take effect at 8 a. m., Saturday, April 22, 1939, is hereby announced:

Principal Operator Daniel J. Collins of the Fire Alarm Division.

The following retirement, which took effect at 8 a. m., Thursday, April 6, 1939, is hereby announced:

Hoseman John A. Donahue of Engine Company 24.

Principal Operator Collins was appointed to the Fire Department on September 4, 1896. He was promoted to assistant operator on November 14, 1902, to operator, September 20, 1912, and to principal operator, July 10, 1914. Hoseman Donahue was appointed to the department on February 1, 1924. Both of these men leave the department with the best wishes of their associates.

II. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENTS.

The following signal numbers are to be added to the running cards of the A. D. T. Company in this department:

III. BOSTON AUTOMATIC ASSIGNMENT.

The following signal number is to be added to the running card of the Boston Automatic Fire Alarm Company in this department:

A new running card, dated April 18, 1939, for page 4 of the Boston Automatic Assignment Book, is being issued to the department today. This page will take the place of old page No. 4, dated February 14, 1936. The old card is to be returned to Headquarters, in the envelope provided, on or before Wednesday, April 26, 1939.

IV. COMMENDATIONS.

At 11.44 p. m., April 10, 1939, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1545 for a fire at 41 Lawrence street, South End. Upon arrival of the apparatus at the fire a woman was seen sitting on the outside sill of a third-floor window. A ladder was raised and Ladderman Jeremiah J. Cronin of Ladder Company 13 ascended and prevented her from falling or jumping as she threatened to do. Meanwhile, Capt. John L. Glynn of Engine Company 22 worked his way through the heat and smoke inside the house to the third floor, and carried the woman downstairs, where the members of Rescue Company 1 placed her on a stretcher.

Because of the personal risk to which Captain Glynn and Ladderman Cronin exposed themselves in performing this rescue work, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend them highly and the case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

At about 10.21 a. m., April 20, 1939, the department responded to the scene of an accident off Soldiers' Field road, where an automobile, containing one occupant, was submerged in the Charles river. When the department arrived, the car had been submerged for approximately twenty minutes. Ladderman Thomas F. Maloney of Ladder Company 14 removed his outer clothing and dove into the water. Without assistance, and after some difficulty, he removed an unconscious man from the car, brought him to the surface and thence to the shore. This heroic act of Ladderman Maloney undoubtedly saved the man's life.

Because of the great personal risk to which Ladderman Maloney exposed himself in rescuing the drowning man, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly, and the case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

The Fire Commissioner is also pleased to commend the officers and members of Engine Company 41, Ladder Company 14 and Rescue Company 1 for the efficient manner in which the unconscious man was revived, considering the fact that he had been under water for about twenty minutes. All members who took part in the rescue work reflected great credit upon the Boston Fire Department.

Ladderman James C. Wilson of Ladder Company 23 is hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to a child in the Boston City Hospital on April 13, 1939.

Hoseman Francis J. Donnelly of Engine Company 12 is hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to a child in the Boston City Hospital on April 13, 1939.

By order of Fire Commissioner WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY.

SAMUEL J. POPE,
Chief of Department.

BOSTON, April 24, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The current contracts for coal for city departments will expire on April 30, 1939. In preparing for new contracts for the period commencing May 1, 1939, this department advertised for bids, which bids were to be opened April 21, 1939, at twelve noon.

Shortly before the bids were to be opened I decided that, in view of the prevailing strike conditions, satisfactory bids could not then be obtained. I therefore continued the time for the opening of bids to May 18, 1939.

As the current contracts will expire prior to that date, it is necessary to provide for the purchase of the necessary quantities of coal for use until such time as new contracts may be entered into.

I therefore respectfully request your Honor's approval to the award, without advertising, of contracts for coal required by the city departments up to May 31, 1939, to the following contractors having the present contracts with the City of Boston for supplying coal:

Semi-Bituminous Coal: Glendale Coal Company, Staples Coal Company, doing business as City Fuel Company, Tidewater Coal Company.

Buckwheat Coal: Everett Fuel Company.

Stove Coal: Tidewater Coal Company.

Egg Coal: Stetson Fuel Corporation.

These contracts will be in the form of amendments to the present contracts.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN A. BREEN, Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

Ward 1, 61,454; Ward 2, 31,663; Ward 3, 66,219; Ward 4, 31,010; Ward 5, 30,571; Ward 6, 34,689; Ward 7, 32,482; Ward 8, 31,943; Ward 9, 30,362; Ward 10, 29,694; Ward 11, 29,938; Ward 12, 36,123; Ward 13, 29,019; Ward 14, 55,914; Ward 15, 27,729; Ward 16, 31,329; Ward 17, 30,099; Ward 18, 41,152; Ward 19, 27,519; Ward 20, 31,540; Ward 21, 29,752; Ward 22, 30,987.

RESTORATION OF SALARIES.

The Portland City Council has granted full restoration of salaries to all city employees, at an estimated cost (for the remaining six months of the year) of $162,430. This will put the city in the red at the end of the year unless additional revenue is obtained. Increases and adjustments of salaries for individuals will be considered as soon as finances permit.

FOR AIDING BOYS.

In an effort to lend a helping hand to misfit and underprivileged boys and to stem the alarming flow of young men into penal institutions and lives of crime, Big Brother Bureaus are being organized by the police departments of various cities. The International Association of Chiefs of Police urges all police jurisdictions to join the Big Brother League.

THE NOISE NUISANCE.

That city officials are serious about eliminating noise is noted from studies of new anti-noise ordinances enacted by a growing number of municipalities listed in the "United States Municipal News," bulletin of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors. Among the more important of these cities are Philadelphia, Gary, Ind., Louisville, New York and Boston.

FIVE PER CENT OF CITY BUDGET PAID FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

Nearly one million dollars, or about 5 per cent of the total cost of the general city government of Los Angeles, Cal., is spent every year for the collection and disposal of refuse, under the direction of the Bureau of Engineering of that city. The Refuse Collection Division operates six days a week, and enough men are provided to compensate for a five-day week for all the personnel employed.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

BOSTON DEDICATES STONE AND TABLET AT FORT HILL SQUARE, PLACED TO MARK SITE OF THE REBELLION OF 1689 AGAINST GOVERNOR EDMUND ANDROS BY INHABITANTS OF THE TOWN OF BOSTON—WILLIAM G. O'HARE, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE, SUBSTITUTES FOR MAYOR TOBIN IN DELIVERING ADDRESS—CALLS ATTENTION TO CONDITIONS EXISTING AT TIME AND FRUITS OBTAINED BY BLOODLESS VICTORY WHICH MARKING OF SITE COMMEMORATES—EVENT PRESAGED OUTCOME OF REVOLUTION AND FOUNDATION OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY.

The following address was delivered by William G. O'Hare, Executive Director of the Overseers of Public Welfare, substituting for his Honor, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of the City of Boston, at dedication of stone and tablet, commemorating the rebellion of 1689 against Governor Edmund Andros, at Fort Hill square on Saturday, April 29.

MY FELLOW CITIZENS.

Standing today in Fort Hill square, we see no fort, and we see no hill. Indeed, the military bastions erected here by the early colonists disappeared from this site much more than a century ago; and it is nearly seventy years since the City of Boston finished the work of razing the hill. Thus a gun-studded rampart, which rose in olden time some fifty feet above sea level, has become a smooth greensward. Every semblance of ancient strife has been leveled by the labors of peace.

The physical aspect of Fort Hill square being now so utterly changed, the more fitting it is that some tangible object should be set in this place to mark the site and recall to mind, by a suitable tablet of description, the stirring events which occurred on this spot just 250 years ago—a quarter millenium. As Mayor of Boston, I extend the city's thanks to the officers and members of the patriotic and historical societies who have cooperated in placing the commemorative stone which we dedicate here today.

The stone, as you see, is not large, but I find it perhaps only the more suitable on that account. A massive boulder or majestic monument to commemorate the surrender of Governor Andros might well be misleading. For the bloodless victory won by the people of Boston on April 29, 1689, was a premature triumph. It gave this town a brief foretaste of complete liberty from the British Crown at a time when conditions here were still far from ripe for proper enjoyment or use of the fruits of such liberty.

Indeed, if the temporary change of governmental status achieved by the rebellion against Andros had proved permanent, the victory might well have become a calamity. As it was, the "preview" of the American Revolution given at Boston in 1689 may be accounted a success precisely because, and only because, it did not bring lasting independence to the Massachusetts Bay Colony at that time.

Conditions Then Obtaining.

For fair understanding of the social and political conditions obtaining in Boston 250 years ago, it is vital to remember that many of the essential elements of democratic government had not yet been established here. The basic right of every citizen to cast a vote was unrecognized, and a large part of the population had no suffrage at all. Only those men enjoyed the franchise who were members of one particular sect, the Puritan or Non-Confessionist Church. The General Court of the Colony represented, even in its house of deputies, only a part of the people. Free speech and a free press, if they could be said to exist at all, were held within extremely narrow limits. Spoken or printed expression in any wise displeasing to the ministers of the Puritan Church was likely to incur sharp rebuke and stern punishment. The Puritan fathers did not even profess to grant tolerance, or religious liberty, to any man or woman who did not wholly agree with the Puritans' rigid dogmas, whether the dissenter be Protestant or Catholic, Baptist or Quaker. Acts of religious persecution were bitter, frequent and bloody.

Moreover, the harsh and uncompromising attitude maintained in home affairs under the Puritan hierarchy was reflected also in the dealings of the Massachusetts Bay Colony with the English officials in London. Time and again, resistance was offered even to those requests made by London which seemed most reasonable, and most capable of settlement by moderation and fair compromise for the good of all concerned.

While it is possible to admire the strong character of this resistance, still it is impossible, in an unprejudiced reading of history during the Seventeenth Century, not to recognize also that the Puritan ministers were superlatively concerned with preserving their own monopolistic power and authority above all other considerations—including at times the real welfare of the Bay Colony. It was this factor, as much as anything else, which finally wore the authorities in London out of all patience, and led to nullification of the Colony's Charter in 1684.

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

CORRECTIVE ACTION.

Some course of corrective action had become inevitable in London's eyes. The Puritan governors having refused cooperation, the Bay Colony was now to find a royal governor appointed over it for the first time in the history of the Bay settlement. The King's choice fell to Sir Edmund Andros. Whatever his shortcomings, it seems impossible to say that he was in any way a dishonest or vicious man. He was of fair ability and not without experience in colonial affairs. This helps to explain why Andros, for his part, did not believe that the Massachusetts Colony should be deprived of its General Court after the charter was revoked, but recommended that it be continued.

Against all such good advice, however, King James II stood adamant. The Colony was left without any local assembly for legislation and debate. And this seems to me the central reason, stronger than all others, which led to the rebellion against Andros. Even though the Puritans had denied voting rights to a large part of the Colony's residents, so that thousands of men had never had any share in choosing the deputies to the General Court, still, the assembly did embody the principle of Home Rule, and did speak with a local voice readily and promptly understood, not as distant thunder rumbling all the way across the Atlantic from London.

The change was great and ominous. Vague, excited fears quickly filled the void left by the enforced silence of the General Court. Other changes and new measures aroused a spirit of alarm. Not only was Andros the first royal governor ever sent to Massachusetts, but also he came with a new and strong title over several of the colonies at once. To the people in Boston it seemed that he was to be the British Governor of all North America.

Under such conditions, progress toward amicable settlement of the other demands which Andros brought with him from London became almost impossible. The proposal that land titles be validated by payment of even the most moderate quit-rents now seemed to all men more inacceptable than ever before. They no longer saw the charge merely as a nuisance, but as a positive menace—a first step toward taxation which they feared might become burdensome without limit.

To this fear and to other causes of popular unrest, there must be added the hostility aroused among the Puritans by Andros's insistence that Church of England services be held in the Old South Church. This practice constituted a real grievance, and opened the way for ready acceptance of the wild rumors which were everywhere spread about Andros, predicting that he was planning all manner of sinister plots.

TIME FOR UPRISING.

Whether the Puritan clergy actually planned the rebellion against Andros is not known, but in any case it is evident that when the time for the uprising had come, substantially all the people of Boston and the surrounding towns were ready and eager to participate in it. The whole populace shared in a conviction that their vital rights were imperilled.

On this score the disfranchised threw in their lot with the franchised citizens. They themselves might never have had a share in electing the General Court, but many of their neighbors had that right, and they would not suffer the extinction, of this indispensable agency of Home Rule.

Only by recognizing the overwhelmingly popular character of the Andros rebellion can one account for the speed and certainty of the work done in Boston on April 29, 1689. By 10 a. m. of that day, most of the royal governor's council were already the prisoners of the people. Andros himself took refuge in the fort which then stood on this very site, but within a few hours it became evident to him that resistance by gun-fire would be useless. The people were sure to be able to starve him out, if he did not come out voluntarily. And so Andros yielded. The populace had won a bloodless revolution, and the hated and hapless royal governor was held for many months a captive on Castle Island.

But this successful revolt was not followed by serious demands for permanent independence. Long years were still needed before the colonies as a whole were ready to launch the great and true movement of the American Revolution. That war would scarcely have been worth fighting if it had meant a war merely to defend the Puritans in their right to tax and govern the whole Massachusetts community without any interference from London. It was necessary that the cry, "No Taxation Without Representation," should be honestly raised on behalf of the people as a whole. And before Massachusetts could join in the declaration that "all men are created equal" it was necessary to abandon the idea that a small minority of men in one religious sect were born to be everlasting saints and the majority doomed to eternal damnation.

Only after eighty-six years of progress, bringing establishment of religious toleration and true political equality for all, did the rebellion against Governor Andros come at last to enduring and worthy results in the democratic liberty of the American people.

In Boston, six districts did not vote on it.

The totals for the districts and parts of districts, including Boston districts, were 310,715 in favor; 113,594 against and 203,277 blanks. For Boston alone, the totals for the sixteen districts that voted were 114,184 in favor; 46,689 against and 79,827 blanks.

In Boston, there were three referenda on sales of alcoholic beverages.

First, "Shall licenses be granted in this city for the sale therein of all alcoholic beverages (whiskey, rum, gin, malt beverages, wines and all other alcoholic beverages)?" Totals, 190,353 in favor, 45,402 against and 84,732 blanks.

The American City.

POPULATION OF BOSTON, BY SEX, NATIVITY, ETC., 1930.

Total population, 781,188 (383,454 males and 397,734 females); ratio of males to females, 96.4 to 100 as against 97.2 to 100 in 1920. Native white, 529,400 (260,419 males and 268,981 females) or 67.77 per cent; sex ratio, 96.8 to 100. Of the 529,400 native whites, 200,130, or 37.80 per cent, are of native parentage; 248,653, or 46.97 per cent, are of foreign parentage and 80,617, or 15.23 per cent, are of mixed parentage (i. e., one half native). Foreign-born whites, 229,356 (111,261 males and 118,095 females) or 9,563 less than in 1920; sex ratio 94.2 to 100. The foreign-born whites are 29.36 per cent of total population. Negroes, 20,574 (10,223 males and 10,351 females) or 2.63 per cent of population; sex ratio, 98.8 to 100. The Negro population has increased 4,224 since 1920 and 4,993 since 1915. Other races, 1,858 (1,551 males and 307 females), or 0.24 per cent, comprise 1,595 Chinese, 69 Japanese, 43 Indian, 26 Mexican and 125 miscellaneous. Total foreign white stock, 478,009 (viz., 229,356 plus 248,653) which is 61.19 per cent of all inhabitants.

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

THE MUNICIPAL WATER-WORKS TREND.

In 1800 there was but one municipally-owned water-works plant in the United States. Now there are 7,853 municipally-owned installations, or 72.8 per cent of the entire number. In the United States there are ninety-four cities of over 100,000 population. All but eleven of these own their water works. Municipal plants serve 96.1 per cent of the population of the ninety-four cities, while private plants serve only 3.9 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added to Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

FELLOWSHIP STUDIES IN TRAFFIC CONTROL.

Fifteen graduate fellowships, each with a stipend of $1,200-plus up to $200 for travel and field investigation have been announced by the Bureau for Street Traffic Research of Harvard University. The regular annual tuition fee of $400 will be deducted from the fellowships, which have been made available through a gift to the University by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association. The officers of instruction are Miller McClintock, Director of the Bureau, and Maxwell Halsey, Assistant Director. Each of two full courses in street and highway traffic control consists of three one-hour periods a week, and additional problems, assignments and field work.

PITTSBURGH'S TRAFFIC SAFETY RECORD.

Pittsburgh has been adjudged the safest city in the United States in 1932, and the second safest in 1933 and 1934 among cities with populations over 500,000. Registrations in the city increased 4.4 per cent, gasoline consumption 7.7 per cent. In 1935, despite a 2.4 per cent decrease in traffic volume, adult fatalities increased 30 per cent, total fatalities 24 per cent, as compared with 1934.

$50,000,000 WATER-SUPPLY PROJECT IN CALIFORNIA.

The city of San Jose has entered into contract with the Water Properties Company, Ltd., of San Francisco, to provide the city water from the head waters of the American river in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe. The agreement is for thirty years, during which time the municipality will acquire title to the local distribution system and receive a proportionate share of the production and transmission systems.

PROFITABLE MUNICIPAL MARKETS.

Municipal markets, "white elephants" in many cities, can be made self-supporting and even profitable, according to recent reports on two of them. The Department of Public Markets of New York City reports that within the administration of its present Mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, the city's markets have changed from inefficient and expensive undertakings into profitable investments. The Benton Harbor, Mich., municipal fruit and vegetable market is described as doing a three-million-dollar annual business by its City Manager in the February issue of "Public Management."

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

The maximum receipts of milk and also of cream in 1937 were in August; the minimum in February.

INDUSTRIAL STRIFE; PEACE BOARDS.

Two large cities, Philadelphia and Toledo, have "peace boards" operating for conciliation between capital and labor in the local field, the magazine "Public Management," official organ of the International City Managers' Association, points out. Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia has just appointed such a board for New York City and Newark's Commission has just created by ordinance a Municipal Labor Relations Board.

Toledo's Peace Board has eighteen members; five named by the Central Labor Union, five by the Chamber of Commerce and eight selected at large. Representatives at large include two judges, two attorneys, a Catholic monsignor, a Jewish Rabbi, a merchant and the county relief director, all serving without pay.

MAYORS' COMMITTEE ON FEDERAL LEGISLATION.

As President of the United States Conference of Mayors, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York has appointed the Mayors of fourteen cities as an advisory board on Federal legislation affecting municipalities. The list comprises:

Watkins Overton, Memphis, Tenn., Chairman; Harold H. Burton, Cleveland, Ohio; Joseph K. Carson, Jr., Portland, Ore.; R. E. L. Clancy, Tampa, Fla.; Frank Couzens, Detroit, Mich.; Harry D. Durst, Springfield, Mo.; Meyer C. Ellenstein, Newark, N. J.; Thomas Gamble, Savannah, Ga.; Oscar F. Holcombe, Houston, Texas; Hilary E. Howse, Nashville, Tenn.; James R. Law, Madison, Wis.; J. REPORT OF SUSAN J. GINN, DIRECTOR OF VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE, ON ATTENDANCE AT MEETING OF NATIONAL VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE ASSOCIATION, AT CLEVELAND, AND THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION.

The following is a copy of the report of Susan J. Ginn, Director of Vocational Guidance, on convention at Cleveland.

April 3, 1939.

MR. ARTHUR L. GOULD, Superintendent of Schools, Boston, Mass.

MY DEAR MR. GOULD,—At the outset may I express to you, and through you to the School Committee, my deep appreciation for the opportunity of attending the conventions of the National Vocational Guidance Association and the American Association of School Administrators. One cannot meet with representatives from all parts of our own and even other countries, without renewed enthusiasm, new ideas, and a better understanding of the problems confronting the educational world today.

It is well to see face to face those who have a large share in shaping the educational policies of the nation. The written word has a clearer meaning and a greater significance after seeing and hearing the author. Greater benefit still comes from sitting around the luncheon or dinner table with one or two in similar relationships. Your own thoughts become clarified as you tell your story and listen to the others.

The National Vocational Guidance Association is one of seven participating organizations in the American Council of Guidance and Personnel Associations.

I arrived in Cleveland twenty-four hours in advance of the opening of the convention in order to report to the National Trustees at their business meeting, on the new "Section on Administration and Supervision of Guidance" which was set up at Atlantic City the year before, and of which I had been appointed chairman.

Joint sessions for members of all associations began Wednesday morning, February 22. The theme "The Community and Personal Adjustment" had a startling beginning in the address of Professor Ernest O. Melby, Dean of the School of Education, Northwestern University. He spoke to the topic "The Educational Machine and Personal Adjustment." That day the Cleveland newspapers carried the headlines "Declares Schools in United States Crush Spirit of Students."

Let me quote: "We are doing more by our own educational methods to crush the human spirit of children than is being done by the school systems in effect in authoritarian countries."

The American school system, he said, "is a diabolical machine in the sense that we create a happy place in kindergarten and when the child develops a love of learning we progressively stamp it out."

"By the time they get to the seventh grade," he asserted, "they are just good boys and girls, their courage and initiative is destroyed and they have lost their spontaneity and their dynamic eagerness to do things."

"Whoever heard of an affectionate high school teacher?" he asked. "And in college, we pride ourselves on being hard-boiled and distant and we accuse our associates of being soft if they show their pupils any human feeling."

"What we need are boys and girls who will disobey their teachers, who will have the courage to strike out on their own initiative and do the things the world needs done. Johann Strauss disobeyed his father and wrote waltzes. Artistic living with other people is best of all."

Professor Brunner of Teachers College, Columbia University, discussed the topic "The Social Scene and Personal Adjustment." He outlined the great changes that have come over the American family and dwelt upon the insecurity of the average family today. There are many families who never have known anything but relief, he reminded us. The urban populations of 1950 to 1970 are now living in rural communities. Two thirds of the rural population are unemployed. His plan was for an improved guidance program.

At the noon luncheon meeting of the American Council that day, our own Mr. Howard Coonley, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, was the speaker. He urged his hearers to use their "strategic position to clear up the atmosphere of misguided thinking in reference to the profit and capitalist systems and to help bring about a return to sound thinking." He noted the great changes that have taken place in the relation of employer and employee. Today the latter is represented on many Boards of Directors. No job, he felt, was more important than that of the counselor. Humanitarianism is sound economics. The personnel man not only picks the man but makes sure he is happy in his work.

That afternoon was given over to nine different section meetings, and the evening to a general session on policies.

In the coordination of personnel factors in a school system it was emphasized that trained counselors are necessary, but that teachers' contributions are valuable, especially that of the home-room teacher in showing a helpful, friendly interest, in orienting the child and in reporting cases to counselors or other agents. The subject teacher helps in coordinating the school subjects. The vice principal and the counselor work in the closest co-operation but the counselor does the work. This is the story in Baltimore.

From the representative of the Progressive Education Association came such thoughts as these: No society can make good that does not use its youth. We need them as well as they need us. Youth lacks purpose—sense of direction. Purpose is lacking in all realms of life. No young person can be mentally healthy without a philosophy of life. The guidance expert shares in the total life of the school and helps other teachers to be more sensitive to the needs of the pupils.

Assistant Superintendent Stotz of the Oakland Schools, in discussing the variations in development of high school pupils, said the major fact in guidance is where they are going, and not where they are now.

Other speakers emphasized that the Director of Guidance should be directly responsible to the Superintendent of Schools.

A Trade Union representative, Mr. Starr, of the clothing trades, asked if there was a coordination between training and fitting into a job. He said many teachers in school are social illiterates—know nothing about jobs.

Of the ten sectional meetings held on Friday afternoon, the one which apparently attracted the largest audience had for a subject "Vocational Guidance for the 'Average' and 'Low-Average' Pupil in the Secondary School." It was discussed from the point of view of industry, job opportunities, the potentialities of individuals in this group and what the schools were doing to meet the problem.

On Saturday morning the United States Commissioner of Education, Mr. John W. Studebaker, outlined the occupational information and guidance service of the United States Office of Education. "Objectives of the service are given as (1) Securing, compiling, and making available to the states and schools comprehensive and up-to-date information about occupations; (2) Making studies and investigations relating to tests, measurements, and personnel records necessary in program of guidance; (3) Furnishing a consultation and field service to the states in the promotion and organization of programs of guidance." He remarked that this is a school problem less tangible than others. We must have services for withdrawals as well as graduates. He reminded us that three fourths of the high schools of the United States are in rural areas and that no large city can reproduce itself. He emphasized that guidance is a definite part of education and that other agencies must supplement and not duplicate it. He spoke of the new service as high class peddlers of high class ideas, offered to the states. Education must adapt a person to life.

As a member of the Advisory Committee of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, I was a guest on Saturday at a luncheon where the speaker discussed "The Part of the Business Woman in Vocational Counselling."

The Superintendents' Convention will be ably described by others, so I shall not trespass except to note that at every single meeting of the Superintendents—whether at the large general sessions or the smaller divisional groups—vocational guidance was mentioned in some form or other, and insistence that it be included in any up-to-date educational program was stressed.

At the meeting on Resolutions Thursday, March 2, in terms of an educational program, the American Association of School Administrators urged its members "To provide youth, whether in or out of school, with adequate services for adjustment, guidance and vocational placement. Our Association views with alarm the large number of unemployed youth between the ages of sixteen and twenty-four years and calls upon the schools to give special consideration to furnishing these services to this group of young people."

A visit to the John Hay High School disclosed a suite of offices for the guidance department, with a staff of five workers for the three thousand pupils. One member of the staff gives full time to the testing program, another to the placement work, and the remaining three to the counseling. Each counselor had one thousand pupils under her care, too heavy a load, agreed by all.

On the way back to Boston a stop was made at Albany, New York, for further inquiry into the results of the New York Survey which made a plea for more guidance, and for a visit to the Livingston Junior High School. Here, again, were commodious quarters across the corridor from the main offices for the guidance department. This school numbers approximately fifteen hundred pupils, one man and one woman giving full time to the work.

Respectfully yours,

SUSAN J. GINN, Director.

Boston's liability for this contingent debt of the State (i. e., in the form of annual assessments for sinking funds and interest) incurred for Metropolitan parks, sewers, water, etc., was $28,559,995 (net) on July 1, 1937, or $1,283,454 more than in 1936 and $6,473,404 more than in 1927. REPORT OF ROBERT B. MASTERSON, HEAD MASTER, ROXBURY MEMORIAL HIGH SCHOOL (BOYS), ON ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS OF NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, CLEVELAND.

The following is the report on attendance at the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators of the National Education Association:

The 69th annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators met in Cleveland, Ohio, February 25-March 2. More than 15,000 delegates attended nearly 250 sessions addressed by more than 700 speakers, among them Jan Masaryk, former minister of Czechoslovakia at London; Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes; Lord Bertrand Russell, English philosopher; and Ben S. Cherrington, Director of the Bureau of Cultural Relations of the United States Department of State.

The convention reflected concern for the security of democratic institutions. The perpetuation of our democracy clearly requires that each American child, regardless of wealth or social status, have an opportunity for a complete educational experience adapted to his special needs. Many youths and adults possess no adequate genuine understanding of what democracy really is. The convention has prescribed immediate attention to instruction concerning the nature of democracy, the degree to which it is being achieved in the United States, and the measures appropriate to its increasing fulfillment. The nature of other forms of society must be studied at appropriate levels in the schools. Pressure groups should not be allowed to legislate the content of the curriculum or to dictate the methods of instruction. No person or group is justified in using violence for securing his ends. Children and all other citizens should learn the importance of obedience to democratically determined legal authority.

At the Monday afternoon meeting of a discussion group, the amount of dishonest and superficial propaganda now in circulation in the United States was viewed with genuine alarm because so few citizens submit the pronouncements to critical analysis. The problem of educating citizens to be less gullible was divined as a major issue.

Delegates from New England were disturbed by the insistence of members from less favored parts of the country upon the idea of Federal aid in large quantities in an effort to equalize the educational opportunities of the children of all the states. For generations Massachusetts has furnished free public education in many fields to every child, while in other states only short educational years have been available to part of the population and in very restricted fields. Massachusetts has spent money lavishly; other states have been penurious and have furnished small capital outlays and cramped curricula. If these latter states are now to be helped by the government to do the things that they should have been doing of themselves all these years, and Massachusetts is to be denied money because all phases of education are adequately provided for in this state, then the taxes raised here will not be spent for education in Massachusetts but will be transferred to backward states which will thus be rewarded for their neglect of education.

In these times of financial difficulty, it was not pleasant to hear the prophecy of a professor of Columbia University to the effect that in ten years free public education will extend from the age of three, when pupils will be put into nursery schools, with possibilities of dormitories in some instances, to the age of twenty when the school output will be ready to enter professions. Seventeen years of public education for every pupil would be a staggering burden for any community to carry, particularly when it would be expected that school systems will financially provide materials and processes that will genuinely interest every child.

A thoughtful group at the convention thought that they saw in the appeal for Federal funds an imminent possibility of control. Federal money may mean Federal regimentation with the control of schools passing out of the hands of the several states into a department at Washington. Such governmental power exercised over children from the time they leave their mothers' arms until they are almost old enough to vote is already in existence in certain totalitarian states and has been deplored by those who are wise enough to see that it interferes with the rights of the family, the essential unit in civilization.

MAYOR PLANTS TREES ON ARBOR DAY.

Saturday, April 29, was designated as "Arbor Day." This year special emphasis was placed on the significance of Arbor Day, on account of the devastating damage caused by the hurricane of September, 1938, when thousands of rare and valuable trees were destroyed, especially in the Public Garden and Boston Common, as well as in every other section of the city. This hurricane caused unknown loss to our arboreal assets.

Due to the importance of replacing at least some of these trees, his Honor Mayor Maurice J. Tobin this year planted trees at the following locations:

Commonwealth avenue, near Dartmouth street.

Arlington street, at main entrance to Public Garden.

Public Garden, near White Memorial.

Boston Common, near Brewer Fountain.

In addition to the above locations, trees were planted in all other sections of the city as far as the nursery stock on hand permitted.

The Mayor urgently called the attention of the public of Boston to the planting of trees and shrubs on this day, to make "Arbor Day" this year memorable in its practical results, and to counteract in some measure the tremendous loss the City of Boston has received in the destruction of over 5,000 trees during the disastrous hurricane.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 334.

A trial board, consisting of Captains McKinnon, Duggan and Murphy, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Albert R. Elwood of Division 11, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Albert R. Elwood perform 140 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 335.

Patrolman William F. Malcolm, attached to Division 16, is commended for meritorious police duty performed on April 20, 1939, in connection with an accident in which a car with its occupant had gone off the Western Avenue Bridge into the Charles river.

Patrolman Malcolm was informed by a passing motorist and upon arriving, removed his uniform coat and hat and dove into the water to locate the car and then came to the surface to secure a tow chain from a tow car and re-entered the water and fastened the chain to the car.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend Patrolman Malcolm for the prompt response and splendid service on this occasion.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 336.

The department is hereby notified that beginning January 1, 1939, the provisions regarding Federal Income Tax will be applicable to all employees of the Boston Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 337.

Thousands of people will visit Boston this summer as tourists and also for the purpose of attending several large conventions that are to be held here, among which is the National Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Since many of these visitors will be strangers to Boston and will desire to visit many of the historical points of interest, all officers will familiarize themselves with such locations and the simplest way to reach them.

In addition to the visitors remaining in Boston, there will be thousands of tourists passing through the city en route to other points in New England, and all officers will make themselves acquainted with the most direct routes to such destinations.

It is expected that the usual courtesy extended by members of the Force to strangers in our city in past summers will again make a favorable impression.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

and I herewith submit the following vote passed by the trustees of the George Robert White Fund at their meeting on Tuesday, March 28, 1939:

LAW RE CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 24, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of March 6, 1939, concerning the provisions of sections 1 and 2 of chapter 113 of the Statutes of 1858, entitled, "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Establish a City Hospital."

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Law Department, April 15, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have requested me to render the opinion sought by the following order of the City Council passed on March 6, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to at once advise the City Council whether the provisions of sections 1 and 2 of chapter 113 of the Statutes of 1858, entitled, 'An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Establish a City Hospital,' are still in full force and effect and, if not, then in exactly what respects has this statute been altered, amended or repealed."

Chapter 113 of the Acts of 1858 referred to in said order is as follows:

"Section 1. The city of Boston is hereby authorized to erect, establish and maintain a hospital for the reception of persons who by misfortune or poverty may require relief during temporary sickness.

"Section 2. The city council of said city shall have power to make such ordinances, rules and regulations, as they may deem expedient, for the appointment of trustees, and all other necessary officers, agents and servants, for managing the said hospital.

"Section 3. Said hospital shall not be erected or located within three hundred feet of any schoolhouse or church now built.

"Section 4. This act shall take effect from and after its passage."

I am of the opinion that section 1 of said chapter is still in full force and effect.

Section 2 of said chapter was superseded by the provisions of chapter 174 of the Acts of 1880, entitled "An Act to Incorporate the Trustees of the City Hospital of the City of Boston." Section 3 of said chapter 174 provided for a board of seven trustees thereafter, two to be elected by the City Council and five to be appointed by the Mayor, subject to the confirmation of the City Council. Sections 4 and 5 of said chapter 174 placed the general care and control of the City Hospital in the trustees, subject to the direction of the City Council. Section 6 of said chapter 174 provided for the appointment of assistants and subordinate officers by trustees.

However, the foregoing sections of chapter 174 were in turn, affected and in some regards superseded by subsequent charter provisions and most recently by sections 8 and 9 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909.

Section 8 of said chapter 486 provides, in part, as follows:

"Neither the city council, nor any member or committee, officer, or employee thereof shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, directly or indirectly on behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk take part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, the purchase of materials, supplies or real estate; nor in the construction, alteration, or repair of any public works, buildings, or other property; nor in the care, custody, and management of the same, nor in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county; nor in the appointment or removal of any municipal or county employee;

Section 9 of said chapter 486 provides, in part, as follows:

"All heads of departments and members of municipal boards, including the board of street commissioners, as their present terms of office expire (but excluding the school committee and those officials by law appointed by the governor), shall be appointed by the mayor without confirmation by the city council."

In view of the foregoing, I am of the opinion that the provisions of section 2 of chapter 113 of 1858 are no longer in effect. The power of appointment of trustees and other necessary officers, agents and servants for managing said hospital is no longer in the City Council and, with certain exceptions not pertinent hereto, the City Council is prohibited from taking part in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the Hospital Department.

Very truly yours,

HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

City of Boston,

George Robert White Fund,

April 20, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council held on Monday, February 27, 1939, the following order was passed:

"Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of the construction of a playground at the Jeffries Point section of East Boston from the accumulated moneys of the George Robert White Fund.

"In City Council, February 27, 1939. Passed."

and I herewith submit the following vote passed by the trustees of the George Robert White Fund at their meeting on Tuesday, March 28, 1939:

Voted, That the Council be advised it is the opinion of the trustees that the expending of the income of this fund for such a purpose would be prohibited under the terms of the will of the late George Robert White.

Respectfully submitted,

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the installation of electric arc lights on both sides of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad bridge on Baker street, between Spring and Centre streets, Ward 20.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works install electric arc lights on both sides of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad bridge on Baker street, between Spring and Centre streets, Ward 20.

Upon investigation I find that the location mentioned is a very dangerous one, and it is quite essential that two electric lamps be installed.

I will have the necessary orders issued to provide the installation of these two electric lamps and the removal of an existing gas lamp.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

W. P. A. STREET PROJECTS, WARD 20.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 24, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of March 27, 1939, concerning the immediate construction work, as W. P. A. projects, on all streets in Ward 20 where the sewer work has been completed.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, April 20, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Mr. Doyle,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works immediately start construction work, as W. P. A. projects, on all streets in Ward 20 where the sewer work has been completed.

There are a considerable number of streets on approved W. P. A. projects for construction and reconstruction in Ward 20 this year in which sewerage works have been completed. To start all these streets at once would be impossible, as we would have to take men out of other districts to perform this work.

We try to distribute the men as equally as possible in the various districts of the city so the work can go along in each district.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT RE HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, April 17, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Honorable Sir,—The Finance Commission believes that some clarifying information is necessary at this time to answer adverse comment on the commission's report in regard to the nursing situation at the City Hospital. This adverse comment has come from a few who are undoubtedly interested in the good name of, and in efficient service at, the hospital, but who, nevertheless, missed some important points in the Finance Commission's discussion of the situation. The commission also believes that comment is called for in regard to a public statement from the trustees of the hospital, to the effect that no changes are contemplated in the nursing school as a result of the report.

Having in mind statements made by the trustees in the conference with the Finance Commission, at which you were present, the commission assumes that the later statement of the trustees means that no changes in executive personnel of the Hospital School of Nursing are presently contemplated.

The commission would like to recall to you that the report of the Finance Commission pointed to the need of changes in educational policy of the school. It did not suggest changes in the executive personnel. As a matter of fact, the report stated that the present Superintendent of Nurses and her staff are fully capable of making the changes suggested by the facts of the commission's report.

Substantial changes in curricula under the present personnel have already been brought about by the representations of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses. Surely, the influence of the trustees of the hospital must be as great with their subordinates in the nursing school as was the influence of the State Board. Therefore, if the trustees will it, further changes can be obtained without necessarily bringing into office a new staff of nursing school executives. The commission is content to leave the decision as to whether or not a new staff will replace the present staff to the trustees and to you. Nevertheless, the distinct impression made upon the members of the Finance Commission at the recent conference with the trustees is that it was agreed that changes in educational policy were called for, and would be made.

The commission believes that the convictions expressed by you of the soundness of the recommendations of the report will not be weakened by slight adverse comment on some particulars. Nevertheless, the commission desires to give you the reassurance that many nurse training school executives, many hospital executives (other than Boston City Hospital), and many men and women in high standing in the medical profession have communicated with the Finance Commission since the publication of the report and have warmly commended the attitude taken by the commission. They have stressed the timeliness of it, because the facts disclosed in the report relate to one of the most troubling problems in hospital management all over the country at the present time—proper training of nurses. It is evident in these communications that it was the discussion in regard to the present nurse training—not the tribute to the medical record of the hospital—and the recommendations for changes in educational policy that interested most of these many commentators.

The commission desires to emphasize that the good reputation of the hospital rests entirely on its accomplishments in the fields of medicine, surgery and research. The extensive investigations of hospital management by the Finance Commission qualify the members to make this statement.

The question has been asked by some, if it is not consistent with the reputation and purposes of the City Hospital to encourage this idealistic training for nurses which has been the objective of the nursing school executives; also, if the results of this idealistic training will not enhance the reputation of the hospital and the standing of its nurses. To answer this question, it is not necessary to stress—as might be proper—the inability of the city to pay for it; or that it is not within the proper scope of the hospital's activities to develop in the field of nursing a counterpart to the Teachers College in the educational field; or, further, that the nursing profession should not be closed to any girls but the 11 per cent who become college trained.

The scientific value of this idealistic training has already been appraised by the chairman of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses and the executives of the Board. Their appraisal has been that it will not produce satisfactory nurses. Hence the warning that more emphasis on practical nursing and less on classroom instruction is necessary, if the City Hospital nurses are to be certified by the State Board.

Obviously, if the City Hospital Training School for Nurses is labeled officially as a school that does not produce nurses who will satisfy the requirements of the State Board, great harm will have been done to the reputation of the hospital. If such a denouement developed, the Training School for Nurses at the City Hospital would not be in keeping with the high standing of the hospital in the research and medical field.

The Finance Commission stated that the objective of the executives of the nursing school has been to develop a university school of nurse education. There are some colleges now which offer courses in nurse education to their students. Locally, Simmons College is one of them. Yale and Columbia also have nurse education schools. Practice in patient-care is merely incidental in these college courses. In contrast, the primary purpose of the City Hospital being to provide patient-care, the training of nurses there is incidental.

The aim of the university school of nursing, such as is mentioned above is to train executives for hospitals and for nursing schools, and to some extent to train specialists in nursing fields just as their medical schools train specialists in the practice of medicine.

If the hospital schools of nursing are to follow the example set by these university schools of nursing, eventually the situation in nursing will be somewhat similar to that of an army that consists of colonels and generals, but no privates.

Good nursing is a general need at all times. To the person of small means it is as much of a necessity as it is to those of large means. If rates of pay of nurses are within reasonable limits, there is employment in the profession for a great number of young women.

Limitation of the opportunity to become nurses to the college-bred means denial of the opportunity to become nurses to many more than the majority of young women. The result of such limitation will eventually mean a scarcity of nurses, and that only those who can afford to pay the high wages that the limited number can command, like $15 per day, can have professional nursing attention outside a hospital. Those who cannot pay will either flock to the public hospitals, increasing the taxpayers' burden, or will just go without trained nursing care.

The chairman of the State Board of Registration of Nurses, the official authority in this state on nursing standards, has informed the Finance Commission that its report leaned too heavily on the side of fairness when the commission compared the educational requirements of the school of nursing at the City Hospital with the educational ambitions of the National League of Nursing Education. In a signed statement to the Finance Commission the chairman of the State Board has said:

"This National League of Nursing Education is the student curriculum instruction division of the American Nurses Association and represents a group striving for collegiate education for student nurses but, as a group, the National League of Nursing Education has no legal authority in these matters.

"Apparently, the measuring scale given to the Finance Commission . . . is not a legal requirement but a recommended program set forth by the National League of Nursing Education as a start towards collegiate courses for student nurses.

"The scale of hours for the six subjects, mentioned in the report of the Finance Commission, is based on the recommendations of a national group of propagandists for collegiate courses for student nurses and shows a recommended number of hours, ranging from 410 to 450, for six subjects as against a Massachusetts State required 204 hours of instruction in four of these subjects and no requirements whatever in two of them."

It appears from the above statement that the chairman of the State Board believes requirements of the National League of Nursing Education of New York City are higher than are justifiable. You will recall that in the six classroom subjects compared in the commission's report, the City Hospital Training School, strange to say, exceeded the number of hours of classroom instruction recommended by this National League of Nursing Education. Therefore, the Finance Commission deems it proper for your fuller information to compare the requirements of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses in these six subjects with the present requirements of the City Hospital Nursing School:

Massachusetts State Requirements.

Anatomy and Physiology, 60 hours; Bacteriology, 30 hours; Chemistry, 24 hours; Psychology, no hours; Sociology, no hours; Nursing Arts, 90 hours. Total, 204 hours.

Boston City Hospital Requirements.

Anatomy and Physiology, 142 hours; Bacteriology, 52 hours; Chemistry, 91 hours; Psychology, 50 hours; Sociology, 51 hours; Nursing Arts, 106 hours. Total, 492 hours.

Since under Massachusetts statute the City Hospital Training School must meet the requirements of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses, recommendations of unofficial organizations to the contrary notwithstanding, it seems to the Finance Commission proper that one of the first steps to be taken in straightening out this nursing school difficulty is that the trustees of the hospital should confer with the chairman of the State Board and its executive officers. A detailed discussion of the City Hospital situation in such a conference would reveal what is necessary to bring the City Hospital Training School for Nurses into line with Massachusetts requirements.

The commission believes also that your Honor should participate in this conference, so that you may be fully informed as to the financial cost involved and, with the city's financial condition in mind, determine whether or not, and how far, the curriculum fixed as a minimum by the State Board may and should be enriched. Action is called for.

The trustees have asked for extra provision in the budget to permit the opening of a new maternity ward and another surgical or operating unit. It appears that both are needed, inasmuch as the maternity wards are overcrowded now and the resort to the use of cots in corridors has been necessary. Both these extensions will add to the patient-care requirements. It is imperative, therefore, to come to an early decision as to the future policy of the nursing school.

The commission will consider it particularly unfortunate if determination of the correct policy and execution of it is permitted to be shelved, as have been recommendations in the past for other needed reforms in management at the City Hospital. As stated once before in a Finance Commission report, the high medical and research standing of the hospital has been gained in spite of, not because of, the character of its management.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES E. MAGUIRE,

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President MURRAY called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.: 3. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 17, 1939, of weighers of coal, etc., and other minor appointments, being the annual list as contained in City Document 40.

The question same on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Irwin and Lyons. Whole number of ballots 12, yes 11, no 1, and the appointments were confirmed.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. Chairman, for the Committee on Constables, I would call up No. 2 on the calendar.

No. 2 on the calendar is as follows:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 17, 1939, of Constables connected with official positions to serve without bonds, being the annual list as contained in City Document 43.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Rosenberg and McMahon; whole number of ballots 13, yes 13, and the appointments were confirmed.

ELEVATION OF BISHOP FRANCIS J. SPELLMAN.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby expresses its pleasure and elation because of the elevation of Bishop Francis J. Spellman to the high and holy office of Archbishop of the New York diocese, and wishes for Archbishop Spellman many more fruitful years in the vineyard of the Lord, and continued health and strength to carry on the noble work to which he has devoted his life.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF CHAPTER 131.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That chapter 131 of the Acts of 1939, entitled, "An Act Relative to the Disposition of the Accumulated Deductions of Deceased Members of the Boston Retirement System, so called, in Certain Cases," be, and hereby is, accepted.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, this act pertains to the employees of the City of Boston and county employees. It is to make it conform to the regulations concerning employees of other cities and towns, giving opportunity to those persons who want to do so to designate a beneficiary so that when a city employee passes on and there is a small amount left in the Retirement Fund it may go to his wife or next of kin, thereby relieving the expense of probate to those that have small sums left in the estate.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BASEBALL DIAMONDS, FRANKLIN PARK.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to propose a W. P. A. project to construct baseball diamonds in Franklin Park.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, in Franklin Park we have a lot of available space for the children throughout the entire City of Boston to come and play. Unfortunately, we have there much space but no facilities for playing. There are five or six rough baseball diamonds, only one of which is perhaps in good order, and everybody is fighting to get that one diamond. As a result there is so much disturbance and so much rioting that many times the police are called to quell the disturbance. I feel that it would be a very good project for the Park Commissioner to construct in that park eight or nine good baseball diamonds, so that the children from the various districts of Boston can play out there and play in peace.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OBLIGATORY RESIDENCE OF TEACHERS IN BOSTON.

Coun. SULLIVAN and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to request the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to the legality of making compulsory the moving into Boston of non-resident teachers on the School Department pay roll; and be it further Ordered, That in the event that the Corporation Counsel should find such action legal, the Boston School Committee be requested to instruct all such teachers to establish residence in Boston prior to the start of the next school year, and to inform all such employees, not now resident in Boston, that failure to comply with such request will be cause for their immediate dismissal, after October 1, 1939.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, after we had introduced an order in regard to school teachers living outside of the City of Boston, the chairman of the School Committee said that, in his opinion, it was not legal to stop them from living outside of the City of Boston and at the same time teaching in the city. However, after much research we are firmly convinced that it is within their power, and with the recent decision of Judge Ronan, and with the former opinion of the former Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, we feel it is possible, and we also feel that the school teachers in the city should have enough civic pride to live in the city when they get their bread and butter from the city.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, some weeks ago, Councilor Hutchinson and I introduced an order of similar effect in the Boston City Council. At that time we requested the members of the Boston School Committee to instruct all teachers on the Boston school pay roll, to move into Boston prior to October 1, 1939. The penalty for failure to do so to be a summary dismissal from the school system. The report given by members of the School Committee at that time was to the effect that "in their opinion, a Corporation Counsel had voiced the opinion that such a move would be illegal." Whatever beliefs there might have been that the promulgation of such an order would be illegal have been dispelled, I believe, by the recent ruling of Judge Ronan in a case of Lynch v. The Justices of the District Court of Somerville. In his findings relative to the legality of the dismissal of certain employees from the public service, Judge Ronan said: "Whatever may be the personal view of the respondents as to the wisdom or expediency of retaining or discharging such employees in the public service, is immaterial. The judgment of the Court is not to be substituted for that of the public official who is charged by the law with the exercise of such judgment. He is found to have acted in good faith. Unless it can be said as a matter of law that it is not proper cause for the dismissal from the public service, we cannot revise the action of the petitioner. Whether the public interest would be enhanced by the continuance of such employment is not entirely a judicial question. The adoption and enforcement of policies for the administration of local affairs, which are not shown to be inconsistent with law, nor violative of some legal right of a citizen, are beyond the reach of the Judiciary. Because I cannot say, as a matter of law, that reasonable men charged with the performance of such executive functions as was the petitioner," —(and I presume that the same executive function are part of the duties of the Boston School Committee)—"could not fairly, or impartially, come to the same conclusion that he reached, I cannot rule that the assigned cause for the removals in question, was an improper or inadequate cause." While this opinion refers specifically to the dismissal of married women in the public service, I believe that the opinion voiced by Judge Ronan would apply as well to the dismissal of any employees on the public pay roll. No court would say, as a matter of law, that men elected by the people of Boston to represent the best interests of that constituency, empowered by their office to exercise the disposal of millions of dollars of Boston money annually and faced with the perplexing problem of telling the graduate body of Teachers College annually, that there is no place for them in the Boston School System, would be acting unreasonably in demanding that all on the school pay roll live in Boston. At this time money is being appropriated to attract conventions, with their followings and resultant business, to Boston. It is inconsistent, to say the least, for a body, which has the power to add several millions to the purchasing power of the city, to refuse to do so. Now, as regards the opinion which the School Committee felt sustained the contention that such an action would be illegal, Chairman Henry Smith very graciously gave Councilor Hutchinson and myself a copy of that opinion. It was signed by the Corporation Counsel holding that office on July 22, 1936. The question, as to the validity of the action which we seek, was not discussed in that opinion. It referred solely to another matter. Councilor Hutchinson and I have the authority of that gentleman to state, that he did not rule on the question involved here, and gave us both reason to believe, in the event he had been asked to give an opinion on that matter, that he would have ruled that such action was legal. Exclusive of special classes, the City of Boston pays in salaries to nonresident teachers, in the grade and high schools, annually $4,309,935 in salaries. In other words, the owner of a $5,000 home himself possibly unemployed, is paying $13 annually to keep teachers from Sterling Junction, Squantum, Ballardvale, Chelmsford, Greenwood, Wilmington, Duxbury, and the like, at work. Is it fair to the taxpayers of Boston, many of whom are themselves unemployed, bending under the weight of an unprecedented tax load, and making a terrific struggle to make both ends meet, should be asked to contribute to a substantial, and in some instances luxurious, living, for people living in Worcester, who pay not even a $2.00 poll tax to the income of the City of Boston, and smile in a superior fashion when they leave the pay roll window with their loot, something they could not get in a million years in their own town. Yet, Boston is not good enough for them to live in. We are not unaware that pupils in the Boston schools are deserving of the best teaching possible, and that the School Committee has an obligation to provide such, but the persons on the Boston school pay roll, resident outside of the city in nearly one hundred cities and towns in every part of the Commonwealth, will sacrifice none of their teaching qualifications while moving into the City of Boston, and if our Boston graduates of Teachers College are incapable of handling the teaching assignments in our Boston Schools, then the teachers from outside of Boston are not capable because fifteen non-resident teachers are on the pay roll at Teachers College, and are responsible for the product of that college. I am not unaware, either, that the argument will be used that reciprocal action will be taken by cities and towns outside of Boston against Boston residents on their pay roll. Councilor Hutchinson and I made a survey of this matter and we found that in one city, which contributes seventy of its residents to the Boston school teaching roster, who draw $171,142 annually, that in their schools residents of their own city naturally rank first in the teaching positions. Residents of Belmont and Somerville ranked second and third respectively, and Boston was a poor fourth. This despite the fact that Somerville and Belmont have an aggregate population that does not minutely compare with Boston's, and neither community possesses a teachers college or normal school to add to its qualified teaching population. This results in either of two conclusions, one, that Boston residents are already militated against in the surrounding cities and towns, or, 2, that the fifteen non-resident teachers at the Teachers College are not qualified to turn out a product that ranks high on the teaching lists. In view of the foregoing facts, Councilor Hutchinson and I feel that the Boston School Committee will be acting in no wise unreasonably in the event that they adopt the action suggested. As regards the legality of the matter, we do not ask that hasty action be taken, we merely ask that as a proof of their sympathy and good will to the taxpayers of the City of Boston, to the youthful graduates of Teachers College, fully capable and qualified to teach, who haunt the employment offices daily seeking any type of legitimate employment, and to the businessmen of Boston, who are entitled to a business totaling nearly $5,000,000 annually, that they first ask the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to the validity of the action, and in the event that his ruling is affirmative that they act immediately. Needless to say, Councilor Hutchinson and I feel confident that the Corporation Counsel will sustain us in this matter.

At the request of Councilor SULLIVAN the following are included in the minutes of the meeting:

City of Boston,

Law Department, July 22, 1939.

Miss Ellen M. Cronin, Secretary, School Committee, 15 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Miss Cronin,—I have received your letter, dated July 7, 1936. It is my understanding that the School Committee wishes my opinion as to whether or not it may adopt a regulation to the effect that all teachers in the employ of the School Committee, including those on tenure, who, at the date of the passage of said regulation, are domiciled in the city of Boston, shall continue to live in said city and that failure to so do shall operate as resignation from the service.

Section 5, chapter 241 of the Acts of 1875, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933, provides as follows:

"The school committee shall have the supervision and direction of the public schools, and shall exercise the powers and perform the duties in relation to the care and management of schools which are now exercised and performed by the school committee of said city, except so far as they may be changed or modified by this act, and shall have the powers and discharge the duties which may hereafter be imposed by law upon the school committees of cities and towns. They may elect teachers, and may discharge those now in office, as well as those hereafter elected."

Section 38 of chapter 71 of the General Laws provides, with regard to the election of teachers by School Committees, as follows:

"It shall elect and contract with the teachers of the public schools, shall require full and satisfactory evidence of their moral character, and shall ascertain their qualifications for teaching and their capacity for the government of schools."

Section 41 of said chapter 71 provides, with reference to tenure of teachers, as follows:

"Every school committee, except in Boston, in electing a teacher or superintendent, who has served in its public schools for the three previous consecutive years other than a union or district superintendent, shall employ him to serve at its discretion; but any school committee may elect a teacher who has served in its schools for not less than one school year to serve at such discretion."

Section 42 of said chapter 71 provides, in part, that:

"The school committee may dismiss any teacher, but in every town except Boston no teacher or superintendent, other than a union or district superintendent, shall be dismissed unless . . ."

By virtue of the provisions of section 5 of chapter 241 of the Acts of 1875, above quoted, the School Committee of the City of Boston is vested with the power to supervise and direct the public schools of said city and, specifically, with the incidental power to elect and discharge teachers. These powers are confirmed in the School Committee by the above-quoted sections of chapter 71 of General Laws and the limitations, with regard to tenure and dismissal, applicable to school committees in other municipalities of the Commonwealth are expressly made inapplicable to the Boston School Committee.

Teachers not on tenure, even when retained by the School Committee on an annual salary basis have no right to employment for a specific time, and they may be discharged at any time during the year without breach of contract, provided, of course, that the reason for discharge is a proper one. This in Knowles v. City of Boston, 79 Mass. 839, the Court, in construing earlier but similar statutory provisions, stated at page 340:

"The fact that she was to receive a salary at a certain rate per annum, payable quarterly, was only a mode of fixing the amount of her compensation and the time of its payment, and did not imply a contract for employment for the entire year. Nor do the additional facts, that she as well as other teachers employed by the defendants were elected annually, and that she had actually entered on a new year's service, prove a special contract for a whole year's services. They only show that the mode of selection of teachers by the city was to make choice of them annually, and that they usually continued in employment in pursuance of such selection for the year ensuing. But such an employment, in the absence of express stipulation, must be deemed to have been entered into under the provisions of the statute, which give the right to the school committee to terminate it at any time. . ."

While the statutory provision for tenure is inapplicable to Boston, provision has been made by the regulations of the School Committee therefor. Tenure, so provided for, however, means no more than an appointment for an indefinite period. It obviates the necessity for periodic reappointment. (Cf. section 41 of said chapter 71 and see Paquette v. Fall River, 278 Mass. 172.) Tenure does not establish employment from year to year or prevent dismissal when authorized by section 5 of chapter 241 or section 42 of chapter 71, above referred to. (Cf. Paquette v. Fall River, supra.)

It is clear, therefore, that teachers in the Boston public schools, whether or not appointed on tenure, hold their employment subject to the right of the School Committee to terminate the same. The right to terminate such employment is not limited to instances where teachers have committed some fault or neglect in the performance of their duties (Knowles v. City of Boston, supra, page 340) or have conducted themselves immorally or in a manner unbecoming a teacher, or to instances where the exercise of such right was made advisable by an actual decrease in the number of pupils in the schools. (Sheldon v. School Committee of Hopedale, 276 Mass. 230.)

As stated in Knowles v. Boston (supra), at page 340:

"The power is conferred in the most general terms, and is to be exercised whenever in the judgment of those to whom it is committed the public good for an cause requires it. Of this they are the exclusive judges."

and in Sheldon v. School Committee of Hopedale (supra), at page 235:

"Nevertheless, faithful service, good morals, ability in his profession, on his part, are not conditions upon the powers of the committee. If in its judgment the welfare of the schools so requires and . . . It decides to dismiss, the dismissal is valid."

See, also, Rinaldo v. Dreyer et al., Mass. Adv. Sh. (1936) 843.

The violation of a reasonable regulation of the School Committee would, therefore, in my opinion clearly justify the discharge of a teacher. (Rinaldo v. Dreyer et al., supra.) A regulation that all teachers employed by the Boston School Committee who, at the time of the passage of said regulation, are domiciled in the City of Boston shall continue to live in said city is, in my opinion, within the competency of the School Committee and, if adopted, would, in my opinion, be valid. The powers of the School Committee are broad and if, in their opinion, the interests of Boston schools justified such a rule, their determination could not, I believe, be successfully attacked in the courts. It is within the bounds of reason to conclude that the interests of the schools will be promoted by a regulation restricting, generally, teachers in the schools of the city to a domicile in the city. (Cf. Sheldon v. School Committee of Hopedale supra.) The failure to include in the mandate of the regulations, teachers not then domiciled in Boston, seems a reasonable exception to avoid hardship and not an arbitrary inconsistency.

The question of the validity of a provision in such regulation, however, that failure to maintain the required domicile in Boston should operate as resignation from the service is more troublesome. (See Rinaldo v. Dreyer et al., supra, at 845.)

It is probable that such a provision would be construed to mean that if a teacher should fail to maintain the required domicile, such failure would automatically terminate the teacher's employment. As the question of whether or not such a change of domicile had occurred in a particular case is a most complex one, such a provision would create, if valid, great difficulties of administration. Questions as to whether or not persons once duly appointed as teachers were still employed as teachers and as to whether or not persons were paid for teaching who were not entitled to be paid, would tend to create frequent confusion. Apart from this practical difficulty, there is a legal difficulty. The School Committee have a power of discharge in their discretion. It is my opinion that, under such a power, they cannot provide for automatic termination of service for violation of a regulation.

The term "resignation," when applied to employment, ordinarily means an indication of a desire to withdraw from service. If the suggested provision is construed as meaning that failure to maintain the required domicile shall be taken to indicate a desire to withdraw from service, rather than, that upon such failure, service shall terminate, it would seem to have little value. Continued service in the schools after such change of domicile or any other indication of intent to continue in service would negative the implication arising from change of domicile and there would be no resignation. Of course, a power of discharge in the School Committee would continue and could be exercised but, in few cases, could the "resignation" be safely acted upon.

In view of the foregoing, it is my opinion (1) that the School Committee may, if they deem such action will serve the best interests of the school system, adopt a regulation to the effect that all teachers employed by them, including those on tenure, who, at the date of the passage of said regulation are domiciled in the City of Boston, shall continue to live in said city, and (2) that the School Committee may discharge teachers, whether or not on tenure when the regulation was adopted, who violate such regulation. It is, however, my opinion that a further provision in such regulation that failure to maintain a Boston domicile shall operate as resignation from the service is invalid if it contemplates (as it probably would be held to contemplate) automatic termination of service and would, even if valid, create most undesirable complexities of administration and is of little value and tends to confusion, if it does not contemplate automatic termination of service. (Compare in this connection clause 12, section 265, of the Regulations of the School Committee (School Document No. 7, 1934).)

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

Justice of District Court of Somerville.

Rulings and Order.

This is a petition for a writ of certiorari to quash the proceedings ordering reinstatement of six persons who were holding positions in the classified service of the City of Somerville and who were removed by the petitioner. The respondent found that the only reason for their removal "was that they were married women, whose husbands were gainfully employed," and that they were removed without proper cause, although I believe that the respondent (the present petitioner) acted in good faith.

No question is raised that the removals were not effected in the manner prescribed by the statute, G. L. (Ter. Ed.), chapter 31-43, but the right to remove for the aforesaid cause is challenged. It was the duty of the respondent to sustain the action of one removing authority unless he found that it was made without proper cause or in bad faith. G. L. (Ter. Ed.), 31-45.

The law imposed upon petitioner the power to remove for a just cause. Whatever may be the personal view of the respondent as to the wisdom or expediency of retaining or discharging married women in the public service, is immaterial.

The judgment of the Court is not to be substituted for that of the public official who is charged by the law with the exercise of such judgment. He is found to have acted in good faith. Unless it can be said as a matter of law that the marital status of a woman whose husband is gainfully employed is not proper cause for the dismissal from the public service, we cannot revise the action of the petitioner. Whether the public interest would be enhanced by the continuance of such women in public employment is not entirely a judicial question. The adoption and enforcement of policies for the administration of local affairs which are not shown to be inconsistent with law, nor violative of some legal right of a citizen are beyond the reach of the Judiciary.

Because I cannot say as a matter of law that reasonable men charged with the performance of such executive functions as was the petitioner, could not fairly or impartially come to the same conclusion that we reached, I cannot rule that the assigned cause for the removals in question was an improper or inadequate cause.

An order is to be entered ordering the writ to issue.

ABATEMENTS TO WIDOWS, ETC.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:
 Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to initiate legislation in the Legislature which would transfer from the Board of Assessors to the Welfare Department of the City of Boston the power to grant abatements to widows and people in poor financial circumstances.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, it appears to me that the present system of granting abatements to widows and to other people unable to pay their taxes under Clauses 17 and 18 before the Board of Assessors is an antiquated system and should be changed. It really does not come within the province of the Assessing Department, as it is a relief and social problem rather than an assessing problem. In order to properly grant such abatement it is necessary to investigate each case properly and the Assessing Department has no facilities for any proper investigation. These abatements are granted to widows and others unable to pay because of poor financial circumstances, and in most cases the Assessing Department must rely upon the statements of the applicant without any investigation, and also must rely upon the judgment of the Assessing Department. As a result, great injustices are rendered in many cases, not only against the applicants but against the city itself. The Welfare Department is in a better position to handle these cases. They have the proper investigating facilities, and can determine more easily and with greater justice the merits of each case. I am impelled to present this order because of certain happenings which I have experienced with one of the assessors, namely, Mr. Dowling, who in my opinion handles these cases with a cold-blooded and unsympathetic attitude towards the poor widows and people in poor financial circumstances. I wish to call the attention of the Council to two recent cases, one of which I mentioned before, where a poor widow, who was a cripple and who had received the abatements for many years back, was denied her abatement because she failed to make application before October 1, although in the past it was never the policy of the department to compel widows to file their applications before that date. She received no notice from the Assessing Department to file her abatement, and it was only through a great deal of trouble and after I was forced to see another member of the Board, that I was able to secure an abatement for her under Clause 18. Another most pathetic case which I wish to call to the attention of the City Council is of a poor old widow living in Roxbury, whose husband died about six months ago. At the time of his death they were both receiving old age pensions totaling $50 a month. After he died the widow received only $25 a month. Her son, who had formerly been on the W. P. A., is now confined to the Foxboro State Hospital with an incurable illness. Her daughter, who lives with her, is unemployed. Except for $20 which she receives as rent income and the $25 a month of old age pension, she has absolutely no income. The only possession she had left to her name was the house in which she has lived for the greater part of her life. A co-operative bank holds the mortgage upon this home, and this bank compelled the woman to scrape together, by begging or borrowing, the money in order to make the monthly payments, so that she could keep her home. The bank has threatened now to foreclose unless the 1937 and 1938 taxes are paid. Of course she has no income with which to pay them. A despicable suggestion was made to her, that she mortgage her furniture, her only and last possession, in order to pay the taxes, and Mr. Dowling was of the opinion that if she could mortgage her furniture she should do so in order to pay the City of Boston its taxes. He refused to allow any other abatement except the regular widow's abatement of $2,000 a year. As a consequence undoubtedly the bank will foreclose. Eventually this family will have to go on the welfare and will probably cost the city much more than if they had abated her taxes. I wish to state here that the majority of the assessors are fine, understanding men, who are sympathetic in cases of this kind, but my experience with Mr. Dowling convinces me that he is not the type of man to handle such cases. Although he has lived off the taxpayers for many years, and although he has spent several weeks recently basking in the sunshine of Florida on the taxpayers' money, and while he is always willing to lend a sympathetic ear to the big real estate owners and banks in giving substantial amounts of abatement to the banks and corporations, he turns a deaf ear toward the widows and the people in poor financial circumstances in their appeals for assistance in cases of this kind. Mr. Dowling is now and has been for many years connected with a bank in the City of Boston. His interests in the bank and with the city must be conflicting. His connections with the banking interests for many years will not allow him to render just decisions on abatements, and of course the city must be the loser. I demand that Mr. Dowling resign. His connections with the banks all his life make him unfit to handle these cases justly, and since it is within the province of a man of this type to deal out injustice to the poor widows, it is better that the system be changed and be transferred from the Board of Assessors, who are now burdened with abatements of value, and turned over to the Welfare Department, which is in a better position to understand the problems of these poor people.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I did not get the gist of everything the councilor said, but I think it is very unfair to deliver this tirade on Mr. Dowling. He is only one member of that Board. I have always found him to be a very charitable man and a man with a heart, in my dealings with him. I think it is very unfair that he should be selected as the target when there is a board of five men. I think it is unfair, and I am sure the councilor must have been given wrong information by somebody.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I would like to make one statement. Perhaps the councilor from Ward 3 went to Mr. Dowling representing some bank or some large corporation, but I wonder if he received the same treatment when he went there seeking assistance for some poor widow.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would not be ashamed if I had gone to the Board of Assessors for a bank or a corporation, as I think they are entitled to some consideration as well as everybody else in the community. But I am very sorry to say that I have no client in the banking world to get any abatements for. I am not a lawyer. I am only a plain layman.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

INFORMATION FROM HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to comply with request for certain information in accordance with City Council orders passed February 20 and 27, 1939.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, with reference to this order, and despite the fact that the City Council has been subjected to severe criticism in some quarters by editorial writers in the Boston newspapers, I am still stubborn enough—you may put it that way—to be of the opinion that the Board of Directors of the City of Boston still has some interest in the running of the various departments, and the more important the department is the bigger the service that the department is supposed to render to the poor and the unfortunate of Boston, the greater the duty upon the members of that Board of Directors. Now, back as long ago as February 20 I introduced what I felt at that time was a fair order in the Council, requesting certain information from the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, followed by a supplementary list of further questions on the 27th of February. Both requests were some two months ago. I felt that, in fairness to the Council and in fairness to the trustees, it was not entirely necessary that the trustees be summoned in but that they should have a chance to have the questions, which I felt were fair questions, to look them over and to decide what sort of answer they wanted to make. Because of the reported increase in sickness, and because of the Finance Commission of the City of Boston, which had been investigating that situation for some time and desired an opportunity first to make its report, I of course in all sincerity and fairness have not pressed for an answer to these questions. But they have got me all wrong, Mr. President, if they think that I have forgotten the questions, and they have got me all wrong, if they think that I have dropped the subject that was brought up on the 20th of February. The only thing that can make me drop that is being struck dead between now and the time I get the answers. According to the charter, the proper method of asking for information by a member of the Council is to submit questions to the department head through the Mayor in writing. That step has been followed. The next step, if the information to which not only the Board of Directors of the city but the public is entitled is not received, is to summon in the authorities of the Boston City Hospital and to put them under oath, and if they won't come in to bring them in, and I serve notice here today that, so far as the law permits that procedure to be followed, that is the way it is going to be done. I now give notice to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital that I just want to do my duty, and if there is any power under the charter, any power under the statute, if they have not got the decency to give, not to me or to the Council but to the public and the taxpayers of the City of Boston, the information which we have asked for, then we will bring them in here if the law gives us the power. This matter has been tossed around in the government of the City of Boston long enough. It is largely because of its own fault. We get up here in an endeavor, without too much power, to fix public attention on some crying need or some mismanaged department of the City of Boston, and they toss us around and they shadow box and something comes up and we let it slide. We have got too few powers as it is. There have been petitions filed in the Legislature to change the complexion of the City Council, to make it a council of nine or a council of eleven, to do away with the council of twenty-two. As a matter of fact, unless this Council is given wider powers, unless, for example, at least by a unanimous vote it can override the veto of the Mayor, instead of changing it from a council of twenty-two to a council of nine they ought to abolish us; and they certainly should abolish us if we forget our duties to such an extent that when public desire and public interest demands that we bring in the heads of any such department to answer pertinent questions, we fail to follow through. If we forget under those conditions, we ought to be abolished. Now, I understand that an answer is coming through from the Corporation Counsel I assume what I thought as a member of the bar was the situation is still the situation, with reference to the Boston City Hospital, because I had in mind that way back in 1853, before any of us were born, the act which authorized the City of Boston to establish a City Hospital, the language of the Legislature under which we appropriate millions of dollars a year for that institution, by virtue of which we educate nurses, by virtue of which we allow doctors out of medical school to complete their education, by virtue of which people in the City of Boston have readily accessible the facilities for the best hospital in the country—that act read this way,—“That the City of Boston was authorized to erect, establish and maintain a hospital for the reception of persons who, by misfortune or poverty, may require relief during temporary sickness.” Now, if the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, or any official in the City of Boston, wants to start getting technical with the councilor from Ward 17, if they want to start something, if they want to be technical and try to tell me what my legal rights are as a member of the Council, then it is time we got technical, and I say to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital and I say to those in authority over that hospital, for years you have been running that hospital illegally under the terms of the statute on which it was founded. It was founded for the temporary relief of the poor and the indigent and the unfortunate of the City of Boston. You have been using a large portion of the funds in the hospital for those people who could pay for it and not just for emergency cases that happened to be carried in there. It has not been used to a great extent for the poor and the unfortunate of Boston. You have not only allowed the entry of doctors there supposedly for assistance of the poor of Boston but you have made the position of many of those staff doctors at the City Hospital worth thousands of dollars a year, not from an educational viewpoint but through an opportunity to have their private patients there, with the most modern of instruments and paraphernalia that science can conceive. You have made it a pretty sweet proposition for many of the doctors. Not all of them, but many of them have been basking in the praise that they are giving their services to the poor, when as a matter of fact they have been coupling their services to the poor with a pretty sweet practice of their own. This institution, being made for the poor of Boston and for the further education of persons who are giving their services, has made it possible for a large number of the staff doctors in the City of Boston to be on the pay rolls of the insurance companies of Massachusetts and to get around the provisions of the law, so that they can get a report of the accident, the condition or the treatment of the patient, before the man's own lawyer can get the statement of the man who has been injured. And those people on the pay roll of the insurance companies of Massachusetts are not only able to get the story of the unfortunate who is carried to the hospital after an accident, but they get his report, and they go farther than that, Mr. President, they sit at the man's bedside in the department in which they have no business and speak to that man even before his own legal representative can get the authority to see him. I agree that much good is done at the Boston City Hospital; I know that thousands of doctors have shortened their lives by the service which they have given there. I know that many an employee there works long hours in this great work. I know that so far as the facilities go, it is one of the best if not the best hospital in the United States of America today. But, like a lot of other departments, like the Welfare Department, to a certain extent in years gone by, the service rendered to the poor, the service rendered by the honest and the ethical, has been a cover for some nice little rackets by others who have no place there. So I return to the purpose of this order, Mr. President, and I again serve notice that we have waited since the 20th of February. I think we have been courteous. I think we have been diplomatic. I think we have been fair. The original charge made was, not necessarily that there were not enough nurses at the Boston City Hospital, because we are not experts any more than the trustees have turned out to be experts. They were questions directed to obtain facts on which we could perhaps make a layman's judgment. The charge was not that necessarily there were not enough nurses. The charge which I made on the floor of this Council, however, in February was that there were not enough nurses on bedside duty at the Boston City Hospital, and that nurses at the Boston City Hospital, especially on night duty and especially student nurses, were working under sweat shop conditions. And with all the favorable editorial comment on the report of the Boston Finance Commission, and with all the comment that has been made by those who are so proud of the hospital, and with all the findings of fact that have been produced, I do not take back one word that I said on the floor of this Council chamber two months ago. They have all agreed from top to bottom—officials, administrators, head nurse, Finance Commission—that there are not enough nurses at bedside duty at the Boston City Hospital, and that they are serving longer hours than in any other hospital in the United States of America today, and that is all that I claim. And I once more, Mr. President, serve this notice, that I will give the trustees of the Boston City Hospital until one week from today to answer those questions, and if they do not answer them, if there is any power on earth or in the law which gives us the right that I think still rests in the Council, we will bring the trustees in here under summons and get the answers.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DEMOLITION OF ATLANTIC AVENUE STRUCTURE.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, record with the appropriate committee of the Massachusetts Legislature the resolution, unanimously passed by the City Council on March 6, 1939, calling for the enactment of such legislation as shall at once cause the so-called elevated loop to be promptly demolished and removed; and further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Corporation Counsel to vigorously urge the adoption of such legislation as may be necessary or advisable to hasten the demolition of the elevated structure on Atlantic avenue, in order that such abandoned structure shall neither continue to be a traffic obstruction nor be improperly included as an alleged asset of the Boston Elevated Railway Company in any proceedings regarding said Company and its business.

Ordered, That the Building Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to comply with request contained in City Council order of March 6, 1939, with reference to condemnation and demolition of the Atlantic avenue structure of the Boston Elevated Railway Company abandoned in October of 1938; and further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to promptly proceed with condemnation of said structures.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, a few weeks ago—March 6, to be exact—this Council was kind enough to unanimously pass an order which I introduced, calling upon the Building Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to condemn that part of the elevated structure, now abandoned, known as the Atlantic avenue loop, and the Council also passed other orders along the same line. I read in the public prints that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston—who, as I visualize it, is not only perhaps the personal legal representative of the Mayor but also the legal spokesman, so far as the law goes, perhaps, of the City Council, and also the paid legal representative of the taxpayers of the City of Boston—did follow our desire, and I understand recorded the city as opposed to the bill which would make this off-season Christmas offering to the Elevated stockholders in the form of a purchase of the stock. I understand that at the hearing, however, he said he would pass over the question of the Atlantic avenue loop structure, and if I read the papers correctly I don't know whether it was his personal opinion or whether he desired to record the Mayor as in favor of taking the Elevated by eminent domain. Now, of course, what we asked him to do was, in any event, to record the directors of the city as against purchasing the Elevated stock. I am frankly not prepared to state whether my personal feeling would be that the Elevated should be taken over by eminent domain, or, more properly, be forced to seek the relief which they should seek under the provisions of the bankruptcy law. The thing I am particularly interested in is the matter of the Atlantic avenue structure. I am still intensely interested in it, and I think that the members of the Council are, and I think that the taxpayers of Boston should be intensely interested in it. The Atlantic avenue structure as recently as a year ago was valued on the books of the Boston Elevated Railway Company at over three million dollars. The road last October wholly abandoned the Atlantic avenue structure, so that for practical purposes in the laymen's mind this three-million-dollar item on the books of the Elevated is so much junk. But, of course, those persons who desire to see the stock of the Elevated purchased, and even those persons who might wish to see the Elevated taken by eminent domain, would naturally prefer to see the elevated structure remain on Atlantic avenue so as to have another item with which to dicker. I feel that my duty, primarily, Mr. President, is to those taxpayers of Boston who this year, in view of last year's deficit, will pay not less than one dollar a thousand on every piece of taxable property in the City of Boston as a result of the Elevated deficit, which has reached an all time record high. All services have been discontinued on the Atlantic avenue line, and I feel that under the law the Atlantic avenue structure, in the middle of a main city highway, having been abandoned since the first of October, there rests a power in the Building Commissioner, under instructions of the Mayor of the City of Boston, to take steps, by condemnation or otherwise, to force the demolition and removal of that structure, which is a menace to traffic, a menace to health, and which should be torn down. They are now holding hearings at the State House and influences are forcing events to a point where there will be a question of buying stock or perhaps taking by eminent domain and fighting away from eventual bankruptcy, and, as I have stated, they want to keep the Atlantic avenue junk pile on the books as one of the assets of the Elevated road to the tune of three million dollars. I think that the time has come to call the bluff, I think the time has come to condemn the structure, to show up that phoney asset of the Elevated, and to do away with it for good. The order was not introduced here on the 6th of March as any gesture; it was not introduced merely to focus public attention on this particular item; it was introduced by me, and I assume passed unanimously by the Council, in order to urge the Mayor successfully to do something about it, and I again reiterate and urge upon him to close that issue before the Legislature reaches the point where they vote on the eventual disposition of the Elevated question in this year's session.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT OF ELEVATED BOOKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, as chairman of the Metropolitan Transit Commission or otherwise, be requested to take all steps which may be necessary or advisable to assure an independent and detailed audit of the books of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and a study of the amount and probable illegality of the deficit charge annually assessed against the various cities and towns in the Metropolitan district after alleged depreciation deduction.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I do not want it to appear for one moment that I have any particular axe to grind with the Boston Elevated Railway Company. The reason for these various orders at this particular time is in view of the fact that this is the first time since 1918 that some of those influences behind the Elevated have had the courage to wander up and get their noses anywhere near the trough. I realize that the year 1939 so far as the Boston Elevated is concerned, and the year 1939 so far as the car riders and the taxpaying public is concerned, is the most important year in the history of Massachusetts and the City of Boston so far as transportation is concerned since the year of the big steal. Now, I understand, Mr. President, that there never has been a detailed, independent audit of the books of the Boston Elevated Railway Company since 1918, and, as I understand it, we are presented with an Elevated report which showed a deficit which has been gradually creeping up from a matter of a quarter of a million or a half million to a million and a million and a half, and this year to over two million. There is a lot of screeching by men in public office, and there are a lot of tears by taxpayers unable to pay their bills, and nothing is done about it. The deficit that we get on the annual report of the Elevated is the result of various figures, many of which I have a hunch might not pass the average audit, and I mean by that, charges are made for depreciation far in excess of proper valuations, and undoubtedly far in excess of those charges for depreciation which made back in the days when the stockholders were holding the bag and not in the days when the public was filling the bag for the stockholders. And so I urge in this year, when the deficit has reached a bold and an all time high, that the time has come when somebody should look over the books besides the accountants for the Elevated. I have before me a letter from the Honorable Roscoe Walsworth, a member of the Metropolitan Commission, written to the Hon. Maurice J. Tobin on the 20th of July, 1938, on this broad subject. I realize that this past year the Mayor was starting in as the mayor of a great city under most discouraging circumstances, and I realize he worked to a stage where his health at one time was really undermined and affected. I understand that he is now back in fighting trim, and I think that the suggestion that was made on July 20 he undoubtedly will comply with at the present time. Realizing that the letter may have been lost—because there are thousands of letters which come in the mail to the Mayor's desk—I am going to ask that a copy of the letter of July 20, 1938, from Mr. Walsworth to the Mayor of the City of Boston be included in the record.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection the letter may be included in the record.

The letter referred to reads as follows:

100 Milk Street,
Boston, Mass., July 20, 1938.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Chairman Metropolitan Transit Council.
My dear Mayor Tobin,—Your commendable interest as Mayor of Boston in the proposed public purchase of the Elevated common stock, and the recent meeting of the Metropolitan Transit Council, called by our commission, emphasize a point which has long troubled me, the regular annual "deficit in the public management and operation of the Boston Elevated." Something ought to be done to check this deficit and it seems to me this Council, under your Honor, opens the way for the best results.

The report of the deficit usually brings out a few oral protests but it is as regularly charged back onto taxpayers, without other excuse or explanation. This has been going on for nearly twenty years and in its total has reached a rather staggering sum for a transit service which is not beyond criticism and which was on its way out in 1918 when the public took it over for rebuilding purposes. The service and the cost have been increased in this rebuilding but so has the price of the Elevated common stock which in turn if there is a purchase, will be added onto the public, a kind of double payment for the taxpayer.

So far as I recall there has never been an inquiry nor a study of these deficits and their causes made or attempted directly by or in behalf of those who pay, by which I mean the citizens of our Metropolitan Transit District represented by the mayors and selectmen.

There may have been audits of the accounts but it seems to me the situation calls for something more. In the first place the study should be controlled by and open to those who are taxed, and in the second place it should be a complete and thorough study and analysis covering the whole financial classification and set-up as affected by the operation and the service in our various sections. Let us get the whole picture out in the open as taxpayers find it. If the deficit is justified then at least it will be some comfort, and if not justified then appropriate action can be taken for the protection of the taxpayers of the Transit District.

Such a study now, moreover, would be a valuable contribution on the pending question of the price and value of the Elevated common stock in case of a public purchase. This is a serious matter, as you have pointed out, not only for Boston but for every city and town in the district. It is of the utmost importance for the public that every city and town under the Elevated System should be tied into this problem and its study and its answer. Boston should not face it alone. Your Metropolitan Transit Council, under your leadership, offers a common interest and approach.

If this proposal, with its double aspect, has merit, an informal call or a memorandum from your honor to the members would at least initiate a discussion of this situation and it would bring the whole matter to the attention of all of those interested directly in the problem of the service and deficit, and in the related issue of the price to be paid if the common stock is to be purchased under legislative authority. Certainly the taxpayers need all the protection they can be given, if history means anything.

May I add I am sending this from my personal viewpoint as a trustee of the Boston Metropolitan District, but I have not submitted it to the other trustees, for there may be some question about our authority to act officially.

Respectfully,
ROSCEE WALSORTH.

PUBLIC HEARING FOR TAXPAYERS ON BUDGET.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston City Council hold a public hearing on Monday afternoon, May 1, 1939, at which time civic organizations, and the taxpayers of Boston generally, shall be invited to present constructive suggestions for reducing the budget for the current year.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, my suggestion would be—and I don't want to take too much time, although I think these subjects are somewhat important—that this order be sent to the Executive Committee. I bear in mind that there is some sort of a hearing in this hall, I believe next Tuesday. I don't know anything of the plans for the meeting. I don't know whether primarily it is an indignation meeting or a meeting to point out to the Council what we possibly all realize,—that the finances of the taxing public are very near the breaking point. The thing that I have in mind is that the Council, not in the nature of a post-mortem after the damage is done but in the nature of obtaining information, should invite the public to attend a public meeting before the City Council in this hall prior to the passing of the budget, at which time the only question before the house would be such constructive suggestions as any civic leaders or members of the public desire to make to the Council, and especially to the Committee on Appropriations, with reference to the deductions in the budget. Personally, as one who has been in office for a good many years, the time when I prefer to hear comment concerning a vote on the budget or any other matter is before the vote and not afterwards. I believe in giving those who may have constructive suggestions an opportunity to say their piece in the nature of help and not in the nature of criticism, and it is with that in mind, before we pass on the budget, that I thought it perhaps advisable that this Body should give the civic leaders in Boston and the public an opportunity, as I say, not to tell us how hard times are, not to tell us that the tax rate is going up to $46 a thousand, which it probably will, and we know it, but to show constructively how the budget can be reduced.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I was rather interested in the order of the council asking that the Council hold a public meeting, perhaps next Monday afternoon, where the civic leaders and taxpayers of the City of Boston may come in and offer suggestions on the matter of cutting the budget. I do not believe that the councilor who introduced the order is under the impression that the Committee on Appropriations of the Council is going to bring in the budget at next Monday's meeting if we hold our regular meeting. Furthermore, the meetings which have been held by the Committee on Appropriations have been public meetings, the doors are open to any public-spirited citizen, any taxpayer, who wants to come in and listen to the budget as it is being unraveled with the various departments, and we are open to suggestions at all times. I suggested that this matter go to the Executive Committee to be further discussed, Mr. President.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I might say, as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, that I have already sent invitations to our hearings to President Eliot Wadsworth of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, to the President of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, to the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, and to many other civic organizations prior to the time that we originally set as a date for public hearings. Now, the Committee on Appropriations have been conducting hearings which were open to the public at all times. To date, the only civic-minded organization that has been before our committee, to my knowledge, is the Municipal Research Bureau, but as yet we have not received any suggestions from them. I might say at this time that I am sure the Committee on Appropriations would welcome any constructive suggestion of any taxpayer or any member of the public as to how we might reasonably cut the budget.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I want to say that what I said was not in criticism of the Committee on Appropriations, because I believe that at least some members of that committee have been doing real work on the budget. I realize that members of the public have been invited. But it did seem to me that there should be a special day set aside when they could be heard, not in criticism but in constructive suggestions. I do not visualize the meeting that will be held here as a political rally. The question in my mind is whether there would be any very large assemblage. But I do believe that the City Council should not back away from public participation, and I believe that the public should be given one day in particular when it would be their day in court and when they could make such suggestions as they might desire.

President MURRAY—The Chair will state that the Committee on Appropriations can make such an arrangement.

POSTPONEMENT OF TAX SALES.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Collector be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to stay any action on contemplated tax sales of unpaid taxes for the year 1938, until some time in 1940.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, there appeared before the City Council Committee on Appropriations last week Mr. Merritt Thompson, our City Collector. He told us that he was at the present time still working on the matter of tax sales on 1937 properties that were foreclosed by the city last year, and that he was preparing to clean the matter up sometime prior to October. He also informed us that he was contemplating tax sales on homes and properties for non-payment of 1938 taxes, sometime in October. In so doing he will again be duplicating the same thing that he did last year, in forcing the home owners to have their property sold for taxes three or four months earlier than has ever occurred in the history of Boston. I believe that with the conditions the home owners are going through, every consideration should be given them and every opportunity of meeting and paying the taxes that are assessed to them without hurrying and speeding the program along. If the matter was delayed until sometime in January, as in former years, they would have up until December. Certainly there should be a postponement in order to relieve those home owners. I believe that, in fairness to the home owners of the City of Boston, every available opportunity should be given to those people, particularly in the payments that they are making, to meet their taxes. With the thousands of pieces of property that have already been taken by the City of Boston, for which we have found no market, I do not believe that the City of Boston wants to continue to take properties over and continue to be the biggest real estate holder of property in the City of Boston. I believe that the City Council wants to do and I believe that his Honor the Mayor wants to do everything possible to help these home owners. I believe that the members of the City Council want to be as lenient as possible and yet not be derelict in their duty in seeing that the taxes are brought in. By postponing the sale until sometime in January or February of 1940, or even a little later, we have got until October to foreclose on the property. There is no emergency pending, and I think that, in all fairness to all concerned, when this order reaches his Honor the Mayor he will be able to call in Mr. Merritt Thompson, our collector, and instruct him not to proceed with his contemplated action of foreclosing on homes prior to 1940 on the 1938 taxes.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM ASSESSORS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the Boston City Council with the following information, as of January 1, 1939:

1. The number of homes owned by private individuals, and the assessed valuation of the same.
2. The number of homes owned by corporations, and the assessed valuation of the same.
3. The number of homes owned by banking institutions, and the assessed valuation of the same.
4. The number of business and mercantile properties owned by banking institutions, and the assessed valuation of the same.
5. The number of business and mercantile properties owned by private individuals, and the assessed valuation of the same.
6. The number of business and mercantile properties owned by corporations, and the assessed valuation of the same.
7. The number of pieces of property taken by the city for tax title, and the assessed valuation of the same.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, last year I introduced this order on two occasions. On one occasion when the order was introduced a reply came back from the Board of Assessors, stating that in view of the press of business they would appreciate it if the matter could stand for some time in order that they might catch up with their work. Last October I again introduced the order.

That was almost six months ago, and I have had no reply from it. I believe the information is constructive information, which is available in the assessors' office, information that they should be able to obtain, and I am therefore introducing the order again to secure the information requested; and if I do not get the information within a reasonable time I shall again introduce an order, and continue introducing orders until I finally get the information desired.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Coun. CHASE, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred April 17) appropriating $60,000 from Cemetery Fund Income, to be expended for Cemetery Division, Maintenance and Improvement—recommending reference to Executive Committee.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the Committee on Appropriations requests that that order go to the Executive Committee.

The report was accepted, and the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSING, BIRD STREET.

Coun. HUTCHINSON and KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take up with the State Department of Public Works the matter of abolishing the grade crossing at the Bird Street Station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in Dorchester and erecting an overpass, the expense of same to be met by the Federal Government under the Hayden-Cartwright Act.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF WARD 13 STREETS.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 13 under the W. P. A. plan of construction:

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sidewalks on the following streets in Ward 13, under the W. P. A. plan of construction: Dove street, Jerome street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAIRS ON STAIRWAY, JOHNSWOOD ROAD.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make needed repairs to the public stairway leading into Johnswood road, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROTECTION FOR INVESTIGATORS, VISITORS, ETC.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be directed to instruct the heads of the various departments to give full protection, cooperation and legal assistance to all employees in any case arising out of the exercise of their duties as investigator, visitor, or as an authorized representative of the city in any capacity.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, my attention was called last Wednesday to the subject matter of my order by an editorial which appeared in a Boston paper, and the following is a quotation from that editorial:

"A social worker for the City of Boston was set upon and beaten by two men, one of whom was a relief client.

"The assault took place when the investigator called on the welfare recipient to establish his eligibility for relief. The social worker found his client in the company of another man, both of them drinking, the investigator says. When the social worker left the house, the pair followed him to the street, one then grappled with him and the second, the relief client himself, slugged him, knocking the social worker into the gutter and ripping his coat.

"The attitude of officials of the Welfare Department was interesting. A strictly hands-off policy was instantly adopted. When the investigator asked superiors about the advisability of seeking an assault complaint, he was advised to 'think it over.' Finally, with the assault officially regarded as a personal affair, the investigator pressed the charge alone. As a result, in lower court, the assailant received a suspended sentence.

"The hands-off attitude of the Welfare Department was uninspiring. Here was a social worker attacked in the line of duty. Here was a man, investigating the worthiness of a relief client and thus doing the work for every taxpayer in the City of Boston.

"Even when, as has happened, female employees of the Welfare Department have been assaulted inside the very buildings of the department, prosecution of the offenders has been left to the individual so assaulted.

"This is a situation not likely to benefit the taxpayer, whose primary concern must be for the fearless investigation of every relief applicant. After all, why should a $25-per-week investigator stick his chin out in the endeavor to discover who are the unworthy relief recipients? If he does, he is likely to get this chin of his 'bopped!' From then on, he will be on his own.

"The natural result will be that investigators may take the easier course and let fakirs continue to sponge on the city, to the hurt of taxpayers and of worthy welfare recipients."

Mr. President, we have all realized the great length to which welfare expenditures have gone during the past ten years. The only gateway by which this can be controlled is by the investigators who go out from the Welfare Department and determine whether or not an individual is worthy of receiving welfare aid. If this is true, that this is the only gateway by which this welfare cost can be curbed, then I say that those men are deserving of every protection that the City of Boston can give them. What incentive under such circumstances, is there for a man to go out and fearlessly perform his duty in investigating a man who is unworthy of receiving aid, and if he does, in turn, have his clothes ripped off, is it just and reasonable for him to be told by his superior that he is "on his own," that he must prosecute that individual who is abusing that fine service which the City of Boston is giving to him? I for one—and I am sure the rest of the members of this City Council agree with me—feel that in every case where an individual is worthy he should receive aid, but I think those who are not worthy should be stricken from the welfare rolls, and I think that there should be some protection for those who go out and do the dirty work, so to speak, by going into the very homes where these recipients live. I say, Mr. President, that these men deserve every consideration. In this case the Welfare Department should have given him full cooperation and seen that the man who was responsible for the assault was punished to the full extent of the law. That is the reason for introducing this order, to see that those men who perform their duties are protected in so doing.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I am heartily in accord with the order submitted by Councilor Langan, but I know in my town that some of the investigators believe that the welfare recipients are a lot of dogs, that every individual that comes up before them is called a drunk and a bum. The average individual who goes to the welfare is seeking it for his children or for her children because they are in desperate circumstances, and the abuses and the humiliations that they have to submit to in Charlestown is such that I know if I was a recipient I would give the same abuse to that person that perhaps others have got through-out the district.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 20 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place a matron on the Mary Draper Playground, West Roxbury, during the summer season.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President Murray at 4.13 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today from Committee on Appropriations) appropriating $60,000 from Cemetery Fund Income, to be expended for Cemetery Division, Maintenance and Improvement—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted, said order passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

2. Report on ordinance (referred from Committee on Ordinances April 17) prohibiting sale of cigarettes or tobacco by vending machines—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the ordinance.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, at a previous meeting I believe I went, quite in detail, into the proposed ordinance to prohibit vending machines in the City of Boston. I believe at that time I pointed out to the members of the Council that those who were primarily interested in the machine situation were a group who were led by the retail tobacco dealers and the wholesale tobacco dealers. I presume, not only in Boston but in Massachusetts. These men came here in their representative capacity on more than one occasion before the committee that was hearing the proposed ordinance and told the members of the Boston City Council that they were not interested in prohibiting the use and operation of these machines. They said that these machines were in Boston and its confines and that they should be called upon to pay a license fee. There has been no urge or public clamor to do away with the vending machines in the City of Boston. We have been informed that there are 1,500 of these machines in various establishments in the city, that 1,500 of them are being used by legitimate firms and establishments. They are placed, as we have been told, in restaurants, in barrooms, in night clubs, in candy stores and various other establishments, and I dare say that even the small tobacco dealer has in his own establishment some of these machines that he is using and operating himself. What I am primarily interested in is, are we doing what is right by ourselves and by the citizens of the City of Boston, when we are attempting to put through a budget, to prohibit the use of these machines, when there is no urge for it, no demand, no public protest of any sort or nature that has been called to our attention? By putting a license fee on these machines we would be getting revenue into the city. There would be no expense attached to it as far as the Sealer of Weights and Measures is concerned, as far as the Health Department is concerned. It would, in the language of the street, be "velvet" money that would be coming into the city treasury, and we can use whatever revenue we can derive that is not going to hurt anyone. There is no illegal traffic being conducted by the operation of these machines. As I have stated time and again, the price, as I understand it, that is paid for the tobacco in these machines is greater than when you buy it over the counter, and if the machines are done away with the very purpose of the act, in other words, prohibiting these machines, is going to bring the merchandise sold over the counter in these restaurants and other establishments at cut prices, in competition with the present small tobacco dealers. I am in sympathy with the very small business man, I am in sympathy with everyone who is trying to get out of the difficult and trying times that we are going through. I realize that we are facing an increase in our taxes, and if we can find any revenue that can come in, however small it might be, it might replenish certain departments in the matter of their operations, and where no expense is going to be attached to it I think we ought to be in favor of a license fee, not prohibiting something because we find that perhaps the license fee is not steep enough to satisfy some of us. I feel that we ought to look at this matter sanely, that we ought to look at it as business men; we ought to look at it as members of a board of directors not only of the City of Boston but of any business establishment. If we can get some revenue, should we throw it out of the window in these times? I believe that this order that is before us, the matter of prohibiting these machines in the City of Boston, should be reconsidered by those of us who are assembled, members of the Council, and I truthfully feel that if this matter is laid on the table perhaps for another week the members of this Council will vote in favor of doing away with this ordinance and bringing in an ordinance for a license fee, so that revenue can be secured for the City of Boston. From that point of view, Mr. President, at this time I move that this order be laid on the table for one week.

The question came on laying the order on the table. The motion was lost.

At request of Coun. ROSENBERG the roll was called, yeas 5, nays 13, and the motion was lost:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Fish, Langan, Lyons, Rosenberg—5.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Englert, Galvin, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, McMahon, Murray, Shattuck, Sullivan, Taylor, Wilson—13.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this ordinance is to prohibit these cigarette machines. It is an ordinance to destroy a business. I think in these times we should hesitate to do anything to destroy a business, and I am against the order and shall so vote.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, we can talk about destroying business, but I think we should talk about destroying jobs. We have been going through, during the past several years, the so-called machine age, which has destroyed job after job. This Body has at quite length taken up the discussion of machines in the various city departments, and if I sense the feeling of the City Council to any degree, I think that this Body is definitely opposed to the use of machines in these city departments. We have had altogether too much use of machinery in the elimination of labor. In this case here, we have men who are set up here in the City of Boston with small stores, and possibly larger stores, that are to a large extent depending on the sale of cigarettes over the counter for their livelihood. These machines are definitely doing away with the business of those stores that are paying taxes to the City of Boston and earning a livelihood. On testimony given before the Committee on Ordinances we heard that the owners of these machines come principally from Providence, Revere and Chelsea, and supply, out of the City of Boston, these machines, competing unfairly with the residents of the city and the taxpayers of the city, and I feel that this committee might well consider eliminating the machines and providing hand labor.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have to agree with Councilor Carey and disagree with the councilor from the Back Bay. We are not destroying business. We are going to help the small man who runs one of the small stores in the suburban areas. Those small business men are not able to pay their taxes in the City of Boston, and that is what I am thinking of when I am voting to abolish these machines out of the City of Boston. I am not thinking of these gentlemen who are non-residents of Boston, who have never paid any personal tax on their personal property. I am thinking of these small store owners who, with the $46 tax rate facing them this year, were unable, some of them, to pay their taxes last year, and so in abolishing these machines in the City of Boston you are giving the business to these small stores where it rightfully belongs. And, furthermore, I am against the use of any machines. I am against the use of these machines in the Collecting Department. As I said before the Committee on Appropriations the other day, the use of these machines has taken away the jobs of seven people in the City of Boston. If we are paying for the use of these machines $5,500, if we put that into labor it would employ seven more men in the City of Boston. That is why I am going to vote to abolish these machines. Now, we will not be destroying business. We will be giving business a chance, the small store owners in the suburban areas. We are giving a chance to the people who now can't pay their taxes. We are taking away the business from the garages and from the filling stations, and we are going to allow those people to attend to their own business and give the cigarette and cigar business to the small store owners where it rightfully belongs.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I am ready at all times in this matter to vote for a moderate license. I believe that at this time our thought should be to bring in some added revenue to the city, and I believe that the machines are a source of revenue in this matter. I do not believe in outlawing them. I do not think we will make jobs by outlawing the cigarette machine. It will mean more work for those who are employed, those behind the counters in restaurants, in the night clubs, and other places; but because of the small amount of cigarettes sold in these places they will not put in a special counter in order to do it. As regards the companies which distribute the machines paying no personal property tax, I believe I was the first one to bring that up. But I understand that they can't pay any personal property tax to the city because they pay their corporate taxes. However, if the gentleman is interested in bringing revenue to the city, I believe that the best way to do it is to put a small license fee on the machines.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I feel compelled to agree with the councilor from Ward 22. This is a chance for revenue for the City of Boston, and it will not take jobs away from anybody. It will bring in revenue to help relieve the burden on the present taxpayers of the city.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I just want to say one word about the small business men. There was not a single demand that came in before the committee from the small business men to abolish these machines. Their only request was that a license fee be set upon those machines. And I believe that that sentiment should guide us in our vote.

President MURRAY—The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like to say one word before we vote.

President MURRAY—Does the gentleman ask unanimous consent?

Coun. TAYLOR—I ask unanimous consent.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection you may speak.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, Councilor Rosenberg stated that the small business men came in and said that they were not interested in abolishing the machines. That may be so, but they thought that a $50 fee would be a reasonable fee, and we have since learned from the Corporation Counsel that a $50 fee would probably be unreasonable and would not be upheld by the courts. So that the only other alternative to help these men who are seeking the assistance of the Council was to abolish the machines, and that is why the Committee on Ordinances voted that this ordinance should pass.

The question came on the adoption of the ordinance. The ordinance was passed, yeas 11, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, McMahon, Murray, Taylor, Wilson—11.

Nays—Coun. Hutchinson, Langan, Lyons, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan—6.

Later in the meeting Coun. CHASE moved reconsideration of the vote abolishing the vending machines. The motion was lost.

Coun. CHASE doubted the vote and asked for a roll call.

The roll was called, yeas 7, nays 11, and the motion was lost:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Hutchinson, Langan, Lyons, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan—7.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, McMahon, Murray, Taylor, Wilson—11.

BASEBALL SEASON FACILITIES, WARD 1.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately place in suitable condition for the baseball season the following parks and playgrounds in Ward 1, which are now in very bad condition, namely:

World War Memorial Park, Noyes Playground, American Park, American Legion Park.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 4.33 p. m., on motion of Coun. CAREY, to meet on Monday, May 1, 1939, at 2 p. m.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

36,400 MOTOR DEATHS IN 1935.

According to the findings of the National Safety Council motor traffic deaths in 1935 totaled 36,400, compared with 1934's record of 36,000.

The only decrease was among school children up to fifteen years of age. Motor vehicle accidents to children have increased much less than those of adults since 1922, when safety education began on a national scale. October, November and December were the reddest months. Two-thirds of the accidents were in places under 10,000 population; more than 40 per cent of the victims pedestrians.

Thirteen states decreased traffic deaths 7 per cent or more: Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and Washington.

"RELIEF" DECLINING.

Two-thirds of the nation's relief expenditures in recent years has been centered in ten industrial states, the "Year Book's" section on Financing Relief and Recovery points out. Half the Federal Work Relief Funds and two-thirds of all available funds have been expended in the fifty largest cities, including about 25 per cent of the population. Industrial urban population is more vulnerable to unemployment. In addition, living costs are higher, requiring greater relief allotments, and the cost of giving employment to a city group is higher than in rural areas.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

MANY TYPES OF W. P. A. PROJECTS.

The Works Progress Administration has placed in operation a total of more than 300,000 projects. Except for the more pretentious types of construction, these projects have covered almost the whole field of American endeavor in meeting the primary objective of relieving unemployment. The American City.

CITY OF BOSTON.

REAL ESTATE DIVISION.

PUBLIC AUCTION.

The City of Boston will sell at public auction all its right, title and interest in and to the following four (4) parcels of vacant land:

Parcel No. 1.—About forty-six hundred forty (4,640) square feet of land on the northwesterly side of Clifmont street, West Roxbury, and more fully described in tax deed recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 5545, page 148.

Parcel No. 2.—About forty-one hundred forty (4,140) square feet of land on the northwesterly side of Clifmont street, West Roxbury, and more fully described in tax deed recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 5545, page 147.

Parcel No. 3.—About thirty-six hundred forty (3,640) square feet of land on the northwesterly side of Clifmont street, West Roxbury, and more fully described in tax deed recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 5545, page 146.

Parcel No. 4.—About fifty-one hundred forty (5,140) square feet of land on the northwesterly side of Clifmont street, West Roxbury, and more fully described in tax deed recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 5545, page 149.

No. 19

ABANDONMENT OF HARD-EARNED RIGHTS AND CIVIL IMMUNITIES SUCH AS DICTATORSHIPS HAVE EXPERIENCED AND EFFECTED WILL NOT BE KNOWN TO PEOPLE OF AMERICA, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS AUDIENCE DURING ADDRESS IN SUPPORT OF AMERICANISM, AT MAY DAY CELEBRATION ON COMMON—SPEAKS TO THROG UNDER AUSPICES OF LADIES' AUXILIARY VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS—WILL NEVER TOLERATE SUCH PLUNGE INTO PAGANISM AND TYRANNY.

The following is the address of Mayor Tobin at the May Day celebration in support of Americanism under the auspices of Ladies' Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the Parkman Bandstand, Boston Common, May 1:

We are assembled here on a day which, by every right of nature, should be a time of rejoicing. Humanity through the ages has welcomed "the merry month of May" in festival and song. Our fathers and our fathers' fathers, both in the Old World and the New, celebrated as a season of gladness the full unfolding of springtime, the return of warmth and vigor in every growing thing, the spread of fresh balm in the air that we breathe, the restoration of hope in the minds and hearts of men. After the rigors of winter, the comforts of spring and the promised blessings of summer have rejoined the souls of men.

In the cheering sunlight of this May Day on Boston Common, we share again that spirit of rejoicing. No matter what our individual cares and troubles may be, we know that they will be somewhat less burdensome in the weeks and months to come, as Nature does her kindly work on our behalf. Very near we are now to the time when the manifold opportunities of recreation given to the people of Boston can again be enjoyed to the full. The woods and streams of Boston's great city and metropolitan parks are free to all. Our public beaches invite every family—the poorest with the richest—to come and share the delights of the seashore.

Indeed, in this goodly period of spring, fortified by the promise of summer, it is hard to understand how anyone can feel merely critical, complaining and crabbed. Toward anyone who can only grumble at this time of the year, I am inclined to say that he is afflicted with a certain morbidity, a certain crankiness of spirit, that he can never look on the brighter side of life, but must be always gazing at the dark. He reminds me of that chronic grumbler of whom Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "he always insists on nibbling his asparagus from the wrong end, and then complains that it's tough and too hard to eat!"

Protests and Complaints.

By some strange, unhappy turn of the times, a whole company of such grumblers and malcontents began to employ this normally happy festival of May Day as a time not for remembering our advantages and our blessings, but for protests and bitter complaint. That new use began, I believe, a quarter-century and more ago in Russia under the Czar.

Perhaps the early revolutionists under the Romanoff despots were justified in their attitude. Kind-hearted America always felt a benevolent sympathy toward all people who were downtrodden and repressed.

But then came the Communist revolution, and it soon was made evident that the Soviets had only exchanged one despotism for another tyranny—the so-called "dictatorship of the proletariat." In the name of this new tyranny, mass-murder swept throughout Russia, every principle of religion was cast down, the sacred name of God was ridiculed and mocked, priests of the Christian church were brutally slain!

And it is for the celebration of such crimes that the Communists here in America have, during recent years, sought to use May Day! Not content with acclaiming the new despotism established at Moscow, the Soviet agents in the United States have sought to use this day as an occasion for the assertion of Communist doctrines here, and for attack upon the American democracy and its free institutions.

Veterans in Answer.

A thousand times justified, therefore, is the answer which the Veterans of Foreign Wars has determined to give to all such subversionary and traitorous teaching. This great organization, acting in concert with other patriotic societies, has resolved to use this day—bright and beloved through the ages as a time for rejoicing—as a renewed occasion for affirming our loyalty to this free land of ours, for remembering the blessings of our heritage as Americans, and for pledging ourselves anew to the defense of and to the support and defense of Americanism in all that we say or do.

Splendid is the purpose thus proclaimed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and very happy I am, both as a private citizen and as Mayor of Boston, to take part now in such a constructive and consecrated celebration of May Day.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

GREAT PREPONDERANCE OF AMERICAN PUBLIC OPINION STANDS WITH POLAND IN PRESENT CRISIS, CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY PARKMAN, JR., TELLS AUDIENCE IN FRANKLIN UNION HALL—REPRESENTS MAYOR TOBIN IN EXERCISES CELEBRATING 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF POLAND'S RESTORED INDEPENDENCE AND "CONSTITUTION DAY"—SAYS AMERICA CAN COUNT ON LOYAL COOPERATION OF CITIZENS OF POLISH BLOOD IN MATTER OF SOLVING THE PRESSING PROBLEMS OF TODAY THAT CONFRONT US ALL.

The following is the address of Honorable Henry Parkman, Jr., Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, representing Mayor Tobin, at exercises celebrating the twentieth anniversary of Poland's restored independence, commemorating also the Polish "Third of May," observed as Constitution Day since 1791, at Franklin Union Hall, on Sunday, May 7. The event was under the auspices of a committee of Polish-American patriotic and civic organizations, with the cooperation of the Catholic clergy of Greater Boston, with President of the Committee, Stanley W. Wisnioski.

The address was as follows:

Mr. President, Governor Saltonstall, Reverend Clergy, Friends of Poland Who Are My Fellow Citizens of Greater Boston.

It is with much more than passing superficial emotion that I bring you this afternoon, at the urgent personal request of his Honor Mayor Tobin, a warm greeting from the City of Boston. The Mayor wishes me also to express to you his regret that the duties of his office even on a day of rest prevent his presence here today, and I assure you that his regret is very real.

I deem it a special privilege that I have the opportunity of participating in this great gathering in his stead. I have recently returned from Savannah, and while there visited an historic fort in Savannah Harbor named in honor of one of your — and our — great patriots and heroes, Count Casimir Pulaski. His career and that of Kosciuszko, whose services to us are daily recalled by his statue on the Public Garden Mall, not far from here, give us an insight into that fiercely burning fire and passion for freedom and independence that marks your national history through the ages. In the words of the poet:

"Hope for a season bade the world farewell
And Freedom shrieked when Kosciuszko fell."

CONTRIBUTION TO AMERICA.

They fought for independence both in their native land and here. Their contribution to America's independence was a large one—it was fitting that we were able in some measure to repay that debt by helping to restore a free and independent Poland after the World War. The events of the last few days indicate how momentous the consequences of the friendly association of our two peoples in these episodes of the past may be in maintaining the peace of the world.

Now, I appreciate fully that this is no ordinary occasion for light-hearted celebration. This great audience of loyal American citizens of Polish birth or descent meets at a time when your ancient homeland is once more facing the gravest possible issues of peace or war. News comes almost hourly of the trend of negotiations at Warsaw, at Berlin, at Paris and London, now brightening with good hope of peaceable settlement, now darkening with the risk that Poland can maintain her vital national interests only by a resort to arms, a determination by Poland to use all of her defensive force in active resistance to any aggressor. The whole world, at least of the democratic countries, rises to its feet in admiration of the courage, patriotism and inflexible will of your people, as evidenced most recently in the speech of your foreign minister before your national assembly.

Upon the outcome of this controversy there depends the most far-reaching consequences, not for Poland alone, but for all Europe. And I have no doubt that all of us share the conviction, so well expressed by our President, that if Europe should again be engulfed in the horrors of war, the United States cannot remain unaffected. No matter how resolutely the American people remain aloof from the combat, refusing all active participation, still the results will be felt here in ways without number.

CONCERN OVER POLAND.

It is, therefore, not a simple or single function, but a threefold purpose which I must strive to fulfill in the brief time allotted me this afternoon. On behalf of the Mayor of the City of Boston I share very gladly and eagerly in the acclaim which you have assembled here to give to Poland's noble achievements in both the remote and the recent past.

I have also to assure you of the active and anxious concern which we feel for Poland in her present hour of trial, that no unconscionable demand of national sacrifice may be pressed upon her. And, finally, I long to assure you that come what may in the future, it seems to me certain that the American people, who so warmly welcomed Poland's hard-won recovery of her national independence twenty years ago, will remain ever friendly to Poland, and ever ready to do all that they can in a friendly way and by the exertion of moral and economic pressure to support and assist the Polish people.

Looking back over the record of Poland's glory and suffering in centuries past, how can one feel anything less than friendly admiration, amounting almost to wonder, at this nation's extraordinary powers of survival against every force of disaster?

Lodged in a key position at the crossroads between the Western and the Eastern countries of Europe, and also lying directly upon the highway from the Southern Seas to the Northern Seas, it was inevitable that Poland should become a flourishing power in international trade during the early centuries of her development and most excellent use did ancient Poland make of her natural heritage. But it was not only in material wealth and military might that she waxed strong. Poland took leadership also in the support of Christianity, in the world of letters and learning, and in rich and versatile works of art.

In view of Poland's geographical position, midway between the Western and Eastern nations of Europe, it was probably inevitable also that she should be subject to great pressure from the envy of neighboring peoples, greedily anxious to pillage her treasures, and gain control of her commerce. Easily and firmly Poland resisted all such encroachments while her power was at its height, during the period from the Fifteenth until the Seventeenth Centuries.

But with the first signs of weakness, jealous rivals were quick to push for advantage. Foreign invasions followed one upon another in rude succession, until at last there was executed upon Poland a work of dismemberment unparalleled throughout history. A mighty empire was altogether wiped out from the map, in the tripartite division of all Poland among Prussia, Austria and Russia.

And yet what a spectacle of wonder then ensued! The summary written by an able Polish scholar of history is so expressive that I am moved to quote it here. Against overwhelming odds, says the historian, "the divided and subject nation under three widely different systems of foreign rule maintains firmly, through more than a century of captivity, its sense of unity and distinctness, it rises repeatedly in arms against its oppressors, it holds its own against the strongest pressure, both administrative, economic, and even educational, and it keeps all the cabinets of Europe busy with 'the Polish problem' as one of the unsolved international questions of Europe. What is more, the nation produces, under these abnormal conditions, its very highest achievements in learning, literature and art."

As all in this audience know, it was not in a time of assured peace and safety that Poland adopted the new Constitution of May 3, 1791, which is remembered to this day as a work of enlightened wisdom and social justice, righting abuses hitherto imposed by the land-owning aristocrats upon the middle class and the peasants, reforming the Polish currency system and putting an end to the "election" of kings.

The great instrument of 1791 which proclaimed these reforms was adopted only a few years before the Polish sovereignty was to be utterly cast down by the second and third partitions of all her territory. Indeed, hostility to the liberal reforms, the foundation stones of democracy, embedded in the Constitution of 1791 was one of the primary influences which roused the Czar of Russia to attack Poland.

Then, as now, it seems that a despotic ruler is always more anxious to rob a democratic neighbor of his possessions than he is to encroach upon the rights of a fellow-dictator!

I feel sure that the great preponderance of American public opinion stands strongly on Poland's side in the present crisis. At the same time, I feel confident that American citizens of Polish extraction share with their fellow-Americans a deep conviction that, if war should come, the United States as a nation cannot make its best contribution to the cause of freedom by again being drawn into combat overseas.

On this side of the water we are fortunate in that we live in peace and amity with our neighbors, and our best energies can be released to solve our pressing domestic problems. In their solution, America, I know, can count upon the loyal cooperation of our citizens who were born in Poland or whose fathers and mothers came from that land of age-old devotion to the ideals of religion, of civil liberty and free institutions.

There are some 200,000 Americans of Polish descent now living in Massachusetts, more than 20,000 of whom dwell in the City of Boston, and more than 30,000 in Suffolk County. They have proved their dependability.

Indeed, as I truly believe, they stand doubly worthy in their established record of unequivocal devotion to this beloved land, the first to gain independence in the New World, and also in their heritage from a land of the Old World, whose battle to recover and retain independence is the most remarkable achievement of its kind known to history.

MAY DAY CELEBRATION.

It was a President of the United States who gave the simplest and truest definition of Americanism that I have ever heard. "Americanism," he said, "consists in utterly believing in the principles of America."

What these principles are you know well. They are briefly summarized in the classic statement of "The American's Creed," approved by an act of Congress. Let me quote that creed to you once more:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Such, I submit, is the well-established faith which every American is richly justified in sharing, and yet, in recent years, a loud outcry has been raised against democratic institutions, not only by arrogant nations abroad, but also by many critics and malcontents here at home.

ENEMIES OF DEMOCRACY.

These enemies of democracy take delight in emphasizing and exaggerating the economic difficulties of our time. They ring false alarms from morning till night, striving to make our citizens believe that the American system of private enterprise has come to the end of its usefulness. They would substitute a system of bureaucratic dictatorship over every resource of our nation, over every man's business, small or large, over the private lives and even the inmost thoughts of all our citizens. Only by such methods, say the Communists and the Nazis, can unemployment be banished from the land and jobs be provided for all.

"Of what use is free speech," these partisan critics plead, "unless a man has a job? A man and his family cannot live by words alone. They cannot eat newspapers, no matter how free is the press. Look at the totalitarian nations! They once had widespread unemployment, but now they have abolished it. They have provided jobs for all."

On this theme the Communists and the National-Socialists are never tired of boasting. There is something to be said for their case. But, mark my words, the boasting totalitarians don't tell you the half of it!

What the alien critics do not admit to you is that the abolition of unemployment in Russia, Germany and even in Italy has been accomplished in large part by virtual enslavement of millions of workers. In many cases, men and women have been provided jobs under conditions which we in America would consider little better than those of convict-labor.

Wages are far under the American standard in actual buying power. The ability of the average worker under a dictatorial government to buy food and clothing for himself and his children is less in many cases than the United States now provides for those of its citizens who are receiving public relief.

Yet the subjects of the dictators can find no path of redress. The right of organized labor to take a stand for better wages or working conditions has been trampled in the dust. If the individual worker complains or protests, he is likely to find his so-called "work card" taken from him. And with this system, as invented in Soviet Russia and copied in Germany, there goes the virtual power of life or death. A man who has been deprived of his "work card" is condemned to death by starvation almost as surely as though he had been sentenced to die by hanging or in the electric chair.

GUNS BETTER THAN BUTTER.

Again, the partisans of dictatorship and the enemies of democracy seldom admit, in all their boasting, that the abolition of unemployment by the totalitarian governments has been accomplished largely by turning their whole system of industry and finance away from the normal pursuits of peace, and bending the whole national economy to the preparation for war, the upbuilding of huge armaments.

A standard slogan in Nazi Germany today is the cry that "Guns are Better than Butter!" There is an endless use of money for machine guns for death-dealing submarines, for huge bombing-planes, but the funds to feed, clothe and educate the German people are being steadily ground down lower and lower.

Despite the monster celebrations organized by the dictators and the recreational programs provided for the pleasure and excitement of the people, it is almost as though the extreme statement made by Thomas Jefferson more than a century ago had become in some foreign nations of our time literally and precisely true. "The European nations," said President Jefferson, and I quote his own words, "are nations of eternal war. All their energies are expended in the destruction of the labor, property and lives of their people."

And it is for such a work of destruction that the dictators declare themselves justified in practising the grossest wrongs and cruelties of expropriation against millions of their own helpless subjects — first in Russia by the so-called "liquidation" of mass-extinction of the thrifty, hard-working farmers known as Kulaks, and then in Germany by the horrible persecution of the Jews.

Yet it is at the risk of repetition of just such brutal destruction here in America, and at the risk, nay even the encouragement of class-struggle, class-expropriation and class-murder that the alien propagandists in our midst would have the people of the United States abandon the protection of our system of representative government, our rights of free speech, and our guarantees of protection to all citizens in their persons and property—nay, even the sacred right of every American to worship God according to the principles and tenets of his faith!

Such an abandonment of the hard-won rights and civil immunities of our people, such a reversion to barbarism, such a plunge into paganism and the tyranny of the Dark Ages, the citizens of the United States will never tolerate, I am certain. They will fight courageously against any least promulgation of such benighted doctrines here. They will sternly oppose and put down every propagandist who would assail the institutions of democracy.

All this is not to say that the United States has any purpose to abandon its traditional policy of non-interference in domestic affairs of foreign nations. Self-respecting Americans cannot stand dumbly silent and fail to rebuke by their voices the shocking wrongs recently perpetrated in some of the totalitarian countries, yet they will abstain from meddling some deeds or unwarranted intrusions of any sort into matters normally under the jurisdiction of other nations.

UNITED STATES WONT FAIL TRADITIONS.

But this does not mean that the United States will fail in its traditional devotion to the cause of peace and justice or that the defense of American rights on American soil will be allowed for one moment to languish. On the contrary, these troubled times in Europe have more and more convinced the American people that this nation must be adequately prepared for self-defense, and that large expenditures for this purpose are well justified. If any threat be brought, which directly and clearly endangers this blessed land of ours, America will be found ready and willing as ever to fight for the defense of American institutions and American liberties.

America has well-nigh impregnable power to stand firm in her own defense. When the dictators sneer at America, the emotion behind the sneers is largely one of fear, based on the knowledge that the resources of American democracy, properly mobilized and employed, can defeat any designs of aggression or aggrandizement which the dictators may overlaunch, or dream of launching, against the Western Hemisphere.

We often hear it said that the United States right now is still the strongest and most resourceful single nation on earth, but do we realize how literally and absolutely true this statement is?

To assist a concrete understanding, let us put the case in another way. In industrial power this one single nation — the United States — stands stronger than all the countries of Europe combined, omitting only Russia. Leaving Russia out, and considering the United Kingdom without the British Empire outside of Europe, the annual producing power of the United States is greater in industry than that of Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy combined, with the twenty other European nations thrown in for good measure.

Our country's productive wealth and latent resources justify great confidence in America's future. But this is not to say that they justify an easy-going faith, a blind willingness to expect all good things, without being ready to strive and to fight for them.

On the contrary, the very greatness of America's material resources only increases the need that our country should be in an utterly strong position to defend its people and its riches against any or all foreign aggression.

To that end, wherever the United States has any shortage of essential commodities — as in the case of tin, manganese and raw rubber — it is highly desirable that we should begin to lay in, right now, large reserve stocks, sufficient to cover any emergency.

Again, and still more important, is the development of adequate national defense — in the Navy and its air force, and in the Army and its air force. The measures thus far adopted by Congress to strengthen the United States Army and the Army Reserves have come none too soon, after years of neglect. On the contrary, measures to assure full preparedness for national defense should be pressed forward still further.

This we should do, I say, for defense — to be ready to stand impregnable against any threat whatsoever which may be leveled directly against American soil and treasure, or against the preservation of the lives, institutions and liberty of the American people from foreign attack.

If such a threat comes, America will meet and hurl it back with overwhelming force.

But, pending such a direct challenge, let us now resolve more firmly than ever that we will not be drawn into the turmoil of foreign war by any indirect appeal whatsoever.

We have quite enough to do to attend to our difficulties and problems here at home. Let us give more time to solving them, and less to over-anxious discussion and futile fears aroused over European concerns.

We have a watch to keep here at home — not on the Rhine. The United States must think first of preserving the wealth and welfare of our own people. We have a solemn obligation to maintain the peace of the Western Hemisphere.

We shall protect that peace! We shall stand firm for Americanism in its best true, historical sense. We shall preserve America for Americans, for freemen of democracy, not for slaves of dictatorship!

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

The John McCourt Company has been granted an extension of the contract for bituminous concrete mix, amounting to approximately 2,000 tons, for the Strandway roadway. The reason for this request is that this department may obtain the benefit of the quotation received by the Public Works Department, approximately $6.04 per ton. The latest quotations show the price has advanced materially.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 5 the Mayor approved a contract with the Portland Elevator Company, Incorporated, for repairing certain elevators at the Sanatorium Division. Bids, opened at the Sanatorium on April 1, were as follows:

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO RESIGNING TRUSTEES OF CITY HOSPITAL.

Mayor Tobin, in accepting the resignation of Joseph P. Manning from the Boston City Hospital Board of Trustees paid the following tribute to Mr. Manning:

"Joseph P. Manning has resigned from the Boston City Hospital Board of Trustees after twenty-eight years as a member of the Board, and I have accepted his resignation with deep and sincere regret.

"Mr. Manning has given unstintingly of his time and unselfishly of his service and has contributed in no small measure to placing the City Hospital among the foremost institutions of its kind in the world.

"When he was appointed to the Board twenty-eight years ago, Boston had a comparatively small City Hospital. The institution as it existed a quarter of a century ago now has virtually disappeared, replaced by one of the finest equipped hospitals in the world, and one of the largest for the treatment of the poor, and its remarkable rise can be attributed, in part, to his guidance.

"Mr. Manning as an unpaid public servant has shown the best of American citizenship. He is an outstanding business man, a sportsman and a man of unusual civic pride.

"A self-made man, born in County Galway, Ireland, brought to this country at the age of five, as a boy of fifteen he went to work for three dollars a week, and his climb up the ladder of success through perseverance and hard work is an object lesson to young men.

"In addition to serving as a member of the unpaid Board of Hospital Trustees, Mr. Manning served for several months as Boston's Fire Commissioner, refusing to accept any salary for the work, and for another period acted as Institutions Commissioner without reimbursement.

"Despite the weight of his own heavy business duties and responsibilities, Mr. Manning has neglected no opportunity to serve his city and his fellow men. He always worked for the advantage of the city and the bettering of its civic life, and, on behalf of the people of Boston, I extend my sincere thanks to Mr. Manning for his work."

In accepting, with regret, the resignation of Dr. George G. Sears from the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, Mayor Tobin said:

"Dr. George G. Sears has been a very valuable member of the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for the past twenty-one years. He has asked that he be relieved of those duties, and it is with genuine regret that I accept his resignation.

"The City Hospital loses a treasured friend and the City of Boston the highest type of public servant by the resignation of Doctor Sears. He has been not only a great medical authority, but a public-spirited citizen who served his fellow men with a rare devotion. The city owes him a deep debt of gratitude, and as Mayor I express the sincere thanks of his city for the work he has done so well.

"Doctor Sears has given much of his life to the City Hospital. He has served continuously on the Board of Trustees of the Hospital since March 13, 1918, and presided as chairman over the Board for several years. Prior to his appointment as trustee, he was chief medical officer of the Hospital and a professor of the Harvard Medical School.

"Doctor Sears lived up to the highest standards of his profession. His work did much to relieve the sick and the suffering. One of his grateful patients gave more than $1,000,000 to the city for a surgical research building to stand as a permanent memorial to his great medical skill. And the City Hospital, which has become one of the greatest institutions of its kind in the world during his membership on its Board of Trustees, will also stand as a monument to his work and his loyalty to the city in which he lived."

MAYOR SEEKS PASSING OF PAY ROLLS BUDGET.

Upon May 1 the Mayor addressed the following communication to the City Council:

BOSTON, May 1, 1939.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—Nearly all of the departments have now reached, or very shortly will reach, the limit of expenditures allowed to be made prior to the adoption of the annual budget.

In order that the Committee on Appropriations and the City Council may have ample opportunity to give the budget full consideration, I have requested the committee to report a partial budget covering approximately seven-twelfths of the allowances for the full year and earnestly request its adoption.

It is understood and agreed that no part of the appropriations so made is to be expended for step-rate increases, and that all other controverted matters are to be adjusted in the final budget.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

TO SELL BOAT BY AUCTION.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Public Works Department:

BOSTON, April 17, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—At the present time the motor boat "Watercrest," which is the property of the Public Works Department, is in storage at the Lockery & Butts shipyard, Neponset.

This boat was formerly used in the Water Division to provide transportation facilities to employees for the purpose of examining and making repairs to the water system on Long and Deer Islands. It was badly damaged by the hurricane of last September 21, and the use made of the boat, in view of the fact that there are other means available to reach these islands, does not justify the cost to make the necessary repairs. We have received several offers for this boat, the highest being $275. In view of this, I feel that it will be to the best interests of the city to dispose of it by public auction. I propose engaging the services of a public auctioneer, to conduct an auction in the near future, at a fee of 10 per cent of the selling price. The auctioneer's fee will include the cost of all newspaper advertising.

I respectfully request your approval to conduct this sale in accordance with the procedure as outlined in this letter.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BUNKER HILL DAY PARADE CHIEF MARSHAL NAMED.

Mayor Tobin has announced the appointment of Daniel J. Coughlin, of 8 Austin street, Charlestown, who was chief of staff of the 1938 parade, as chief marshal of the 1939 Bunker Hill Day Parade.

"Danny," as he is known to thousands of his Charlestown friends, spent nineteen months with the Yankee Division in France as a member of Charlestown's own outfit, Company A, 101st Infantry, and was one of the youngest members of the Yankee Division to serve Overseas during the World War. The new chief marshal was born in Charlestown and is a member of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, being its present chaplain, and is also a member of Bunker Hill Post, American Legion, and Greater Boston Chapter of the Disabled Veterans of the World War.

VETO OF VENDING MACHINE ORDINANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 26, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, the ordinance passed by your Honorable Body prohibiting the sale of cigarettes or tobacco by vending machines.

In my opinion, no compelling facts have been set forth and no arguments presented sufficient to indicate beyond a question that these machines are either a nuisance or a menace to the general public. Consequently, an absolute prohibition of the use of these machines, at this time, might well be considered an unwarranted exercise of the power and authority of the municipality. For these reasons, I feel obliged to veto the proposed ordinance.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in reference to the message from the Mayor in which he states that he has heard no compelling reasons for the adoption of the order, of course I bear in mind that, after a good deal of discussion, the Council finally passed the order last Monday afternoon. I understand that representatives of those few persons owning or controlling the cigarette vending machines in the City of Boston called at the Mayor's office promptly on Tuesday and that the proposed ordinance was vetoed on Wednesday, which, of course, gave very little time for those thousands of small tobacco store owners in the City of Boston to supplement what they had already told and written to the Council by similar messages to the Mayor. No doubt the Mayor, following the papers, had some knowledge of that movement among the small tobacco store owners of Boston. But, in spite of that, in his wisdom he vetoed the order. However, in view of the fact that the ordinance has been vetoed, and in view of the fact that a number of the councilors who voted against the order stated to the Council that they mainly voted against the order because they preferred an ordinance which would mean some revenue for the city, I would move at this time that the ordinance now in the Committee on Ordinances be recalled from that committee and referred to the Executive Committee.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection, the order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

The ordinance was recalled from the Committee on Ordinances and referred to the Executive Committee.

VETO OF DRIVEWAY OPENING, TREMONT AND WESTON STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith, disapproved and without my signature, permit for a driveway opening at Tremont and Weston streets.

I am informed by the Commissioner of Public Works that, in his opinion, there is no necessity for driveway openings at this location in excess of twenty-five feet, and that he does not approve the granting of the present petition.

The purpose of the ordinance requiring consent and approval of the City Council and Mayor for driveway openings of this character is to prevent unnecessary openings and openings which are in excess of requirements. The ordinance was enacted to prevent continued abuses of this nature and to preserve as much sidewalk space as possible for pedestrian traffic.

In the matter of approval of petitions of this kind I feel that the attitude of the Commissioner of Public Works should be considered.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, April 23, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I am inclosing application for permit to construct driveways at 1105 to 1109 Tremont street, and Weston street.

This permit was disapproved by me and subsequently approved by the City Council. I disapproved this application, as I did not believe that, at this location, there was any necessity for having the driveways on Tremont street or the driveway on Weston street any wider than twenty-five feet each. It is my intention to preserve as much of the sidewalk space as is possible for the sole use of pedestrians and, at the same time, not restrict the widths of driveways so as to discourage the construction of gasoline stations or parking areas.

Upon viewing this location on Wednesday of this week, I found that the contractor had constructed these driveways despite the fact that he had received no permit, thereby violating a City Ordinance. I have had the contractor notified to interview me relative to this matter, and I intend to have him replace the edgestone and the granolithic sidewalk to its original condition.

After he has done this work in accordance with my request, I shall notify him to submit a new application, with the understanding, however, that I shall not approve his application if it is contemplated constructing any of the driveways to a width in excess of twenty-five feet. A twenty-five foot driveway should be amply wide enough at this location to facilitate the movement of vehicles going to and from the gas station from the adjacent highways.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,

Commissioner of Public Works.

DUMPS IN RESIDENTIAL AREAS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Health Commissioner relative to your order of March 20, 1939, concerning the advisability of closing up all active dumps that are located in residential areas of the city.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, April 25, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your communication of March 31, 1939, transmitting to this department City Council order of March 20, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, consider the advisability of closing up all active dumps that are located in residential areas of the city."

I can offer no further explanation of the position of this department than that contained in my reply to a similar order of the Council which I answered under date of September 22, 1938, which read as follows:

"This department would be glad to consider the matter of closing all active dumps located in residential districts, were it not for the fact that, at present, the only method of disposing of the dry wastes produced by householders and business establishments is by filling in of low areas."

It is our understanding from the Public Works Department that approximately 1,500,000 cubic yards of such material was collected and disposed of in 1937, so it will be seen that the handling and disposition of such an enormous amount of waste presents a problem which is apt to be overlooked by the average citizen.

Of course, "residential district" is a relative term and it is realized that any dump in Boston might come within this description. In passing on the issuance of licenses for dumps, we endeavor to have them located as far away from dwellings as possible. Many applications for otherwise suitable locations are refused on this account.

Until some other method is adopted, the most we can do is to see that the dumps are maintained in as sanitary a manner as possible, and to that end they are kept under close observation by the inspectors of the Housing and Sanitation Division of this department.

It should not be lost sight of that these dumps serve several other purposes, especially in the filling in of areas containing stagnant water creating offensive odors and providing breeding places for mosquitoes and other insects, and making usable and taxable land.

Suffolk Downs in East Boston, Simmons College and Emmanuel College in Roxbury, and many other private and public buildings are built on land that was filled in as public dumps. All these locations received the same criticism as the present dumps.

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to replace the manhole covers on South street, from Robert to Centre streets, Ward 20, with up-to-date flat covers."

The manhole covers in South street, between the locations designated in the order, have been removed and new type covers have been installed.

I trust that this will remedy the nuisance created by the old-style oval covers.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Re City Council order of April 3, 1939, relative to taking immediate steps to abolish the present nuisance in the form of collected water which now exists at Soden's Field, Roslindale.

Dear Sir,—This is a large undeveloped area, privately owned, through which flows the so-called Grew Avenue Brook which outlets through a temporary 24-inch pipe into a 2-foot 6-inch circular concrete conduit near the corner of Poplar and Canterbury streets. The end of the 24-inch pipe is protected by an iron grate.

The nuisance complained of in the form of collected water was caused by boys plugging the iron grate, during the winter, with rubbish and boulders so that the field would flood and freeze for skating purposes.

The obstructions at the outlet have been removed, draining the field to the ordinary limits of the brook.

The maintenance crew of the Sewer Division have been instructed to keep this outlet free.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Superintendent, Boston City Hospital.

1. During the week of February 14, there were on the pay roll of the Main Hospital a total of 715 graduate and undergraduate nurses, made up as follows:
280 graduate nurses, paid weekly.
374 undergraduate nurses, paid monthly.
- 29 preliminary student nurses, without pay, on probation.
32 affiliating student nurses, without pay.

This count was taken from a report submitted under date of March 8, 1939, covering the week of February 14, 1939, same report having been submitted by the Director of Nursing Service and Nurse Education.

2. After making certain deductions as outlined by Miss Logan, Director of Nursing Service, there were 599 nurses on regular duty plus 76 preliminary students.
3. In February 21, 1939, 1 supervising nurse, 12 staff nurses, 1 head nurse, and any balance of illness was in the student body.
4. Student nurses are on probation during the first six months. At the present time the students are put on the wards for 11 hours per week after they have received instruction in nursing for 6 weeks, and this service for 11 hours per week is under teaching supervision. This outline applies to the class admitted in September of 1938, but did not apply to the class admitted in September, 1937.
5. (a) During the probationary period of six months, student nurses are on active duty only 11 hours a week under teaching supervision, and the balance of their working hours is spent in classrooms and study.

- (b) On February 14 the number of preliminary students was 76.
6. The daily average number of beds occupied in the Boston City Hospital for 1938, including the South Department and the two Relief Stations, was 1,430.06, of which 1,272 were in the Hospital proper, 150 at the South Department, 731 at Haymarket Square Relief Station while operating, and .38 at East Boston Relief Station while operating.
- This does not include the T. B. division which has its own quota of nurses.
7. The normal bed capacity of the Hospital proper is 1,592; the normal bed capacity of the South Department is 300.
8. On February 28, 1939, there were 1,554 beds occupied, of which 1,367 were at the Hospital proper and 187 at the South Department.
9. The peak period of illness in Boston extends through the months of March and April.
10. Graduate nurses are on duty from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. After deducting routine time off, they actually work 9 hours on the wards.
11. Student nurses put in 59 hours per week on day duty, not including time spent in class work, for meals or rest periods.
12. Student nurses on night duty now put in 77 hours a week, not including time spent in class work or for rest periods. The midnight meal in the Cafeteria is included in this 77 hours, and since they spend 15 to 20 minutes at this meal, perhaps 75 hours is a more correct statement.
- This assignment of 75 hours does not exceed 30 days at any one time.
13. The new Dowling Building is open except for one floor of operating rooms, a small X-ray department and a new dental department.
14. The Boston City Hospital Trustees in submitting their budget estimates for the year 1939 requested an additional quota of 31 graduate nurses.
15. At the present time there are 76 probationary student nurses who give 11 hours a week of service.
16. Yes.
17. Yes.
18. Graduate nurses work 109 hours a fortnight with one whole day and one half day off in one week, and one half day off in the other week.
- Affiliating nurses follow the same schedule as the Boston City Hospital student nurses who have no day off.
19. There are 52 graduate nurses in the Hospital proper, not including the South Department, with the rating of head nurses. These nurses are responsible for the care and treatment given by the floor duty nurses under their supervision on the particular ward for which they are responsible.
20. There are six graduate nurses who have been appointed as House Mothers and Registrars by the Director of Nursing Service and assigned to nurses' homes, one of whom supervises the housekeeping of the nurses' homes.
21. There is one graduate nurse who assists the woman in charge of the housekeeping department in the distribution of medical and general supplies; one graduate nurse in the housekeeping department supervising the work of cleaners and porters; one graduate nurse in the new Dowling Building supervising the work of cleaners and porters for that unit; and one graduate nurse taking full charge of ward women. The housekeeping department as a unit comes under the supervision of a graduate nurse who has a special budget listing as a Hospital Employee and is not charged to the Nurses' quota.
22. In the suite of offices assigned to the Director of Nursing Service and Nurse Education, there are:
- 2 Full time secretaries charged to the department.
 - 1 W. P. A. secretary.
 - 2 Graduate nurses employed for the detail on special nurses.
 - 1 Director (Miss Laura N. Logan).
 - 5 Assistants to Miss Logan.
- In addition to the above, and not assigned to this office, there are several supervisors who are graduate nurses but are assigned by the Director to various buildings for either teaching or nursing purposes.
23. At the present time (March 24, 1939) we have approximately 12 nurses (student) rooming at the Franklin Square House. This number varies, and we have had a count as high as 56.
- Page 3. (a) Graduate nurses designated as Floor Duty or Head Nurses are not supposed to spend any time in classroom or instruction work.

Page 3. (b) An average of 4 to 6 hours per week is spent in classroom work by student nurses on day duty.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order granting authority and license to Vincenzo and Maria Scipione, to erect a two-car metal garage over Stony Brook. The said garage will be erected on land owned by the city, but not used for any purpose. The annual fee for use of said land will be nominal. The rights of the city will be protected and preserved.

The inclosed letter from the Commissioner of Public Works fully explains this matter. I respectfully request adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, April 21, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—A request has been sent to this office by Vincenzo and Maria Scipione, owners of the premises at No. 27 Rossmore road, Jamaica Plain, for permission to erect a two-car metal garage on an area of land adjacent to their property owned by the City of Boston and taken in fee for the purpose of constructing and maintaining the Stony Brook conduit.

The petitioners propose using approximately 1,300 feet of this land, which is assessed at 20 cents a square foot. The land is not used at the present time for any purpose by the City of Boston nor is it contemplated in the future to utilize this land for anything other than that for which it was originally taken.

This department has no objections to the erection of this garage, as it will be stipulated in the license that we may order its removal at any time as we see fit, and the erection of the garage will not interfere with any maintenance work that we might have to do in connection with the conduit. We propose charging an annual rental fee of $12, which is equal to the taxable value of the area that is to be used by the petitioners.

I am inclosing copies of an order that has been drafted by the Law Department, to be introduced in the City Council, for the approval of that Body. I respectfully recommend that this order be introduced, authorizing the City of Boston to grant a license to the petitioners for the use of this land, as requested by them.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Whereas, The Commissioners to Improve Stony Brook and Its Tributaries appointed by the Town of West Roxbury June 25, 1870, in pursuance of the provisions of chapter 223 of the Acts of 1868 and of chapter 220 of the Acts of 1870, did take in fee on December 11, 1873, in the name and behalf of the Town of West Roxbury, certain parcels of land, including the watercourse known as Stony Brook, where said Stony Brook is crossed by Rossmore road; and

Whereas, By the provisions of chapter 314 of the Acts of 1873 the Town of West Roxbury was annexed to and became a part of the City of Boston on January 1, 1874, and the premises above referred to thereby became the property of the City of Boston; and

Whereas, the Street Commissioners of the City of Boston by an order approved by the Mayor of Boston July 23, 1908, did take in fee certain parcels of land adjacent to the lands and watercourse previously taken and referred to where said Stony Brook is crossed by Rossmore road; and

Whereas, Vincenzo Scipione and Maria Scipione, husband and wife as tenants by the entirety, are the owners of the premises numbered 27 Rossmore road, and said premises are adjacent to and bounded on the westerly side by said Stony Brook and the said Vincenzo and Maria Scipione are desirous of placing a building over said Stony Brook in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and hereby is, authorized, in consideration of an annual fee of $12, to execute and deliver, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, a license wherein the said Vincenzo and Maria Scipione are authorized to place a building over said Stony Brook, in accordance with the plans approved as to position and construction of said building by said Commissioner of Public Works and wherein the City of Boston reserves the right to go upon said premises at all times for the purpose of maintaining, repairing and reconstructing said Stony Brook and all and any drainage or sewerage facilities incidental thereto.

Daunt, John J. Dillon, Robert E. Donlan, William F. Dwyer, John A. May, Max Rabinovitz, Almerindo Sarno, Frederick J. ORDINANCE REPORT REFERRED TO EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

On motion of Coun. WILSON, the report of the Committee on Ordinances on cigarette and cigar vending machines (recommitted April 3) was recalled from the Committee on Ordinances and referred to the Executive Committee.

STATEMENTS BY COMMISSIONER LYMAN.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following: Whereas, The State Commissioner of Correction, Arthur T. Lyman, has made such grave accusations regarding conditions and against those in charge of the Deer Island House of Correction; be it Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be requested to instruct the Commissioner of Correction, Arthur T. Lyman, to either present his evidence to the District Attorney of Suffolk County or withdraw his statements.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, again through the medium of the newspapers we read very startling statements made by the Commissioner of Correction, regarding conditions at Deer Island. Several weeks ago I spoke on the floor of this Body with reference to similar statements made by the commissioner and asked him to prove the same, but up to date he has not done so. The last statements made by him were even more astonishing than those made by him prior to that, but as yet we have had no answer from the Commissioner of Correction either stating that he had proof that these charges are true or that he would withdraw the statements. These are very grave and serious charges against the conditions at Deer Island and insult those people who are in control of Deer Island. The Commissioner of Correction also made other statements regarding the action of a certain judge, and I am informed that the commissioner has since found out that these statements were untrue. Now, I say that the statements made by the commissioner regarding Deer Island are untrue. Particularly I wish to call to the attention of the Council a statement made by the commissioner in which he said that $200,000 a year was wasted on food by the Penal Department of the city at Deer Island. I am a very poor mathematician, but I do know that $86,000 was appropriated for food at Deer Island last year. How in the world can you waste $200,000 when you have only got $86,000 to spend? That is just a sample of the exaggeration of this man's statements. He has made other statements regarding "dope" peddling and the sale of liquor there, which are very serious and grave charges. They are so serious that he either ought to present the evidence to the District Attorney and let him bring before the Grand Jury, for investigation, these charges or admit that he has not the evidence, because if those things are happening there they should be investigated and the persons responsible for the situation should be dealt with by the law. If the statements are untrue, then he ought to withdraw them and give the institution the clean name which it had before.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPRECIATION OF SERVICES OF JOSEPH P. MANNING.

Coun. ROSENBERG, FISH, KERRIGAN and KELLY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, expresses to Joseph P. Manning, who has resigned as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, its deep appreciation and official gratitude for the twenty-eight years of devoted, unselfish and untiring service he has rendered to the City of Boston and all its citizens through his membership on the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital; and gives official recognition to the high character of that unpaid and generous service, which has contributed, in no small measure, in the making of the Boston City Hospital the greatest institution of its kind in the world.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUILDINGS ADJACENT TO CONDEMNED BUILDINGS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings, the Public Works Commissioner, and any other department head having dealings with the demolition of property in the City of Boston, be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange with the authorities to make some provision for emergency repairs to adjoining buildings when demolishing condemned buildings under the W. P. A. plan of construction, in order that the homes of private owners shall not remain exposed to the elements, thereby endangering the welfare of the residents of such properties.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, it has been called to my attention that numerous pieces of property throughout the City of Boston are being demolished by the Public Buildings Department under the W. P. A. regulations and projects that have been accepted by the Public Buildings Department. In the demolition of these properties, which are undoubtedly condemned properties, many of them vacant homes, the adjoining homes that remain standing have been left open to the elements. The walls between some of these properties are very thin, having been built perhaps some forty or fifty years ago, on a joint party wall basis, and when a part of a building is ripped down the part remaining may be a dwelling house of some poor family which is living in it and keeping it as a homestead, and they find the side of their building exposed to the elements. I have taken the matter up with the Public Buildings Department, I have taken the matter up with the Law Department, and they have informed me that there is nothing at the present time that the City of Boston can do except to proceed under their W. P. A. demolition projects in ripping down the buildings with nothing done to protect the owners of adjoining property. There is one piece of property that was called to my attention in a section of Boston where the wall was practically ripped open, and the owner of the residence had to fill it up with various household materials in order to keep the wind and rain and storm out. I am not saying that the City of Boston ought to put a new fence or wall up alongside the property being ripped down, but certainly some emergency repairs should be made to protect the owners of property who are having property demolished adjoining and adjacent to their homes. I do not think it is the intention of the City of Boston, I do not think it is the intention of the Federal Government, to ruin adjoining pieces of property. The Public Buildings Department has stated that they cannot make any repairs, that they are not responsible for any damage and loss which occurs, and I hope as the result of this order his Honor the Mayor may be able to get together with the Public Buildings Department and other various department heads who are concerned, to see if some measure of relief cannot be given to the owners of property when adjacent property is being demolished.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, FRANKLIN PARK ENTRANCE.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct a concrete sidewalk on the right-hand side of the entrance to Franklin Park from Columbia road, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

"WHITE WAY" LIGHTING, GROVE HALL.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the Grove Hall section of Roxbury with a view of installing a "white way" lighting system in that section.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WHITE FUND UNIT, DORCHESTER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the White Fund, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to advise the five Dorchester City Councilors with reference to the next meeting of the trustees; and that said trustees be urged to consider the construction of a White Fund Unit in the Dorchester district as a matter of necessity before the adoption of any plans to further beautify the city.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I realize, of course, that in April, answering an order of last December, the trustees of the White Fund advised the Council, through the Mayor, that they were opposed to further construction of Health Units due to the fact that they originally contemplated seven Health Units. That is all very well for those sections of the city which were lucky enough to receive these units, except for the fact that that part of the city which comprises five out of twenty-two wards was entirely neglected. We are fortunate in the fact that there is sufficient accrued income now in the account of the White Fund to construct substantially more than one of these buildings, and I think the least that could be offered to the councilors from the Dorchester district and the people of that section is an opportunity to appear before the trustees of the White Fund to urgently request a White Fund unit in the Dorchester section of Boston. They have never yet been granted that, despite repeated requests. Of course, we should not be governed too much by what little birds say, but there were little birds which chirped to the effect that the White Fund Trustees were contemplating the construction of one of these beautiful prados—if that is the word—in some other section of intown Boston. With all due respect to the qualifications and desires of the White Fund Trustees for art and things artistic, the people in the five Dorchester wards are very much more interested in a White Fund Health Unit in Dorchester than they are in any more prados in intown Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STREET CHANGES, BUNKER HILL MONUMENT SECTION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to advise the City Council in detail concerning any proposed street widening or other street changes in the Bunker Hill Monument section of Charlestown.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEARING ON HOSPITAL SITUATION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Special Committee on Hospitals be requested and directed to hold a meeting during the current week to fix a date, also during the current week, for consideration of items of information requested of the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, through his Honor the Mayor, as more fully set forth in order for such information concerning the Boston City Hospital passed by the City Council unanimously on February 20, 1939; and further Ordered, That the said Special Committee on Hospitals be requested to serve the trustees of the Boston City Hospital with a summons to appear before said committee during the current week at a time and on a date set.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, may I ask the City Clerk through you if the communication under date of May 1, which came through today, is the only one which has come through from the City Hospital Trustees in answer to the various questions? There has not been anyone except that.

President MURRAY—That is all the clerk is aware of.

Coun. WILSON—I wanted to be sure on that, Mr. President, before going on further. I notice that there came through today an answer by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital in response to the twenty-three questions submitted to them on February 27, entirely ignoring the questions of the previous week, which I assume have perhaps gone into the waste basket, but which will be resurrected, Mr. President, if any efforts on my part can do it, before this present discussion is closed. It is not important to the order now at issue, but I could not help noticing the answer of the trustees to the third question which was contained in the City Council order of February 27, where the question was asked whether or not there were a certain number—whatever the number was—of nurses as of February 21 actually ill and laid out so far as active work was concerned at the Boston City Hospital. It seems to me that the answer to that question has some significance as to the attitude of the City Hospital authorities not only to the members of the City Council but to the average nurse who is trying to learn nursing at the hospital. The answer to the question as to how many nurses were actually ill on February 21—taking a typical date—was this: "February 21, 1939, one supervising nurse, twelve staff nurses, one head nurse." Then the afterthought, "and any balance of illness was in the student body"—which I assume doesn't count, if I gather the attitude of the answer correctly. The purpose of this order, however, Mr. President, is this: On the 20th of February certain questions were submitted in writing to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, and I will not go over any of the discussion that followed that but we will leave it just that the twenty-two councilors of the City of Boston, in accordance with the terms of the charter, submitted in writing to the trustees of the hospital certain questions for their response, and we waited and have waited from the 20th of February until now on the first day of May. I am inclined to believe that the trustees of the City Hospital, despite special statutes, are not entirely beyond reasonable questioning by the members of the City Council of the City of Boston. I am inclined to believe that the Council can follow substantially the same procedure with reference to the trustees of the City Hospital that we undoubtedly can follow under the provisions of chapter 478 of the Acts of 1899 with reference to any department head, and I propose, unless I can obtain the answers to those questions propounded to the City Hospital Trustees, if it can be done, and if that is what they want, to test for good and all the powers of the City Council so far as the Boston City Hospital is concerned. I have purposely waited because, while there are those who say that at times I am unduly combative, believe it or not, I attempt to give the head of any department of the city every opportunity to treat the Council with respect, every opportunity to do the fair thing, and I do not go out—believe it or not—looking for trouble if it can be avoided. I am now asking information through this order, endeavoring so far as possible to follow the provisions of the statute, and I am asking that the special committee on hospitals of the City Council hold a meeting the early part of this week—because under the statute I understand that a matter of this kind should be referred to a special committee of the Council—and then asking that the Hospital Committee of the City Council set a date, also during the current week, for a meeting, to which the trustees of the Boston City Hospital shall be asked. I also ask that they be served with a summons demanding them to attend and answer these questions provided that prior to that time the trustees do not see fit to give us the answers to the questions sent them on the 20th of February. If the trustees of the Boston City Hospital fail to pay any attention to the summons—which I personally will be very glad to draw for the committee—it is my intention to ask the chairman of the Committee on Hospitals to ask either a Supreme Judicial Court judge or a Superior Court judge in this Commonwealth and county for a court order to bring in the trustees, and I am inclined to think we will get that order. But I go one step further, and I say that, so far as the authorities in charge of the Boston City Hospital are concerned, if the answers to the 20th of February questions do not come through, and if the special committee on hospitals fails to get the attendance of the Hospital Trustees, and if a court order fails to get their attendance or the answer to these questions, then so far as I am concerned I am going to ask the members of this Body to hold up the budget of the Boston City Hospital for such reasonable time as may be necessary for the Board of Directors of the City of Boston to be treated with reasonable respect. That is one department that I am going to ask the Committee on Appropriations and the Council to hold up. I have no particular axe to grind in this matter, but to some extent I am going to repeat what I said last week. Some of the members of this City Council are a little younger in years of service than some of the rest of us. Some of the older members may not be back another year. But after those years of service the thing that has impressed me as much as anything as the reason the City Council is in its present condition today is because we are too careless in not insisting on the few rights that the Council has. Somebody has got to teach me before I leave this Council in order for me to change my mind, that anybody, even the Boston City Council, which even nominally passes upon the budget of the Boston City Hospital, involving not thousands but millions of dollars, can't insist on obtaining certain relevant information regarding that department. If I am wrong in my beliefs on that, and if this City Council is supposed to pass on the budget involving millions of dollars without having the privilege of asking a single question of the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, then I announce, Mr. President, although it is pretty late in my service, that they can jail me before they can make me vote on the budget of the City Hospital or any other department. I can't believe, Mr. President, that there is any law or statute which says that any member of the City Council, including myself, must vote for the appropriation of one dime without the privilege of speaking up in meeting. And so I hope that the trustees of the Boston City Hospital in their wisdom, will answer these questions of February 20 before the Hospital Committee gets out these summonses. But I am going to urge the passage of this order, and, if these answers do not come through within the next couple of days, that the Committee on Hospitals of the Council hold a meeting, that at that meeting they fix a date this week when the trustees of the City Hospital shall be summoned to attend a meeting, hoping that they will attend at that time, or at least send the answers, and if they do not attend or do not send the answers, then I state again that I personally, either through the committee or otherwise, so far as the law permits, will obtain from a judge of the Supreme Judicial Court or a judge of the Superior Court here in Suffolk County an order to show cause why the trustees should not appear and answer the questions.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the City Council with the following items of information originally requested by letter in hand from Councilor Wilson to the Budget Commissioner on April 5, 1939:

I would respectfully request schedules which will give me the following information at your earliest convenience or, in any event, before final City Council action on the 1939 budget.

If one or two of the items might take longer to prepare, I would meanwhile appreciate advices as to such items as should be easily ascertainable.

1. The total actual expenditures by the Public Welfare Department (Central Office) for 1938.

2. The total amount of money raised by loans to supplement actual appropriations for Public Welfare purposes during 1938.

3. The total number of persons on the Public Welfare Department rolls receiving city aid as of:

a. April 1, 1938.

b. for the first three months of 1939.

5. The total actual expenditures by the Soldiers' Relief Department in 1938.

6. The total number of persons on the relief rolls of the Soldiers' Relief Department as of:

a. April 1, 1938.

b. April 1, 1939.

7. The actual expenditures by the city:

b. The total amount allowed for the same purpose in the 1939 budget.

8. The total number of persons on Boston W. P. A. projects as of:

a. April 1, 1938.

b. April 1, 1939.

9. The total number of city department employees as of:

10. The total number of county department employees as of:

11. The number of actual vacancies created by death, retirement, or otherwise during 1938 and not yet filled:

b. In county departments.

c. The annual salary total for such positions which became vacant during 1938 and were not refilled.

12. The total actual expenditures in 1938 for Personal Service in city departments.

13. The total amount allowed in the 1939 budget for Personal Service in city departments.

14. The total actual expenditures in 1938 for Personal Service in county departments.

15. The total amount allowed for Personal Service in the 1939 budget in county departments.

16. A schedule showing by departments for the city and for the county:

a. The number of employees in each class who received $2,100 or more in 1938 and who are allowed a step-rate increase in the present budget.

b. The amount received by the same during the year 1938.

c. The proposed amount to be received by the same under allowances made by the Mayor in the 1939 budget.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I might say with reference to those queries to the Budget Commissioner, that I think they were handed to him April 5. I may be wrong, but it seems to me that most of the inquiries would be helpful to the members of the Council, and I am very sure they would be helpful to me in my groping efforts to endeavor to help the taxpayers of the City of Boston during the year 1939. I realize that the Budget Commissioner has been very busy and that he has been attending the hearings of the Committee on Appropriations not only in person but accompanied by two or three of the employees of his office. So far as my vote is concerned, Mr. President, unless or until the information urgently requested, courteously requested in the letter of April 5—almost a month ago—is furnished, I again give notice that I shall not vote favorably on any item in any budget of any city department of the City of Boston. The time has apparently come, Mr. President, when the members of the City Council are supposed to be in sort of a much window dressing or twenty-two figureheads to whom the "buck" is supposed to be passed when anybody wants to evade responsibility. But its advice or counsel or mentality, if any, is not expected to be used at any time except, as I say, in such circumstances that somebody may want to "pass the buck" to them. Then they are the members of the Council and they are very important. I am amazed at the tardiness and the delays with which the average questions directed to the various city departments are answered. I will frankly admit that I am sick and tired of it. I refuse to come in here week after week as a figurehead. I refuse to come in here, elected by the people of one section of the city,—which no department head can say that he is,—and ask questions in a courteous, businesslike manner, and then wait week after week for a response. It is not a question of my being swelled up in this position, Mr. President, but I still carry the old idea,—it may be a delusion,—that I have been sent here for a purpose other than just to drag down $2,000 a year reward. So long as I remain a member of the City Council, and so long as, at least in theory, I am here representing 34,000 people police listed in that ward, I am going to get information from the department heads of the City of Boston, or, so far as I am concerned, from now on the business of the city, if it needs my vote, is going to be tied up indefinitely.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, while I agree with the councilor from the Dorchester district regarding the department heads answering questions, before I vote on it I would like to know what the questions are, if the councilor from Ward 17 has no objections.

Coun. WILSON—I certainly have no objections, and I should be glad to have a few minutes of the time of the assistant clerk taken by having the order read in full. Also, I would be very glad indeed to have every member of the Council listen to the questions, realizing that he is to vote on the budget for 1939, and to pick out any one of those questions that is not relevant, in the opinion of any man who intends to vote one way or the other on the budget. If there is any member of the Council who feels that any one of these questions is not relevant, before he votes on the budget for 1939, I would be glad to have the question stricken out.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I don't know whether the councilor from Ward 17 misunderstood me. All I wanted to know was what I am voting on.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, there is no misunderstanding.

The clerk read the complete order as printed above.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAIRS ON MOTOR VEHICLES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council promptly, with reference to repairs to motor vehicles, etc.:

1. The number of passenger cars in the entire department in each of the years from 1934 to date, inclusive.

2. The number of trucks in each of said years.

3. The number of automobile mechanics in the department each year.

4. The amount expended for motor vehicle repairs during each of said years.

5. The date on which the most recent large purchase of trucks was made.

6. The names of the concerns who handled motor vehicle repairs for the department:

a. during 1938.

b. during 1939.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMISSIONS ON OPTIONS FOR HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council whether a two per cent commission is being paid to authorized persons obtaining signed options on parcels of real estate incident to plans for the contemplated new housing projects; and further Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council the names of such persons authorized and the amount of commission paid in each case to date.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, with reference to these housing projects, of course it may generally be assumed that personally my vote is in the bag. I am so much against these housing projects all the time, especially in the City of Boston. I am very sure that the Mayor will be glad to furnish the information requested. Perhaps the report that comes to me is erroneous. My understanding, however, is that we are gradually buying up or arranging for the buying of property in at least five sections of the city, in preparation for the construction of at least five new housing projects. My understanding is that appraisers have been sent around to put appraisal valuations on the various parcels, and presumably the price to be paid has been fixed so far as the Housing Authority is willing to go. Now, if that is so, in view of the fact that the Housing Authority has an office force, in view of the fact that there are employees paid by that department, if the report is correct, I can't understand why any man or any men in Boston should be paid any commission of 2 per cent, or any per cent, for the act of going around to the property owners at these various locations, showing the option at the price that has been fixed, and getting him or her to sign on the dotted line. I don't know why anybody, acting for the Boston Housing Authority or for anybody else, should go around, for example, to two pieces of property worth $10,000 and get the owners to sign on the dotted line, when there is a fixed price, and come back and get a check for $200 for his time. If that is so, Mr. President, I think it is high time it was stopped.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I want to go on record as heartily agreeing with the councilor in his order. It has come to my attention within the last couple of days that commissions are being paid in my district where a housing project is to be constructed. I do not feel personally that there is any need of sending a real estate salesman out buying up these parcels. The price has been determined, and I feel that if there is to be any money paid it should go to those poor unfortunates who are being forced, in many cases, to give up their homes. If there is going to be any profit I would give it to those who are to be deprived of their homes and who must go out and rehabilitate themselves.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DISPOSITION OF HOUSING AUTHORITY APPROPRIATION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to promptly furnish the City Council with a detailed schedule giving the items and amounts in the disposition of the appropriation of $20,000 voted by the City Council for the Boston Housing Authority on February 28, 1938; also the date and amount of any reimbursement made to date on account of said appropriation, and the dates and amounts of payments made for the 1938 so-called service charge at Old Harbor Village.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that order is introduced perhaps partly on the theory that there is no harm in asking. Very likely if one had the time to delve into the records of the City Auditor one could dig out the information, but it is provided in the charter that the members of the Council, wishing to obtain information, can file an order such as this. Of course I bear in mind that at our meeting of February 28, 1938, there came through a letter from the Mayor dated February 28, 1938, accompanied by a letter from the Boston Housing Authority dated February 24, asking the City Council to appropriate the sum of $20,000 out of the money of the taxpayers, underwriting the operating expenses of the Housing Authority, fortunately on definite, determined conditions, and this was the condition. Although I voted against the $20,000 being taken out of the pockets of the taxpayers, I supported the Housing Authority, but this was the condition, or the basis on which I assume those councilors who did vote for the $20,000 voted for it: "The money so appropriated will be a first charge against revenues from the project and will be returned to the city treasury before the close of the year." That is quoting a letter from the Mayor under date of February 28, 1938. Quoting from the letter from the Housing Authority under date of February 24 to the Mayor:

"This letter is to request that an appropriation of $20,000 be made available for the Boston Housing Authority for its use during the remainder of the current year. The money will be used for the following purposes:

1. The expenses in connection with taking over Old Harbor Village, particularly the expenses in connection with the investigation of tenant eligibility.

2. Further study on projects already initiated.

3. For development of new projects.

4. General administration of the Housing Authority.

Sums of money spent in connection with the Old Harbor Village project will be a first charge against revenues of the project and any sum spent in that direction will be returned to the city treasury on or before December 31, 1938. It is also permissible for the Housing Authority to charge against the operation of any project a pro rata share of its own administrative expenses. Such sums of money as are collected from the projects in this manner will be reimbursed to the city treasury as they are received."

So I have asked in this order, Mr. President, first, that we be advised as to dates and amounts when payments were made in accordance with the pledge of the Housing Authority and the promise of the Mayor before December 31, 1938, for the return of the $20,000 of the taxpayers' money which was used by the Boston Housing Authority; second, what the $20,000 went for; and third, with reference to the so-called service charge, over which there was so much discussion, and the dates and amounts when the service charge, if it was paid, was paid to the City of Boston for the calendar year 1938.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF ELECTRICITY, NEW COURT HOUSE.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the custodian of the new Suffolk County Court House be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to curtail on the expense of electric lighting by a more economical use of electricity, namely, the court house employees should be instructed to promptly put out lights in parts of the building not in use, or when not needed; and be it further Ordered, That the custodian of the new Suffolk County Court House be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to use only every other light in the corridors of the new court house.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, it may be of interest to the Council to know that the sheriff is allowed $24,850 for lighting expenses for the new Suffolk County Courthouse, whereas this year he was allowed $8,500 for lighting expense of the old courthouse. Now, it seems to me, Mr. President, that there is a lot of unnecessary use of electricity in the new Suffolk County Courthouse. I personally have paid one visit, and I found in the corridors of that new courthouse, which few people use, an excessive use of lights. I daresay that the taxpayers of Boston, the people in Hyde Park, West Roxbury, the Back Bay, and every other section of Boston, who pay the bills for the lighting of that courthouse, would be up in arms if they realized the excessive use of electricity that is going on there. Now, Mr. President, I realize that the sheriff is not to blame. I know that the fault lies with the County Courthouse Commissioners, who spent an excessive amount of money for elaborate fixtures and for powerful lamps. The fault lies on their shoulders. Nevertheless, I feel that the County Commissioners of Suffolk County should help the sheriff by complying with these specific recommendations. The Committee on Appropriations interviewed the sheriff and called to his attention that there was more light being used in the courthouse than necessary, and he threw up his hands in dismay and said, "Gentlemen, what can I do; when the judges up there say, 'Let there be more light,' I am powerless to say, 'No,' I have to switch on the lights." So that I feel, Mr. President, that this order is merely helping the present sheriff. It is not criticizing him, and I hope that the Council will pass this order, because I know that the taxpayers of Boston would be up in arms if they realized what was going on.

Coun. AGNEW—I move that that order be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

LAYING OUT OF LAROSE PLACE.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, lay out and construct LaRose place, Ward 21, as a public way, such work and construction to be done as a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DUMPING OF GARBAGE AND REFUSE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent the dumping of garbage and refuse on vacant lots, whether owned by the City of Boston or by private individuals, where no license has been issued and where such dumping is a nuisance to residents of the neighborhood and a menace to the health of the community.

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent the dumping of garbage and refuse on vacant lots, whether owned by the City of Boston or by private individuals, where such dumping is a nuisance to residents of the neighborhood and a menace to the health of the community.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, the taxpayers of Boston maintain the Sanitary Department for the purpose of properly collecting and disposing of garbage and rubbish. In my district, as in every other district, no doubt, there are many vacant lots of land. Some of them are owned by the City of Boston and some by private individuals. There is a natural disposition on the part of some people to use this property of others for the purpose of dumping garbage and rubbish on it. This self-assumed right of these people to so use other people's property is unfair and shows a gross disregard of civic pride, in addition to creating a menace to health. I am sure that by far the greater number of our residents are proud of our city, and, in fact, loathe this miserable practice indulged in by some of throwing garbage and rubbish and abandoned automobile bodies anywhere as long as they can get rid of it. This practice should be and must be stopped, and I hope that the Health Commissioner will, in cooperation with the Police Commissioner, take all steps necessary to have these vacant lots cleaned up and to prevent the dumping of refuse materials in the future.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) that $70,000 be appropriated from income of George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under direction of Park Commissioners—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

2. Report on petition (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.: Howard Wilson, Y. M. C. A., April 29—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

3. Report on order (referred today) that Special Committee on Hospitals hold a meeting for hearing re City Hospital—recommending reference to Committee on Hospitals.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

4. Report on ordinance (taken today from Committee on Ordinances and referred to Executive Committee today) concerning sale of cigarettes, cigars, etc., by vending machines—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the ordinance.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, some time ago the ordinance for the purpose of licensing tobacco vending machines was before the Council and a $50 license fee was suggested. It was later amended, and at the present time a license fee of $25 has been recommended. It is our duty and our responsibility, I believe, for the purpose of attempting to secure as much revenue for the city as is possible, with the least possible expenditure on the part of the city, to collect such revenue. There is in this proposed ordinance a suggestion that supervision be made by the Police Department, the Health Department, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures: There is also a suggestion with respect to minors who might use these machines. I believe that as far as the Police Department is concerned, the Health Department, and the others mentioned, we already have on our books laws, rules and regulations which deal with the sale of merchandise to minors, which covers that matter and which guide the departments concerned. Our particular purpose is the purpose of bringing in revenue to the city. We have, as I understand it, no taxing authority. We can pass acts here for the purpose of bringing in revenue under license fees. A $25 license fee, as suggested by the Committee on Ordinances and reported to us here, in my opinion is not a license but a tax on the sale of cigarettes in vending machines. Something has been said with reference to merchandise and to its purchase status, whether it is purchased legally or illegally. I believe, if the question arose, the authorities would deal with any illegal purchase of commodities sold in these vending machines. I feel that a $25 assessment as proposed here is actually driving out a so-called legitimate business that has been established and carried on. I do not believe that these machines are depriving of business any of the persons who are in the business of selling tobacco in the City of Boston. We find tobacco being sold not exclusively in tobacco stores, and if we are going so far to protect the business, we might bar the sale in drug-stores or other places. As to a license fee, I believe that if we are going to put any such fee on, it should be a license fee that will stand a test in court. Let us not pass a bill here that will come back to us either vetoed by the Mayor on advice of the Corporation Counsel or which the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth might turn back as one that is a tax and not a license fee. Let us impose a reasonable license fee about which there will be no question. Why should we put into effect something that will have to be tested out in court, and which may be ruled out as a tax and not a license fee? I believe that if we invoke a license fee that is reasonable it will work out all right. As I have stated on previous occasions, if there are 1,500 machines in Boston, let us put a $5 license fee on each of those machines, and if they pay the license fee, and if they stay here, we know that they are able to pay that license fee, but if we put a larger fee on them we will not really be putting on a license fee but actually putting on a tax to drive out an industry that no one has come in here and asked us to drive out. In previous years, as I understand it, these machines, and the merchandise sold in them, were not taxed by the authorities, but this year they are contemplating taxing them on their machines and taxing them on their merchandise, and all we can do is to impose a reasonable license fee. I therefore believe that, acting sanely, acting for the purpose of bringing in revenue, acting in a manner that is going to benefit the city and at the same time keep these machines going, it is in no way depriving persons of their business and their livelihood, it is not driving out anyone from employment, because if the machines are done away with or prohibited they are going to sell them, as I have said before, over the counter competing with the small tobacco dealers. They are selling now in the machines at a larger price than is charged in other establishments. I therefore move at this time that the ordinance as reported here be amended by striking out the word "twenty-five," and by substituting in place thereof the word "five."

The question came on the adoption of the amendment.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, with reference to the proposed ordinance and the earlier action in the Council, not to mention the earlier action of the Mayor with reference to the city ordinance to prohibit the use of these machines in the City of Boston, it of course was nothing new. There is nothing particularly novel or startling about either ordinance. As has been stated for the record before, there was a license fee of $50 for each machine in the city of Chicago for a number of years, following which time the machines were prohibited by city ordinance in the city of Chicago. There were similar license fees in other cities in the country. There were prohibitions of vending machines in other cities in the country. I personally favored an ordinance which would prohibit the use of cigarette vending machines in the City of Boston. It is not so novel but that I understand there is a bill in the Legislature now pending which would forbid the use of these machines not only in Boston but anywhere in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Now, as one who, now being of age, smokes cigarettes, and smokes too many of them, I would call attention to the fact that there is a penal statute at the present time forbidding the sale of cigarettes or tobacco products to any minor in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. To be sure, it is familiar more by its breach rather than by its observance, but, at least, where sales are made in the package tobacco stores, where the proprietor of the store runs a tobacco store, the child going in to buy is obviously in there for a reason, and there is some reasonable degree of supervision, which does not exist in an automatic vending machine selling cigarettes in an hotel, in an apartment house entry, or some garage or a gas station—and there are hundreds of them in the gas stations in the City of Boston. In the imposition of a license fee we have a right to consider the question of the retail dealer, and in order that it shall not be said to be a tax the license fee must be a fair fee, which would recompense the City of Boston and its various departments for the degree of supervision and work involved. Now, the city of Chicago in the great state of Illinois, is reputed to be a fairly large, thriving, important place, and I venture to state that if making the original Chicago license fee $50 a year on these vending machines was unreasonable, it would have been found out in Chicago very long ago. In the early hearings before the Committee on Ordinances, a representative of the Law Department of the City of Boston stated in my hearing to the committee, as the opinion of the Law Department, that a license fee of $50 a machine was not so large as to be a tax which he felt would be set aside by any court on that ground. Now, I don't know why there should be this backing away from a reasonable license fee. A man who runs a liquor establishment in Boston pays some $1,200 a year for his liquor license, and that seems, or did seem, a lot of money. But there is so much competition for those licenses that they had to put a stop order on the number that could be obtained in the city. I am not convinced for one moment—and it is none of our business—that the basis of this automatic vending machine business is charity. I do not believe that for one minute. But I do have regard for the gentlemen who are in the business, whether they are running it on a charity basis or running it on some other basis. One gentleman even went so far as to admit to the Council that he was just eking out a living with a few hundred machines in Boston, as a result of which he was realizing $40 a week for his time and 6 per cent on his investment. What they are making or are not making is immaterial. Whether a given location is making money selling liquor and creating drunkards in Boston is entirely beside the question of what the license fee for running a tavern in this city should be. Now, the Law Department has stated to us that in their opinion $50 is not such an excessive license fee that it would be considered by any court to be a tax. I do not advocate the passing of this or any other ordinance to charge a license fee for the use of these cigarette vending machines as a subterfuge. I visualize some real supervision of these machines by the City of Boston. I anticipate that the Board of Health and the Sealer of Weights and Measures, and most especially the Police Department, will do a certain amount and a considerable amount of work with reference to the machines. I personally believe that it is incumbent on the Police Department of the City of Boston to know where these machines are, to know who owns them, to know who operates them, to know that there is a sign on them that specifically forbids the purchase of cigarettes by minors—a sign that you can read without a magnifying glass. I believe that this sale of cigarettes—and I repeat that I smoke too many of them—tobacco being a drug, and a drug forbidden to minors in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, is an item which should logically and properly be licensed in any self-respecting city or town in the Commonwealth. I will frankly admit that I hope to see the Massachusetts Legislature prohibit the use of these machines in the state. But whether or not they take that action, they should be licensed, and I urge, Mr. President and members of the Council, that, in view of the fact that the license fee in the city of Chicago was $50 a machine, a license fee of half that amount can't be considered such a license fee as to be construed by any court as a tax. I can't follow the logic of the argument which says that we should creep up on the subject, license them at $5 a machine, and if nobody goes to court that we next year raise the ante to $10, and if nobody takes it to court raise the ante to $15. I should like to see the question settled as to whether or not the City of Boston can place a fair license fee of $25 a machine on the automatic selling of a known drug, and I for that reason shall vote to license each machine at an amount which I consider half the fee that should be upheld by the courts.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I just want to say one word. Our Corporation Counsel recently rendered an unofficial opinion that a $25 license fee might be construed as a tax, and cited, after research I believe, the ruling of the Supreme Court of Michigan that a $5 fee was a reasonable license fee for machines in that state. Also, I understand that in Massachusetts not only is there, as my colleague stated, a bill to prohibit these machines in the Commonwealth, but also a bill setting a flat license fee on vending machines, including tobacco, music, and candy machines throughout the Commonwealth. As I have stated before, I believe that a $5 license fee is really a license fee, and that if we are going to put anything higher than that on these machines we are going to impose a tax which will be vetoed and declared unconstitutional in this Commonwealth. I therefore press my amendment at this time.

The question came on the adoption of Coun. Rosenberg's amendment. The amendment was declared rejected. Coun. ROSENBERG doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called and the amendment was rejected, yeas 6, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Hutchinson, Irwin, Langan, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan—6.

Nays—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Chase, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Kelly, Kerrigan, Murray, Taylor, Wilson—11.

The question came on the passage of the ordinance as reported.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I will say that I recall a few months back where the Retail Tobacco Association wrote to various members of the Council urging them to place some sort of a reasonable fee on these cigarette vending machines. I personally received forty-odd letters from various persons in my district. They called to my attention the fact that they were at the present time paying license fees for the privilege of operating their businesses, and that these cigarette vending machines neither pay a personal property tax nor a license fee, and they also said that the machines offered unfair competition. They urged the members of the Council to impose a license fee, I believe to the tune of $50 a year, on these machines. Since then, Mr. President, these very same merchants, the little variety store man and other small retailers in the district, have been subjected to various increases in their license fees. For example, their license fee on milk has gone up, their license fee on ice cream has gone up, their license fee on tonics and beverages has gone up. The fee for the privilege of hanging a sign over their doors has gone up. They pay these increased license fees without any protest, and pay them as good citizens. Yet these very same people are faced with the competition of these cigarette vending machines which pay neither a license fee nor a personal property tax. I happen to know from personal knowledge that some of these vending machines sell anywhere from 300 to 400 packages a week, and it does seem to me that a 48-cent license fee per week is entirely reasonable considering the circumstances. If I thought that such a license fee was unreasonable, Mr. President, I for one positively would vote against it; but considering everything I feel that a $25 annual license fee is reasonable under the circumstances, and I hope that the Council will adopt the order.

The question came on the passage of the ordinance. The ordinance as reported was adopted.

JUVENILE DELINQUENTS.

Coun. LANGAN, for Coun. Norton, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of calling together police, school and other officials to determine if it is not possible to work out a plan whereby a number of the juveniles who are now brought to police stations may have their cases handled in some other manner similar to that employed in other American cities. Each year Boston has over 100 boys and around 30 girls under the age of ten who are arrested and approximately 2,000 boys and 200 girls between the ages of ten and under seventeen. It may be possible to arrange matters so that some of these cases can be handled at school centers instead of at police stations.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

"RELIEF" DECLINING.

Two-thirds of the nation's relief expenditures in recent years has been centered in ten industrial states, the "Year Book's" section on Financing Relief and Recovery points out. Half the Federal Work Relief Funds and two-thirds of all available funds have been expended in the fifty largest cities, including about 25 per cent of the population. Industrial urban population is more vulnerable to unemployment. In addition, living costs are higher, requiring greater relief allotments, and the cost of giving employment to a city group is higher than in rural areas.

MAYOR TOBIN WELCOMES NEWLY NATURALIZED GROUP INTO GREAT BAND OF AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP—ADDRESSES THROUG AT FANEUIL HALL CEREMONIES OF GREETING TO THOSE TAKING PART IN "NEW CITIZENS DAY" CELEBRATION—CALLS ATTENTION TO QUALITIES THAT MAKE DIFFERENCES IN EXISTENCE BETWEEN DEMOCRACIES AND DICTATOR STATES—URGES LOYALTY AND ZEAL FOR COUNTRY OF ADOPTION TO BE GOAL OF ALL.

The following is the address of Mayor Tobin on the evening of Tuesday, May 9, in Faneuil Hall, in the observance of "New Citizens Day," when those recently admitted to citizenship were greeted:

New Citizens of the United States.

Naturally I am moved by a keen feeling of deference as I rise to bid you welcome tonight, in the presence of so many eminent officials of our nation and state, so many distinguished leaders of our community's life, both spiritual and civil. The heart of any man must throb with respect for the significance of this occasion.

But also there is granted to me tonight a great resource of faith, a basis for confidence inexhaustible. Here, in Faneuil Hall, you and I are where both of us belong. We are exactly where we ought to be. In all the length and breadth of the United States there is no other place so fit to mark your reception into the fellowship of America's freemen. Nor is there any platform where the Mayor of Boston can stand, by virtue of his office, with such firm and, I may even say, commanding right.

Faneuil Hall was indeed the Cradle of Liberty. Equally true it is that the people of Boston were the parents of the hallowed child here brought to birth. Here, in town meeting assembled, the people nurtured the babe in time of weakness. Here they preserved it to vigorous manhood. When governors trembled, the people's courage stood firm.

Even before this hall was built, a prophetic circumstance suggested its future. Nearly two hundred years ago, when the prosperous merchant, Peter Faneuil, made his generous offer to construct a market on this spot, the warrant, summoning the townspeople to meet and consider whether they would accept this public-spirited gift, bore the date—July 4, 1740.

Two years later, when the building and its beautiful hall were complete, the people's hearts warmed in gratitude. They called it, "the greatest benefaction ever yet known to our western shore," and they voted to name the place of assembly, Faneuil Hall.

Service to Country.

On being notified of this purpose, Peter Faneuil also was gratified. He made but one remark, "I hope what I have done will be for the service of the whole country."

That simple statement rings out tonight a high and worthy keynote. Within the year, our nation, on its part, has made to you and to 11,000 other men and women in Greater Boston the priceless gift of citizenship in the United States. And you, my new fellow citizens, have also made a precious gift—the gift of your sacred oath of allegiance, the pledge of your lives, the promise of your hearts' loyalty.

Surely, you are ready to say tonight, with Peter Faneuil, "I hope what I have done will be for the service of the whole country."

There is much that you can contribute. The noble President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, himself has said, and I quote, "We who live in a free America know that our democracy is not perfect. But we know, also, that in self-government, as in many other things, progress comes from experience. People do not become good citizens by mandate. They become good citizens by the exercise of their citizenship and by the discussions, the reading, the give-and-take which help them make up their minds how to exercise that citizenship."

It is the purpose of this meeting to congratulate you upon having attained full legal status as American citizens, with all the rights and privileges thus attained. It is also our purpose to suggest to you, if we can, how you can become good citizens, as President Roosevelt says, by the exercise of your good citizenship in the give-and-take of our common life as Americans, employing your new-found rights with due regard also for your newly accepted obligations and duties as citizens.

With this object in view, Commissioner Ward, Governor Saltonstall and the other distinguished speakers preceding me have already made addresses full of value. An address of still greater significance is yet to come. If ever there was a high official of the United States qualified to advise new-come citizens concerning their vital problems, it is the Secretary of Labor, the Honorable Frances Perkins. The Secretary will speak to you from rich and intimate knowledge of the conditions confronting foreign-born workers, the aspirations of their hearts, and of their best paths to fulfillment.

Defend Free Institutions.

I cannot hope to be thus greatly helpful, but I do feel certain that your acceptance of the rights and duties of American citizenship will be the more earnest and effective, the more you know of the history of America.

Only those men can rightly appreciate democracy's values, and be prepared to stand firm in the defense of free institutions, who know the suffering and sacrifice, the blood and the struggle it cost, to bring those institutions to birth.

On this score, what a story the voices once heard in Faneuil Hall have to tell, if we will but summon their echoes.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

NEW CITIZENS DAY.

Peter Faneuil died only a few months after the first hall was built and here his funeral oration was read. The minister prayed that "this Hall may ever be sacred to the interests of Truth, of Justice, of Loyalty . . . May Liberty always spread its joyful wings over this place!"

Never has prayer come to better fulfillment for the welfare of a great nation, and indeed of all the world! Here in this place the townspeople of Boston assembled again and again to protest the measures of oppression put upon them by Great Britain, and to consider, in fair and open debate, the measures they should take to resist them.

What power of courage was needed by the patriots of that time, it is difficult for us to realize unless we draw upon imagination. Suppose that we were assembled here tonight to consider what action we would take after five men of our own number had been killed by the gunfire of British soldiers. Suppose that nearby, on Boston Common, two regiments of trained redcoats were encamped at this moment, and in the harbor lay seven British vessels of war. Would we dare speak out boldly as against such forces of superior might, a hundredfold better organized than any military group then within our command? The townspeople of Boston dared give their protest, strong and clear, at such a time. And yet they knew that if the two regiments were aroused against them after the Boston Massacre, vastly greater force would soon be sent against them. The whole power of a wealthy European kingdom would move brigades and yet more brigades across the seas, determined to crush all resistance. But still the patriots dared speak for their rights again and again, and here in this hall the movement was launched which led at last to the Declaration of Independence.

You know the seven years of war that followed. American lives were lost by the thousands, starvation stalked through the land, the material odds were all against General Washington, but the strength of spirit, the force of mind was with the men that fought for freedom and in the end they conquered.

BATTLE OPPRESSION.

Here in Faneuil Hall, fifty years later, again the voices of courage and justice were heard, calling for the abolition of slavery. One of the men who fell in the Boston Massacre was a Negro, and here his body lay in state. Here in Faneuil Hall the men of the colored race had been given their first opportunity to hold religious services of their own. Here the battle was fought against oppression of every sort, whether of the poor and distressed, or of men and women denied their civil rights.

Not alone for freedom at home were held the meetings in Faneuil Hall. Here the people of Boston acclaimed the victories of liberty in France, in Greece, and raised funds to help the patriots of Hungary and Poland when they sought independence.

Read the story of America's past and you will know your duty to America's future. "The tree of liberty," a wild-eyed agitator once said, "only grows when watered by the blood of tyrants!"

"That cry," said John Boyle O'Reilly, one of the noblest of Boston's Irish-born citizens, "was the cry of a shallow soul, drunk with license, uttering a word without weight.

"The blood of tyrants is infertile, lethal, poisonous to the tree of liberty or any other tree of life. The carcasses of all the tyrants on earth might be emptied on the roots of the tree of liberty and it would die of drought.

"The tree of liberty will never enfoliate and bear fruit unless it be watered from the well of justice, independence, and fair play in the hearts of the people.

"Not by the blood of tyrants, but by the blood of good men is the tree of liberty kept alive and flourishing.

"When the people are truly worthy of freedom, when they have substantiated their own right and dignity as possessors of the earth, they will not kill tyrants with steel or lead, but with aversion, indignation, and contempt. Tyrants are part of the people themselves—the diseased part, and this disease is not local, to be cured with a knife, but constitutional, and only to be reached by the medicine of equity, morality, and self-respect."

It was a President of the United States who gave the simplest and truest definition of Americanism, that I have ever heard. "Americanism," he said, "consists in utterly believing in the principles of America."

What these principles are, you know well. They are briefly summarized in the classic statement of "The American's Creed," approved by an act of Congress. Let me quote that creed to you:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes."

ENEMIES OF DEMOCRACY.

Such, I submit, is the well-established faith which every American is richly justified in sharing, and yet, in recent years, a loud outcry has been raised against democratic institutions not only by arrogant nations abroad, but also by many critics and malcontents here at home.

These enemies of democracy take delight in emphasizing and exaggerating the economic difficulties of our time. They ring false alarms from morning till night, striving to make our citizens believe that the American system of private enterprise has come to the end of its usefulness. They would substitute a system of bureaucratic dictatorship over every resource of our nation, over every man's business, small or large, over the private lives and even the inmost thoughts of all our citizens. Only by such methods, say the Communists and the Nazis, can unemployment be banished from the land and jobs be provided for all.

"Of what use is free speech," these partisan critics plead, "unless a man has a job? A man and his family cannot live by words alone. They cannot eat newspapers, no matter how free is the press. Look at the totalitarian nations! They once had widespread unemployment, but now they have abolished it. They have provided jobs for all."

On this theme the Communists and the National-Socialists are never tired of boasting. There is something to be said for their case. But the boasting totalitarians don't tell the half of it!

What the alien critics do not publicly admit is that the abolition of unemployment in Russia, Germany and even in Italy has been accomplished in large part by virtual enslavement of millions of workers. In many cases, men and women have been provided jobs under conditions which we in America would consider little better than those of convict-labor.

Wages are far under the American standard in actual buying power. The ability of the average worker under a dictatorial government to buy food and clothing for himself and his children is less in many cases than the United States now provides for those of its citizens who are receiving public relief.

Yet the subjects of the dictators can find no path of redress. The right of organized labor to take a stand for better wages or working conditions has been trampled in the dust. If the individual worker complains or protests, he is likely to find his so-called "work-card" taken from him. And with this system, as invented in Soviet Russia and copied in Germany, there goes the virtual power of life or death. A man who has been deprived of his "work-card" is condemned to death by starvation almost as surely as though he had been sentenced to die by hanging or in the electric chair.

Again, the partisans of dictatorship and the enemies of democracy seldom admit, in all their boasting, that the abolition of unemployment by the totalitarian governments has been accomplished largely by turning their whole system of industry and finance away from the normal pursuits of peace, and bending the whole national economy to the preparation for war, the upbuilding of huge armaments.

A standard slogan in Nazi Germany today is the cry that "Guns are Better than Butter!" There is an endless use of money for machine guns, for death-dealing submarines, for huge bombing-planes, but the funds to feed, clothe, and educate the German people are being steadily ground down lower and lower.

Despite the monster celebrations organized by the dictators, and the recreational programs provided for the pleasure and excitement of the people, the extreme statement made by Thomas Jefferson more than a century ago now seems almost literally true. "The European nations," said President Jefferson, "are nations of eternal war. All their energies are expended in the destruction of the labor, property and lives of their people."

And it is for such a work of destruction that the dictators declare themselves justified in practicing the grossest wrongs and cruelties of expropriation against millions of their own helpless subjects—first in Russia by the so-called "liquidation" of mass-extermination of the thrifty, hard-working farmers known as Kulaks, and then in Germany by the horrible persecution of the Jews.

ALIEN PROPAGANDISTS.

Yet it is at the risk of repetition of just such brutal destruction here in America, and at the risk, nay, even the encouragement of class-struggle, class-expropriation and class-murder, that the alien propagandists in our midst would have the people of the United States abandon the protection of our system of representative government, our rights of free speech, and our guarantees of protection to all citizens in their persons and property—nay, even the sacred right of every American to worship God according to the principles and tenets of his faith!

Such an abandonment of the hard-won rights and civil immunities of our people, such a reversion to barbarism, such a plunge into paganism and the tyranny of the Dark Ages, the citizens of the United States will never tolerate, I am certain. They will fight courageously against any least promulgation of such benighted doctrines here. They will sternly oppose and put down every propagandist who would assail the institutions of democracy.

America has well-nigh impregnable power of self-defence. When the dictators sneer at America, the emotion behind the sneers is largely one of fear, based on the knowledge that the resources of American democracy, properly mobilized and employed, can defeat any designs of aggression or aggrandizement which the dictators may ever launch, or dream of launching, against the Western Hemisphere.

Our country's productive wealth and latent resources justify unbounded confidence in America's future. But this is not to say they justify an easy-going faith, a blind willingness to expect all good things, without being ready to strive and to fight for them.

On the contrary, the very greatness of America's material resources only increases the need that our country should be in an utterly strong position to defend its people and its riches against any or all foreign aggression.

You, as new citizens of the United States, can be depended on, I know, to help protect this land from foreign attack. May you be equally on watch against enemies of democracy here at home. We face trying times. We have great burdens to bear in the care of men without work. We have a long way still to go before we can establish America once more in the way of abundant prosperity. Moving on to that end, we cannot afford the losses that come from needless confusion of mind, aroused by radical voices proclaiming doctrines of Communism and Fascism which have no proper place in America, and which never would have arisen even in Europe had democracy, and free institutions, been established there so long and so firmly as they have been here.

Look well to the preservation of American principles and they will richly reward you in practice. You have given the nation your sacred promise of loyalty, even as the patriots of old gave their hearts to the defense of liberty, free speech, free press, and representative government. America preserved in these rights, by the mercy and goodness of God, will never desert her duties to you, never give way in the long battle to achieve and maintain social justice.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christiansen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

BARRING OF HEAVY TRUCKS, FLETCHER STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of March 27, 1939, concerning the barring of heavy trucks from the use of Fletcher street, between South and Centre streets, Ward 20.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 3, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated March 27, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to bar heavy trucks from the use of Fletcher street, between South and Centre streets, Ward 20, and to place suitable signs to this effect at both ends of said street."

During recent years this commission has had several previous requests from residents of Fletcher street to have heavy trucks prohibited from the area.

Each time that requests have been received we have made checks of the use of the street by heavy commercial vehicles and as a result of this Council order we had a check made on April 27, 1939, between the hours of 6.30 a. m. and 10 a. m., the hours of the day during which it is alleged many heavy trucks use the street, and this check showed that a total of fourteen commercial vehicles use the street and only two of them were of over two and a half tons capacity, which is the only type which would be excluded if our rule prohibiting the use of a street by heavy trucks were invoked.

We do not believe, therefore, that conditions in this street warrant the adoption of a prohibitory rule, particularly since it is our universal experience that where such a rule is established in a residential street in a suburban area the invariable result is that trucks which were wont to use the street before the adoption of the rule transfer their activities to adjoining streets, thus creating an endless chain of protests from the neighboring streets.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from Carl Dreyfus, trustee of the Boston City Hospital relative to your order of April 3, 1939, concerning the arranging for the admittance of expectant mothers, whose husbands are on the W. P. A. or welfare and others in poor financial circumstances to the Maternity Ward without the payment of a fee.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, May 5, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held on April 21, 1939, the order of the City Council passed on April 3, 1939, was presented for consideration.

The policy already in effect in this hospital makes proper provision for the wives of welfare recipients and other individuals too poor financially to meet any fee. By this provision is meant either admission to this hospital, admission to the Lying-In or some other maternity hospital, or arrangement for proper medical and nursing care in the homes.

As regards the wives of W. P. A. recipients, each case is handled on its merits and according to the salaries received by the husbands of same. This procedure allows us to have beds available for emergency and abnormal cases.

During the year 1938 there were approximately 3,320 deliveries.

Yours very truly,
CARL DREYFUS,
Trustee, Boston City Hospital.

BUDGET FOR SEVEN TWELFTHS OF YEAR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Nearly all of the departments have now reached or very shortly will reach the limit of expenditures allowed to be made prior to the adoption of the annual budget.

In order that the Committee on Appropriations and the City Council may have ample opportunity to give the budget full consideration, I have requested the committee to report a partial budget covering approximately seven twelfths of the allowances for the full year and earnestly request its adoption.

It is understood and agreed that no part of the appropriations so made is to be expended for step-rate increases, and that all other controverted matters are to be adjusted in the final budget.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR PAY ROLLS SEVEN TWELFTHS OF YEAR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 6, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—According to the records of the auditor's office, as of current date, nineteen city and county departments have reached, or practically reached, the limit fixed under chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889 for expenditures prior to the adoption of the annual budget. As matters now stand it will be impossible to meet pay roll requirements for these departments, or to have sufficient funds available for the various departments to function efficiently, unless appropriations are made by the City Council.

I respectfully request your Honorable Body to pass such portion of the current budget as is included in the accompanying appropriation orders which cover approximately seven twelfths of the allowances for the full year. This partial budget covers about one fourth of the budget beyond what has already been expended by the respective departments. It is understood and agreed that no part of the appropriations so made is to be expended for step-rate increases and that all other controverted matters are to be adjusted in the final budget.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses, and the payment to the state, under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements or for loans issued for water purposes be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for the City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for the Traffic Tunnel be met by the income from tolls and any excess over income from taxes, in accordance with the provisions of section III, chapter 297, of the Acts of 1929, as amended by chapter 74 of the Acts of 1935; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1933, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1939, and by taxes on the polls and estates in the City of Boston and by the proceeds of any duly authorized loans.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax for the year 1939, or for any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth shall be payable in two equal installments, on July first and on October first of 1939; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the first day of November, 1939, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, as amended, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the first day of October, 1939, until paid, and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Treasurer be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to suspend further payments of Boston Elevated deficits until so ordered by the Supreme Court.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, WARD 10.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the installation of either granolithic or tar sidewalks, wherever necessary, on the following streets in Ward 10: Heath street, Terrace street, Day street, Mansur street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SOLARIUM FOR WOMEN, L STREET BATH HOUSE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the construction of a solarium for the use of women at the L Street Bath House, either as a W. P. A. project or with funds to be obtained from some other available source.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMPARATIVE ANNUAL FIRE LOSSES.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with a comparative list of fire losses in the City of Boston during the past ten years, together with any changes in the fire insurance rates during that period.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I was much interested in the meeting of the taxpayers held here in Faneuil Hall on Tuesday of last week, at the statement made by one of the speakers recommending the abolishment of our Fire Prevention Bureau, he saying that it was an expensive luxury for the taxpayers of the City of Boston without accomplishing any good. I understand, as a matter of fact, that because of the very fine work of the Fire Prevention Bureau fire losses to the extent of $7,000,000 have been saved the city, and I therefore request this information which will show the exact loss, together with any changes in the fire insurance rates during the past ten years. I think that this information will be very valuable to the City Council.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING PARSONS STREET, WARD 22.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving,

Parsons street, Ward 22, under the W. P. A. type of construction, and to survey the possibility of constructing sidewalks on said street where desired by the abutters.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACTION AGAINST NON-RESIDENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. SULLIVAN and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council as to the legality of any action taken to force non-resident employees of the City of Boston to establish residence in the city.

Whereas, The sum of approximately five million dollars is annually expended by the City of Boston for salaries of non-resident teachers employed in the Boston schools; and

Whereas, The City of Boston this year is making a determined effort to attract business to the city by means of conventions and their followers; and

Whereas, Failure to provide positions in the schools of their home city is disrupting the morale of the graduates of the Boston Teachers College; and

Whereas, It is obvious that no decline in the teaching qualifications of the individuals involved would result were they forced to move into the City of Boston; and

Whereas, The members of the Boston School Committee have consistently declined to take action upon this matter, on the basis that such action might be illegal; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to inform the members of the Boston City Council as to whether action might legally be taken to enforce a ruling that such teachers move into Boston, prior to October 1, 1939.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, some six weeks ago Councilor Hutchinson and I introduced an order in this Body requesting that members of the Boston School Committee take summary action relative to non-resident persons now teaching in the Boston schools. At that time the chairman of that committee stated that he would not take the action in view of the fact that he thought that the committee had an opinion from the Corporation Counsel in which the Corporation Counsel had expressed the view that such action was illegal. Both Councilor Hutchinson and I at that time visited the Corporation Counsel who was referred to, and he stated definitely that he had never been approached on the matter, that his opinion had not been sought on the matter, but in any event, if his opinion had been sought on the matter he would have ruled that the action was legal. Accordingly, two weeks ago we introduced another order asking the members of the Boston School Committee to request the Corporation Counsel to give an opinion as to whether such action was legal, and the same member of the committee, at the meeting on that evening, stated that if it were legal he would not vote on the matter, that he would not vote to cause these teachers who live outside of Boston to move into the city. In view of the opinion by Justice Roman, in the case of Lynch v. Judges of the District Court of Somerville, in which he stated clearly and concisely that such action was legal, and in view of the fact that we gave to the members of the Boston School Committee the information which they are presumed to have anyway, and in view of the fact that the same Corporation Counsel said that the action was legal, we presumed then that the committee, as a matter of justice to the taxpayers and the residents of Boston, would request the Corporation Counsel, for an opinion, and that in the event it were legal they would take immediate action. So far such a matter has not come before the official notice of the School Committee. I fail to subscribe to any suggestion such as has been made during the past few years, that possibly some members of the Boston School Committee are forgetful of their obligation to the residents of the City of Boston in this matter. I fully believe that the members of the Boston School Committee are inspired only by a desire to do justice to the teachers living outside of Boston, but I fully believe also that these gentlemen, elected by the residents of Boston, should think in some way of justice to the residents of this city. Accordingly, we are requesting the Boston Corporation Counsel to inform the members of this body whether such action would be legal. Today we introduced two orders requesting that he give us information relative to the general body of city employees, and specifically the Boston school teachers. I realize full well that the Corporation Counsel may say that, in view of the fact that we have no executive capacity to legislate for the Boston school teachers, he may not want to give us an opinion relative to the school teachers, but I feel that certainly he may have something to say relative to the general personnel of the city, and accordingly we have introduced the second order and requested that he give us information on that. I notice the statement of the chairman of the Boston School Committee that the purpose which Councilors Hutchinson and Sullivan were striving to obtain would ultimately be realized by the action taken in 1933 by the Boston School Committee, stating that no teachers were now allowed to move outside of Boston who were on the pay roll, and that no teachers living outside can be hired for future service. Naturally that is a matter of vital importance at the present hour. Five million dollars in salaries is being given away to citizens of such places as Sterling Junction, Ballardvale, as far west as Worcester, as far north as Lowell, and as far south as Duxbury, and I understand that two teachers on the Boston pay roll actually live outside of the state. They ought to move here as a matter of justice, but they do not want to disrupt their residence outside of Boston. One family teaching in the Boston schools draws close to $20,000 annually for five members who are teaching in the Boston schools. The School Committee is thinking of justice, but that is not justice. That is an absolute disgrace. They owe it to the Boston residents to bring these people in here, and I hope they will take summary action. One Boston newspaper said that there is much to be said on both sides. Councilor Hutchinson and I are fully appreciative of that. They state that at the time the teachers contracted for their services with the City of Boston there was no provision that they should move into the city, and that accordingly such a move now might be illegal. Well, in the very opinion that I quoted of the Corporation Counsel, Henry Foley, he stated that not only was there no definite contract for any tenure but that their services might be dispensed with at the termination of any school year, so that I believe that any such argument is unsubstantiated. Furthermore, they said that the pupils should be considered, that this is not merely a matter of living in the city, merely a matter of convenience, but we should consider the best possible education for the children. I fully realize that a teacher from Sterling Junction or Ballardvale or any place else, will become no more of a teacher by living out there and no less of a teacher by moving into the city. I believe that some action should be taken relative to this matter. Councilor Hutchinson and I have received several hundred letters of approval of our stand upon it. We received one, however, from one lady who stated that we must be forgetful of our own school days, that we must realize that, because of the tiresome whirl of school teaching these teachers are entitled to live outside the city. I wrote back to that lady and told her that, in view of the fact that I myself have been going to school for the past twenty-three years, I still remember the tiresomeness of the schoolroom, but I certainly feel, in view of the fact that Boston is paying $5,000,000 a year to teachers living outside the city, it is time for a change. I really believe that it is time for a change in this matter; I believe that justice dictates it, and that we should get it immediately.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, it seems to me that this whole discussion is entirely irrelevant so far as this board is concerned. The Council has certain duties, certain rights, and certain jurisdiction. This matter is entirely outside its duties, entirely outside its rights and entirely outside its jurisdiction.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, in answer to that I might state that we introduced two orders here this afternoon and I was speaking on both of them. I might say, however, in view of the fact that a budget is before this Council now wherein provision has been made for spending several thousand dollars to attract business into the city, through drawing conventions here and otherwise, what might have we to appropriate any money under such conditions when we are spending $5,000,000 a year outside of Boston?

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

YOUNG'S HOTEL PROPERTY.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of instructing the City Law Department to proceed immediately with foreclosure proceedings with a view to taking over the Young's Hotel property for back taxes.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the City of Boston has some sort of an agreement with the property owner of Young's Hotel whereby the city will credit the owner with the cost of renting the hotel on the owner's tax bill. To my way of thinking the City of Boston should have foreclosed a long time ago on this hotel property. I cannot conceive why the City of Boston should give preference to the owner of Young's Hotel when people who own small homes and other property owners in Boston are subject to the law that after two years of nonpayment of taxes the city steps in and takes over the property. Now, Mr. President, we can use that hotel to our advantage. There are a great many municipal departments for which the City of Boston is paying rent, and those departments could be moved over into the Young's Hotel building, thereby saving the city considerable money.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF YOUNG'S HOTEL BY DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of requesting the Boston Municipal Court to move immediately into the quarters available in the new Suffolk County Court House; and be it further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of requesting the Law Department, Licensing Board, Medical Examiner Brickley, Finance Commission, and the W. P. A. headquarters to move as soon as possible into Young's Hotel in order that the city may save $36,690 now spent annually for rent for these departments.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the Law Department of the City of Boston is costing the city approximately $15,000 in rent, the W. P. A. headquarters on Oliver street are costing the city around $10,000 a year in rent, Medical Examiner Brickley on Boylston street is costing the city $1,800 in rent, the Finance Commission is spending approximately $5,000 a year in rent. I cannot see why the City of Boston should be paying these rentals when we have such a good building as Young's Hotel available, provided the Municipal Court moves over into the new court house, and to my way of thinking there is no good reason why the Municipal Court of the City of Boston should not be able to move over into the new court house within one month. We have a tremendously large building in the new court house, which affords ample space for all the court house facilities, and there is plenty of room there in the old court house to house the Municipal Court of the City of Boston. I trust the Council will pass the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS AND FOUNDATIONS, HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Building Department be immediately instructed to inspect sidewalks and building foundations in the vicinity of the Huntington Avenue Subway construction.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I have had a good many complaints in the past few days relative to conditions existing on Huntington avenue; the sidewalks are buckling up, cracks are appearing in the walls of the large buildings in the neighborhood because of the subway construction. I deem it a necessity for the safety of the people in that district that the Building Department send an inspector or inspectors down to check on the entire situation, because it is quite threatening.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Later in the session Coun. FITZGERALD said: Mr. President, I move reconsideration of the order introduced by Councilor Chase, in which he called upon the Building Department to inspect the so-called Huntington Avenue Subway and the property adjoining thereon, on the ground that danger exists. I do not think that any member of the Council intended, when the matter was introduced here, to cause a lot of needless alarm and have the people get the impression that the Huntington Avenue Subway is unsafe. I would like to have Colonel Sullivan appear here before the Council to say that this is not a proper procedure. I would like to have the Council agree to a reconsideration in order that he may come down and set at rest any such rumors that there is anything unsafe about the Huntington Avenue Subway.

The question came on reconsideration.

Coun. CHASE—I might say, Mr. President, that quite a number of the residents of Huntington avenue have already complained about the building foundations cracking open and the sidewalks bulging out, and large cracks appearing, like earthquake formations, which have caused some alarm. I am perfectly agreeable to having Colonel Sullivan come down and give us the information that he has in hand. Nevertheless, I believe that the Building Commissioner should order an immediate investigation of those building foundations, because if there is any danger existing there the matter should be remedied right away.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, they have inspectors on the job there, and we all know that it is being done by W. P. A. labor. If a false impression goes out it will cause a lot of unrest and the people will become uneasy. I think the proper department to handle this matter is the one that is now doing the job, and that they should be given this right. We all know how difficult it is to hear down here, with the echoes in the chamber, and I think the members did not understand what was being proposed by the gentleman. I know I did not.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, far be it from me to hesitate on any matter like this. I believe that my constituents are entitled to the protection of the Building Department, and if the foundations of buildings on Huntington avenue are undermined because of the construction of the subway I feel that it is a matter that the Building Department should go into in order to relieve the people. I do not know personally that they have inspected those foundations, but I do know that within the past few days large cracks have appeared in certain sections of the sidewalk very close to certain buildings there, and I don't think the Building Commissioner knows about it. I feel that the public are entitled to know and that the proper official should be sent down to make an inspection.

The order came on reconsideration. Reconsideration prevailed and the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. LANGAN in the chair.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, I move that we now go into executive session and call down Colonel Sullivan.

Chairman LANGAN—Under the rules the order has been referred to the Executive Committee.

The question came on motion of Coun. Chase that the Council go into executive session. The motion was lost.

PAYMENT TO ALICE M. STEVENS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the payment of an annuity of one thousand dollars to Alice M. Stevens, widow of Thomas J. Stevens, a member of the Fire Department who was killed in the performance of his duty; provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SUMNER TUNNEL TOLLS.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council go on record as opposed to any increase in the present tolls at the Sumner Tunnel.

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President, last week I attended a meeting called by the Taxpayers' Association and listened to a large number of suggestions made by various speakers relative to new revenue coming into the city, and also regarding possible decreases in the cost of certain departments of the city. As far as I could determine from the speakers, they presented a 90 per cent legislative program which should have been brought to the State House and not to the attention of the City Council. However, one of the suggestions offered by one of the speakers was that the traffic tolls in the Sumner Tunnel be increased, and the most specific reason given for the increase was that this was the tourist season, that the race track would be open and it was the right time to increase the tolls. I would like to point out to the Council the futility of increasing the traffic tolls, from our experience. When the Sumner Tunnel was opened the traffic toll was established at 25 cents. There were very few motorists who used the tunnel, to such a degree that very little revenue came in. Afterwards the toll was reduced to 15 cents, and it has been proven that more revenue is derived from the tunnel due to the lowering of the tolls. Now, everyone is agreed that the Sumner Tunnel is every bit as much a highway as other roads and bridges throughout the state, and ever since it was established there have been bills before the Legislature for the state to take over the tunnel, and also that the tolls be waived altogether. The taxpayers, to my mind, were very selfish in suggesting this. Primarily we called the meeting to alleviate the burdens on the homes. However, they were not one bit concerned about increasing the tax on motorists. I hope that this Council will go on record as opposing any increase.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I don't know whether we will reduce our deficit by increasing the tolls or not. It is true, as the gentleman said, we did have a 25-cent toll and reduced it to 15 cents. I think probably it would be inadvisable to put it as high as 25 cents. I think, however, that we should consider the question of tolls, and that we should have the tolls fixed at such a point as will bring in the largest revenue, resulting in the smallest deficit. That is something for the benefit of the City of Boston, because the City of Boston has to raise the money to pay the deficit. About three-quarters of the people who use the tunnel and who get the benefit of it live outside of the City of Boston. I think we do not have sufficient data at the present time to say that 15 cents is the right figure, and I believe, as I have said, that we ought to have the toll set at such a point as will bring in the most revenue and result in the smallest deficit.

The question came on the suspension of the rule and the passage of the order. The order was declared passed. Coun. SHATTUCK doubted the vote and asked for a roll call. The roll was called and the order was passed, yeas 14, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Murray, Rosenberg, Taylor—14.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Shattuck—2.

EXPENDITURES OF COURT HOUSE COMMISSION.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate the expenditures of the Court House Commission in the erection of the new court house building.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, there has been $5,000,000 appropriated and spent in the erection of the new court house building. Of that $5,000,000 the city has provided a good portion. It appears to me that where a building has originally been scheduled to be built two floors more than it has really been built, and still there was supposed to have been left over a surplus of $400,000 for the repair of the old courthouse building, and we find at the completion of this building that we have two floors less and no money left over for the repair of the old courthouse building—there is reason to wonder where that money has gone. Certainly these distinguished gentlemen who have charge of this vast amount of money should be made to account to somebody for it. Why were not the original plans of the architect for two floors more followed, and why was there any extra expenditure? Certainly as members of the Board of Directors of the City of Boston we are entitled to know, and the one place we can go to determine whether or not this money was wasted is the Finance Commission. There may be some question as to whether they have a right to investigate the matter, in view of the fact that not only the City of Boston spent money but also the State of Massachusetts, and the Federal Government also contributed towards the expense of this new building. But since the City of Boston has spent money, we have some right in the matter to oversee and to look into the affairs of this commission, to see whether or not the City of Boston got a square deal. In my opinion, many of the things done in the court house have not been right. The expenses for certain items have been, in my opinion, too great. I was rather surprised at one of the budget meetings when Sheriff Dowd told us that a $5,000,000 new building had no air-conditioning in it. That was indeed a great surprise to me, because today nobody builds a new building without having it air-conditioned. Where has all this money gone to? Has it been spent honestly and fairly? If it has not, the City of Boston is entitled to an accounting, and the only place we can go to get that accounting is to the Finance Commission. I ask that the order pass.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I am heartily in favor of the passage of this order. When we stop to consider that the cost of the electric lighting system in replacement of bulbs alone is $7,000 a year, something obviously is wrong. The fault lies, Mr. President, with the court house commission which caused this fancy electric lighting system to be installed. When we stop to consider the annual cost for electricity in this new court house building it is appalling. The cost will be approximately $25,000 a year. If they really realize how extravagant the County Court House Commission has been in the spending of the $5,000,000 I know that the Council will pass this order.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I am heartily in accord with some of the things that Councilor Taylor has stated relative to the Suffolk County Court House investigation. It is the duty of the Finance Commission to follow up those various things and not for us to introduce orders to have those types of investigation. I say, as Councilor Taylor says, that some of the money has been spent unwisely. For the past two years I have been picking up the newspapers and have been reading of fires in the new Suffolk County Court House. It surprised me the other day to go up there, and on investigation I find that they have fire hose up there that has a date on it, each and every section, 1937, put in there at that time, with no water connected so that they could put out a fire. What the purpose was of putting it in so early I don't know, unless it calls for an earlier replacement. However, I do not believe it is a duty of this body; I believe it is a duty of the Finance Commission without our asking them to do it. I hope that this body rejects this order.

The question came on suspension of the rule and the passage of the order; declared carried. Coun. GALVIN doubted the vote. The Chair ordered a rising vote and 8 voted in favor and 7 against.

President MURRAY—The rule is not suspended and the order is referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I further doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

President MURRAY—The Chair will state that it requires a two-thirds vote to suspend the rule. The order is referred to the Executive Committee.

TIME FOR FILING TAX ABATEMENTS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to petition for emergency legislation to extend the period of time for filing application for abatement of 1939 taxes beyond October 1st, in view of the uncertainty of the date when the state assessment tax rate will be declared, due to the delay caused by the research work now being done by the City Council Committee on Appropriations, in an endeavor to reduce the budget for the year 1939.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Due to the uncertainty of the State Legislature in arriving at a sum for the budgetary appropriation for the state and the question of returning to the cities and towns and setting the state assessment, there may be delay in the tax rate being known until sometime in September. The Legislature has granted the various cities and towns the right to delay the time of declaring the tax rate until sometime in September. If by any stretch of the imagination the state does not set its assessment and returns to the cities and towns, there may be the possibility that the tax bills may not be sent out in time for the owners of property to file their applications for abatement on time. I therefore feel that, in order to safeguard the rights of the taxpayers of Boston, this emergency legislation should be sought. I ask suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO SENATE BILL 374.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following: Ordered, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to Senate Bill 374 providing for the election of certain city and town officials by proportional representation in the City of Boston.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, that order is in connection with a bill pending before the Massachusetts Legislature, now before the Committee on Election Laws, which was heard today, providing for proportional voting for members of the Boston City Council who might go on the ballot at the coming city election. Those who appeared in favor of it had the floor until half past one today. I was up there to be heard in opposition to it. I felt that, being on Monday, the day the City Council meets, we should have an opportunity to be heard, and at my request the hearing was continued until tomorrow morning at 10.30 o'clock in order that I might bring back a resolution placing the City Council on record as being opposed to the election of the Boston City Council by proportional representation.

The question came on the suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I think that bill does not provide for the election of certain officials by proportional representation. I think it merely provides that the citizens of Boston, at an election, may vote to adopt that method if they see fit to do so. That is a very different thing. I think we ought to allow the citizens of Boston to adopt that method if they wish to do so. I am opposed to the order for that reason.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, the councilor from the Back Bay is quite right. If it goes through it means it will be placed on the ballot. It will place a lot of unnecessary work upon the people here in the city. It will be placed on the ballot and there will be an election, and it has not worked very well in other cities where it has been tried. I don't think that Boston should be burdened with it and I think we should go on record as being opposed to it. It will be placed on the ballot at the city election in November if it goes through the Legislature.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I move that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee so that we will have a clear understanding of it.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, there are many things to come up before the Executive Committee today. If the members of this Council are in favor of adopting this system of election it will be placed on the ballot in November; if the City Council is in favor of such a proposition, all well and good. They have done it in other cities and they will do it in Boston. That is all the question is, either Yes or No. Do you want to have proportional voting in Boston? The matter will be heard tomorrow before the committee on election laws.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

President MURRAY at 3.03 p. m. ordered a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 5.27 p. m.

Coun. LANGAN in the chair.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.: Lillafrances Viles, William Barton Rogers Junior High School, May 13; Leopold De-Cordova, Recital Hall, June 8; Marie Livingston, Eliot Hall, May 22; Katherine T. O'Gorman, Colonial Theatre, May 19; Edith M. Leavis, Jordan Hall, June 26,—recommending that leave be granted on usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred May 1) that custodian of new court house be requested to curtail lighting—recommending reference to Committee on Appropriations.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for appropriation of seven-twelfths of pay roll of city departments—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I desire to make my position clear on this matter for the sake of the record. I frankly admit that, not being a member of that committee, I have not attended all of the hearings of the Committee on Appropriations, but I have read enough about the budget to understand that the Mayor has not only substantially cut the department estimates, as is the custom but that the budget is supposedly a million to a million and a quarter under last year's budget. I am under the impression that there should be available sufficient funds to carry us, in view of our earlier vote, up to the first day of June, and I personally question it, whether, as a matter of precedent, the City Council should at this time vote sufficient funds to carry the City of Boston to the first of August. I gather from what was said in the Executive Committee that the budget, if the Budget Commissioner sends us the information that has been requested, might conceivably even be in here for action next Monday, and while I have every desire to cooperate with the city administration I certainly personally wish it to appear in the record that the reason I am voting against this measure is that I consider it a poor precedent, to say the least, for the City Council, none of whom, in my opinion, would place definitely the amount needed in the various departments, in advance of a report by the Committee on Appropriations to vote sufficient money to carry the City of Boston to the first of August. And I say that advisedly, because I am aware of the fact that only two or three years ago the budget was not passed for a much greater amount until the last week in May.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, when this matter came in before us today it was represented to us as in the nature of an emergency. We were informed that unless we did something about the budget today nineteen city departments would be without funds to carry on their normal functions. I for one do not propose to limit the normal functions of the city government by refusing to pass sufficient sums to carry them on. Now, the question comes as to how much would be necessary in order to carry on these normal functions of the government. We do not know to a certainty when we will be through deliberating on the budget. It may be next Wednesday; and again, it may not be next Wednesday. It may be even two weeks from now before the Committee on Appropriations feels certain that they have scrutinized closely and with entire sincerity the items necessary to form a basis for our deliberations. I for one, Mr. President, feel that this is in the nature of an emergency, as presented to us by the Budget Commissioner, and I feel that in voting in favor of the seven-twelfths appropriation I am doing what my proper duty is to carry on the functions of the city government.

Coun. AGNEW—I move the previous question.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, I feel that at this time I should be heard on this matter. After all, Mr. President, I preside over the Committee on Appropriations and know what is in the budget. I know what should be cut out of that budget. And I say, Mr. President, that if we appropriate seven-twelfths of the entire budget you are putting us in an embarrassing situation. You are putting the entire Council in an embarrassing situation. You are putting the city departments in a position where they can go ahead and spend seven-twelfths of the entire city budget. Therefore I move that the portions which I desire to have stricken out of the budget be excepted.

The question came on Coun. Agnew's motion of the previous question. The motion was carried. The question then came on the adoption of the order that seven-twelfths of the budget be appropriated. The roll was called and the order adopted, yeas 20, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Murray, Norton, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan, Taylor—20.

Nays—Chase, Wilson—2.

4. Report on order (referred today) that Council go on record as opposed to Senate Bill 374—recommending passage of order in following new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to Senate Bill 374 providing for vote of the people on question of proportional representation in the City of Boston.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, that order refers to the Senate bill but refers to it incorrectly. That bill is to provide for amending the law which was passed last year giving cities and towns generally the right to pass on whether they wish to have proportional representation, so as to include Boston, which was excepted from the law as originally passed. Every city and town was allowed to pass on the question except Boston. This bill strikes out "except Boston," so that it allows all cities and towns, including Boston, to vote on the question. I am opposed to preventing the citizens of Boston from voting on the question. I want it clear just what we are doing, and I shall vote against the order. But first I want to make it clear what we are doing. I therefore move to amend the order by inserting after the words "providing for" the words "a vote of the people on the question of." With that amendment we state correctly the substance of the order we are opposing or favoring. I shall vote against this order because I favor the bill.

The question came on Coun. Shattuck's amendment.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, Councilor Shattuck has already stated he is opposed to this proposition, but he puts in this amendment which of course does the very thing that we want to avoid. Of course every one of us feels that we want to give the people the opportunity to pass on this question. But, as the councilor from Ward 10 stated in the executive session, we have had it all to do here time and time again. We were faced with the question of voting on the dogs. People came in here who did not want a dog track in Hyde Park, who did not want racing at the Boston Garden. And the people who favored it did not say they wanted it in their back yards. We are up against the same proposition. The people are asking to vote on this matter. They will come in and want it put upon the ballot. If the people knew that by voting for this proposition they were doing away with their ward councilor they would not vote for it. They are not being told that. This is going to be an election at large. That sort of proposition stands, and as I see it it is a direct slap at the present set-up of the Boston City Council. We might as well go the distance, if we are going to change the Council, and elect the members at large, and let the people know what they are voting for. The gentleman from the Back Bay is absolutely honest. He says he is opposed to the proposition in the present bill. In his amendment we would merely go on record as favoring the proposition. Of course when we raise the question, "Don't you want the people to have the right to vote?" the Legislature for some reason, when they passed the bill last year, included every city in the Commonwealth except Boston. During the past few months a very intensive campaign has been going on, over the radio and through meetings. But many of the people have been misled. I think the City Council should adopt my proposition. We are opposed to this bill. Now, we have just one member of the Legislature here, just one man who is in the Council and the Legislature at the same time. He knows that what I say is right. Now, we will have on the ballot this coming fall the question whether the Mayor of the city may be recalled, —whether the recall provision shall be put in or taken out. There will be the question whether the Mayor may succeed himself. You will have a campaign on for that. There will be a campaign for the School Board, a campaign for the members of the City Council, and a campaign for this proposition, and the people will simply become confused. They don't know what it means, the wiping out by proportional representation. That is all it is. With all due respect to the councilor from the Back Bay, he has a very cutely worded amendment there.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, with all the gentlemen has said he must approve my amendment, because he states in a perfectly forthright way that we are either opposing or favoring it.

The question came on the amendment.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, speaking on the amendment, all it does, as I understand it, is, if this bill is passed, to allow the people of Boston to vote as to whether or not they want this system. As to whether that means a council-at-large I don't believe anyone knows. As for the system itself, it works in many other countries. You can't get one of the leaders in Ireland who will not agree that the most democratic way of voting they have ever had over there is the so-called P. R. system.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, we are ahead of every country in the world with what we call our own system over here. Of course the councilor—very cutely also—did not say whether it shall be at large or by proportional representation. I have listened to the arguments here today and I think, with all due respect to both of these gentlemen, we should vote this amendment down and pass the order in its original form.

The question came on Coun. Shattuck's amendment. The amendment was declared rejected. Coun. SHATTUCK doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called and the motion lost, yeas 6, nays 12:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Kelly, Norton, Shattuck, Sullivan, Wilson—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Hutchinson, Irwin, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Rosenberg, Taylor—12.

The question came on the passage of the order. The order was declared passed. Coun. SHATTUCK doubted the vote and asked for a roll call. The roll was called and the order was passed, yeas 14, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Hutchinson, Irwin, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Rosenberg, Sullivan, Taylor—14.

Nays—Coun. Kelly, Norton, Shattuck, Wilson—4.

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, a point of information. Do I understand that the housing order before the Executive Committee has been laid on the table for another week?

Chairman LANGAN—That is correct.

Coun. NORTON—Next week it is to come up again?

Chairman LANGAN—That is not my impression, councilor. I think it is just laid on the table.

Coun. NORTON—What I want to say is that—

Chairman LANGAN—The gentleman is out of order.

INCREASE OF SUMNER TUNNEL TOLLS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of a reasonable increase this year in the Sumner Traffic Tunnel tolls contingent on the failure of the Massachusetts Legislature to provide for some state share in the cost of operating and maintaining this section of regional highway.

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that this order is inconsistent with an order already acted upon by this Body at this session.

Chairman LANGAN—The point of order is well taken.

Coun. WILSON—If that is so, then I now move reconsideration of the earlier vote and I would like to speak on the question of reconsideration.

Chairman LANGAN—The question is on reconsideration.

Coun. WILSON—I would like to speak on reconsideration. The point I wish to make is this: That the statement has been—

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President.

Chairman LANGAN—For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Coun. IRWIN—The gentleman is out of order. The question has not been put on reconsideration.

Chairman LANGAN—The gentleman has a right to show his reasons for requesting reconsideration. Councilor Wilson may proceed.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the point has been raised that the State—and it is a quite proper point—could properly consider the Sumner Tunnel as a part of the state highway system and should appropriate moneys to help out on the annual deficits. The argument is properly made by the City of Boston that a large amount of the traffic through the Sumner Tunnel is of no particular benefit to Boston, is not traffic of Boston residents but of people who live outside of Boston, and that the tunnel is in great part for the benefit of the race tracks and is used by patrons of the race tracks during the summer season. I therefore feel that the City of Boston, to force the Legislature's hand to that extent, should raise the tolls a reasonable amount, and in that case some of the members of the Legislature who are from sections outside of Boston will wake up to the fact that their portion of the state should bear a part of the cost. I therefore in all seriousness urge the reconsideration of the earlier order because I think that it is perhaps the shortest cut to encouraging favorable and fair treatment from members of the Legislature living outside of the Boston district.

At the request of Coun. AGNEW the clerk gave the substance of the order.

The question came on reconsideration. Reconsideration refused.

CONSOLIDATION OF DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the early advisability of submitting for approval by the City Council a plan:

1. For prompt consolidation of the Market Department with the Public Buildings Department.
2. The consolidation of the Penal Institutions Department with the Institutions Department.
3. The possible reorganization of the various fiscal agencies of the city into a single Finance Department, to include the Budget Department, Auditing Department, Treasury Department, Assessing Department, Collecting Department and the Purchasing or Supply Department.
4. The consolidation of the offices of the Medical Examiners for the Northern and Southern Districts.
5. Such reorganization of the Transit Department as will eliminate the need for three commissioners.

Referred to Executive Committee.

NUMBER OF CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council at once:

- a. The total number of employees of the city, including department heads.
- b. The total number of such employees in the School Department and, therefore, outside of the budget submitted by the Mayor to the City Council.
- c. The total number of employees, including department heads, now on the pay rolls of departments included in the budget submitted by the Mayor to the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CITY PAY ROLL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to promptly advise the City Council:

- a. The number of raises in pay, if any, other than step-rate increases granted during 1939.

- b. The aggregate amount of such raises.
- c. The number of pay raises, if any, other than step-rate increases granted during 1938.
- d. The aggregate amount of such raises.
- e. The number of pay raises given during 1937 other than step-rate increases.
- f. The aggregate amount of such raises.
- g. The number of positions, including both officials and employees, which were not included in the 1937 pay roll, but which have been filled or created since January 1, 1938.
- h. The aggregate amount of yearly salary included in the 1939 budget for such positions.

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council at once:

- a. The number of employees now receiving $2,100 per year or more who are included in the Mayor's budget to receive a step-rate increase this year.
- b. The additional expense to the city over last year's salaries if such step-rate increases are allowed.
- c. The number of employees who are included in the so-called step-rate classification list of employees, but who have not been granted step-rate increases this year in the Mayor's budget already submitted to the Council.

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council at once concerning all employees, including department heads, now on the pay rolls of departments included in the budget submitted by the Mayor to the Council, giving the number of such employees and department heads now receiving pay at the rate of:

- a. $1,000 or less per year.
- b. From $1,000 to not over $1,600 per year.
- c. From $1,600 to not over $2,000 per year.
- d. From $2,100 to not over $3,000 per year.
- e. From $3,000 to not over $4,000 per year.
- f. From $4,000 to not over $5,000 per year.
- g. Over $5,000 per year.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I was very much interested in numerous suggestions made at the public meeting in this hall last Tuesday on the matter of the 1939 budget, but especially a request made that we consider again putting into effect the readjustment of wages established by former Mayor Curley between April of 1933 and the close of 1934. I was interested from a number of angles, first, because I believe that, unless the Massachusetts Legislature offers some degree of relief from the record state deficit about to be charged back on the cities and towns, our 1939 tax rate will be nearer $46 than $41. Second, because I believe that the taxpayers of Boston in such an event will virtually go on strike, and that thousands of property owners by the payment of a $2 filing fee will take their cases to the Board of Tax Appeals, angered not only by a record tax rate but also by the fact that their properties continue to be assessed at values far in excess of present market prices. Third, because after nine successive years of depression, and with thousands of men in private employment taking wage cuts or discharge slips, I believe no city or county employee receiving over $2,100 a year should, in good conscience, seek or expect wage increases from a city so near the brink of the precipice. Fourth, because I understand from very good sources that a return to the 1933 and 1934 wage adjustments is far from a remote possibility. There is serious danger of that very step being taken, and don't let anybody tell you to the contrary. Fifth, because I personally am prepared to fight to the last ditch for those thousands of city employees who are receiving less than $2,100 a year, less than $1,600 a year, and even less than $1,000 a year, while scores of city and county employees and department heads are receiving from $3,000 to $12,000 annually, and some of them are actually this year granted so-called "step rate" increases. The salary cuts made effective in 1933 through 1934 amounted to 5 per cent for those receiving $1,000 or less, 10 per cent for those receiving $1,600 or less, and 15 per cent for those receiving over $1,600 annually. A man with a family making $1,600 or less, knows what hard sledding is. He does not need to be told that the world in general, these past years, has been forced to make sacrifices and tighten belts. I want to save pay cuts for those folks if it can be done. They know, and we know, that with pay rolls constituting $2 out of every $3 spent, if trouble comes, wages will be cut all along the line and hundreds of jobs will be lost. Before that happens, I believe the average low-paid and moderately paid city and county employee has the right to expect, and the taxpayers have a right to demand, that the upper crust in the city's official family should voluntarily realize that the time has come to man the pumps, and that in lightening the cargo some of the fanciest and most expensive goods on board may need to be sacrificed before the neccessities. I believe I am correct in my figures when I state that in 1936 we had, for example, seventy-five officials with salaries aggregating $452,000 doing identically the same work as that done by sixty-eight officials in the city of Baltimore with salaries aggregating less than $300,000. I don't want to mention any of these upper crust jobs specifically. But just take a look through the complete last available list published for 1937. A detailed schedule of these positions by the scores, start from $3,000, through $3,300, and $3,500 and $4,000 and $4,500, and on up through $5,000, $5,000 and $7,000, and well beyond that, would make more than one property owner whose home will be included in Mr. Thompson's next tax sale list, and would make more than one $12 a week City Hospital employee foam at the mouth. And so I urge the Mayor to make a careful but prompt survey of the city and county jobs paying in excess of $1,600 a year before taking any drastic steps which will mean hardship and disaster to employees even now living only slightly above welfare standards. And so, Mr. President, I have introduced these orders together in order to obtain from the Budget Commissioner some detailed, scheduled information on this question of salary grades, on the question of whether or not, as I am informed, there have been raises within the last two years despite the hard times, and especially with reference to the fact that even in the higher brackets, with men in private employment losing jobs and being cut in salary, we actually are raising the pay of men receiving $5,000 and $6,000 a year and giving step-rate increases.

The several orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

CONDITIONS RE HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following: Ordered, That a special committee of five members be appointed to confer with the Boston Transit Commissioners relative to the Huntington Avenue Subway.

BOSTON'S LIABILITY FOR METROPOLITAN DEBT, 1937.

Boston's liability for this contingent debt of the State (i. e., in the form of annual assessments for sinking funds and interest) incurred for Metropolitan parks, sewers, water, etc., was $28,559,995 (net) on July 1, 1937, or $1,283,454 more than in 1936 and $6,473,404 more than in 1927. It is divided thus: Water debt, $25,314,274; Park debt, $904,738; Sewer debt, $1,639,878; Charles River Basin debt, $701,105. The percentages paid by Boston in 1937 were 63.4515 on Water Debt; 48.6623 on most of the Park Debt; 36.25 on most of the Sewer debt, and on Charles River Basin debt the same as on Park debt.

Metropolitan assessments paid by Boston in 1937 amounted to $4,752,277.22, of which 64.23 per cent was for debt requirements and 35.77 for maintenance. Water assessment, $3,282,201 (usually paid from water revenue); park, $786,974; sewer, $470,545; Charles River Basin, etc., $212,557.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday, May 11, 1939.

Special meeting of the City Council in Faneuil Hall at 11 a. m., pursuant to the following call:

Boston City Council,

May 9, 1939.

To the Members of the City Council.
Gentlemen,—This is to notify you that a special meeting of the City Council is called for Thursday, May 11, at 11 a. m., at Faneuil Hall, for the purpose of acting on the budget recommendation of the Mayor, Items A-1 and A-2.

Respectfully,

GEORGE A. MURRAY, President.

Placed on file.

The clerk called the roll, and the following members were absent: Coun. Fitzgerald, Harris, Hutchinson, Norton, Sullivan, Wilson.

REPORT OF APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE.

Coun. CHASE, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted a report on the message and order (referred April 17) appropriating the $1,194,300 distributed to the City of Boston in 1938, Highway Fund,—recommending reference to the Executive Committee.

The message and order were referred to the Executive Committee.

On motion of Coun. GALVIN the Council voted to go into executive session, and President MURRAY appointed Coun. Shattuck chairman of the Executive Committee for the time being.

The members retired into executive session at 11.15 a. m., and reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 11.43 a. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. SHATTUCK, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

The Executive Committee, to whom was referred today the message of the Mayor and order appropriating $1,194,300 of Highway Fund money received from the state, having considered the subject, respectfully report in part recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That, as authorized by the provisions of chapter two of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, from the sum of one million, one hundred ninety-four thousand three hundred (1,194,300) dollars, being the unexpended balance of funds distributed to the City of Boston under the provisions of chapter five hundred of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, the sum of five hundred and twenty thousand dollars ($520,000) be, and hereby is, appropriated for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways other than state highways, surface drainage, sidewalks, curbs and bridges, whether such work be ordinary or otherwise, said sum to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works as follows:

Public Works Department, Paving Service.
A. Personal Service.....$520,000 00

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I may say for the record that the figure of $520,000, as appears in the order, is approximately seven-twelfths of the budget item, and places the appropriation on the same basis as the others that we previously passed.

Coun. LANGAN—Of course, Mr. President, the Paving Department finds itself in the position of being without funds to meet the pay roll, due to the fact that the Appropriations Committee is still deliberating on the budget, and because of the fact that the Mayor has set aside a fund of money—a fund which comes from the State Highway Fund—by which he intends to reduce the tax rate for the City of Boston. I feel that it is an absolute necessity that this appropriation be passed today and, consequently, I wish to be recorded in favor of it, Mr. President.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I don't know whether it was the intention of the councilor from the Jamaica Plain section that we pass the full appropriation but I think that, acting consistently with our appropriations for various other departments, we should pass the order as recommended by the Executive Committee on the seven-twelfths basis.

The question came on the passage of the order. The roll was called and the order passed, yeas 16, nays 0.

President MURRAY—The purpose for which the meeting was called having been accomplished, the meeting is now adjourned.

Adjourned at 12 noon, to meet on Monday, May 15, 1939, at 2 p. m.

peace and happiness our comrades now numbered among the legion of the dead, whose memories we cherish in affection and in inspiration.

"O Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the rich legacy of heroism and unselfish devotion to duty which our departed comrades bequeathed to us as we recall the inspiring record of service written by them in upholding and defending the laws of our beloved city even at the risk of their lives. Suppliantly we pray Thee, Most Generous Dispenser of all good, to continue to bless our city with such brave defenders and to inspire our generation and generations yet to come with the same devotion and love of law and order as always characterized these departed brethren.

"This we pray, O God, in the name of Thy Divine Son Jesus Christ, who taught us humbly to say:

'Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name; Thy Kingdom come; Thy Will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen.'

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO NOTED REVOLUTIONARY PATRIOT, MARQUIS DE LAFAYETTE, BY PLACING WREATH AT FOOT OF TABLET ON COMMON WHICH COMMEMORATES HIS DEATH—ACTION TAKEN AS GESTURE OF GRATEFUL MEMORY ON PART OF BOSTON CITIZENS WHO NEVER FORGET PART PLAYED BY HERO WHEN COUNTRY WAS STRUGGLING FOR INDEPENDENCE—ACT ALSO COMMEMORATES ESTABLISHMENT OF INSTITUTIONS OF DEMOCRATIC LIBERTY UNDER THE LAW.

The following, in part, were the remarks of Mayor Tobin when placing a wreath at the memorial tablet to Marquis de Lafayette in observance of date of his death.—The exercises took place on Lafayette Mall, Boston Common, on Saturday, May 20:

We are met to affirm once more Boston's grateful respect for the memory of Lafayette. This we do by force of desire springing in our hearts ever new, as also by custom hallowed of old.

In 1824, when Lafayette visited Boston, the arch reared for his entry in triumph bore this pledge:

The fathers in glory shall sleep
That gathered with thee to the fight;
But the sons shall eternally keep
The tablet of gratitude bright!

For a hundred years the people of Boston kept that pledge in spirit; and then, in 1924, on this border of Boston Common named The Lafayette Mall, the city added a material evidence of the people's love. There was erected this tablet, to preserve in letters of enduring bronze a record of tribute, as you see, to the Marquis Lafayette, illustrious patriot of France, major-general in the War of American Independence, "who nobly served the cause of liberty on two Continents."

It is now one hundred and five years since the day that great man died, but deathless his memory lives. To a soldier of heart brave and generous almost beyond understanding, Boston does indeed "keep the tablet of gratitude bright."

May it be ever so! Still more indestructible than the record graven in bronze may the remembrance continue in America's heart! Upon such preservation—upon alert, informed memory of the sacrifice and the struggle which won America's freedom—the people's welfare depends, the defense of free institutions, nay, the very life of democracy!

Conversely, neglect of patriotic remembrance invites public peril. Let me quote you a warning once sounded in Illinois by a writer who said: "When Lafayette is forgotten, our enthusiasm in the cause of liberty will have departed and the hour of our slavery will have arrived."

First Visit to Boston.

Recall with me, for one moment, Lafayette as he first came to Boston. It was on an August night in 1778. He was a gallant youth not yet twenty-one, but he ranked as a major-general in the American Army. Serving without pay, and indeed at huge personal expense, for the patriots' cause, he was one of the richest peers in all France, accustomed to brilliant retinue. But on that night he came alone, galloping on horseback at top speed—seventy miles in seven hours from Newport, a record for the road in those times. So the rider made light of the wound he had recently suffered in heroic combat at Brandywine.

Now in late August there lay behind him at Newport, General Sullivan's patriot troops, weak and disordered by a miscarriage of plans, threatened by a superior British force. Before him, at Boston, were the warships of the French fleet just come to anchor—a great array of sail, but driven here by an unusual storm which caused them much damage, the admiral's flagship being dismasted.

Now Lafayette, by request both from Sullivan and by letter from General Washington—whom he utterly worshipped—was on his way to entreat the Massachusetts Council to make haste in repairs of the French fleet, and to plead with the admiral that he renew his promised support of Sullivan's imperilled militiamen at the earliest possible moment.

With urgency, with the ardent devotion that characterized his every act, Lafayette fulfilled his mission. Anxious to lose not a moment of action, again he galloped headlong through the darkness. He reached Tiverton an hour before midnight, just in time to take charge of the retreat of a thousand of Sullivan's troops entangled with the enemy, so bravely and skillfully restoring their order that not a man was lost, and Sullivan especially cited the feat in his dispatches to Congress.

And so I make now the only gift which Lafayette ever accepted and loved beyond all price, a token of gratefulness from freemen resolved to preserve, in this nation, the institutions of popular liberty under law which he so devotedly served.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From 'Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY HAS TAKEN BY EMINENT DOMAIN THREE AREAS FOR LOW RENT HOUSING DEVELOPMENTS — COMPLETE DETAILS SET FORTH IN PLANS FILED WITH REGISTRY OF DEEDS — LATEST MOVE AFFECTS IN NO WAY PROPERTIES WHERE OPTIONS HAD BEEN ACCEPTED AND EXERCISED PRIOR TO LATEST MOVE WHICH WAS PLANNED TO EXPEDITE WORK OF CLOSING AND PAYMENT PROCEDURE — PAYMENTS TO PROCEED IMMEDIATELY.

Chairman John A. Breen of the Boston Housing Authority, on May 20, announced that by unanimous vote, the Authority has taken by eminent domain three areas in Boston for the development of low rent housing projects.

The areas so taken were announced as one in Charlestown adjacent to the Navy Yard; one in South Boston near the present Old Harbor Village; and an area in the Lenox street district of Roxbury.

A forty-page legal document setting forth the complete details of the action and accompanying plans were filed in the Registry of Deeds for Suffolk County.

It is believed that the areas are the largest ever taken by eminent domain in this Commonwealth.

Chairman Breen pointed out that prior to the taking the Authority had accepted and exercised hundreds of options given to it by owners of properties in the several areas, which represented, by far, the great majority of the parcels in the areas. He pointed out that the taking in no way affected the dealings between the Authority and the owners of property whose options had been exercised, and that each such owner was being so notified. These owners will be paid the amounts agreed upon as quickly as the Authority staff can physically accomplish the tremendous amount of legal and clerical work involved. The taking was made to expedite the work of the Authority by clearing title to the areas and thereby simplifying closing and payment procedure.

The full staff of the Authority is working overtime to complete the sending of thousands of notices of various kinds to owners, residents, lessees, mortgagees and others who are in any way affected by the taking.

Site offices, which will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., have been established in each of the areas, where employees will be on hand to supply information to persons living on the sites and to try to assist them to find new homes.

The Authority expects removals to start promptly.

Demolition will begin immediately after the properties are vacated and construction will follow closely thereafter.

Because the proposed development in the Mission Hill area of Roxbury was the last to get under way on land acquisition, that area was not included in the action taken by the Authority today.

STATEMENT BY MAYOR TOBIN
ON FLAG WEEK, JUNE 8 TO 14.

The attention of the public is hereby called to the period June 8-14, designated as Flag Week by the United States Flag Association, which is headed by President Roosevelt. The inauguration of Flag Week and its country-wide observance has done much to unite, strengthen and consolidate us as a nation. To new citizens, especially, is the occasion one fraught with deep significance. It is a matter for self-congratulation to realize that our first flag, the Continental Flag, was first raised and flung to the breezes of Cambridge, where the American Army was assembled, January 2, 1776. The Stars and Stripes, adopted by Congress June 14, 1777, has ever been in the forefront of every triumph that our country has known in the advancement of human liberty and progress.

That flag represents the deliverance of a nation from the oppression of a monarchy; it stands as a dedication to a republic governed by a Constitution which has no equal in the history of statecraft; it is an announcement to all the world that so long as we are a democratic nation we shall resist to the last drop of blood any attempt by force to destroy our institutions and our ideals. As we fly the Stars and Stripes and share in the exercises of Flag Week, let us remind ourselves anew that the Stars and Stripes are as a benediction on the yesterdays of our national existence and an inspiration to hope and confidence for the tomorrows that may come to us.

MAYOR TOBIN'S PROCLAMATION FOR FLAG WEEK JUNE 8 TO 14.

To the Citizens of Boston, Greetings.

Whereas, The ideals and institutions of the American form of government, symbolized by the Stars and Stripes, are under challenge, in these days of worldwide turmoil, all loyal Americans should answer that challenge by displaying and paying tribute to the Flag as an emblem of our rights and liberties; and

Whereas, The United States Flag Association, headed by President Roosevelt as Honorary President-General, has designated the period of June 8 to 14 as Flag Week, during which time the citizens are asked to take part in patriotic and other exercises; now, therefore, as of May 18, I proclaim June 8 to 14 as Flag Week and request that during that period the Flag of the United States be displayed on all municipal buildings and vehicles, on homes and places of business, and that citizens generally hold suitable exercises or otherwise demonstrate their love of country, their allegiance to its glorious banner and their belief in American democracy.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

AMENDED DAMAGES.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of November 4, 1937, determining that no person sustains damages by the making of the public improvement, consisting of the extension of Temple street, be, and the same hereby is, amended, by striking out in the first and second lines of said order the words: "that no person sustains in his estate," and by striking out in the last line of said order the word: "no." That said order be further amended by adding thereto Warren L. Graham and Louise A. Graham. That the amount $350 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Warren L. Graham and Louise A. SHERIFF DOWD WITHDRAWS REQUEST TO MAYOR FOR SALARY INCREASE.

On May 22 Mayor Tobin sent the following communication to the City Council:

BOSTON, May 22, 1939.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith transmit communication received from the Honorable John F. Dowd, Sheriff of Suffolk County, in which he expresses a desire to withdraw a proposed salary increase for his position which was presented to your Honorable Body on April 3, 1939.

In view of this communication I would suggest to your Honorable Body that no action be taken on the above referred to order.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
OFFICE OF SHERIFF—SUFFOLK COUNTY,
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

May 18, 1939.

To HIS HONOR, MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On April 3, 1939, you sent a communication to the City Council recommending a change in the County Classification Plan fixing my total salary at $6,000 rather than $4,000. In view of the fact that the sheriff's salaries of all the larger counties were in excess of mine and in view of the fact that my duties were to be multiplied by reason of the new Court House building, I felt this change of salary was justified.

However, it appears at the present time that changes are to be made in the direct management of the new Court House, which, of course, will reduce my responsibility somewhat. Therefore, I might say that the present change in my salary now before the City Council must be viewed in a different light than if I were to continue as sole custodian of the new building. In view of this, may I suggest that you make my wishes known by sending that body a communication withdrawing the order which affects my present salary.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN F. DOWD, Sheriff.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, during the period of street construction, estimated to be fifteen (15) days, vehicles are excluded from the following street, effective May 22, 1939:

Henley Street, Charlestown.

From Chelsea street to the Navy Yard.

"RELIEF" DECLINING.

Two-thirds of the nation's relief expenditures in recent years has been centered in ten industrial states, the "Year Book's" section on Financing Relief and Recovery points out. Half the Federal Work Relief Funds and two-thirds of all available funds have been expended in the fifty largest cities, including about 25 per cent of the population. Industrial urban population is more vulnerable to unemployment. In addition, living costs are higher, requiring greater relief allotments, and the cost of giving employment to a city group is higher than in rural areas.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

36,400 MOTOR DEATHS IN 1935.

According to the findings of the National Safety Council motor traffic deaths in 1935 totaled 36,400, compared with 1934's record of 36,000.

The only decrease was among school children up to fifteen years of age. Motor vehicle accidents to children have increased much less than those of adults since 1922, when safety education began on a national scale. October, November and December were the reddest months. Two-thirds of the accidents were in places under 10,000 population; more than 40 per cent of the victims pedestrians.

Thirteen states decreased traffic deaths 7 per cent or more: Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and Washington.

REPORT OF PAULINE F. SMITH, DIRECTOR OF KINDERGARTENS, ON ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL CONVENTION OF ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION, AT ATLANTA, APRIL 10 TO 14.

The following report of the forty-sixth annual convention of the Association for Childhood Education, Atlanta, Georgia, April 10 to 14, was presented and accepted by the School Committee.

The Association for Childhood Education conventions have taken on the complexion of a traveling university, with study and studio groups doing four days of intensive work on somewhat divergent but interrelated subjects which are coordinated around the convention theme through group reports and mass meetings.

This year's theme—"Living and Learning in School and Community"—was based on the platform of democratic living. Each phase was studied and interpreted from the viewpoint of democratic practices and ideals, with the aim of conserving the best in individual and group living.

The convention opened with an address by E. T. McSwain of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, who established some of the factors which affect child development in school and community as leads for the study groups:

1. Housing and equipment in home, school and community.
2. Use of community resources: materials, products, people, institutions and agencies.
3. Administration and management in home, school and community.
4. Religious and social ideals held in home, school and community.
5. Kind and range of human relationships in home, school and community.
6. Modes of communication in home, school and community.
7. Programs of work and play planned in school.

The impinging pressure of these factors, their close correlation in modern life, and the essential interrelationships between home, school and community were strongly emphasized, leading towards efficient utilization of community resources for improved individual and cooperative standards of living.

Doctor McSwain's lecture was followed the next day by a forum which he led, and in which the participants were the leaders and coordinators of the various study and studio groups. The discussion dealt with the seven focal ideas already noted, raising salient problems, leads and approaches in each field within a stated radius of human relationships—thus setting the stage and giving the opening cues for discussion in the study groups.

Some of the ideas and principles propounded during the discussion were:

The unique function of the school is to provide a simplified environment in which teachers may guide children to success and progress in a somewhat restricted life with their contemporaries.

Administrators and teachers should be sufficiently conversant with community personnel, resources and requirements so that they may be interpreters of children's needs to parents and community, and thus be beneficial factors in influencing children's growth and social progress.

Teachers cooperating with as many factors and in as many fields as possible strengthen their social and civic standing by this broadening cooperative approach.

The school should use resources consistently and constructively in connection with and in direct relation to children's needs. Rather than starting with the logical, historical sequence, it would seem preferable to start with immediate, environmental interests, and through study recognize the need for broadening of interests and research, thus delving into the past and fields of widening scope, tying these up with known facts.

Teachers should strive through example and guidance to develop in children those characteristics indispensable to intelligent and right living.

The study classes met for three-hour sessions on three successive days, with orientation of problems, general discussions, development of specific items, excursions and studio experimentation, leading to conclusions and recommendations in the final summaries prepared. A half day or a day devoted to school visiting in public and private schools and universities, with the white and negro, complemented the group study.

Two supplementary addresses, "Contributions of a Common Faith to the Commonwealth of Nations," by J. Hutton Hynd, Leader, Ethical Society, St. Louis, Missouri, and "Interpreting Education to Home and Community," by Millicent J. Taylor, Education Department, Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Massachusetts, gave opposite approaches to two social problems. Mr. Hynd's talk was inspirational, and Miss Taylor's most practical, with itemized suggestions and leads. Her chief contention was that the challenge of the growing sense of ownership the public feels in the schools must be met by a comprehensive public relations program by educators. Her plea to educators was that they exert themselves to—

- (a.) Develop better understanding of news leads.
- (b.) Build good news stories interpreting schools and education to the public.
- (c.) Help editors get the correct slant on the schools and education, and thus give correct interpretations in their publications.

The closing meeting of the convention was a symposium, "The 1939 Convention in Review," led by Dr. Jean Betzner, Director of the Study Classes, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

The participants were leaders of the study groups, each of whom gave a brief resume of problems studied, conclusions reached, recommendations and new problems solved.

Emphases reiterated were:

The need for coordination between the various agencies of society, all along the way, towards community of interests.

Variation in community resources offers opportunity for intelligent selection and use of available resources to advantageous ends.

The teacher's first responsibility is to help the child set up his problems, work on them and later evaluate progress,—also to interpret the child to the community and the community to the child.

Emotional and social attitudes are the force and drive back of growth and development, and are important determinants of progress.

Help children build from immediate classroom and home situations into larger relationships in community, nation and world as they develop.

The importance of adult education and the average teacher's responsibility in this regard.

The need for a more live feeling of universal brotherhood and respect, rather than tolerance, in the constructive use of divergent opinions; and a vibrant faith in the democratic process in relation to ethical and social concepts.

To allow children to form their own ideals, standards and concepts in gradually widening scopes.

The need for guidance in establishing loyalties.

A good citizen must have a sense of belonging and responsibility.

Opportunity for participation for all. The danger of making passive listeners rather than active participants.

Registration at the convention approximated twenty-two hundred—superintendents, supervisors, principals, classroom teachers and parents.

The age range covered by the discussions was from nursery school, through kindergarten, primary and up to Grade VI.

Atlanta hostesses entertained the large number of delegates with true southern hospitality, showing every courtesy and consideration.

Next year the convention will meet in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and in 1941, probably in Oakland, California.

Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Tulsa and Miami offered invitations for 1942.

The convention was well planned and competently carried through. It was most interesting and stimulating, and I enjoyed as well as benefited by it.

A copy of the resolutions adopted by the convention is included with this report.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION, ATLANTA, GEORGIA, APRIL 10 TO 14, 1939.

The Committee on Resolutions is fully aware that the resolutions of the past few years still express goals toward which the Association for Childhood Education is striving, any of which might be repeated at this time. We, therefore, advocate that we as members of the association review the resolutions to be found in the yearbooks of the association and rededicate ourselves to the task of furthering these stated goals as they apply today. The committee has set forth for this year, five resolutions, which, if carried forward, should do much in promoting a democratic way of life.

I. Whereas, We live in a culture which is endeavoring to develop a democratic way of life; and

Whereas, We believe that it is during the early years of child at home and at school that growth in desirable social ways of thinking, feeling and doing is initiated; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Association for Childhood Education develop cooperative relationships which will further peace, promote democratic living and learning in the schools, and give increased time to thinking and planning with parents so that the school and home together may promote insight and understanding, attitudes and skills essential to participation in a democratic culture.

2. Whereas, There are more than two and one half million children of school age in the United States for whom no schools have been provided, and another two and one half million attending schools that are inadequate; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Association for Childhood Education study and support suitable measures for State and Federal aid to public education.

3. Whereas, There are in the United States more than four million children of three, four and five years of age, for whom no educational provisions are made; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Association for Childhood Education, recognizing the unique value of education in democratic living during the early years of life at home and at school, give active support to programs planned to meet the needs of two, three, four and five year old children.

4. Whereas, We believe in the continuance of democracy and the extension of its benefits not only to the children we teach, but to all those concerned with their guidance and welfare; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Association for Childhood Education continue to contribute to the personal and professional growth of its individual members by giving them help through its various types of service in:

Developing a greater understanding of children and the ability to interpret their behavior to the end that more effective guidance may result.

Stimulating a zest for living, learning, teaching, and otherwise serving in the community.

Building desirable health habits and suitable leisure time interests.

Developing an inquiring mind and a broadened social philosophy based on an increasing degree of social intelligence.

5. Whereas, We believe that democracy can continue to exist only as people gain mutual respect for and understanding of each other and as they learn to live and act together for the common good; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Association for Childhood Education, will become better informed concerning the community in which we live and work and play to the end that we shall know its possibilities and its needs, its people and their relationships with each other, their satisfactions, desires and problems, and thus act constructively for the common good.

In view of the professional stimulation and good-fellowship afforded by this convention; be it

Resolved, That we express our sincere appreciation for the opportunity to work together, to see and meet mutual needs and common problems in a democratic way; and that we thank all the Atlanta groups and individuals who have made the forty-sixth annual convention such a success.

MARIE BELLE FOWLER,
Chairman.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

MANY TYPES OF W. P. A. PROJECTS.

The Works Progress Administration has placed in operation a total of more than 300,000 projects. Except for the more pretentious types of construction, these projects have covered almost the whole field of American endeavor in meeting the primary objective of relieving unemployment. The American City.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, May 15, 1939.

Regular meeting of the City Council in Faneuil Hall at 2 p. m., President MURRAY in the chair, and all the members present.

Coun. WILSON in the chair.

VETO OF ORDINANCE RE CIGARETTE VENDING MACHINES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1939.
To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, the ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on May 1, 1939, relative to the sale of cigarettes or tobacco by vending machines. The ordinance, as passed by your Honorable Body, provides for the payment of $25 for a license for the term of one year for each vending machine.

I have been advised by the Corporation Counsel that, in his opinion there is substantial doubt that the ordinance would be upheld by the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth as a valid exercise of police power because of the size of the proposed fee, and the lack of evidence adduced before your Honorable Body to support its reasonableness on the basis of the cost of such regulation as might be required in the protection of the public health and safety.

The Corporation Counsel advises me that his opinion is based, in part, upon a decision of the Supreme Court of Michigan in 1934, wherein an ordinance of the city of Detroit regulating cigarette vendors was under consideration by said court. In this case it appeared that a license fee of $10 had been established by the Common Council in said city; that the Mayor of said city vetoed the ordinance; and that thereafter the fee was placed at $5.00.

The court laid considerable stress upon the cost of issuing the license and the regulation of the business licensed and while upholding the $5.00 license fee then under consideration indicated, in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, that the result would not be the same if the expense or amount of regulatory provisions and the nature of the subject of regulation were such that the amount of the tax was out of proportion to the expense involved. I therefore veto the ordinance as presented to me.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

On motion of Coun. KELLY the Mayor's message was referred to the Executive Committee, and the attendance of the Corporation Counsel before that committee was requested.

TRANSFER OF LAND TO LOEW'S, INC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order for transfer to Loew's, Inc., of a piece of land comprising ten square feet, which is contiguous to land and buildings now owned by said Loew's, Inc., and situated on the southeasterly side of Winchester street, Boston Proper.

The Board of Street Commissioners have discontinued this small strip of land as a public highway and the Public Works Commissioner informs me that this small strip of land is no longer needed for public purposes.

The purpose of this transfer is to permit the said Loew's, Inc., to clear up the title to the property now occupied by them. As this property is no longer needed for public purposes, I am of the opinion, that transfer of the land should be made at a nominal figure. I therefore recommend passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

Whereas, The Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, by an order approved by his Honor the Mayor of Boston, May 12, 1939, discontinued a portion of the highway named Winchester street, Boston Proper, consisting of ten square feet contiguous to the premises of Loew's, Inc., situated on the southeasterly side of Winchester street, between Lincoln place and Church street; and

Whereas, Loew's, Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the state of Delaware and having a usual place of business in the city, county and state of New York, is desirous of obtaining the ownership of said ten square feet; and

Whereas, The said ten square feet are no longer needed for public purposes; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized to convey to the said Loew's, Inc., by an instrument in writing, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, and on the consideration of one dollar ($1) paid by the said Loew's, Inc., all the City of Boston's right, title and interest in the said ten square feet discontinued as aforesaid.

Referred to Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK AT ENTRANCE TO FRANKLIN PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 13, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the chairman of the Park Department relative to your order of May 1, 1939, concerning the construction of a sidewalk (concrete) on the right-hand side of the entrance to Franklin Park from Columbia road, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 10, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have memorandum of May 8, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Department be requested to construct a concrete sidewalk on the right-hand side of the entrance to Franklin Park from Columbia road. A project for the construction of this sidewalk is now in Washington and it will no doubt be accepted.

Under the present W. P. A. conditions no additional men can be put to work after the projects are accepted, until such time as other projects are completed or discontinued.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

TRAINING COURSE, AVIATION MECHANICS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 13, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the School Committee Secretary relative to your order of April 17, 1939, concerning the making of arrangements to collaborate with the Federal Government for the establishment of a training course in aviation mechanics in the high schools of Boston.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
School Committee, May 8, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At a recent conference the School Committee received the order passed by the City Council on April 17, 1939, requesting the Committee, through his Honor the Mayor, "to forthwith make arrangements to collaborate with the Federal Government for the establishment of a training course in aviation mechanics in the high schools of Boston, in conjunction with the present curriculum of the high schools."

The superintendent informed the Committee that there is now in the Boston Trade School an Airplane Mechanics course, with some forty pupils registered and regularly in attendance. The course has been operating for some few years and in June, 1938, nineteen pupils were graduated from the course. Additional provision for instruction in the subject is now under way and the result will be a four-year course in aviation mechanics. The course is well equipped and the instruction is in charge of men of practical experience.

It does not seem to the Committee feasible at this time to introduce aviation mechanics in the high schools largely on account of the expense involved.

Respectfully yours,
ELLEN M. CRONIN, Secretary.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that I have no available funds for this purpose. The best I can do is to roll the surface of the playground area.

If it is possible for our men to make the necessary repairs to lockers and showers, they will be cared for just as soon as possible. If there is any expense attached to the job, I will not be able to go very far.

BUS SERVICE ON WELD STREET.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, May 13, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of April 24, 1939, concerning the operation of buses on the Weld street line on Sundays and holidays.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
May 12, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Consideration has been given to order of the City Council received with your letter of May 8 relative to Sunday and holiday service on the bus line operated between Roslindale square and Weld and Maple streets, West Roxbury.

We are at the present time operating Sunday service from Maple street, through Weld street, to Centre street, and through Centre street to the Holy Name Church, the trips being scheduled to leave Maple street at 7.15 a. m. and every hour until 12.15 noon. This service meets the requirements of patrons desiring to attend church services, and our operating officials do not feel that at the present time additional Sunday or holiday service would be self-supporting.

In view of the fact that revenue at the present time is not sufficient to meet the cost of service, the trustees are extremely reluctant to authorize operation of additional service which would increase the deficit.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

"STOP" SIGNS, CENTRE AND SOUTH STREETS.

Office of the Mayor, May 13, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of April 17, 1939, concerning the installation of "Stop" signs at the junction of Centre and South streets, West Roxbury.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 11, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated April 17, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install "Stop" signs at the junction of Centre and South streets, West Roxbury."

This location is comprised of the intersection of Centre street, Church street and South street.

We assume that the Council order intends the installation of "Stop" signs in South street, at Centre street, to govern South street traffic entering the intersection. Because of the peculiar layout of the intersection it would be necessary to erect such a sign at a point so far back of the desired stopping point that it could not be effective.

Accurate observations made by this department show that only about 80 per cent of motorists obey "Stop" signs. It is our opinion that the percentage which would obey a sign erected at this location would be much less and that a more dangerous condition than exists at present would be created, because Centre street traffic would assume that all traffic entering the area from South street would stop before entering.

This location is on a list where this commission has recommended the installation of automatic traffic signals when funds are made available for the purpose.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Attention of William J. Doyle.
Dear Sir,—This department has received your communications of April 10 and April 20 with inclosed City Council orders dated April 3, 1939, and April 17, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to contact the proper W. P. A. officials in Washington in an effort to have butter, which was on the commodity list up to last August, distributed to W. P. A. workers and welfare recipients in Boston who have commodity cards."

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the W. P. A. authorities the matter of providing for the immediate distribution of butter, through the Surplus Commodities Division, to persons receiving welfare aid and also those who are working on the W. P. A., so that they may receive the same benefits as those persons in similar circumstances who reside outside of the City of Boston."

May I state that the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare have approved the processing cost for the distribution of butter and his Honor the Mayor has also approved it. We shall immediately advise the Surplus Commodities Division to that effect and I do trust that butter distribution according to the need of individuals or families will be begun at a very early date.

DUMPING ON VACANT LOTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 13, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Health Commissioner relative to your order of May 1, 1939, concerning the dumping of garbage and refuse on vacant lots, whether owned by the City of Boston or by private individuals.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, May 11, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—We have your memorandum of May 8, 1939, transmitting for our consideration and report, City Council order of May 1, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent the dumping of garbage and refuse on vacant lots, whether owned by the City of Boston or by private individuals, where such dumping is a nuisance to residents of the neighborhood and a menace to the health of the community."

The Health Department is doing everything possible to discourage the practice of illegal dumping of refuse on vacant lots throughout the city.

In general, it may be said that such dumping is done at night or at other times when the lots are not under observation by inspectors or by the police.

Lacking evidence as to who places the refuse on vacant lots, it becomes necessary to require the owners of the vacant lots to remove the rubbish and clean the premises.

As might be expected, property owners object strenuously to removing refuse placed by trespassers on the land, and it takes time and persuasion to have the vacant lands cleaned.

We get some cooperation from the Police Department but it might have weight with the Police Commissioner if the City Council formally asked the cooperation of the Police Department in apprehending persons committing the nuisance.

The Health Department will continue to do everything in its power to have these lots maintained in a satisfactory condition.

Respectfully,
H. F. R. WATTS, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

REPORT RE AMERICAN LEGION HIGHWAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Finance Commission, May 12, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Honorable Sir,—Public announcement has recently been made that the City Public Works Department has decided upon an expensive redecoration job on the American Legion Highway in Dorchester. The cost of the project contemplated might run up to $75,000 or even higher. From the facts obtained it is the opinion of the Finance Commission that it would constitute an unwarranted waste of public funds.

This highway, opened to traffic only seven years ago and built at state expense, is now the care of the City of Boston. It consists of two roadways beginning at Blue Hill avenue and extending, in part, between Franklin Park and the property of the women's section of the Boston State Hospital; then through the swamp land adjoining the men's section of the Boston State Hospital and alongside the Forest Hills Cemetery; and then through a sparsely settled section, most of which is in process of being filled, alongside the Mount Hope Cemetery to the Cummins Highway in Roslindale. There are few houses on the highway, and of these some are grouped at the Blue Hill avenue end and the remainder at the Roslindale end. The length of the highway is almost two miles.

When the highway was built a strip in the center for its entire length, approximately 20 feet wide, was loamed and grassed. Sometimes the grass is cut and sometimes it is not. As might be expected, often its appearance is unsightly and unkempt. Hence, the Public Works Department has given considerable thought to it and the present project is the result.

This grassed area is inclosed by a curbing for about one half its length. The cost of purchase and hauling of loam for it was not a small item. Later it was decorated by the Boston Park Department by the planting of two rows of trees, spaced about 25 feet apart, for its entire length.

The change now proposed, as conceived by the Department of Public Works, is based, in part, upon a desire to obtain a better vista when looking along the highway, but, incidentally, to save the necessity for cutting the grass. It is proposed to excavate the loam and to replace it with concrete slabs of varied colors, fabricated particularly for this job, and intended to produce a rainbow-like effect when viewed from either end of the two-mile highway. It has been figured that it will require 178,000 concrete slabs.

It is proposed to make the job a W. P. A. project. As such the labor involved would be paid for by the Federal Government. Materials and equipment must, however, be furnished at city expense.

The loam to be taken out might be salvaged. The cost of the excavation and carting of the material to some other location would be a substantial item. Now to take out the trees which were planted a few years ago, at a cost of $20 per tree, would probably destroy them unless they are taken out with great care. Such care would entail considerable expense.

To allow the trees to remain and to provide protection for them is being considered as an alternative. It is said by horticultural experts that the continued life of the trees under such circumstances is doubtful, unless the city planned to keep them well, and regularly, watered during each growing season.

If the trees remain and they continue to grow, their very growth would conceal the fine vista expected of the varied-color concrete slabs. There would remain, however, the saving of the expense of cutting the grass; but the watering job would cost many times the cost of the grass cutting.

There are now two sidewalks on the highway. Except for the sections where there are houses, which are practically the opposite ends of the highway, there is little use made of the sidewalks. One of the outstanding sights along the highway is the mammoth piggery of the Boston State Hospital located along one side.

The roadways do not have a continuous flow of motor traffic. At morning and at night much use is made of it by motorists to and from Blue Hill avenue and Cummins Highway. During the major portion of the day traffic is very light. A great many, therefore, would not enjoy the rainbow vista unless a special trip for that purpose was made.

The cost of such a project, if executed at the minimum city expense, would be around $75,000. This price is based on necessary excavation and backfill, foundation and sidewalk construction, and necessary curbing to support the concrete slabs on the roadway sides. The cost of fabricating special slabs as proposed would be more than the cost of laying ordinary sidewalk.

Conclusion.

The Finance Commission believes that there is no justification for this particular project, regardless of where the money comes from. If $75,000 is so easily obtainable, it would seem that it would be better to use the money for repairing streets or building sidewalks on habited streets which are now without them.

Varied-color concrete slabs might appeal to some people. The Finance Commission believes a well-kept lawn area is preferable to most people. All that is needed on this highway to provide a well-kept lawn area is the regular assignment of one or two men to keep the grass cut. It should not be necessary to add anything to present city expense to obtain this improvement.

The commission recommends that you decline to give your approval to the project.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONEI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
The Finance Commission.

Placed on file.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in City of Boston for month of May.

Report accepted; said order passed.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. ROSENBERG, for the Committee on Constables, called up No. 1 on the calendar, under unfinished business, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 17, 1939, of Constables authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds, viz.: John J. Dillon, John A. May, Almerindo Sarno, Frederick J. Sarno.

On motion of Coun. ROSENBERG the Council considered the appointment of Almerindo Sarno, and the question came on the confirmation of said appointment. Committee, Coun. Agnew and Lyons. Whole number of ballots 13, yes 7, no 6, and the appointment was confirmed.

CHANGE OF FREE MILK DELIVERY STATION.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Director of the Public Welfare Department to change the free milk delivery station from Meridian street, East Boston, to a less conspicuous location.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHUTTING OFF WATER.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed under no condition to shut off or diminish the supply of water on residential properties of owners who are receiving welfare or Old Age Assistance or who may be employed on W. P. A. projects.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECONSTRUCTION OF WEST END CHURCH.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the Superintendent of Public Buildings to engage a qualified architect to supervise the reconstruction of the historical West End Church now used as a Branch Library in the West End of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OFFICERS OF BOSTON TAXPAYERS' ALLIANCE.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Appropriations be requested to obtain a list of the officers, and their residences, of the Boston Taxpayers' Alliance.

The question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I think this information would be worth having in view of the fact that the committee will shortly hold its public hearing on the budget, and in view of the fact that the Taxpayers' Alliance will no doubt make all sorts of recommendations to the committee. From information which has come to me from authentic sources I am informed that at the recent meeting of the alliance, at which officers were chosen, none of the officers so chosen were even present at the meeting. In other words, a slate of officers was made up by somebody behind the scenes and voted upon at a meeting at which only a dozen persons were present. I think we should know these things, in order that we may judge what consideration to give any proposals made by this organization. Of course, we know that Mr. Loeffler, who gets $6,500 per year from the Municipal Research Bureau, is one of the guiding lights behind this new group. But there are others in this group who have more than just a burning interest in the taxpayers and who receive rather generous salaries from the Taxpayers' Alliance. A Mr. Dempsey, who by the way comes from Newton, receives $100 per week. Mr. Paul Hines, publicity man, receives $75 per week. What others may receive I do not know, but I do know that a Mr. O'Malley, who is active in the organization also, comes from Newton, which, so far as I know, is not a part of Boston, and Mrs. Hannah Connors, also very active in this group, comes from Milton, which rather turns up its nose at Boston. Now, Mr. President, I have no great objection to the existence of this organization, and if it is sincere in its aims and purposes none of us has a right to criticize. However, here we have an organization which is dominated and controlled by a very few persons, some paid, and some who live outside our city, whose chief object seems to be to make all city employees take a salary cut. I cannot help but wonder sometimes if these types of organizations are not conceived in the mind of a few persons who want to get on a pay roll and don't care what damage they might do to others as long as they do get on a pay roll. Take the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Association, the group that is demanding great economies in the state government. I am told that the director of the association receives $11,000 per year—not a bad salary. Another person, the counsel for the group, gets $6,000 per year; another gets $5,000 per year and one or two others get substantial salaries. I think the general public who contribute to these kinds of organizations should have some knowledge of who the controlling spirits are behind the organizations, and what, if any, salaries they receive. If the City Council of Boston is going to listen to groups such as these, we have a right to know something more about them than merely the name of the organization. For one, I don't propose to be stampeded into taking action by persons who seem to me to have simply a selfish interest in this whole subject of economy. I don't believe in taking advantage of human misery and it sometimes seems to me that just such a thing happens in some of these organizations. Let's get all the information we can about the Boston Taxpayers' Alliance before we permit them to come before us and tell us our duty and obligations—which we all know and which we are all trying to meet.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I might say for the benefit of the councilor from Dorchester that, as a member of the Appropriations Committee, I was going to make it my duty at the public hearing, to which the members of the Taxpayers' Alliance have been invited, to find out where they come from, and what sums they receive on the pay roll of that organization and the various organizations that they represent. It is my information, too, that they come from such places as Danvers, Milton, Newton, Wellesley, Cambridge and Brookline, and I am sure that if they want to come down here and be as frank with the members of the Boston City Council as they want the members of the Boston City Council to be with them, we will not have any difficulty in finding where they come from and how much they get to be here.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I would like to make an amendment, that we also find out who is financing the organization, where they are getting their money.

Chairman WILSON—The amendment is out of order in that form.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I have an order before me that I was going to submit relative to getting information from the Board of Assessors, which will hook up with that order. I have the figures from 1934 to 1938 of the abatements that have taken place in the City of Boston, plus the amount of building that has been constructed in the City of Boston. I find that this group is pulling at the heartstrings and the purses of the small property owners, trying to induce them to prevail upon us to cut the wages of not only the high salaried employees of the City of Boston but also the low salaried employees. I find that in the year 1934 we had real estate assessments of $1,554,671,200, and in 1938 we had assessments of $1,438,589,900. There has been an abatement of $117,000,000-odd, which is 10 per cent of the assessed valuation in the City of Boston. I find, Mr. President, that there is approximately about a 10 per cent abatement through the back door, as you might call it. The big real estate operators in the City of Boston are calling upon the small taxpayer to get out and make this big hullabaloo while they are going in the back door. I believe that it would amount to approximately $3 or $3.50 in our tax rate if large tax abatements in the City of Boston were stopped, and then we would have a fair and honest tax rate.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, for my information, why was my amendment out of order?

Chairman WILSON—The amendment would have to be presented in specific words, and I assume should be submitted in writing.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—I will submit it in writing.

Coun. TAYLOR—I have no objection.

Chairman WILSON—The order is referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I would like to have that order referred to the Executive Committee rather than to the Committee on Appropriations.

Chairman WILSON—If there is no objection, the order will be referred to the Executive Committee rather than to the Committee on Appropriations, to whom the order was directed.

Later in the session Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That Coun. Taylor's order be amended to include the source of the money used to finance the Taxpayers' Alliance.

Chairman WILSON stated that the amendment would be referred to the Executive Committee, inasmuch as the original order offered by Coun. Taylor is now before that committee; and that Coun. Hutchinson could move any amendment he wished in Executive Committee.

GRASS PLOT, AMERICAN LEGION HIGHWAY.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commissioner and the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have men regularly assigned to keep the grass plot in the center of the American Legion Highway in perfect condition in order to prevent the growth of ragweed, which is detrimental to health, particularly of those persons who are subject to hay fever and asthma, and also in view of its close proximity to the state institution.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, recently the Finance Commission of the City of Boston issued a statement in which they criticized the proposed project of taking out the grass plots in the center of the American Legion Highway and supplanting them with slag. I understand on information that the Public Works Commissioner has no intention of removing the grass plots in the center of the roadway on the American Legion Highway. Almost every year the weeds are allowed to grow to such height that the ragweed in these grass plots is detrimental to the health of the residents of the community, particularly to those persons suffering from asthma and hay fever, and I feel that, thus early in the season, with the cooperation of the Public Works Commissioner and the Park Department, notification now being given to them, they might regularly assign men to take care of the grass plots in order to protect the health of the residents of that particular district.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROPRIATION FOR STREETS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That, as authorized by the provisions of chapter two of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, from the sum of one million, one hundred ninety-four thousand three hundred (1,194,300) dollars, being the unexpended balance of funds distributed to the City of Boston under the provisions of chapter five hundred of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, the sum of three hundred and ninety-four thousand, three hundred dollars ($394,300) be, and hereby is, appropriated for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways other than state highways, surface drainage, sidewalks, curbs and bridges, whether such work be ordinary or otherwise, said sum to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works as follows:

Snow Removal.....	$369,300
Reconstruction of Streets.....	25,000
	$394,300

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, the purpose of that order is simply to give authority to the City Auditor to pay the amounts set forth in the order for the purposes specified, which is in accordance with the authorization contained in chapter 2 of the Acts of 1939.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Was that referred to the Executive Committee, Mr. President?

Chairman WILSON—Yes, sir.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I would like to ask the councilor if that act was passed by the Legislature, giving cities and towns the money to hire laborers.

Chairman WILSON—The Chair assumes, councilor, that that was the act that was passed by last year's Legislature for work and wages, before the close of the 1938 session, and which, as the result of an act signed the 2d of February, is permitted now to be used for streets, one year later.

DATA RE CITY YARDS.

Coun. CHASE, for Coun. Wilson, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested, promptly, to advise the City Council the number and location of all city yards now in use at the present time.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DEMOLITION OF ATLANTIC AVENUE STRUCTURE.

Coun. CHASE, for Coun. Wilson, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Building Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to comply with the request contained in City Council orders of March 6 and April 24, 1939, with reference to condemnation and demolition of the Atlantic avenue structure of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, which was abandoned in October, 1938.

Referred to Executive Committee, with a request that the Building Commissioner be sent for.

PLEBISCITE ON HOUSING PROJECTS.

Coun. CHASE, for Coun. Wilson, offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested at this year's city election to provide for a plebiscite or referendum which will permit the voters of Boston to express their approval or disapproval of either an extension of Federal low rent housing in Boston or carrying out the proposed ten-year plan which the Housing Authority has informed the Council will finally house no less than 35,000 Boston families following an expenditure of $191,000,000.

Referred, on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, to the Executive Committee.

BASEBALL DIAMOND, CHARLESBANK PARK.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place the baseball diamond at the Charlesbank Park in suitable condition for the use of the children using the park.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WIRE FENCE, STELLMAN ROAD.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a wire fence on the Healey Field side of Stelman road in order that the property of residents might be protected from damage from batted or thrown balls.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of General Baking Company (referred April 17) for driveway opening at Ferrin street, Ward 2—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on petition of Home Savings Bank (referred May 8) for driveway opening at 419 Columbus avenue, Ward 5—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.45 p. m., on motion of Coun. KELLY, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members re-assembled at 4.43 p. m., Coun. WILSON in the chair.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Chairman WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message from Mayor and order (referred today) for transfer to Loew's, Inc., of piece of land on Winchester street—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 15, nays 0.

2. Report on order (referred today) that $394,300 be appropriated for construction, maintenance and repairs of streets, etc.—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the order was passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

3. Report on order (referred today) that plebiscite or referendum be provided at this year's city election on extension of Federal low rent housing in Boston—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, speaking to this particular order requesting the Mayor to hold a plebiscite, we have before us an order at the present time relative to a ten-year program on Federal housing. If we pass this order and put it before the people for them to decide upon, I believe we will be delaying action on the proposed ten-year program on Federal housing. I feel that this order at the present time would simply add to the confusion regarding the matter, and I therefore shall vote against it.

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President, I firmly believe that we should not pass this order before we at least request the opinion of the Corporation Counsel as to whether the Council has a right to place a question of this kind on the official ballot. I think it could very well be held up a short time. I believe the Corporation Counsel is going to be here next week, and we can then ask his opinion.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think that is a very clever suggestion, and one we have been groping around for. If we pass this order today it will give the enemies of slum clearance and the Council the opportunity to say to every one who comes in with a proposition, "Wait until the people decide next November." No one can have any objection to a public plebiscite on this matter. No one can ordinarily have any objection to the public deciding any public question where their money is involved. But in this particular instance, time is of the essence. It may be that by November all the public money will have been spent. Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I feel that we should pass this order at the present time and vote to request the Corporation Counsel to give us an opinion.

Chairman WILSON—Will the gentleman yield for just one question?

Coun. NORTON—Yes, sir.

Chairman WILSON—I am wondering if the gentleman thinks it would be of any value to have a plebiscite after the Council has amended our cooperation agreement with the Government so that we may go into such figures in an unlimited way, and after we have bound ourselves to a ten-year program aggregating $191,000,000? What would be the advantage of a plebiscite after the horse is out of the barn?

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I can only answer that by saying, if we are to have a plebiscite in November, after the Federal Government money has been dispensed, of what use is the plebiscite?

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, for my information, do I understand that Councilor Irwin moved that the matter be laid on the table?

Chairman WILSON—No such motion has been made.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I second the suggestion of Councilor Irwin, that it go to the Corporation Counsel for his decision as to whether this Body has the right, or the Mayor has the right, to place such a matter on the ballot.

Chairman WILSON—Is there a motion that it lie on the table pending conference with the Corporation Counsel?

Coun. GALVIN—I make that motion.

The order was laid on the table.

4. Report on order (referred today) requesting Committee on Appropriations to obtain list of officers, and their residences, of the Boston Taxpayers' Alliance—recommending passage of accompanying new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the Committee on Appropriations be requested to obtain a list of the officers, and their residences, of the Boston Taxpayers' Alliance, and that the committee also be requested to inquire as to the source of money being used to finance the Taxpayers' Alliance.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order in the new draft.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, with reference to this order, I would like to state that I do not believe it is advisable at this time to pass this particular order. I believe that the Committee on Appropriations, which is going to hold a public meeting, may ask such questions of those people who come before us,—if they are members of the Taxpayers' Alliance, or members of the Real Estate Exchange. If they are persons who are holding and owning property in the City of Boston, whether they live here or live outside of the city, I think that the members of the Committee on Appropriations and the members of the Council, when present at this public hearing, can make such requests, and such questions can be asked by them without having certain specific questions put by us at this time. If we are going to pass this order, I believe that we ought to have every question that is to be asked of every person who comes before us set out in stereotyped form. I think that the members of the Council are alert enough and capable enough to prepare such questions as they may deem advisable to ask of those persons appearing before us. The public meeting, as I understand it, is for the purpose of permitting the taxpayers in residential Boston to come in and offer certain suggestions to the Committee on Appropriations as to how we may cut the budget, and their suggestions, if helpful, will be welcome. If their suggestions are not helpful they will be acted upon accordingly by the committee. I ask that this motion be defeated.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I believe that the people of Boston have been bamboozled long enough by various organizations that set themselves up as paramount as far as the interests of the people are concerned. If they are honest and legitimate people they will not hesitate to tell us who they are; if they are insincere and dishonest, then they won't tell us who they are. I think we have a perfect right to know who these individuals who speak to us are as the prime movers for something which they know in their hearts simply cannot be done by the City Council, and if they are willing to allow us to know who they are they will not be hurt, at least by our questions. If they are insincere they will refuse to reveal their identity. I don't see why the Council is afraid to know who is in back of this organization.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations I do not believe it is necessary for the committee to be arguing such questions at this time. When the taxpayers appear at our public hearing I assume we will be given the opportunity to ask any question that we deem fit. Personally, I think it is a matter which comes within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Appropriations to ask such questions when the people appear. I feel that the proper time would be at the time when we hold the hearing, then asking any question which may have some bearing on the budget.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I believe that any organization, no matter who they may be, should have a perfect right to come in before the Council or a Council committee. I do not believe that members of the Council, or of any particular Council committee, should set themselves up as a vigilante organization. We are dealing with the most important thing coming before us, our city's budget, and anyone who comes in should be heard, whether they come from Boston or from outside.

The question came on the passage of the order. The order was declared passed. Coun. NORTON doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called and the order was rejected, yeas 6, nays 11.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Galvin, Hutchinson, Lyons, Taylor—6.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Fish, Irwin, Kelly, Langan, McMahon, Norton, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan, Wilson—11.

5. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement:

Marie Kehoe, Jordan Hall, June 8; Davenport School of the Dance, Jordan Hall, May 26; Kay A. McDermott, Jordan Hall, June 2; Violet K. Breiding, Jordan Hall, June 7; Orin F. Gallagher, Mechanics Hall, May 24; A. Marie Govone, Jordan Hall, May 24; James A. Ecker, Jordan Hall, May 29; Massachusetts Girl Scouts, Inc., Boston Garden, May 20; Frances Earber, Williams Hall, May 18; Shirley Norris Scott, Recital Hall, June 12,—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

SURVEY OF ARBORETUM HEIGHTS, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the Arboretum Heights section of Ward 19 with a view to resurfacing all streets in this section which may require same.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of John J. Doyle (referred April 17) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to Fire Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of one thousand ($1,000) be allowed and paid to John J. Doyle in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to the Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report on petition of John J. Doyle (referred April 17) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to Fire Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) be allowed and paid to John J. Doyle in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to the Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report on petition of John J. Doyle (referred April 17) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to Fire Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) be allowed and paid to John J. Doyle in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to the Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Reports accepted; said orders passed.

EVERGREEN STREET, WARD 10.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Evergreen street, Ward 10, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUILDINGS CONDEMNED IN HOUSING PROJECT AREAS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Building Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council as to the number of buildings that had been condemned in the four areas in which housing projects are contemplated under the $27,000,000 contract approved by the City Council, prior to the selection of these four areas by the Boston Housing Authority.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I don't know what the ability is of those who are making investigations and appraisals in the districts that have been decided upon for the construction of housing projects. I do know, however, that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction on the part of the owners of some of these properties relative to the price that the Housing Authority is willing to pay. I do not believe that there had been very many houses condemned in the Mission Hill area prior to the selection of that area as one for a proposed housing project, and I think it might be well for the Council to be informed as to the number of places that have been condemned.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEANING OF LINCOLN STATUE.

Coun. CHASE and SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Art Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the thorough cleaning of the statue of the Great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, in Park square, as a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CIGARETTE VENDING MACHINES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

An Ordinance Concerning the Sale of Cigarettes or Tobacco by Vending Machines.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. No person shall vend or sell cigarettes, cigars or tobacco by the use of automatic vending machines or locate, install, keep, maintain or use upon his premises any vending machine, automatic vending machine, or coin controlled, or coin operating machine, or other mechanical device used or engaged to be used for the sale or distribution of cigarettes, cigars or other tobacco products by such method until said person has obtained a license therefor from the Police Commissioner.

Section 2. Such licenses shall be for the term of one year from the date of issue, and the license fee shall be twenty dollars ($20) for each vending machine, automatic vending machine or coin controlled, or coin operating machine or other mechanical device used or engaged to be used for the sale of or distribution of cigars, cigarettes, or other tobacco products by such method, and shall be granted subject to such rules and regulations as may be imposed by the Police Commissioner, and violation thereof shall be cause for immediate revocation.

Section 3. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction, be subject to a penalty not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense.

Chairman WILSON—This is the same ordinance that the Mayor vetoed, except that the amount mentioned is $20 instead of $25.

The ordinance was referred to the Executive Committee.

WARNING SIGNALS, BUNKER HILL MONUMENT.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Metropolitan District Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of placing suitable warning signal lights on the top of the Bunker Hill Monument for the protection of aeroplane pilots flying at night in this area.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DATA RE ABATEMENT OF TAXES.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with the following information relative to abatement of taxes amounting to $25,000 or over for the years 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938:

3. The names and amounts of abatements granted by the State Board of Tax Appeals.

4. The total amount of abatements issued to each bank on both small and large properties.

5. The total amount of abatements granted to real estate concerns on both small and large properties.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DAVIDSON AVENUE, WARD 15.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Davidson avenue, Ward 15, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISCHARGE OF W. P. A. EMPLOYEES.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of Boston be requested to recommend to the W. P. A. Administrator in the City of Boston and such other W. P. A. authorities as he may deem necessary the following changes in the method now in vogue in the discharge of W. P. A. workers employed in the conduct of all the W. P. A. projects sponsored by the City of Boston.

"Form 403 providing for the discharge of a W. P. A. worker shall not be honored at W. P. A. Headquarters unless signed personally by an executive officer of the particular division or department of the City of Boston sponsoring the W. P. A. project upon which project said worker is employed, except that where a discharge of a W. P. A. worker is for 'Reduction in Quota' the Form 403 shall be inoperative unless authorized by the Executive Director of Public Welfare or the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner in the case of a World War Veteran."

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, for some time the councilors of Boston have been getting various complaints from their constituents that they have been receiving Form 403 for what is called reduction in quota reasons. Away back, I think I am substantially safe in saying, when a W. P. A. man was laid off, either because he was not on the job or for other reasons, he was entitled to a hearing, at which time he would go before the Board, and if that Board found that probably he was unjustly reduced he was reinstated. But when a man with a family comes today to you and the reason is reduction in quota there is not anything that this Board can do, and there is not anything that the City of Boston can do. Now, if I understand the situation correctly, the City of Boston has been very, very generous in supplying money to run these relief projects. Our division engineers lay out the projects. But when it comes to the personnel—that is, the hiring and firing of the W. P. A. workers—our division engineers are powerless to do anything concerning that matter. Only the other day, before the Committee on Appropriations, we had an executive director, Mr. O'Hare, testifying before the committee, who told us that he had absolutely no power, that he had nothing to say with reference to the discharge of the W. P. A. workers. We have a situation here in Boston where we have all kinds of district welfare officers. They know the problems of the people in their particular districts. And yet when it comes to the laying off of W. P. A. workers, he is forced to go down to 18 Oliver street. The system down there is unsatisfactory. The action, if any at all, is slow, and the W. P. A. worker continues to be handled by supervisors taking orders from high officials in the W. P. A. I say, Mr. President, that every time there is a layoff it is either a W. P. A. laborer or a young girl making $55 a month who is the object of the slash, and I say that as long as I have been in public life, and as long as the W. P. A. has been in existence, no man on a non-welfare basis has ever come to me securing assistance to be reinstated. With the hundreds of complaints coming daily, I think it is about time that this Body took action. I say to you further that no W. P. A. official, whether he be an administrative official or a supervisor, should be permitted to fire people off the W. P. A. pay rolls without first getting the consent of our Soldiers' Relief Commissioner. I say to you further, Mr. President, that no W. P. A. official should be allowed to discharge a man with a family who has come from the Welfare Board on the authority of the Executive Director of the Public Welfare, because when a man with a family is discharged from the W. P. A. he has to go all through another investigation down at Oliver street, with the result that he and his family are the sufferers. I ask you, Mr. President and members of this Body, to pass this order so that we may take proper action in getting some respect from the W. P. A. high salaried officials down on Oliver street.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HOWARD PLACE, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Howard place, Ward 13, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS, ROSLINDALE SQUARE.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a study of traffic conditions in Roslindale square and to submit to the City Council a report containing his recommendations for relieving congestion at this point.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COST OF ROSLINDALE IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Planning Board be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council at an early date with reference to the following:

1. The estimated cost of extending Belgrade avenue through List place to Washington street.

2. The estimated cost of constructing an underpass at Roslindale Station, under the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, where a footpath is now located.

3. The advisability of extending Cummins Highway through the park at Roslindale square to connect with South street.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, the traffic situation in Roslindale has been a bone of contention in the last ten years. They have had different boards confer to figure out how they can alleviate the congestion now existing and to arrange for ample parking space for the patrons of Roslindale and West Roxbury. The storekeepers every year are losing thousands of dollars because people in Roslindale itself will not go down into Roslindale square and do their shopping because the congestion is so bad. Now, I have given some suggestions. I ask the Planning Board to answer these questions. I believe it would be advisable to extend Belgrade avenue down through List place to connect on to Washington street and make it a straightaway. It takes several minutes on a Saturday or any evening to go a hundred yards along there due to the heavy traffic congestion that has been existing for the last four or five years. They may talk about expense and everything else, but I think this is an order that has merit, and the Traffic Commission and the Planning Board should sit down, I think, and plan out something that will alleviate the congestion that is now existing. I say that this Body here should pass this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LAY-OFFS IN W. P. A.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with local W. P. A. officials in an effort to prevent the lay off of widows and single women who have no other means of support, when further reductions in the W. P. A. forces become necessary.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

REINSTATEMENT OF JAMES GRAY.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the reinstatement of James Gray as a member of the Boston Police Department, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. FISH, at 5.14 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 22, 1939, at 2 p. m.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 346.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Grace, Duggan and Murphy, having heard by reference a complaint made by Capt. Joseph McKinnon, Division 6, against John J. Kearns, patrolman, Division 6, for alleged violation of the rules and regulations of the Police Department, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer and neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged.

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman John J. Kearns be suspended from duty for a period of ten days, effective as of May 13, 1939, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman John J. Kearns perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

No. 22

PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER GEORGE G. HYLAND REFUTES CHARGES OF FINANCE COMMISSION RELATIVE TO PAVING MATERIALS—ADDRESSES LETTER TO MAYOR TOBIN SHOWING THAT MANY TESTS WERE MADE AND THAT MATERIALS CONTRACTED FOR WERE BEST FOR PURPOSES NEEDED, BEING SUPERIOR TO THAT CALLED FOR IN BIDS FOR CONTRACTS—SHOWS, ALSO, THAT LABORATORY, CHEMIST AND FACILITIES ALL COMBINED TO GIVE CITY MORE THAN VALUE FOR VALUE IN MATERIALS IN ADDITION TO OTHER ADVANTAGES NOT ENJOYED BY MANY SURROUNDING CITIES AND TOWNS.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,— This is to acknowledge receipt of report of May 26, submitted to your Honor by the Finance Commission, relative to the contracts for supplying the Public Works Department with bituminous mixes.

The report states that in the years 1937 and 1938 no city authority made adequate tests of the material. That is true in so far as the year 1937 is concerned, but in the year 1938 forty-two tests were made, and up to date, in the year 1939, eighteen tests have been made, all by the chemist employed in the Public Works Department.

It is true that approximately 20 per cent of the bituminous material furnished to the department does not comply with the specifications relative to the various sizes of stone. However, in such cases, the mix, in our opinion, is superior to that called for in the specifications, particularly where the depression to be filled in is shallow.

The report also states that in 1938 the tests were made simply for the purpose of determining the proportion of mineral aggregate and the percentage of asphalt in the mix, that is, they allege that no attempt was made to analyze the asphalt cement or the mineral filler.

Statement in Error.

This statement is in error, as in the year 1938 six tests were made to analyze the various ingredients in the bituminous mix.

As stated in the report, the city chemist has been deprived of the use of an automobile, but this does not prevent him from making a sufficient number of tests, nor does it reduce in any way the efficiency of the laboratory, as arrangements were made early in 1939 to have specimens of the bituminous mix brought to the chemist by all the district foremen of the Paving Service. This plan has worked out to the satisfaction of the chemist and we anticipate continuing the present procedure. If it is necessary for the chemist to go to any plant for the purpose of obtaining samples of the asphalt cement or the mineral filler, arrangements have been made to place a car at his disposal at any time that he finds the necessity of it.

The present contract, in the amount of $4.41 per ton, is, in our opinion, the lowest price that can be obtained for this material and it would be to the advantage of the city to extend the contract, if the vendor is agreeable.

It has always been the general policy to accept the certification of the sworn weigher regarding the accuracy of the weight of the material actually delivered. All such weighers in Boston are appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council. They take oath before the City Clerk to faithfully and impartially perform their respective duties. Reliance must necessarily be placed upon the certificate of the sworn weigher, unless there is reason to believe that the weigher, acting in concert with his concern, is falsifying his records.

Average Costs.

In 1936 the average cost to the Public Works Department for Class I bituminous concrete, delivered at the site, was $6.34 per ton, in 1937 the average price was $4.51, and in 1938 the average price was $5.95.

In 1938 the W. P. A. authorities purchased 29,000 tons at an average cost of $4.75 per ton, which included only the material delivered to the project, whereas, in the contracts in the Public Works Department, in the same year, the contractor supplied rollers and rakers, which would account for the difference in cost.

The City of Boston is receiving more value for what it is paying per ton than any of the cities or towns in the vicinity of Boston where it was possible to check during the limited time available. In many cases we find that they are paying approximately the same cost per ton as the Public Works Department, without requiring the vendor to supply rollers or rakers. We also feel that in comparison with the price that the W. P. A. authorities are paying for the material, the city, taking into consideration the supplying of the rollers and rakers, is receiving as much, if not more, value for the amount expended.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Mr. Morrissey recommends a change in specification to reduce the maximum size of stone from $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches to $\frac{3}{4}$ inch, inasmuch as the bituminous mixture containing the smaller size stone is more suitable for our purpose.

In view of the fact that the Finance Commission have reported to me personally that one vendor has in one instance been 200 pounds short on a 20,000-pound load, and in another instance 250 pounds short on a similar 20,000-pound load, I have decided for the present to put one Public Works Department employee in each of the plants supplying bituminous concrete to the city.

In addition, I am also requesting the Sealer of Weights and Measures periodically to check any materials that are sold to the Public Works Department and paid for on the basis only of the certified weigher's statement.

It has been hard to estimate the city's requirements because of the fluctuations of the contributions made by the Federal Government. In the early part of 1938 it appeared that the city would have to buy all the materials, but by the month of April your Honor was able to make arrangements with the Federal Government and to secure substantial increased contributions and as a result the Federal Government furnished 29,000 tons and the city purchased but 4,700 tons. At my request Mr. Morrissey, the highway engineer, is studying the question of submitting a set of proposals to cover the city's requirements for an entire year.

GEORGE G. HYLAND,

Commissioner, Public Works Department.

MAYOR TOBIN PRAISES MARITIME DAY AS A POSSIBLE MEANS OF CALLING ATTENTION OF THE WORLD TO BOSTON'S ADVANTAGES AS A PORT—CITES THE MANY ADVANTAGES IT HAS OVER OTHER ATLANTIC SEABOARD PORTS AND EXPRESSES HOPE THAT BUSINESS WILL RAPIDLY INCREASE SO AS TO PROVIDE JOBS FOR CITIZENS IN STILL GREATER NUMBERS—ASKS FOR RENEWAL OF FAITH, ENTHUSIASM AND INTEREST TO BRING PROGRESS AND WELFARE TO WHOLE CITY.

The following is, in part, the address of Mayor Tobin at the celebration of National Maritime Day at Commonwealth Pier, South Boston, Sunday, May 21.

On Maritime Day we all come up shouting, "Hurrah for the United States!" By the sailing ship, Europe discovered America; but by the steamship, America discovered Europe.

As Mayor of Boston, I rejoice with the nation in memory of the day when Savannah, Georgia, showed the world, for the first time in history, that a steamship could cross the Atlantic.

The triumph aroused competition; and, as Mayor of Boston, I want to remind you what happened next. In the year 1839, Samuel Cunard founded the British steam packet company which now, as the Cunard-White Star, is one of the biggest on earth. To the sad dismay of New York, the original Cunard Company chose the Port of Boston as its terminus in the United States. The first Cunarder arrived here on June 2, 1840; and Boston soon had the service of four transatlantic steamships, while New York had only one.

The approaching centennial of that first Cunard landing is an occasion that I hope Boston will celebrate. It would teach not merely a sentimental lesson in history. It would be, as I see it, a jubilee for geography—a popular celebration of the good planning of the physical universe that placed Boston three hundred miles nearer Europe than any other major port of America on the Atlantic.

That is one big reason why Samuel Cunard chose this port a century ago, and that reason holds just as good today as it did then.

Another good everlasting fact—the harbor of Boston is more accessible to the open sea than any other big Eastern port.

Shippers and passengers throughout the world should heed such facts. Boston's way to the sea saves time and saves money.

That's true as the book of Genesis, and Boston didn't stop there. Our main channel has been dug so deep that it is deeper at high tide than the channel in any other Atlantic port—five feet deeper than New York's. That means a safe welcome to the world's biggest ships.

Waiting to receive them on our long, commodious waterfront is the great Army Base, and this efficient Commonwealth Pier.

Then there is our mammoth drydock, a hospice large enough for any merchant-Leviathan that sails the five oceans. And now Senator Walsh brings us the glorious news that the Senate has voted to spend more than two and a quarter million dollars to equip this dock to repair and recondition the Navy's largest ships.

I rejoice in the Senator's achievement, for it means early employment of two to three thousand workmen and in the future continuous jobs for almost as many more as at the Navy Yard. It's just such a promise of jobs and prosperity as is now being turned into reality by the big contracts for new shipbuilding at Quincy.

Jobs—more jobs—that's what I want for Boston, and that's what you want for Boston. The port gives jobs—for thousands upon thousands of seamen, chandlers, longshoremen, shipping clerks, office men, commission agents and all the other branches of labor, both skilled and unskilled, that enter into the handling of vessels, their freight and their passengers.

In the port lies the busy home of Boston's oldest industry—the fishing industry—older and earlier on the New England coast than even the Pilgrims and Puritans. Again, on the waterfront our newest industry has found its home. The clipper ships have come once more—the sailing ships of the air—faster a hundred times than the clippers of yore. The East Boston Airport is far more accessible to the city's heart than are most of the large municipal fields, and it is ideally located to share in the great development of transatlantic aviation now impending.

All in all, the future on Boston's waterfront is of strong promise, even as the present condition of our seaborne commerce is better than most people realize. They think of the sailing days, when this harbor was a forest of ship-masts, and they suppose the glory departed when that forest fell. Picturesque, but absurd.

A single modern steamship carries a greater tonnage of freight than a whole fleet of sail. And at the Army Base, where the "Normandie" and "Queen Mary" can play hide and seek, more goods can be docked in a day than in whole months of yesteryear.

In imports, thanks to our huge coastwise and intercoastal trade, Boston still ranks second among all these ports of the United States. We do need a greater volume of exports, and on this score, shipping operators are missing their opportunity. In New England's great manufacturing area the Port of Boston has the best industrial hinterland of any port in the nation, teeming with prospects of cargo—cargo of a kind that pays the highest freight rates per ton in the world. These prospects mean profit for ship-owners who show the enterprise and the energy needed to clinch them.

The port now suffers from some disadvantages, but the Commonwealth and the Port Authority are even now studying means to offset or remove every drawback. I eagerly anticipate their success.

Indeed, I know that they will have success—upon one condition: that the people of Boston, of Massachusetts, of all New England may gain the renewal of faith, enthusiasm and interest which this great port justifies, and that they work together for the port's progress, which means so much to the welfare of us all.

Hazel and Dutch, the two elephants presented to the City of Boston Franklin Park Zoo, were officially received by Mayor Maurice J. Tobin at the Boston Garden, at two p. m., Saturday, May 27. The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ON ACCOUNT

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of May 8, 1939, reporting that under the provisions of Chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889 the School Committee, pending the adoption of the budget for the year and the passing of the appropriation orders connected therewith, may make expenditures which shall not be in excess of one-third of the total appropriation for the fiscal year immediately preceding.

In view of the fact that the budget and itemized appropriation orders for the current fiscal year are now under consideration and will not be passed until some future date, it is advisable to put through an appropriation on account to provide for expenditures already made on the January 31st, February 28th, March 31st and April 30th drafts and those that will be made on the May 31st draft.

The Business Manager therefore recommended the passage of the accompanying order making appropriations on account for all items of maintenance, with the exception of the item, "Alteration and repair of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards."

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christiansen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

"STOP" SIGN, SOUTH AND CENTRE STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of May 8, 1939, concerning the installation of a "Stop" sign at the corner of South and Centre streets, Ward 20.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 19, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order, dated May 8, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered That the Traffic Commissioner be requested through his Honor the Mayor, to install a 'Stop' sign at the corner of South and Centre streets, Ward 20."

This location is comprised of the intersection of Centre street, Church street and South street.

We assume that the Council order intends the installation of "Stop" signs in South street at Centre street to govern South street traffic entering the intersection. Because of the peculiar layout of the intersection it would be necessary to erect such a sign at a point so far back of the desired stopping point that it could not be effective.

Accurate observations made by this department show that only about 30 per cent of motorists obey "Stop" signs. It is our opinion that the percentage which would obey a sign erected at this location would be much less and that a more dangerous condition than exists at present would be created, because Centre street traffic would assume that all traffic entering the area from South street would stop before entering.

This location is on a list where this commission has recommended the installation of automatic traffic signals when funds are made available for the purpose.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Placed on file.

SOLARIUM FOR WOMEN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Park Department Chairman relative to your order of May 8, 1939, concerning the construction of a solarium for the use of women at the L Street Bath House, either as a W. P. A. project or with funds to be obtained from some other available source.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 16, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have your memorandum of May 12, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Department arrange for the construction of a solarium for the use of women at the L Street Bath House.

Some years ago tentative plans were prepared for the construction of a solarium of this kind—the cost ran into approximately $60,000. A project—the sponsor's contribution would be so high it would be very inadvisable to attempt to construct it with W. P. A. forces. In the event that a solarium was constructed, the maintenance would amount to considerable. For instance, the building that is now closed during the winter months would have to be piped for heating and kept hot both day and night; also hot water boilers would have to be installed and showers. It would also mean a force of eight women with superintendence.

There is no way in which I know this maintenance can be arranged for, as we cannot maintain the activities we now have.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Placed on file.

"WHITE WAY" LIGHTING, GROVE HALL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 17, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works make a survey of the Grove Hall section of Roxbury with a view of installing a "white way" lighting system in that section.

I regret to advise that, due to budget limitations, there is no money available for the installation of white ways.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS, SHERWOOD ROAD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of April 24, 1939, concerning the installation of electric lights on Sherwood road, Ward 20.

Respectfully,

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works install electric lights on Sherwood road, Ward 20.

This will advise you that an order will be issued by this department for the installation of the past two small electric lamps on above-named street.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

To the City Council.

P. A. in Ward 20 during the past two years with a view to using some type of binder that will keep the streets from deteriorating within one year after construction work is completed.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 16, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works make a survey of all streets that have been constructed by the W. P. A. in Ward 20 during the past two years with a view to using some type of binder that will keep the streets from deteriorating within one year after construction work is completed.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

There were approximately twenty-five streets built in this ward of penetration macadam pavement and, at the present time, I find that there are ten of them which are in need of a blanket coat of asphalt, but are in fair condition.

This department intends to do this work this year provided a diversion of funds from the gas tax is made by the Commonwealth and the city receives some of this money.

There is one other street which is in rather poor condition due to the past winter's severity and this street will also be taken care of when these funds are available.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Subject: City Council order of May 8, 1939, Huntington Avenue Subway construction.
Dear Sir,—Complying with instructions contained in your communication of May 12, subject—City Council order of May 8, 1939, concerning the inspection of sidewalks and building foundations in the vicinity of the Huntington Avenue Subway construction, please be informed that four building inspectors were immediately assigned to the district involved, namely, that along the north and south sides of Huntington Avenue from the Exeter Street Bridge to the Boston Opera House, and said inspectors have made special reports on the condition of structures at 137 addresses, all on Huntington Avenue with the exception of one at 8 Cumberland Street, and one at 300 Massachusetts Avenue, corner of Huntington Avenue.

Although the City Council order requests an inspection of sidewalks you undoubtedly are aware of the fact that the work of inspecting sidewalks does not come within the jurisdiction of this department, but in some instances the building inspectors have reported conditions of settlement of either sidewalks or walks from the sidewalk line into buildings forming approaches to same, yet in very few cases have the reports indicated any settlement in the main structures or buildings and where such settlement has been noted records on file in this department will indicate the extent of masonry fractures.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES H. MOONEY,
Building Commissioner.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 18, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works install sidewalks, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, on the following streets in Ward 20: Brookfield street, Hamilton street, Maple street.

Relative to Brookfield street, a canvass of this street has been made, and the majority of the abutments have signified their intention of paying their proportionate share of the cost of this work and, when the necessary lien order has been approved in City Council to have artificial stone sidewalks installed, arrangements will be made to proceed with the work.

Relative to Hamilton street and Maple street, the majority of the abutments have signified their unwillingness to assume their proportionate share of the cost of this work.

ABOLITION, GRADE CROSSING, BIRD STREET STATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of April 24, 1939, concerning the matter of abolishing the grade crossing at the Bird Street Station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in Dorchester and erecting an overpass.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 12, 1939.
William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—The following order was passed in the City Council on April 24, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take up with the State Department of Public Works the matter of abolishing the grade crossing at the Bird Street Station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in Dorchester and erecting an overpass, the expense of same to be met by the Federal Government under the Hayden-Cartwright Act."

As requested in the order, I have taken up this matter with the State Department of Public Works, and they have agreed to eliminate the present grade crossing by constructing an overpass to extend from the corner of Monadnock street and Cedar place to Magnolia street. The proposed location of this overpass will follow the present line of Cedar place and will pass over the railroad tracks and Alexander street as far as Magnolia street on the northerly side of the Benedict Fenwick School.

The entire cost of construction, which is estimated at $170,000, will be assumed by the Federal Government, under the provisions of the Hayden-Cartwright Act. The contract will be advertised some time this summer, and the entire project should be completed by the spring of 1940.

This will make a worthwhile improvement at this location, and will eliminate entirely the dangerous conditions now existing at the Bird Street grade crossing.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

WITHDRAWAL OF PROPOSED SALARY INCREASE FOR SHERIFF.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit communication received from the Hon. John F. Dowd, Sheriff of Suffolk County, in which he expresses a desire to withdraw a proposed salary increase for his position which was presented to your Honorable Body on April 3, 1939.

In view of this communication I would suggest to your Honorable Body that no action be taken on the above referred to order.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Office of Sheriff,
Suffolk County,
Boston, Massachusetts,
May 18, 1939.

To His Honor, Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—On April 3, 1939, you sent a communication to the City Council recommending a change in the County Classification Plan fixing my total salary at $6,000 rather than $4,000. In view of the fact that the sheriffs' salaries of all the larger counties were in excess of mine and in view of the fact that my duties were to be multiplied by reason of the new Court House building, I felt this change of salary was justified.

However, it appears at the present time that changes are to be made in the direct management of the new Court House, which of course, will reduce my responsibility somewhat. Therefore, I might say that the present change in my salary now before the City Council must be viewed in a different light than if I were to continue as sole custodian of the new building.

In view of this, may I suggest that you make my wishes known by sending that Body a communication withdrawing the order which affects my present salary.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN F. DOWD, Sheriff.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston School Committee Secretary relative to your order of April 24, 1939, concerning an opinion as to the legality of making compulsory the moving into Boston of non-resident teachers on the department pay roll, and also your order of same date concerning that in the event such action shall be ruled legal, the Committee be requested to instruct all such teachers to establish residence in Boston.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
School Committee, May 16, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir.—At last evening's conference, the School Committee received and placed on file the orders passed by the City Council on April 24, 1939.

(a.) Asking the School Committee, through his Honor the Mayor, to request the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to the legality of making compulsory the moving into Boston of non-resident teachers on the department pay roll; and

(b.) That in the event such action shall be ruled legal, the Committee be requested to instruct all such teachers to establish residence in Boston prior to the beginning of the next school year, and to inform all such employees that failure to comply with such request will be cause for immediate dismissal after October 1, 1939.

TRANSFER OF LAND, ALBANY STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith an order for the transfer of land at 312 Albany street from the care and custody of the Custodian of Foreclosed Real Estate to the Public Works Department of the City of Boston.

The land in question is convenient to the Public Works Department Yard on Albany street and comprises some twenty-nine thousand square feet of land. It is ideally situated for use by the Public Works Department as the inclosed letter from the Public Works Commissioner would indicate.

I recommend passage of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 12, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor.—The City of Boston foreclosed on a piece of property at 312 Albany street, Boston, on March 11, 1939. This area contains 28,859 square feet of land, and is now under the jurisdiction of the Custodian of Foreclosed Real Estate.

The Paving District Yard is now located at No. 650 Albany street, adjacent to the garage of the Public Works Department. This yard occupies land that could be used to much better advantage for the storage of motor vehicles and for various other purposes in conjunction with the work that is being done in the garage.

In view of this, I feel that it would be advantageous to select another location in that vicinity and construct a modern and up-to-date yard for the use of the Paving Service. The area at 312 Albany street would serve as an ideal location, and this proposal meets with the approval of Mr. Daniel Driscoll of the Real Estate Division of the Public Buildings Department.

I am inclosing four copies of an order that has been prepared by the Law Department, to be introduced in the City Council, authorizing the transfer of this land from the jurisdiction of the Custodian of Foreclosed Real Estate to the Public Works Department. I respectfully request that you submit this order to the City Council for their approval.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Whereas, The City of Boston by a decree of the Land Court, Suffolk Registry District, dated March 11, 1939, foreclosed a right of redemption under a tax deed recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 5396, page 72, on the land with the buildings thereon on the southeasterly side of Albany street numbered three hundred and twelve (312) in the numbering of said Albany street and supposed to contain about twenty-eight thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine (28,859) square feet; and

Whereas, The Commissioner of the Public Works Department of the City of Boston is desirous of using the said premises as a district yard of the said Public Works Department; now, therefore, it is hereby APPROPRIATION FOR BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen.—I have received a letter from the Boston Housing Authority requesting an appropriation in the sum of $25,000 for the purposes set forth in said letter.

Accordingly, I transmit herewith an order appropriating the sum of $25,000, to be expended by the Authority, and I recommend prompt consideration and passage of said order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Boston Housing Authority, May 12, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor.—The Boston Housing Authority requests that an appropriation of $25,000 be made to be expended by this Authority during the remainder of the year 1939.

The foregoing sum will be used for (1) preparation of data for new projects; (2) for research in and surveys of housing conditions and needs in the city in connection with proposed projects; (3) sponsor's contributions for W. P. A. projects for real property inventories and surveys in connection with which it is contemplated 300 persons will be employed on projects estimated at $150,000; and (4) for miscellaneous administrative expenditures.

During the year 1938 the sum of $30,000 was appropriated for the use of the Boston Housing Authority; $20,000 by order of the City Council passed on February 28, 1938, and approved by your Honor on March 3, 1938; and $10,000 by transfer from the Reserve Fund on December 16, 1938.

As I advised your Honor on November 28, 1938, when this Authority requested the transfer of $10,000, hereinbefore referred to, it was originally contemplated that the $20,000 appropriated by the City Council on February 28, 1938, might be repaid to the city; but it became apparent, when enabling state legislation became effective on July 5, 1938, that the broad program of this Authority, the development of new projects and the administrative work of this Authority required the expenditure not only of the original $20,000 but of additional sums for further studies of plans and estimates of proposed new projects, in order to carry the housing program through the end of 1938 and into the beginning of 1939.

Because the proper planning and development of new projects require the expenditure of time, care and money, I respectfully urge that the sum of $25,000 be made available immediately for the use of this Authority in accordance with the purposes hereinbefore set forth.

Respectfully,
BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY,
by JOHN A. BREEN, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Boston Housing Authority for the purpose of defraying initial costs and administrative expenses of the said Authority in connection with its proposed projects, including the following:

1. Preparation of data for new projects.
2. Research in and surveys of housing conditions and needs in the City of Boston.
3. Participation in W. P. A. projects for real property inventories and surveys.
4. General administration of said Authority and the performance of its duties.

Said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund. Referred to Executive Committee.

SURVEY, CHARLESTOWN TRAFFIC CONDITIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of May 1, 1939, concerning the making of a survey of traffic conditions in City square, Charlestown, and establish rotary traffic.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 16, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor.—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated May 1, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of traffic conditions in City square, Charlestown, and establish rotary traffic."

Several months ago Councilor William J. Galvin requested this commission to make a survey of Charlestown and Warren Bridges to see whether or not it would be possible to run traffic one way on these bridges and by so doing relieve traffic congestion in Keany square and City square.

Studies have been made at the councilor's suggestion and we are waiting until the proposed resurfacing of Causeway street and Washington Street North is completed. This plan of one-way bridges contemplates a rotary traffic movement in City square.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

(a) The number of persons on Boston W. P. A. projects as of May 1; and

(b) The net number of persons dropped from W. P. A. in Boston as a result of instructions from Washington reducing the Massachusetts quota.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, during the public hearing I understood Colonel Sullivan to state that the number of persons on W. P. A. at the present time is substantially 5,000 under the number on W. P. A. at the corresponding period of last year, but I merely wish to have the information officially.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REORGANIZATION OF DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to promptly present for Council consideration an order for the reorganization and consolidation of the fiscal departments of the city to include the Auditing, Budget, Assessing, Collecting, Treasury, Supply, Statistics, Sinking Funds and possibly the Printing Department; said consolidation to be substantially in accordance with plan submitted to the City Council special committee on consolidations in October of 1937; and such plan to be substantially in accord with plans for fiscal reorganization of city departments sponsored by the present Mayor in 1937.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, chapter 227 of the Acts of 1934 gave to the Mayor and City Council jointly the power to reorganize, consolidate or abolish city departments, and,—while we do not always remember the fact—to establish salaries of all heads of departments or members of boards, except the School Committee, Commissioner of School Buildings, Election Department, and departments in charge of officials appointed by the Governor. Recent budget hearings have again accentuated that unfortunate division of powers and responsibilities which tends to prevent any coordinate and general plan for a reduction of the expenses of the city which will keep down the tax rate. The Elevated deficit, Metropolitan district assessments, and the annual state tax deficit are items which the city government is powerless to avoid. Expenditures by the School Department are entirely outside the powers of the City Council although representing about one third of our operating expenses. Other departments such as the Police Department, the Library and the courts frequently seem in a position to continue increased expenditures regardless of Council action. The City Council, with a minimum of power over the expenditures of a very limited number of departments, frequently with some real reason points to a majority of items in the annual bill of the city over which the Council has no control. The School Department and the Massachusetts Legislature are always prompt to point out that each has only a partial voice in the amount of the annual charge to the taxpayers of Boston. While the various officials who have a part in the establishment of the Boston tax rate throw the ball from one to the other, the unfortunate taxpayer invariably gets caught between the bases. It would at least relieve the present desperate situation if each official body, having a part in establishing the size of our annual tax rate, would endeavor to row its own weight in the boat. We have had a financial overseer, at an annual cost of $25,000, to endeavor to keep various departments in line and with general unofficial supervisory powers. If we are to systematize the business of the city so far as those departments within the control of the Mayor and Council are concerned, I believe it should be through a proper reorganization of certain city departments, and not incidentally through unofficial control. The most important departments to be considered are the fiscal agencies, which might well be unified under a Commissioner of Finance, but his powers and duties should be officially defined. I have in mind, of course, the fact that undoubtedly the suggestion, although not a new one, will not be treated in any way in a hostile manner by the Mayor, because I remember many of his speeches during the recent campaign in which he exhibited a very friendly interest in a possible reorganization of the fiscal departments of the City of Boston. I realize that it is no doubt due to the fact that, under a new administration, the expedient was made use of last year to appoint Mr. Whitcomb as a sort of an unofficial city official without portfolio, at a cost of some $25,000. I have no personal criticism to make of Mr. Whitcomb except that, of course, any such arrangement leaves the Assessing Department, for example, in a position where, before any abatements can be made, the assent of this unofficial observer must be obtained, and it leaves the average city department head in a position where there is a powerful unofficial personage between the city departments and the Mayor's Office, with a degree of authority, or certainly with a degree of influence which, in my opinion, should not be in the hands of any person not strictly on the Boston pay roll, and with a person the source of whose salary we are not wholly familiar with, because I don't know from what department or what part of the budget the $25,000 came. So that, the initial days of the new administration now being over, and remembering the favorable comment of the Mayor concerning possible reorganization of that life blood of the city, the fiscal departments, I feel that the time has come for some definite steps to be taken and real consideration to be had so that the Mayor and the City Council, with their joint powers, may reorganize the fiscal departments of the city. I see no particular reason, for example, why the Budget Department and the Auditing Department can't be parts of the same department, when I remember back how Mr. Fox—one of the ablest executives, to be sure, in the City of Boston's employ—was the head of and ran both departments simultaneously. I have in mind the question of abatements, and any councilor who has had to go to the Assessing Department for abatements knows that to hurry the matter along there are those trips from the assessors down to the collectors, and from the collectors up to the assessors, and from the assessors down to the collectors. In other words, there is a close connection between the Assessing Department and the Collecting Department, with powers that interlock. So that I urge upon the Council the adoption of this order, which I trust will meet with the approval of the Mayor, feeling that in these desperate times—and I use the phrase advisedly—this is the day and the hour for the government of the City of Boston to consider a reasonable and an effective consolidation of the fiscal departments of the city.

At the request of Coun. AGNEW the order was again read by the clerk.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, if the Chair has no other suggestion I move that this be referred to the Executive Committee.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection the matter will be referred to the Executive Committee.

The matter was so referred.

CHANGES IN BUDGET AS SUBMITTED.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Appropriations be requested to confer further with the Budget Commissioner for the following purposes:

1. Adjustment of various items in the budget in accordance with recent allocation by the Mayor of $1,194,300 received late in 1938 from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

2. The allocation of Boston's share of that part of $19,200,000 to be distributed this year to cities and towns for highway purposes by act of the Massachusetts Legislature, from gasoline tax receipts, with the approval of the Governor, which sum should approximate $375,000, and adjustment of any proposed departmental appropriations accordingly.

3. To cut out such items in the budget as would provide this year for any so-called step-rate increases to city and county employees now receiving $2,200, or more, per year.

4. To eliminate for the balance of the year, starting as of June 1, 1939, such salary increases to employees previously paid $2,200, or more, per year, (a) as were allowed in the closing days of 1937 by the previous administration, and (b) as may have been allowed since January 1, 1938.

5. To cut from the budget at least $150,000 in salary estimates, in view of the fact that on January 1, 1939, there were 396 less employees on the pay roll of city departments than on January 1, 1938, and yet the present 1939 budget for personal service in city departments is only $112,408.25 less than actual expenditures for the same items in 1938; but with any cuts made to affect no employees receiving $2,200 or less.

6. To effect a cut of not less than 2 per cent in the budget of each city and county department without reducing any salaries of $2,200 or less per year.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President and members of the Council, I, of course, appreciate the fact that undoubtedly the Committee on Appropriations will make various recommendations as the result of their many hours of hearings here, and as the result of the public meeting that was held in this hall last week. There are, however, certain items regarding which I feel, if they consider them, they should continue to be in very close touch with the Budget Commissioner. I do not believe the vast amount of detailed clerical work for a substantially good job with reference to the items that I mention should be left with the Committee on Appropriations without the assistance of the Budget Commissioner, so that I merely urge the adoption of this order and the consideration of those various items in order that, with the help of the Budget Commissioner, the Committee on Appropriations, or other members of the Council, can perhaps pick out items here and there that should be reduced and these outstanding items can be taken care of, or, at least, considered. I will frankly admit that, although some orders have come through with reference to them, my own mind is a little hazy on the allocation of the one million-odd thousand dollars that came through as the result of last year's act of the Legislature, with a consequent reflection in the budget, nor just what disposition will be made of our share of that part of the nineteen million-odd dollars from the gasoline fund which is to be paid over to us shortly, which will also be reflected to a certain extent in the budget. I realize that any order of this nature, or any action on the part of the City Council other than signing on the dotted line, will, to a certain extent, create hard feelings and criticism. I do not believe that any city official at the present time wishes to unduly upset the local financial situation, or to unduly upset the people of Boston who have so much at stake. But I believe as earnestly as I can possibly express it, Mr. President, that this year the tax rate in the City of Boston must not be advanced, and I believe that it is incumbent as a duty, not only on the members of the Legislature, who have their part of the duty, not only on the School Committee, but also on the City Council of the City of Boston, even if it does cause a few tears, to see to it that the tax rate of the City of Boston does not exceed its present record figure. Now, I know that one of the most touching subjects—and rightly so—that you can ever mention, is the question of salaries, and that it apparently does not make much difference whether you refer to a salary of $40 or $50 a week, or whether you refer to the salaries of people receiving $6,000, $7,000, and oftentimes up in that range. You are still criticized for raising your voice. Now, I would hate to see cuts in the wages of the city employees of the City of Boston, even though I stand here today and prophesy that if the tax rates go up this year there will be some effort to return to the salary cuts which were made in 1933 and 1934, and which would even cut into the little fellow making $1,000 or less, who took a 5 per cent in the cut, would even cut into the little fellow making $1,600 down to $1,000, who took a cut to the tune of 10 per cent, would even cut into the man making between $1,600 and $2,200, who took a cut to the tune of 15 per cent. I hear that in mind and I urge upon you, Mr. President and members of the Council, that it is imperative that, while there is still time, the City Council snap out of it, because if some definite steps are not taken the taxpayers of the City of Boston will rise up in wrath—and I don't mean with bands and flags, but they will rise up with a wrath which will either mean a tax strike, which I would hate to see, or the appealing of thousands of cases to the Board of Tax Appeals, which is the logical, constitutional and proper way for the taxpayers of Boston to strike. So that I say I do not want to see any cuts in salaries, and I know that what I am going to say in my next sentence is going to be severely criticized. But with all due frankness, Mr. President, when I have friends of mine in private employment this last year or two tell me how times are tough, that they have just taken another 10 per cent cut or another 20 per cent cut, and then they come in a month or two and they are all through—in these days when men in private employment, when taxpayers who have some rights, are standing with their backs to the wall, I don't care who it hits, if I have known them a hundred years, no city or county employee who is receiving a salary in excess of $40 to $42 a week has any right to expect the taxpayers of Boston to give him a raise, whether it is in the form of a step rate or some special favor through some special influence. And I know that this statement is going to make enemies. It is going to cause unfavorable comments so far as I am concerned, but I repeat that any public employee today, with the security that he has, with his pension rights, with reasonably easy hours, with a fair vacation, who is making $40 to $42 a week and more, has certainly got a crust to condemn any member of the City Council or any city official who says that in this of all periods in the history of the City of Boston he should not have a raise.

The order was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

PAYMENT TO RESIDENT OWNERS OF HOMES TAKEN IN HOUSING PROJECTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested, incident to takings by eminent domain for proposed low rent housing projects, to pay over to resident owners of homes taken such sum in each case as the Boston Housing Authority has determined is a fair market price for such property, and that such payment be made prior to eviction proceedings and irrespective of whether resident owners insist on their right to determine an ultimate higher price in court proceedings.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, although, of course, the members of the Council realized that steps were being taken to extend the so-called low rent housing in the City of Boston, and although many of us were familiar with the fact that agents of the Boston Housing Authority were collecting 2 per cent commission or more for signing willing or unwilling property owners on the dotted line, and even though we knew that purchases were being made of properties, it did, of course, come as something of a shock, not so much to us as to the little home owners of Charlestown, Roxbury, and those of them who are left in that area in South Boston, to learn that the City of Boston had filed in the Registry of Deeds what amounts to the taking of homes by eminent domain. I read in the papers that the constitutionality of that action has already been determined, although I am unfamiliar with the date of the case in Massachusetts where it has been finally determined, and was under the impression that a rather important case is to come up on or around June 5, testing some points of housing and tax exemption originally brought by City of Holyoke. But in any event we read in yesterday's papers of this taking by eminent domain, as a start, I assume, on that ten-year program which Mr. Breen told us about, which, after the expenditure of $191,000,000, will presumably house 35,000 families in the City of Boston. Consider, Mr. President, the seriousness of that if it goes through—and I am not going to get too far from the order itself. We realize that in the average family there are some three votes, certainly, putting it conservatively, in 35,000 families, taking but two to a family, we can assume 70,000 votes, and with a present police list of 534,230, and with a present voting list of approximately 324,000, such a program, placing about 35,000 Boston families in these housing projects, will mean that one out of every eight adults police-listed in the City of Boston, and one out of every five voters in the City of Boston ten years from now will be living in a so-called low rent housing project. They will say, of course, that this is Republican propaganda, but I still insist that when the time comes that one out of every five voters in the City of Boston is living in low rent housing, with the control that there must be in any housing, whether it is an apartment house or Federal low rent housing, where we are only one step removed from the control of education and religion, and only one step removed from socialism, it becomes a serious matter. Now, I understand from what I read in the paper that they took by eminent domain something like 1,450,000 square feet of land, which will cost some $2,100,000 of money that the government will lend the Housing Authority—our money—and they have taken approximately thirty-four acres in South Boston, Charlestown, and Roxbury, taking title to the homes of 4,700 persons, composing 1,279 families, together with 639 vacant dwelling units, all included in 847 dwelling structures. I understand that the unpaid taxes on any of these properties and the mortgage will be deducted from the price that the owner receives, if there is any salvage left. Of course a lot of the big money interests of the City of Boston, under cover, are in favor of this housing proposition because a lot of them hold mortgages in Charlestown and other sections of the city, which they placed on those properties years ago in amounts more than the property is worth. Long ago they kissed a good part of that money good-by, and no wonder they favor this arrangement which will put some cash into Boston so that some of the financial powers in this Metropolitan district can get back the money that is in the form of mortgages on those little homes, and they will get their first. Now, I read in the paper—and I know it must have been misquoted—where a councilor from one of the districts affected stated that he had taken a postcard poll of 10,000 families and he had some 6,000 replies, 5,500 in favor and 400 against. I know he must have been misquoted, because I have been in the political game quite a few years, Mr. President, and time after time I have taken postcard polls on various subjects in my ward, on matters in which the people supposedly were intensely interested, and I make the statement on the floor of this Council today that I know that any such figure must have been misquoted because there never was a postcard poll in America that got back 60 per cent of the replies. If you get 12 per cent or 18 per cent or 20 per cent on a postcard poll you are shooting to the stars. And I know that is so for another reason, because, strange as it may seem, over the week-end I had telephone calls from people as far away as the Charlestown area. I assume that they are average people in the district, although they may have been a part of that minute minority that is reported to be against housing in Charlestown. But they sounded on the level to me—and incidentally, I have two of them here today. I gathered from them that the people who have the most at stake, and who are not in on any mortgage racket, and who are not in on any options—the people that have the most at stake, the people who were born in their little houses, or brought up in their little houses—are not leading the applause on the Charlestown housing. I talked to one of the men on the telephone last night. He said to me, and it impressed me, "We have got something over here in the shadow of Bunker Hill in Charlestown that a lot of millionaires haven't got. We have got peace and contentment and happiness in American homes, and we don't want to lose them." He said, "I was born and reared here; I don't need housing." He said a high-pressure salesman came in some while back and told him in effect that they were going to take the house, and he said, "The house is not for sale; I intend to die here, and the man had one of these options with him and he told the gentleman where he should sign on the dotted line, and then price, and this little property owner in Charlestown said, 'Why, I paid more than that for the house before I put in electricity and gas and new windows and two bathrooms and a new roof and about 5 feet of fence.' And a high-pressure salesman said, 'Well, that is all wasted.' He said, 'You will either sign the sale of the United States Marshal will be over here and put your furniture out on the sidewalk or into storage.' They tell us that a lot of those buildings are unsanitary and not fit to live in, and this Charlestown resident said to me, 'Then we ought to fire the Board of Health, if that is so, if they are unsanitary to the extent that they are unfit to live in.' He told me about another home and about an old lady who has lived in that home for the past forty-seven years. She doesn't want to sell. Yet all that this order is particularly aimed at today is the fact that if these eminent domain proceedings do go through the average little home owner in Charlestown, for example, is given the alternative of accepting the price that the Housing Authority feels is a fair market value for that house—and, incidentally, in some instances less than the assessed value—or holding out for his rights in court proceedings. The result will be that a little fellow who owns his home in Charlestown and who refuses to sign on the dotted line won't get the price, as I understand it, that the Housing Authority says is a fair price, and for all he knows he can starve to death unless that either ends the case or the local Superior Courts are reached for a trial to determine what a fair price is for the house. I feel that in all fairness—and maybe they plan to do it that way—in all fairness, if these eminent domain proceedings are to go through, there is a moral, ethical duty on the Housing Authority to pay over to those owners, if there is anything left after the mortgages, the price that they say is a fair price for that home, with the property owner still retaining the right to hold out for the figure over that which a Suffolk County jury, for example, may say that the house was really worth. So that in closing on this matter, Mr. President, I say that we have now reached a stage where this low rent housing arrangement is, first of all, unfair to the poor of Boston, including the persons on W. P. A. and the city welfare rolls, numbering over 52,000; in the second place, unfair to the taxpayers of Boston, from whose properties it is contemplated 35,000 families will eventually be moved; in the third place, unfair to the property owners of Boston who must still be locally taxed in competition with the housing properties which are tax free, and taxed in greater measure due to the substitution of tax free property for taxable properties; fourth, unfair to those persons who are required at their own expense to move out of the areas affected but who, not being eligible for admission to the housing projects, must find homes elsewhere in some other communities, in such places as they can; and finally, unfair to those resident property owners in the districts affected whose homes are being taken by eminent domain but who must wait a period of years for court determination of the value of their property, unless they willingly accept valuations set by agents of the Boston Housing Authority, perhaps below even the assessed valuations on which taxes have been paid. Most of those people have not got either of two important things. In the first place, they have not got the price to hire some high-priced lawyer to go up and fight an eminent domain case and get a fair value; and in the second place, most of them are in a financial situation where they must take the figure offered by the Housing Authority or starve for the next two years. Now, I would like to ask that this particular order which I have presented be sent to the Executive Committee. With the consent of the Council I would like to have corroborated some of the things that I have said, and I am going to ask the privilege of having a couple of Charlestown residents tell the Council their feelings on this particular order.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection the matter will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I have listened for the past ten or fifteen minutes to the eloquent speech of the councilor from Dorchester, in which he referred to Charlestown as he probably sees it by going by in the Elevated train but never having lived there. The section of which he speaks, where the housing project is to be set up, is approximately 65 per cent owned by the individuals who live in the neighborhood. He is probably quite right when he states that there are mortgages which are in excess of some of the properties that are owned. I can recall a good many years ago, when the high pressure salesmen came along selling properties in Charlestown with mortgages, that they were taken up by the banks, like the Medford Trust Company and the Charlestown Co-operative Trust Company and the Highland Trust Company, and a few other of the closed banks, where various people in the district had their money invested. I can recall that period of time back in 1924, 1926, 1928 and 1929, when all this money was put out in Charlestown, when there were different kinds of times. Certainly there were high values on property at that time. There is no question that the people did take the money and repaired their properties, did what they could with it over there in Charlestown. They were interested in their district. There is absolutely no question that there are some pieces of property over there which have no bathrooms, there are a lot of properties over there where they still have to go down into the cellar to go to the bathroom, there are a lot of properties over there where you could break through the side walls, there are a lot that are so old and decayed that when the people move out of the properties it is only a matter of two or three weeks before they are in such a deplorable condition that they are a disgrace to the city. It is perfectly all right for the twenty-two members of this Council to live in good, clean, decent homes. That is perfectly good. But there are some conditions in Charlestown, through no fault of the people themselves, but just the condition in which they have to live, because the times are so bad, where the houses are 100, 150, or 160 years old, some of them. But what are they going to do? Are they going to continue to live on in this property while the process of modernization goes on in Dorchester, Roxbury and Hyde Park? Surely there must be some return to a place like Charlestown, where the last piece of property was put up about forty years ago. Speaking of homes,—why should not Charlestown receive a benefit? As far as the postal cards are concerned, I did not say there are 6,000. I do not say there are 4,000. Instead of 4,000 there are 3,600 postal cards, with Uncle Sam's signature on them, stamped on the front of them, and I defy the councilor or Uncle Sam or anyone to take me up and try to convince this City Council that I am using the mails to defraud,—to defraud the people of Boston into believing that the people of Charlestown are that percentage in favor of it. And I say in conclusion, gentlemen, that Charlestown will take three or four more of these projects if they can get them. We will let the whole town be built up, and I have the signatures of approximately 4,000 people in Charlestown, with Uncle Sam's stamp right on the front of the postal card. That is a matter of public record, to be taken up at the post office if there is anything to be done about it.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I am glad to have the councilor from Charlestown corroborate my impression that the story in the Sunday papers was to that extent inaccurate, and with all due apologies to him this is what I read on the front page of the Boston Herald yesterday:

"FAMILIES FAVOR PLAN.

The approximately 800 families in the district of the proposed Charlestown project declared themselves in favor of Federal housing by four to one in a recent postcard poll conducted by City Councilman William J. Galvin, he revealed last night. About a month ago, he said, he sent 10,000 postcards to families throughout Ward 2, asking them to signify whether they favored a Federal housing project.

Of 6,000 replies, 5,500 approved the project, 400 disapproved and 100 were blank. Voting in the area selected for the proposed project was four to one in favor of Federal housing, Galvin said.

I am very glad to know that that newspaper report was in error and that those figures are now revised at least down to 3,600 postcard replies. Now, with reference to the postcard poll in Charlestown, I bear this in mind,—that the people most likely interested are the 676 families who live in the area affected, and I would like to see a postcard poll that really polled the 676 families living in the twelve streets affected. Those are the people whose homes are being taken away from them. Those are the people who have been told that the United States Marshal will move them out if they do not get out, and those are the people, I feel, who have the right to express an opinion on a postcard poll as to how they feel one way or the other. I will frankly admit that if there are residents in that particular section who want such a poll, I will distribute the postcards and will take care of the poll of the 676 families on those twelve streets myself just for my own information.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I will send for my postcard poll so that the councilor from Dorchester may have an opportunity to look at it.

President MURRAY—The matter has been referred to the Executive Committee.

WARD 20 STREETS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Coun. CAREY, for Coun. Englert, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, Codman park, Ward 11, northwesterly and southeasterly from the south end of the present Codman park.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, Haverford street, Ward 11.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

BEACH IN CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to formulate plans and request a W. P. A. project for the establishment of a beach in Charlestown, from Chelsea street to Mystic street, along the banks of the Little Mystic river, to be used as a recreation center for the tenants of the Federal Housing Unit in Charlestown and the general public.

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to cooperate with the Park Commission of the City of Boston for the establishment of a beach in Charlestown, along the banks of the Little Mystic river from Chelsea street to Mystic street, for the recreational benefit of the tenants of the Federal Housing Project and the general public.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF HOUSING PROJECTS.

Coun. SULLIVAN and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make another survey of the districts in which Federal Housing Projects are to be started with a view of further looking into the values of the properties and increasing the appraised value now set in order that no injustice will be done to those who have put into same their life savings.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO HOUSE BILL 116.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston City Council be recorded as opposed to House Bill 116 now pending in the Massachusetts Legislature.

Referred to Executive Committee.

RECESS.

By direction of President Murray the Council took a recess at 3.05 p. m. The members reassembled at 6.11 p. m.

THE NEXT MEETING.

On motion of Coun. McMAHON the Council voted that when it adjourns it be to meet on Monday, June 5, 1939, at 2 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Ellen F. Carney, St. Mary's Hall, June 19; James A. Shanahan, Jordan Hall, May 25; Ruth M. McShane, Forester's Hall, June 9; Hazel Boone, Jordan Hall, June 5; Anna M. Greene, Current Events Hall, May 20, 22; Gabriel Cohen, Regent Manor, May 21; M. Theresa Connell, B. Y. W. C. A., June 1; Ursula M. Loughran, Peabody Playhouse, June 1,—recommending that leave be granted on usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) concerning reorganization and consolidation of fiscal departments of city—recommending passage of accompanying new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider presentation of an order for Council consideration for the reorganization and consolidation of the fiscal departments of the city.

Report accepted; order passed.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) transferring land at 312 Albany street to Public Works Department—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on ordinance (referred May 15) imposing license fee of $20 for cigarette and tobacco vending machine—that same ought to pass.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, without going into any lengthy discussion on the ordinance, I believe that at the executive session the Corporation Counsel expressed the opinion that a license fee of $25 would be declared unconstitutional, and when asked concerning the present ordinance of $20, although not committing himself, as he did not want to advise the Council on the amount of the fee, he suggested that he did not want to advise the members of the Council to pass any bill that would be declared unconstitutional and in his opinion he felt that a $20 license fee would be held unconstitutional in view of the sum set for the service to be rendered, and in order that we might not be placed on record as passing an ordinance that is going to be vetoed or declared by the courts of this Commonwealth to be unconstitutional—and I don't believe that we ought to be in a position of passing acts that we feel are not constitutional or that would be vetoed, as a testing ground—I therefore move that this ordinance be amended by striking out the words "twenty dollars" and inserting in place thereof the words "five dollars."

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, it is very interesting indeed to listen to one of the councilors of the City of Boston, knowing that the City of Boston is trying to obtain new revenue, and hear the councilor express himself in such a manner when it is proposed that the city do get some needed revenue by licensing these machines.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, it is not clear to me that this is a new revenue measure, but it is a new activity. It is an activity in which we are not engaged. We can't charge for an activity more than substantially what it will cost to undertake the activity. I am not in favor of any license at any figure until it is shown that it is really accomplishing some useful public purpose. It means one more expenditure, one more tax, and more people on the pay roll.

The question came on the amendment of Coun. Rosenberg.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, in answer to the councilor from the Allston-Brighton district, let me state that I am perhaps as much interested in the City of Boston as he is, or any other member of this Boston City Council, in so far as bringing revenue into the City of Boston is concerned, but what I am interested in is the members of the Boston City Council not sitting down and passing such ordinances or rules or regulations as will be declared unconstitutional. If we could get a $100 license fee I would be in favor of it, but we can't. We have had the license bill already turned back to us on two or three occasions. We have also received an opinion from the Law Department that in their opinion a $25 license fee would be unconstitutional, and I therefore feel that we ought, if we are going to pass any ordinance, to pass an ordinance which will be constitutional and which will bring revenue into the city, and an ordinance which will not cost the city any money to enforce. There is going to be no expense attached to giving a $5 license, and if we pass anything else we are really passing a tax, which is indeed a sales tax, and when we start putting a sales tax on one line of merchandise we might as well put it on everything and say that we are in favor of the sales tax on sales of merchandise in Boston. I feel that when we pass this amendment we will really be passing a license fee, that there will be no additional expense so far as the Police Department, the Sealer of Weights and Measures, or the other departments that have been mentioned here are concerned. Looking at it from the standpoint of the Police Department, the Health Department, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures, there will be no additional duty involved, there will be no additional expense involved, but we will be getting $5 per machine whether they are tobacco machines or other machines which we may license in the City of Boston in order to bring in revenue. And, as I have said before, I am interested in bringing as much revenue into the city as possible, but I am not interested in trying to put through an ordinance which will be declared unconstitutional. With my limited knowledge of the law I feel that this matter would be returned vetoed, or as unconstitutional.

The question came on Coun. Rosenberg's amendment to reduce the license fee from $20 to $5. The roll was called and the amendment was defeated, yeas 4, nays 10:

Yeas—Coun. Hutchinson, Langan, Rosenberg, Shattuck—4.

Nays—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Chase, Fish, Galvin, Kelly, McMahon, Murray, Taylor, Wilson—10.

The question came on the passage of the original ordinance as submitted. The ordinance was adopted.

5. Report on order (referred May 8) that Finance Commission investigate expenditures of Court House Commission in erection of new court house building—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

6. Report on order (referred today) for public hearing to ascertain public sentiment on Federal housing projects—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, on this particular order there is no date set when there will be a public hearing. I believe that before we act on this particular order we either should accept or reject the order which has been before the City Council the past three weeks relative to housing. There is no question in my mind that if we hold a public hearing here in Faneuil Hall the people who are in the poorer sections of Boston, whose families are out working, who would receive the benefits of the new housing in Boston, will be unable to attend the public hearing in Faneuil Hall. I believe that most of the people who would be here would be the Taxpayers' Alliance, and so on, who are opposed in general to it, and that there is not a hall in Boston large enough to house every voter in Boston, whether for or against housing. I hope that we will reject this order.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, am I out of order in asking whether or not a motion will lie to lay it on the table?

President MURRAY—Such a motion would not be out of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I so move.

The question came on motion of Coun. TAYLOR to lay the matter on the table. The motion was declared carried. Coun. CHASE doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called and the motion to lay on the table was lost, yeas 6, nays 7:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Fish, Galvin, Hutchinson, Murray, Taylor—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Kelly, McMahon, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Wilson—7.

The question came on the passage of the order as reported. The order was declared lost. Coun. GALVIN doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called and the order was passed, yeas 8, nays 5:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Kelly, Langan, Murray, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Wilson—8.

Nays—Coun. Agnew, Galvin, Hutchinson, McMahon, Taylor—5.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

Report on petitions for driveway openings, viz.: Commonwealth of Massachusetts (referred today), 145 Nashua street; Boston & Maine Railroad (referred today), at 135 Nashua street; Superior Realty, Inc. (referred May 15), at West Third and Athen streets, Ward 6; White Tower Management, Inc. (referred May 15), at 10-14 Brookline avenue,—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. CAREY, for Coun. Englert, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of May.

Report accepted; said order passed.

OPENING OF SCHOOLYARDS, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to keep the schoolyards in Ward 13 open after school hours and during the summer vacation period in order that the children of the district may have a safe place in which to play.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MONTHLY LOTTERY FOR RELIEF PURPOSES.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to draft a bill for presentation to the Legislature which will authorize the City of Boston to conduct a monthly lottery, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the Public Welfare Department to be used for relief purposes.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I feel that with the present burden on the taxpayers of the City of Boston it would be a good plan to have a lottery run by the City of Boston once a month. I feel that thereby we will receive probably the whole amount of the welfare expense to the City of Boston. There will be a secondary feature to it, in that it will stop a great many people from buying "nigger" pool chances, and this money will be forced to go into legitimate channels and will be used for the benefit of the taxpayers of the city.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PRIVILEGED STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR CAREY.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

There was no objection.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement. My attention has been called to an article appearing in a column entitled "Boston After Dark," in last Saturday's edition of a local daily newspaper, the article written by Mr. George Holland. Now, Mr. President, I have no intention of directing any part of my remarks as an attack on this newspaper itself, for I have been a constant reader of it for the past thirty-three to thirty-four years, and the fact that I have been a reader of it for such a long period of time fully attests to my high regard for this newspaper, and I don't believe that the editor or other managing officials of this publication will sanction such unfair and miserable tactics as were employed by Mr. Holland in his article on Saturday last. In fairness to me personally and to practically every other member of this Body I cannot allow Mr. Holland's article to go unanswered. Mr. Holland, what prompted you to write such a vicious and unfair article? I have maintained a friendly feeling toward you always and was among those honoring you at a testimonial banquet last year. Mr. President, I repeat here again today what I wrote in letters to the editors of the Boston Post and Boston Globe that the City Council did not eliminate from the budget of the Sanatorium Division of the Boston City Hospital an item of $100 for transportation of entertainers to the Mattapan Sanatorium. I insist again here and now that the Committee on Appropriations at no time considered eliminating $100 from the item to which this transportation expense is charged. I again ask, Mr. Holland, why did you paint such a grossly untrue picture in your attack on me personally in your article in last Saturday's column? In Item 42 in last year's Sanatorium budget the Mayor allowed $190, out of which amount Doctor Bogan spent $173.94. This year in that item Mayor Tobin allowed $360, an increase of $170 over last year's allowance. The City Council has not yet acted on the budget. It has not, and does not intend to cut $100 from this item. Mr. Holland, in your article last Saturday you printed the following question asked by me of Doctor Bogan at the budget hearing: Q. (By Carey.) You have $100 charged for concerts. Do you make use of the W. P. A. entertainment bureau? As a matter of fact, Mr. Holland, the word "have" in my question should read "had". But at any rate, Mr. Holland, my question was asked in good faith and was prompted after I noticed on the detailed breakdown sheet accompanying the budget that $100 had been set up for concerts, shows, talent, etc., and $400 for extermination of insects, etc., a total of $500 against which sum $360 had been allowed by the Mayor, an increase of $170 over last year's allowance. Mr. President, many members of this Council in arranging for entertainment for July 4th and for other occasions have resorted to the W. P. A. entertainment bureau and my question of Doctor Bogan was actuated by my desire to give the unfortunate at the Sanatorium more entertainment, rather than, by suggesting that talent from W. P. A. might be engaged in addition to that engaged from other sources. Why, Mr. Holland, in your attempt to build up a false case, are you so unfair as to dare imply that I, or any other member of the Council, intended to cut $100 from this item? Although I personally can ill afford it, I would sooner contribute $100 from my own pocket rather than eliminate $100 from any budget for such a worthy purpose. Mr. President, my "letters to the editor," to which Mr. Holland refers in his article, were written to correct a statement conveyed in a reader's letter to the papers concerned, wherein the reader, one William S. Hennessy, Jr., stated, "At a meeting of the City Council in regard to the budget it was decided to eliminate $100 to transport by bus various groups of entertainers to the Mattapan Sanatorium." My letters to the editors replying to this mis-statement of fact read as follows: "The City Council did not eliminate from the Mattapan Sanatorium budget the $100 item to transport by bus various groups of entertainers. As a matter of fact, the item in the budget to which this expense is charged has been increased this year by the Mayor from $190 to $360 and the Council Appropriations Committee has no intention of cutting down this item." Mr. Holland you did me a great injustice and you went a long way off your course in trying to frame up your untrue and grossly unfair article in last Saturday's column. Possibly you were ill-advised. You are in a very advantageous position in editing that column, but you don't mean to be so unfair as to take the advantage of your advantageous position that you did last Saturday, do you Mr. Holland? You don't mean to purposely hit below the belt, do you? The question actually is whether or not the Council eliminated the item of $100. It did not, Mr. President. Every fair-minded reader will condemn the unfair tactics used by Mr. Holland last Saturday and in justice to me he should retract the untruth in his article and acknowledge the actual truth.

ARC LIGHT, BLAKEMORE STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an arc light on Blakemore street, Ward 19, on the railroad bridge.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

Report on petition of William A. Fox (referred May 15) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Police Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75) be allowed and paid to William A. Fox in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Police Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on petition of Albert L. Edson (referred May 15) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Park Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) be allowed and paid to Albert L. Edson in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Park Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DUST NUISANCE, HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Transit and Public Works Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to abate the dust nuisance on Huntington avenue, caused by the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway, by thoroughly cleaning and oiling the areas complained of.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I do not care to be put in the position of criticizing either the Public Works Commissioner or the Transit Commission. I realize that they have plenty of problems to attend to, and they are doing the best they can. Nevertheless, Huntington avenue today is in a terrible condition, inasmuch as the subway construction has caused sand and gravel and dirt and dust to accumulate on the highway which is not torn up. The result is that passing automobiles cause large dust clouds to rise up and go into the homes. I have had scores of complaints in the past few weeks. I will admit that the Transit Commission has been attempting to do away with this nuisance, but it is far from abolished. As a matter of fact, last Friday a number of people complained to me again, and even went so far as to say that Huntington avenue was in as bad condition as the Sahara Desert in the midst of a sandstorm. I, Trust, Mr. President, that when the Transit Commission and Public Works Commissioner get this order they will do everything within their power to abolish this nuisance.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEARINGS IN EACH WARD ON HOUSING PROJECTS.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Executive Committee of the City Council hold public hearings in each ward of Boston to determine the sentiment of the people of each ward in connection with further Federal housing in Boston.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, in view of the fact that I have approximately around 4,000 cards from the constituents in my district and approximately 3,600 favor Federal Housing, if we are going to give the public a real opportunity to voice their sentiments relative to housing I see no reason in the world why the twenty-two members of the City Council can't go into every ward in Boston and get the real sentiment of the people, who can thus attend a local public hearing, instead of having to take a day off from their employment to come in here to Faneuil Hall. I believe there should be twenty-two nightly hearings, one in each ward of Boston, so that we can get a real, honest sentiment from the people.

The question came on the suspension of the rule and the passage of the order. The order was declared passed. Coun. WILSON doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called, with the following result:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Galvin, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, McMahon, Murray, Rosenberg, Taylor, Wilson—11.

Nays—0.

President MURRAY—The roll call showing that less than a quorum is present, the Council stands adjourned.

Adjourned at 6.40 p. m., to meet on Monday, June 5, at 2 p. m.

STATE VALUATIONS IN 1937.

Total assessed value of real estate on January 1, 1937, in the thirty-nine cities and 316 towns of Massachusetts, $5,742,161,541 ($18,194,654 less than on January 1, 1936), of which 65.62 per cent applied to buildings and 34.38 per cent to land; of personalty, $525,039,493; aggregate valuation, $6,267,201,034 (2.74 per cent decrease from 1936), on which the total tax was $222,184,422. To raise this amount of taxes on the property assessed at a uniform rate throughout the State would have required a tax rate of $35.45+ on $1,000 valuation. Boston's valuation, $1,590,544,700, equal to 25.38 per cent of total valuation in the State.

The maximum receipts of milk and also of cream in 1937 were in August; the minimum in February.

INDUSTRIAL STRIFE; PEACE BOARDS.

Two large cities, Philadelphia and Toledo, have "peace boards" operating for conciliation between capital and labor in the local field, the magazine "Public Management," official organ of the International City Managers' Association, points out. Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia has just appointed such a board for New York City and Newark's Commission has just created by ordinance a Municipal Labor Relations Board.

Toledo's Peace Board has eighteen members; five named by the Central Labor Union, five by the Chamber of Commerce and eight selected at large. Representatives at large include two judges, two attorneys, a Catholic monsignor, a Jewish Rabbi, a merchant and the county relief director, all serving without pay.

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

THE MUNICIPAL WATER-WORKS TREND.

In 1800 there was but one municipally-owned water-works plant in the United States. Now there are 7,853 municipally-owned installations, or 72.8 per cent of the entire number. In the United States there are ninety-four cities of over 100,000 population. All but eleven of these own their water works. Municipal plants serve 96.1 per cent of the population of the ninety-four cities, while private plants serve only 3.9 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added to Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

No. 23

DUTY OF COMMONWEALTH, THROUGH ITS LEGAL POWERS, TO ACQUIRE NEW REVENUE TO RELIEVE REAL ESTATE OF TAX BURDEN AND ALSO TO SUPPLY MAJOR PORTION OF WELFARE COSTS NOW BORNE BY CITIES AND TOWNS, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS CONFERENCE OF NEW YORK MAYORS AT ANNUAL DINNER HELD AT NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — SOUNDS NOTE OF OPTIMISM AS TO FUTURE, BASED ON LESSONS LEARNED FROM DEPRESSION — UTMOST ECONOMY STILL MUST BE WATCHWORD FOR ALL.

That it is the duty of the Commonwealth, through its legal powers, to acquire new revenue to relieve real estate of its burden as well as to ultimately supply 75 per cent of the welfare costs was the conclusion drawn by Mayor Tobin in his address before the assembly of Mayors of New York State on Tuesday evening, June 6. The meeting was the occasion of the annual dinner at Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mayor Tobin was the principal speaker. In his address Mayor Tobin said:

I am exceedingly happy to be here tonight. I bring to you, on behalf of the City of Boston, a very hearty greeting from the classical home of the bean and the cod. You know that a poet of yore acclaimed Boston as Hub of the Universe, and it is true that our people feel to this day an unusually warm civic pride. We have two excellent reasons. We are proud to be the capital city of a State so faithful and staunch as the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and we are proud likewise that our Commonwealth has for near neighbor the Union's most populous and in many ways most majestic State — New York, State of Empire!

For more than 300 years the relations between Massachusetts and New York have endured in the friendliest spirit, through countless phases of our mutual advance, and despite every episode of keen competition. In friendliness as neighbors I trust and I know that we shall ever endure.

The subject which I am to discuss with you tonight — "Municipal Progress and Drawbacks" — is a subject standing open to wide interpretations and involving many complexities. However, I will try to confine myself to matters in which, as Mayors of municipalities, we have a communion of interest and understanding.

Whenever I attend a conference of Mayors, whether in my own State, in a national conference, or at a meeting such as this, I cannot blot out of my mind an old adage and a very true one, as we all can agree — a maxim which tells us something we all can well appreciate — and that old adage is this, "Uneasy Lies the Head that Wears the Crown."

Seek Future Security.

Of course, the only crown any of us here are likely to wear in these trying days is a crown of thorns. I venture to say that there is not a single Mayor here in this great assembly but who spends every waking moment of his day and many a sleepless moment at night worrying about the condition of his city, and attempting to discover some pathway of future security, with no satisfactory milestones to follow and without clear guideposts of warning to point the direction which will lead to the plains of safety and away from quagmires of danger.

In the rise of America from a barren wilderness — from an infant government of thirteen colonies — to a great nation of forty-eight states there has never, in all that time, been a period comparable to the past ten years. Of course, I do not mean to say that never before has a depression or even a panic visited our country. We have had in the United States various depressions, panics, recessions, or whatever name you may wish to give them, but never before, since our country became a robust nation, have we had a depression so long continued and so deep in its consequences, so broad in its sweep, that it has reached into the homes of almost all our people and has caused grave concern, to say the least, to everyone who has a love of his country, and a hope in its future.

What effect the long-continued depression has had on the government of our cities I need not recite here tonight, in elaborate detail. Sufficient it is for me to say, at this juncture, that practically every municipality in our country is today weak and somewhat groggy after a decade of blows from every quarter — and, erect though we may stand, it might not take many more punches to send us to the limbo which I suppose exists for all good cities that have fought the good fight and will fight no more.

At the same time, you and I are not left without a strong armor. For shield and buckler against every shock, we have our honest knowledge that the fight is being waged, not from any preference or caprice, but from public necessity. For spearhead in battle, we have our conviction of manifest duty.

"The people are the city," said Shakespeare. Your city and my city is a collection of individual human beings. We are organized as municipal governments to meet human needs. In our corporations, public as we are, the profit motive is absent. Our chief obligations are to protect the health of our citizens; care for the sick and the aged and unfortunate; provide protection to life and property; insure the safety of our inhabitants, and, generally, to promote the happiness and welfare of all our citizens.

In return for this necessity service, the individuals within a city each must contribute, directly or indirectly, to the cost of maintaining and operating their local unit of government.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO BOSTON'S HEROIC SOLDIER DEAD ON MEMORIAL DAY—DELIVERS ADDRESS OF EULOGY DURING SERVICES UNDER AUSPICES OF KEARSARGE NAVAL VETERANS ASSOCIATION AT SOLDIERS AND SAILORS MONUMENT ON COMMON—TELLS AUDIENCE SAFETY OF NATION LIES IN WILLINGNESS OF CITIZENS TO ANSWER NATION'S CALL TO BATTLE AND DUTY WHEN RIGHTS AND FOUNDATIONS OF GOVERNMENT ARE ASSAILED TODAY AND IN FUTURE JUST AS THOSE HONORED HEROES OF THE PAST PERFORMED.

The following is, in part, the address of Mayor Tobin at the Memorial Day exercises, May 30, under the auspices of the Kearsarge Naval Veterans Association at Soldiers and Sailors Monument on Boston Common:

Once more we meet on a day of solemn but proud commemoration. We mourn the men who gave their lives for the nation's defence, and at the same time we exult in the memory of their heroic service.

The poet has said, "whoever presents a great example is great." The soldiers and sailors from Boston, to whom the people of a grateful city reared this monument, set examples of faithfulness, courage and sacrifice which are of the highest significance for our welfare today. They served as America's shield and buckler in time of war; and now, in time of peace, their memory lives on—a powerful force challenging us to preserve, bright and undiminished, the heritage of democratic freedom for which they gave their life blood.

In our appreciative remembrance of all the men who fought in all the wars waged by the United States for independence, for union and national honor, we especially offer our tribute on this occasion, Mr. Commander, to the officers and crew of the United States ship "Kearsarge" and to the members of the Kearsarge Naval Veterans Association, whose comrades and successors show, by their presence today, an admirable loyalty and a spirit of patriotism unflagging.

STORY OF "KEARSARGE."

The "Kearsarge," as you know, had a native of Roxbury for commanding officer, the intrepid Capt. John A. Winslow, U. S. N., and she was manned by a crew from Boston and Gloucester—the best of experienced seamen both from Cape Ann and Cape Cod.

Built for service in the Civil War, the "Kearsarge" put out from Boston in 1864 on a mission of the utmost importance. Her task was to find—and sink—the Confederate cruiser, "Alabama," which had wrought extreme havoc to Federal merchant ships.

From the time of her construction in a British shipyard, the "Alabama's" superior speed by sail and steam had made her a veritable terror of the seas. She had taken no less than sixty-nine prizes, of which fifty-three with all their cargoes were destroyed outright. Although this number represented only a part of the great merchant fleet then owned by the United States, still, the effect had been to raise insurance rates to prohibitive figures, frighten shippers and shipowners, and force the carrying trade in all the world to abandon American ships.

Across the seven seas the "Alabama" had spread her work of destruction—cruising from the West Indies and the coast of Brazil even to the distant Cape of Good Hope. The "Kearsarge" went to hunt this corsair down, and found her at last, on June 10, 1864, in the port of Cherbourg, France.

On Sunday, June 19, the "Alabama" came forth to give battle, and with battle Captain Winslow and the crew of the "Kearsarge" obliged her. Only 173 cannon blasts the men from Massachusetts fired, but so deadly sure was their aim that before the end of an hour the "Alabama" was sinking.

Hoisting trysail and jib, the Confederate captain headed for shore, hoping that the "Alabama's" swiftness under sail might still make possible her escape. But it was too late. The "Kearsarge" ran across her bow to deliver a raking broadside. The "Alabama" hauled down her flag. One of the most critical combats in American naval history had resulted in victory for the "Stars and Stripes." The "freedom of the seas" was ours again in fact as well as by right.

TRIUMPH WELL WON.

It was a triumph well won, and we revel in its success to this day. Yet, we remain ever conscious that the brightest glory of the War for the Union was self-conquest of the North in the very hour of victory.

No European kings or emperors or nations ever went to war, John Boyle O'Reilly once said, as did our Northern and Southern States. No vast armies ever faced each other on the battlefield as did those men of the Civil War, without greed for land or spoils of conquest, seeking only the determination of great principles in the governance of their nation. No joy for victory was ever so struck with sorrow for the vanquished.

"England celebrates Waterloo; Germany celebrates Sedan; but, except in silent thanksgiving, America will never celebrate Gettysburg." An orator on Memorial Day in Boston fifty-three years ago made that prophecy, and you know that the prediction has proved true.

As it was in the War for the Union, so it was likewise in the World War. The young men of our land—the boys of Boston whose graves we decorate today—went forth not in the anticipation of material conquest or gain for the United States. Rather did they feel themselves called upon a high mission of service for the welfare of humanity—the protection of democracy against the risk that it would be laid low in distant Europe.

We know that in after years it has come to be recognized that the fulfillment of this hope was beyond America's power. The promise of the great victory won in 1918 could not long be maintained.

And yet I say to you that while men and nations remain unregenerate, ambitious and unscrupulous in the struggle for power, the safety of the American people must ever reside in just such willingness to fight at the nation's call as was shown by your honored comrades, and as you yourselves displayed, in the World War.

It has been said, and it remains immortally true, that "you can measure the liberties of a nation by the readiness or unreadiness of the common people to attack or defense." Aristocracies, nations commanded by one man or small group of men, always keep their own privileged classes in a state of freedom—that is, free to enjoy every advantage of wealth and comfort which their nation affords—for the dictators make or control all law within their own territorial bounds. But in a democracy the independence of the average citizen is the test and proof of his country's freedom. If the people themselves be not ready and willing to defend their liberties, there is no autocratic ruler in the United States to defend the nation from foreign aggression whether the people will or no.

DEAR-BOUGHT LIBERTIES.

The times at home are full of the preaching of alien doctrine. Communists and Fascists unite in striving to undermine the American people's appreciation of the immense value of their own dear-bought liberties under the laws which regulate democracy's free and fair institutions.

In the sacred name of those whose lives and sacrifice we commemorate today, let us here resolve to stand vigilant and firm against all such enemies within our own midst.

As for the conflicts now raging in Europe, we cannot stop them if we would. But we can and will prevent either Europe or Asia from bringing foreign aggression to the shores of the Western Hemisphere.

We will stand resolute to face conditions as we confront them in a still imperfect world, ready to give swift answer to our country's call in time of need, present or future.

When children's children shall talk of War as a madness that may not be;
When we thank our God for our grief today, and blazon from sea to sea
In the name of the Dead the banner of Peace

THAT WILL BE VICTORY.

ACQUISITION OF NEW REVENUE.

METHODS USED.

To meet the expense of administering the people's business, various methods have been utilized, and in what we may term normal times, the cost of such administration is supplied by the individuals of a city without undue complaint and without undue burden. When conditions are abnormal, however, and when an alarming number of individuals within a city are without work and without the means to share in the burden of city expenses—so that the city is obliged to provide aid and sustenance to many of its citizens who are victims of unemployment—then there comes articulate and positive complaint from those who must bear a proportionally heavier share of the burden of maintaining the city.

Unlike private corporations, which may promptly and decisively cut expenses and inaugurate economies when first the foul winds of depression strike, our public corporations find themselves between the horns of a dilemma—recognizing the great need for economy—but forced, by the very nature of our existence, to widen and expand the services and activities that are the result of depressive conditions.

And behold, even as we have obeyed, like good soldiers, the commands imposed upon us by stern necessity, we have achieved results better in many ways than we had reckoned. We have found that our efforts were not merely stemming the tide of economic retreat, but were carrying us forward to new grounds of gain.

The long marches forced upon us by the depression have carried us into territory hitherto little known, and only partially explored by the governmental institutions of democracy in America.

I venture to say that our municipalities have gained more practical experience in the field of welfare work during the last decade than in a whole century of previous time. Forced to deal straight from the shoulder with welfare burdens tenfold greater in number of cases seeking relief than they had ever before supposed possible, our municipalities have set up new machinery, and have developed new administrative technique, which are unquestionably of large value.

The task of co-ordinating local effects with those of the nation and state have given us an altogether new understanding of the joint forces available for constructive use in our American system of government, and have shown us the way, for the first time, to the drafting of basic policies and adequate programs for our joint action. They have given us definite evidence upon which we can distinguish the problems of our unemployed citizens from those of our people who have to be recognized as essentially unemployable. Strong new light has come to us also on this score as to the proper division of functions, and also of financial expense, among our municipal, state and Federal governments.

CARE OF UNEMPLOYABLES.

The picture is not yet offered us in the oil-paints of finality. But the broad outlines have been blocked in. They show that President Roosevelt, with his remarkable foresight, was on the right course several years ago when he declared that the Federal Government should take primary charge of work-relief for the unemployed, leaving to state and municipal governments their traditional field of responsibility for needy citizens essentially unemployable. It will be more and more clear that in this field of relief the state must assume up to three fourths of the financial cost, leaving one fourth to be contributed by the municipalities as a guarantee of prudent administration under the protective restraints of "Home Rule."

All in all, it must be admitted that the depression has goaded us onward to a new competence in the art and science of government. And at the same time our municipalities have been carried forward with the march of forces in our national life which would certainly have made their influence felt, depression or no depression.

I refer to that type of progress made during the past ten years by the average American city which is, in the main, a reflection of the progress of our country at large.

As the nation has continued to grow in population, and as our form of civilization became more exacting, as well as more inclusive in scope, local units of government have been forced to adopt measures to protect the citizens' health, comfort, safety and happiness under the changed conditions. All such expanding activities, all the multitude of new services, all the refinements in municipal administration add up to and spell the word "Progress!" A glorious word that is—a word that somehow seems to belong to America—a word that brings a glow of pride to all who realize the great accomplishments of our nation and its people in the century and a half of its free existence.

Yes, we have made progress in every unit of our governmental structure. Let me cite just a few—not all by any means—of the progressive steps taken by local units of government—cities—during recent years.

Marching far to the forefront are the gains achieved in public health. Humanity's conquest over many diseases which formerly caused countless deaths is well known. Only now coming to full recognition are the rich dividends offered in the field of child health conservation. Until fifteen years ago preventive care of the infant and pre-school child in Boston was left almost exclusively to private agencies. Greater understanding of the fact that the young boy and girl of today are the municipal citizens of tomorrow has since led us to justifiable expenditures on their behalf out of tax funds. Today the City of Boston maintains eighteen child health clinics in special health units and other municipal buildings, to which many thousands of children are brought by parents for the laudable purpose of preventing disease. This has resulted in an annual saving of hundreds of lives from death from preventable causes.

PREVENTIVE CARE OF CHILD.

Boston formerly lost, for example, about 300 children every year from diphtheria. Last year we had not a single death from this cause.

In a very different field of preventive care for children Boston has made remarkable progress. You know that bad teeth have been a far too prevalent defect along American adults. Within the past dozen years the City of Boston has set up and is maintaining eight dental clinics with a corps of approximately twenty dentists and ten hygienists, who last year gave full dental care to approximately 80,000 pre-school and school children.

Tuberculosis, indeed a grim reaper, caused 1,500 deaths annually in Boston up to about ten years ago. A marked expansion of the municipal tuberculosis program, with an increase of clinical facilities for convenient examination not only of infected persons, but of all others who had been exposed, has resulted in an annual reduction of deaths from 1,500 to slightly over 400 last year—a most favorable condition by comparison to other large cities throughout the world.

It is clear that we are learning at last, in recent years, the true logic proclaimed by Disraeli. Long ago that great British prime minister said, and I quote, "The Public Health is the foundation upon which rests the happiness of the people and the welfare of the nation. The care of the public health is the first duty of the statesman."

Prominent among the types of increased social service very familiar to you all are the new demands now placed upon us for aid to the aged, for widowed mothers and their fatherless children. The service supplied by municipal hospitals has gone forward by leaps and bounds, not only in quantity but also in quality.

Another field of municipal service now bursting once more with activity is popular recreation, providing more intensive use, with expert supervision, of parks and playgrounds.

Meanwhile, among the old-fashioned civic services, the police are ever adopting new measures to cope with an insidious underworld, and at the same time the police of American municipalities have given concentrated attention to work for the prevention of motor vehicle accidents, with results proved in fact, not merely in theory, by a marked reduction in the rate of increase of urban fatalities.

AMERICA'S POWER.

Thus, by way of summarizing, I would say:

In the successful meeting of the huge unprecedented welfare requirement, and in the development of other social services for the health, safety, education and vital happiness of our people, there is sure evidence of America's power to drive onward against every obstacle.

At the same time the great expense of welfare and expanding social services constitute a burden on the municipality for which no comparable sources of new revenue have been forthcoming. They never will be available to American cities, limited as the cities are by law largely to the taxation of real estate which already is bearing a grossly excessive share of the load.

While rightly expecting utmost economy in municipal administration state governments should absolutely give up the practice of assessing back on the cities and towns a large part of the cost of state government.

The sovereign commonwealth should employ its legal powers in acquiring new revenue to relieve real estate, and ultimately to supply at least 75 per cent of all welfare costs, leaving 25 per cent to be raised locally so as to ensure prudent administration under the principle of home rule.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

BOSTON NOW HAS PERPETUAL INVENTORY SYSTEM PERFECTED WHEREBY ALL PHYSICAL PROPERTY MAY BE MOST EFFICIENTLY USED AT SAVING TO CITY—SYSTEM DEVISED UNDER W. P. A. PROJECT SPONSORED AND DEVELOPED BY CITY AUDITOR CHARLES J. FOX—BY THIS MEANS SURPLUS AND UNUSED PROPERTY MAY READILY BE TRANSFERRED TO WHERE NEEDED AND THUS BE PUT TO USE.

Boston is the first metropolitan city which has developed a perpetual inventory system under which it will be possible, at any time, to ascertain the types and amount of equipment on hand in any department or branch of the city government. This has been accomplished by means of a project sponsored by the Auditing Department under City Auditor Charles J. Fox with funds for the same provided by the Federal Government.

While the inventory records which have been developed indicate the amount of equipment now in the possession of city and county departments, arrangements have been made for departments to report any changes or transfers of equipment together with any renewals or new purchases. Forms for supplying the Auditing Department with this information have been devised and are now being distributed among the hundred city and county departments or divisions covered by the inventory records.

Already the work performed by project workers has proved valuable to the city, since the records developed have made it possible to transfer surplus material in one department to another department where need for the same was evident. The information now available should make possible a more efficient use of departmental equipment than has existed previously.

The form being distributed to departments reads as follows:

June 5, 1939.

To City and County Officials and Employees.

The Inventory Project sponsored by this department will soon complete its work of recording equipment and property in the possession of city and county departments. Copies of departmental inventories are now being sent to city and county departments as fast as the work in each department has been completed. In order that the central inventory records from which these "master sheets" have been copied may be maintained in an up-to-date manner, it is essential that this department be advised of all subsequent additions or dispositions of departmental property. To this end, printed forms have been prepared on which departments will be required to report any change in their departmental property lists. These forms, together with a short individual description, are as follows:

GENERAL FORM NO. 19.—RECEIPT OF PROPERTY.

A set of three forms to be used for the reporting of all additions to departmental property. This form should be signed by the head of the department and the copies should be distributed as follows:

1. To the Auditing Department.
2. Retained by the department head.

3. In the case of large departments, sent to the head of the division or unit where the equipment is to be used, or to the official in charge of departmental equipment.

GENERAL FORM NO. 20.—TRANSFER OF DEPARTMENTAL PROPERTY.

A set of three forms to be used for the reporting of property transferred to another city or county department. This form is to be prepared in the department from which the property is being transferred and the copies are to be distributed as follows:

1. To the Auditing Department.
2. Retained by the department transferring property.
3. Forwarded to department receiving transferred property.

GENERAL FORM NO. 21.—SALE OR OTHER DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY.

A set of three forms for the reporting of property sold, scrapped or otherwise disposed of. This form is to be submitted by the departmental official responsible for disposition of property, and the copies distributed in the following manner:

1. To the Auditing Department.
2. To be retained by the department head.
3. In case of large departments, to be retained by the head of the division or unit in which the property was located before its sale or disposition or by the official in charge of departmental equipment.

GENERAL FORM NO. 22.—REQUEST FOR DISPOSAL OF DEPARTMENTAL PROPERTY.

A set of three forms to be used within departments for the proper recording and administrative control of property no longer required for departmental use. This form should be prepared by the party initiating the request for the disposal of the property involved and should be approved by the head of the department. The first copy of this form should be attached to the Auditing Department copy of General Form No. 21 when this latter form is being forwarded to the Auditing Department.

The Printing Department has prepared a supply of these forms and departments are requested to requisition their requirements as soon as they have received their "master sheets." Every department will need a block of Forms No. 19 and No. 21 and the larger departments will, in all probability, need all four forms.

Months have been spent in the development of these inventory records. The Federal Government has contributed thousands of dollars for the labor involved. In order that this money and effort may not be wasted, it is essential that city and county departments cooperate to the fullest possible degree, so that the central records in the Auditing Department may at all times reflect a current and up-to-the-minute inventory record. Department heads are urged to make certain that the Auditing Department is kept advised of all changes in property under their jurisdiction and control.

CHARLES J. FOX,
Auditor of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1939.

NO. 24

MAYOR TOBIN DELIVERS LOYAL EULOGY ON EMBLEM OF UNITED STATES DURING OBSERVANCE OF FLAG DAY EXERCISES ON BOSTON COMMON — CALLS STARS AND STRIPES A SYMBOL OF PHILOSOPHY OF GOVERNMENT THAT IS GREATEST GIFT KNOWN TO MODERN MAN — FLAG HAS PROVEN HOPE OF OUR DEMOCRACY AND CONSOLATION IN EVERY TROUBLED HOUR, CONSCIOUS THAT SO LONG AS IT WAVES OVER US WE, AS A NATION AND AS INDIVIDUALS, WILL BE BLESSED WITH SAFETY, SECURITY, PROTECTION AND CONTENTMENT.

The following is, in part, the Flag Day address delivered on June 14, 1939, at Parkman Bandstand, by Mayor Maurice J. Tobin:

Mr. Chairman, Past Exalted Ruler Dr. Patrick J. Foley, Rev. Father Durant, Members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I want to pay my respects to the members of that military body who were my escort in the events we share this evening and to congratulate the First Corps of Cadets for their showing and their recent designation as one of the three National Guard units in the country to be provided with anti-aircraft outfits. I was deeply impressed by their showing during the review and now.

"We can well be proud of the fact that the American Flag still floats over this great land of the free and the home of the brave," said Mayor Tobin in a paraphrase of the theme of the exercises at the Parkman Bandstand.

We may have been uttering or thinking such sentiments for several years, but we cannot repeat them or think them too often as we read of the turmoil in other countries, the wars and the dictatorships, with their purges; the cruel suppression of religion and the barbaric persecution of the Jews — countries which permit of no freedom of speech, no freedom of religion, no personal liberty.

Flag Day brings to our minds each year a philosophy of government which we should continually hail as the greatest gift mankind has ever received — a philosophy of government signalized by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, that great creed of self-governed freemen which proclaims belief in the equality of man and offers the people every opportunity to achieve the better, fuller and happier life.

Symbol of Destiny.

The Stars and Stripes is the symbol of that Americanism which we should so highly prize — the living and inspiring symbol of America's greatness and of America's destiny. First given to us during the darkest days of the Revolution, it is older than the flags of most other countries of the world and has waved aloft, proudly and impressively, during a long period of unparalleled progress and achievement as a nation. It will continue to wave, God willing, over a period of yet greater progress, happiness and contentment for Americans.

The more we study our history and reflect upon our security and happiness, our achievements and our power, the more we marvel at the foresight, vision and inspiration of the founding fathers in giving those who were to follow them, not a static or wavering body politic, but a living, throbbing, pulsing plan of a way of life, if we were to follow the pattern so wisely set.

Our Constitution was of such flexibility of design as to be as workable today as then. The Bill of Rights has been a safeguarding bulwark through all the vicissitudes of the changing decades. May the time never come when we shall feel called upon to accept any other ideology as a substitute that may destroy such fundamental principles as those which declare that the government exists for the benefit of all the people; that the powers of government arise and abide in the people themselves and that all men are created equal in the eyes of the law and are entitled to the same opportunities of life.

Yes, let us always keep in mind the fact that the American flag symbolizes the spirit of our nation and the inspiration of a united people.

Inspiration to Great Deeds.

Symbols mean much and interpret great ideas. The sight of his country's flag has nerved the arms of hosts of soldiers and civilians, both in war and peace. By means of it, proudly floating in the breeze, whether at our homes, on public buildings, on shipboard, on fields of honor or in war, we should acquire a larger conception of loyalty, patriotism and duty.

The Stars and Stripes has been the hope of our democracy, our consolation in every time of trouble. It will continue to supply that consolation and hope, no matter what the future shall unfold. For with wise generalship and a sturdy resolve to fight our own problems and mind our own business we shall continue to be blessed with safety and security, with protection and contentment. We shall continue a united nation, willing to sacrifice everything we hold dear, even life itself, that those things for which our country stands may be preserved and this continue to be the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

FIRE COMMISSIONER REILLY DELIVERS ADDRESS AT FIREMEN'S MEMORIAL SERVICES AT FOREST HILLS CEMETERY—CALLS ATTENTION OF GATHERING TO HEROIC SERVICES PERFORMED BY DEPARTED COMRADES OF THE DEPART- MENT AS EXAMPLES ALWAYS TO BE EMULATED —ALSO REMINDS AUDITORS OF THE DANGERS ATTACHED TO THE PROFESSION AND THE DIFFICULTIES UNDER WHICH OLD MEMBERS WORKED AS COMPARED WITH THOSE OF PRESENT DAY.

The following is an extract from address of Fire Commissioner Reilly at memorial services by the Veteran Firemen's Association, Charitable Association and Boston Fire and Protective Departments, Sunday morning, June 11, at Forest Hills Cemetery:

Mr. Chairman, Reverend Mr. Paine, Chief Pope, Officers and Members of the Boston Fire Department, and Friends.

Once more we meet as a family at this the final resting place of our departed brothers, beneath a warm sun and on the rich green turf which serves as a blanket between us and the mortal remains of firemen of other days.

Perhaps they were among those who once gathered here in remembrance of departed comrades. At least, they were once as we are now, among the living, sharers alike in the joys and sorrows of temporal life. Perhaps some of those who rest here were fathers, sons, brothers or husbands in our homes of today.

One day we shall join them in eternity and others will come to this hallowed spot and participate in other memorial exercises like these today.

Physical presence in such surroundings on such a day as this inevitably brings to mind three thoughts. A thought of the past, a thought of the present and a thought of the future.

What shall we say of the past? Have you ever stopped to think how many addresses have been made by men of great talent and men of great intellectual attainment, on the subject of heroes of bygone days? I am sure that what I shall say here will contribute nothing to the eloquent eulogies which have been delivered here and elsewhere in the past. I need not point out to anyone present the hazards attached to the daily life of a fireman. I need not attempt to picture the hardships and the dangers which are heroically endured by firemen and their families.

The average citizen has no means by which to learn of the dangers attached to the professions of others; for necessarily, the average citizen is preoccupied with the immediate problems of his or her own life, and the happiness of his or her own immediate family, relatives and neighbors. We recognize that our duties are part of the life of every community and that within our ranks there are and have been men who have suffered permanent physical disabilities because of their devotion to duty. No great works of literature commemorate their deeds. No histories record their individual efforts; but we, here at this cemetery lot today, can quickly recall the names of great heroes who died in the service of their fellowmen, and who died directly or indirectly because they were faithful to the work they had agreed to perform.

What of the present? The fire department of any city is the first line of defense for the community in peacetime. If this nation was invaded this very day by an armed force, and if this city were laid waste by an air raid or by long-range guns, though the hearts of our firemen might be torn with anxiety concerning the condition of their homes or their loved ones, they would be found steadfast at their respective stations; calmly performing works of mercy, calmly directing the bewildered, scientifically extinguishing whatever flames were found among the ruins, and spending all of their energies in whatever salvage work was required of them.

Those men who have gone before us in the service of this peacetime army did not have the conveniences which we have today; they did not have the equipment which we have today; and it is fitting that we acknowledge a debt to these men for the price they paid in pioneer days, a price which purchased for us methods and instruments by which a civilized people might have increased security against the ravages of fire. Those men worked faithfully and loyally in their day and the results of their living, viewed in a broad sense, makes us realize that things are better in the today which is ours than they were in the yesterday which was theirs.

What shall we say of the future? We know that the day is coming when the firemen will have better equipment than we have, and that they will have the benefit of our experiences and our sacrifices. Shall we leave to them a heritage as noble as the one we have received from those who went before us? Will conditions of the future be better for those who follow us, as conditions today are better than for those who preceded us?

The past is a glorious one. The present is in the making, and the future remains to be seen.

Let us, therefore, recall the beautiful verse by Henry Gillen of Boston which adorns the panel fixed to the wall in our Headquarters Building. Let us repeat those lines and adopt them as an expression of our tribute to the dead, as a consolation to the bereaved, as an inspiration to the living, and a pledge to the future.

All honor unto gallantry

In reverence we pay,—

That others might have days to be

These gave their lives away.

Now glory shall enshrine each name

And time their deeds defy—

Since humble men who sought no fame

Have taught us how to die.

REPORT OF JOSEPH McKENNEY, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION, ON ATTENDANCE AT CONVEN-TION OF EASTERN DISTRICT
SOCIETY OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION,
IN NEW YORK CITY, MAY
3 TO 6.

The following is the report of Joseph McKenney on Physical Education Convention at New York on May 3, as accepted by the School Committee:

June 2, 1939.

MR. ARTHUR L. GOULD, Superintendent,
Boston Public Schools.

DEAR MR. GOULD,—The following is a report of the annual convention of the Eastern District Society of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The convention was held in New York City, May 3 to May 6, inclusive.

Outstanding in my mind are two talks which were given in the Public School Section of the convention. They had to do with methods of rating in Physical Education, and the use a Department of Physical Education should make of the findings of the medical examinations of the pupils. These addresses were given by John C. Kieffer, Assistant Director of Health and Physical Education in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

We have experimented with the method of rating suggested by Mr. Kieffer, but have found it unsound in many respects. His many other recommendations have been in use in the Boston School System for many years. Also, we have always believed that an adjusted Physical Education program should be followed on the recommendations of our school physicians after medical examinations of pupils.

It was of deep interest to me to have the Eastern District present the honor award of 1939 to New York State. This award was presented for their adoption of the so-called ideal rules and regulations for competitive athletics. The Boston System has been following all but one of these rules and regulations for many years. In connection with this one rule to which we do not adhere, namely, that a boy is eligible to compete in athletics regardless of his scholastic standing, I have asked at least three hundred high school boys who compete in athletics whether or not they would care to see the twelve-point academic eligibility requirement abolished. At least ninety per cent said they preferred that it be maintained. They feel that it is an added incentive to study.

One returns to Boston from an educational convention of this type with a deeper appreciation of the Boston Public School System. The Eastern District Society of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation will hold their 1940 convention in Boston. I am sure that with your cooperation we can send each member back to his respective school system also with a deeper appreciation of the Boston Public Schools.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH McKENNEY,
Associate Director of Physical Education.
